

WEEKLY

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • JAN 20, 1993

'Project Focus' to Enhance College's Image in Capital District

SUNY Plattsburgh is about to launch "Project Focus," defined as "a comprehensive and multifaceted set of activities that will be conducted within the Capital District of New York State over the next 18 to 24 months."

The fundamental purpose of Project Focus is "to enhance the positive image of SUNY Plattsburgh as a center of excellence for globally directed leadership in education, cultural experiences and economic development." Besides the Albany-Schenectady-Troy area, the initiative will focus on parts of Saratoga, Warren and Washington counties.

President Charles O. Warren described the rationale for the project and what is expected to take place: "The richness of our mission and the achievements and talents of our faculty, staff and student colleagues will be presented to a variety of audiences — prospective students and their parents, community leaders and policy makers — through a broad range of initiatives and activities. Alumni and other friends of the college will participate fully, along with members of the campus community.

"While individual offices, departments and centers will develop specific plans, the overall project will be guided by a widely representative steering group. That group will be responsible for developing an inclusive plan for initiatives and, where appropriate, for offering organizational and coordination support."

The 13-member steering group (to be expanded soon with the addition of alumni who reside in the target area) will be chaired by Edward Engelbride, assistant director of special programs in Campus Life, who also has been working part time since September coordinating special programs in the President's Office. Engelbride said the Capital District was selected because the college already attracts a substantial number of students from that area and because a large concentration of SUNY Plattsburgh alumni live and work in the region.

"The 'alumni factor' is especially important," Engelbride said. "Members of this group are familiar with the college and what it has to offer. Many are teachers and guidance counselors, and many more are parents of students who are going through the process of choosing among colleges."

"Some alumni aren't aware of the dramatic and positive changes that have occurred at their alma mater, particularly the growing emphasis on high academic standards and expectations for student achievement, and a corresponding shift in patterns of student behavior. We're determined to make those changes known."

The Project Focus steering group will hold its organizational meeting at 1 p.m. on Thursday, January 28 in
(Continued on next page)

Room Rent to Increase $120; May Still be Lowest in SUNY

SUNY Plattsburgh students who live on campus will pay an additional $60 per semester in room rent, effective with the beginning of the 1993-94 academic year.

President Charles O. Warren recently approved a recommendation to increase academic year room costs for double occupancy from the current $2,100 to $2,220, and for single occupancy (about 40 rooms on campus are singles) from $2,200 to $2,320.

The rates now are the lowest of all residential campuses in State University, and they are expected to remain the lowest next year in spite of the increase.

According to William Laundry, director of Campus Life, the decision to request the increase followed a consultation process involving the Council of Residence Hall Presidents and the president and vice president of the Student Association. He pointed out that campus residence halls operate on a self-supporting basis.

"Income from rent pays for all residence hall expenses," Laundry said. "That includes maintenance, utilities, debt service payments and building improvements."

Laundry explained that improvements and building needs are important considerations in the procedure that leads to room rent increases. Several projects are on tap for 1993-94.

They include: lavatory and shower improvements in Banks, Macomb and Mason halls; completion of screen installation for Macdonough Hall; new lighting for various rooms in deFredenberg Hall; and new, first-floor lounge television receivers for Harrington, Kent, Macomb and Mason halls.

Plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Campus Dream Ensemble Performances Set for January 31

The renowned Campus Dream Ensemble, which, as its name implies, stages dreams of members of its audiences, will give two performances at SUNY Plattsburgh on Sunday, January 31.

The ensemble, directed by Bob Paton, will perform at 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. in Hartman Theatre. The journal American Theatre recently featured the work of the New York City-based group in the city's homeless shelters, reporting:

"Paton, a small, soft-spoken man sporting a shaman's robe, navigates the endless bed rows in an attempt to recruit an audience, asking simply, 'Do you dream?' (He) says of the shelter audience, 'They are doing us an honor by allowing us to stage their dreams' ... 'I get a lot of respect from the homeless people I bring these performances to, and I try to give it in return.'"

A review of an ensemble performance for the prestigious C. J. Jung Institute stated:

"... it appeared as though they had somehow planned their interactive performance in advance, when in fact they were all hearing the dreamer's story for the first time along with the rest of the audience. Their performances were alternately funny, sad, touching, scary, and mesmerizing, depending on the dream material."

Admission to the Campus Dream Ensemble performance is $7 for the general public, $4 for college faculty and staff and $1 for Student Association members. Tickets are on sale now at the Angell Center desk. The program is sponsored by the college's Theatre Department in conjunction with the Department of Anthropology, with support from College Auxiliary Services.

Child Care Center Launches 'Flex Care' Program for Student-Parents' Children

The SUNY Plattsburgh Child Care Center is offering a "Flex-Care Program" for children of student parents during the spring 1993 semester. It allows student parents with children ages 3 to 5 to contract for specific periods of part-time child care.

Center Director Sally Girard explained that flex-care is an extension of the existing full-day program, developed as a separate entity to address the scheduling needs of student parents who want part-time care for their children while they pursue their educational goals. The goal, she said, is "to provide quality child care in a nurturing, safe and stimulating environment for the children of student parents."

The program will be offered when classes are in session, and its services are available to all enrolled students — matriculated and non-matriculated, undergraduate and graduate. Flex-care will be limited to providing care for 14 children at any one time. The classroom ratio of adults to children will be one for seven, and the program will be headed by a teacher with educational training and experience in early childhood development.

Girard said that student parents will be required to purchase weekly blocks of time for the entire spring semester. Contracts for the blocks must total at least four hours per week up to a maximum of 30 hours per week.

While some federal funds and a contribution from the SUNY

Plattsburgh Student Association will help support the program, parent fees will provide the largest source of revenue. A sliding fee scale based on gross income will be used to determine an hourly rate times the number of weekly contract hours for the duration of the semester.

The Child Care Center is located in Sibley Hall. Inquiries may be directed to Girard at 564-2273.

'Waiting for the Parade' On Tap This Weekend in Studio Theatre

The SUNY Plattsburgh Theatre Department will present three performances of John Murrell's play, "Waiting for the Parade," this weekend in the Studio Theatre in the Myers Fine Arts Building.

The play portrays five women living in Canada during World War II and the effects the war has on their lives because of its impact on the men in their lives. It will be performed at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday (January 22-23) and at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

"Waiting for the Parade" is being directed by Katie Damp, adjunct lecturer in theatre, with freshman theatre major Emily Sussman serving as stage manager. The cast includes Samantha Conrad, Trish Gannon, Rebecca Knowles, Pamela Noel and Ruth Holly Ryszkiewicz.

Tickets are $3 for the general public and $1 for Student Association members. They are on sale now at the Angell Center desk or may be purchased at the door.

Project Focus Group Convenes Next Week

(Continued from page 1)

the Alumni Conference Room in Hawkins Hall. Besides Engelbride, the group consists of faculty and staff members Julius Archibald (computer science), Peter Ensel (communication), Marlene Fields (Equal Opportunity Program), Donald Garrant (college relations and development), Jane Gore (human resources), Ronald Hobson (business and economics), William Laundry (campus life), Mark Mastrean (admissions), Douglas Skopp (history) and Marie Winterkorn (nursing), and students Amy Goi and Heather Thompson.

Presidents' Speakers Series Features Gay Rights Activist

Journalist Eric Marcus, the author of Making History: The Struggle for Gay & Lesbian Equal Rights, 1945 to 1990, An Oral History, will give a public lecture on the topic of his highly acclaimed book on Monday (January 25) at 7:30 p.m. in the Angell College Center Ballrooms at SUNY Plattsburgh.

Drawing from his book and his own personal experiences, Marcus will illuminate "the largely ignored, often condemned four-and-a-half decade battle by the nation's most hated minority group for full and equal rights." Critics call his presentations "compelling" and "moving."

Marcus typically focuses on and answers a wide range of questions, including: Why did medical professionals use electroshock therapy, brain surgery, and castration to try to "cure homosexuals?" Why is Dear Abby considered a major figure in the gay rights effort?

Eric Marcus

How have politicians used homosexuality to get elected? When and where did the gay and lesbian rights struggle begin? How have the police and FBI galvanized the gay rights movement?

Has AIDS destroyed the gay and lesbian rights effort? What is the future of the gay rights movement? Why can't gay people just keep it to themselves?

Marcus is a former associate producer for both "Good Morning America" and "CBS This Morning," where he often produced segments on gay and lesbian as well as AIDS-related issues. The Vassar College and Columbia University graduate is also the author of The Male Couple's Guide and the forthcoming Is It A Choice? Answers to the 101 Most Frequently Asked Questions About Gay and Lesbian People.

"They're Not Telling the Truth" is the title of an essay by Marcus published by Newsweek magazine in its September 14, 1992 issue. The essay is the author's response to attacks from anti-gay crusaders, particularly from the leadership of the Republican Party and the Bush administration.

The appearance by Marcus is a presentation of SUNY Plattsburgh's Presidents' Speakers Series. The series, sponsored by College Auxiliary Services, is a collaborative effort involving the president of the college and the presidents of the Student Association and CAS.

Field House Roofing Contract Awarded; Bid Below Estimates

The SUNY Plattsburgh Field House will be getting a new roof this year, and it will be installed at a cost substantially below the estimate.

According to J. Derek Allan, director of facilities, the contract to replace the field house roof — the largest on any campus building — has been awarded to Horizon Roofing and Sheetmetal Inc. of Albany. Horizon won the contract with a low bid of $567,749.

Eleven firms bid for the project, and they ranged from Horizon's low to a high of $1,052,911. The State University Construction Fund estimated the roof replacement would cost $780,000.

Allan noted that the field house roof has been leaking in several locations for a long time, most noticeably in the building's locker room and training room areas. He pointed out, however, that the facility opened nearly two decades ago — in February of 1972 — and that its roof was installed a year or longer prior to that date. "Replacement is probably overdue," he said.

The project, Allan said, will begin "as soon as possible," although every effort will be made to avoid disrupting spring commencement in May. The roof over Stafford Ice Arena will be the first to be replaced, Allan said, and it is hoped that part of the project will be well on its way to completion by the time summer skating school convenes. Some other summer sports camps may experience some inconvenience, he added, but faculty and staff who direct them are aware of the complexities of the project and are making preparations to work around them.

The contract itself calls for the removal of the original, built-up felt roof and installation of, first, a temporary roof and then the permanent structure. The new roof will incorporate a new design and new material: what Allan describes as "simple membrane rubber." Besides enhanced durability, he said, the rubber roofing material has a greater insulation value, and that, in turn, should provide energy savings.

Allan said that the existing felt roof contains asbestos fibers, so asbestos abatement — a delicate procedure governed by strict regulations — is part of the contract. The project is the first on this campus for Horizon.

Council Meets Jan. 27

The SUNY Plattsburgh College Council will hold its first meeting of the spring 1993 semester at 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday, January 27, in the Harry E. Mowry Conference Room in Redcay Hall. Council meetings are open to the public.

Besides routine reports, the meeting agenda includes discussion items relative to an institutional advancement project and an overview of the School of Business and Economics. It also includes an action item on nominations for community membership in the Plattsburgh College Foundation.

Men's Hockey, Basketball Teams Off to Fine Start in 1993

The men's hockey and basketball teams are off to an impressive start in 1993. The Cardinal hockey team routed American International, 7-4, and RIT, 9-2, to open the New Year before bowing to Army, 5-3, last Friday at West Point. Center Len Pereira has been on a hot streak. He assisted on four goals in the win at home over AIC and he tallied another four points in the victory at Rochester to earn USAir ECAC Player of the Week honors. Pereira had a goal and an assist in the loss to Army. The Cardinals are 11-4 overall and 6-0 in their conference.

The men's basketball team is 4-1 (all at home) since beginning the second half of the season. The Cards first defeated highly regarded Albany State, 90-77, then won their own Cardinal Classic Tournament with wins over Johnson State, 99-72, and Bridgewater State, 85-70, in the championship game. Over the past weekend, they lost to SUNYAC west division leader Buffalo, 73-65 on Friday, but turned in their best effort of the season the following night in drubbing Fredonia State, 77-51. Forward Brian Kochanowicz has had the hot hand for the Cardinals of late. He scored 18 points in the win over Albany; 18 and 23 in the Cardinal Classic triumphs over Johnson and Bridgewater, and 17 in the loss to Buffalo. The Cardinal men are now 7-5 overall and 4-3 in SUNYAC.

The women's basketball team is 2-3 in 1993, with 67-63 and 61-58 wins over Albany and Union College, respectively. The losses have been to Skidmore, Buffalo and Fredonia. Senior guard Alicia LaValley scored 20 points in the Albany game; 18 against Union; and a season high 25 in the loss to Skidmore.

Nathan Farb Exhibit Continues

"Orebed Brook," (1987), a silver coupled dye print measuring 124 by 100 inches, is among several photographs of the Adirondacks by Nathan Farb that comprise a major exhibition by the renowned artist on display now through February 20 in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery. The exhibition continues the SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum's tradition of presenting authoritative displays and interpretations of the work of significant area artists. It features "the stunning technical mastery of the artist" and strives to explain also "the spiritual, art historical, ecological and conceptual underpinnings" of Farb's photographs.

Auditory Lab Given $15,000 to Support Research on AAT

SUNY Plattsburgh and its Auditory Research Laboratory have received a $15,000 grant from the Deafness Research Foundation to support a project titled "Treatment of Acute Acoustic Trauma (AAT)"

The grant was effective January 1, for a one-year period. Dr. William Ahroon, senior research scientist in the Auditory Research Laboratory, will direct the project, which is designed "to develop a coherent strategy for the treatment of persons exposed to very high intensity impulse noise."

AAT, explains Ahroon, is an injury to the auditory system that is caused by exposure of the ear to noise at very high peak levels. It happens most often by accident, for example by the rupture of a high-pressure air line or pneumatic tire, by an explosive device such as firecracker, or by a firearm or weapon muzzle blast.

Damage because of AAT exposure occurs to both the middle and inner ear. Ahroon pointed out that tears to the ear drum or disarticulation of the ear's conductive apparatus may be treated surgically. However, he notes, mechanical damage in the inner ear and the resulting sensorineural hearing loss also is a consequence of exposure to high level noise.

Treatment of sensorineural hearing loss because of AAT has largely been ignored in the U.S. Therefore, Ahroon says, there is no currently accepted treatment for the inner-ear damage it causes.

Experiments using an animal model will be conducted to develop a coherent strategy for the treatment of AAT. The project director feels that if even small reductions (5-10 decibels) in the amount of permanent hearing loss can be accomplished, there can be large gains from the individual standpoint and perhaps major economic savings when workman's compensation and productivity issues are considered.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, January 21 — THURSDAY, January 28
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, January 21

10am — Volunteer Fair for not-for-profit agencies and community organizations. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

Friday, January 22

5pm — El Pueblo general meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship large group meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7:30pm — Men's Ice Hockey vs. Canisius. Tickets: $1.50 SA Members, $4 faculty, staff and public, on sale at the door. Stafford Ice Arena.

8:00pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Prelude To A Kiss" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8:00pm — Play — "Waiting For The Parade," by John Murrell, directed by Katie Damp and sponsored by the Theatre Department. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $3 general admission, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning January 18th. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Saturday, January 23

8:00pm — Play — "Waiting For The Parade," (see 8pm Friday, January 22, for details).

Sunday, January 24

2:00pm — Play — "Waiting For The Parade,"

(see 8pm Friday, January 22, for details).

6pm — Spring 1993 Rush orientation sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and Greek Council. Angell Center Blue Room.

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "A Stranger Among Us" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk.

Monday, January 25

7pm — Campus Life/Greek Council-sponsored Sorority Rush. Angell Center Ballrooms.

7pm — Upward Bound Summer Employment informational meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

7:30pm — Campus Poet Series features Carol Frome of the English Department and the Learning Center. Sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature and the Faculty of Arts and Science. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7:30pm — Club Canada's weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #7.

8pm — The Marketing Club's weekly planning meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, January 26

12:15pm — Learn to Learn Seminar Series sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.

Plattsburgh

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

4:30 pm — The Transfer Club is hosting an Introductory Social, open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm — Campus Life/Greek Council-sponsored Sorority Rush. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Wednesday, January 27

7:30pm — Hillel weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

Thursday, January 28

11am — ACB presents Gyro and Fly Wall, sponsored by the Student Association. Angell Center Blue Room.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Dr. Carl Engelhart, professor emeritus of English, speaking on "Margaret Fuller: Child of Scorn," sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with support from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm — Upward Bound Summer Employment informational meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

*7pm — Cardinal Points meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Presidents' Speakers Series presents Eric Marcus speaking on "Making History: The Struggle for Gay and Lesbian Equal Rights, 1945 - 1990." Sponsored by the Offices of the Presidents of the college, Student Association and CAS, with support from CAS. Angell Center Ballrooms.

NOTES

Applications are available at the Angell College Center Desk for Summer 1993 Orientation Leader positions. The application deadline is February 12, 1993. For more information contact the Office of Campus Life, 564-3824.

Intramural Entries are due January 22-23 for women's broomball, men's basketball and the Thursday night bowling league. Entries can be brought to the Office of Recreational Sports, Memorial Hall room 220, 564-3144.

February 5 is the registration deadline for the new New York State Teacher Certification Examinations that are offered in March. If you will be applying for your first provisional teaching certificate subsequent to September 1, 1993, you need to pass the Liberal Arts and Sciences Test and the Assessment of Teaching Skills. See your teacher education director to obtain a registration bulletin for these important dates.

'93-94 Budget Proposal Includes Modest Increase for College

Governor Cuomo's Executive Budget recommendation for the State University of New York and its individual campuses includes a modest increase for SUNY Plattsburgh.

If the budget as presented wins approval of the New York State Legislature, Plattsburgh's operating budget for fiscal 1993-94 will total $28,069,000, an increase of $1,320,000. While most of the increase — more than $1.1 million, or 87 percent — is marked for negotiated salary increases, the proposal in itself reverses a four-year trend whereby annual funding requests by SUNY and its individual campuses have been slashed repeatedly.

"Considering the stressful state of the economy in New York State and concern that it could worsen, the Executive Office has responded positively to the University," commented President Charles O. Warren. "We can be thoughtfully optimistic that we won't be asked to absorb another devastating cut on the one hand, but we must avoid complacency on the other. By that I mean our broad-based and sharply focused advocacy efforts must continue without interruption.

"Indeed, we are hearing from Albany that the message we and our friends and alumni have been conveying to the governor and the Legislature through an aggressive, rational and well-planned University-wide information and lobbying campaign has finally been heard. We must not only continue these efforts, but, in the interest of fostering our long-term viability, we must redouble them.

"Remember, this budget, if passed, may enable us to breathe a little easier. But it does nothing to help us recover what we have lost."

The Plattsburgh president pointed out that after the salary increases (4 percent across the board, to be effective for CSEA colleagues on April 1 and for UUP professionals and faculty on July 1 and September 1, respectively) the remainder of the increase in the budget recommendation is marked for utilities and for "other than personal
(Continued on next page)

WEEKLY

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • JAN 27, 1993

Saunders to Receive Award as 'African-American of Distinction'

Janet Saunders, director of affirmative action at SUNY Plattsburgh, has been named to receive the New York State Governor's Award for African-Americans of Distinction.

Saunders, a member of the college administrative staff since 1987, will receive the award in a public ceremony scheduled for Saturday, February 13 at the Empire State Performing Arts Center in Albany. Following the ceremony, she and other recipients of this year's award will be honored at a reception at a nearby restaurant.

Janet Saunders

The award for African-Americans of Distinction was established a year ago by the Governor's Advisory Committee for Black Affairs to pay tribute, during African-American History Month in February, to African-Americans "who have contributed outstanding community service to the 'Family of New York.'" Sixteen persons representing every region of the state received the award in its inaugural year.

To be eligible for the award, individuals "must have exhibited outstanding actions and accomplishments to enhance the quality of life for their communities" or who have, by example, "served as a role model for disadvantaged people." The criteria further stipulate that nominees must be distinguished in one or more of several areas, including "sustained effort to enhance Equal Opportunity; major contributions to community; excellence in a leadership position; and sustained effort to enhance the image of African-Americans in New York State."

In nominating Saunders for the award, SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren referred to his colleague as a person "who has had
(Continued on next page)

Plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Campus Residences 'Home' Also for 70 Clinton Students

SUNY Plattsburgh's residence halls are home to 70 students who sleep and eat and socialize on campus, but who never show up for classes here.

Goof-offs? Academic derelicts?

They're neither, says Dr. Eldridge W. Roark Jr., the college's vice president for student affairs. "The 70 are students at Clinton Community College," he says.

"Some," he explains, "are students from out of the area we didn't accept for admission but who hope to do well enough academically at Clinton to transfer here. Others are students we had to dismiss but who are attending the community college with expectations to apply for readmission.

"Still others are strictly Clinton students. They are young people from other parts of the state who came up here looking for housing, didn't like what they found, and jumped at the chance to become part of our residential community."

Plattsburgh residence halls have housed Clinton students for several years, and in recent history the average has been between 50 and 55 per semester. They are offered housing contracts on a case-by-case basis, Roark says, and those who sign them are bound by the same rules governing traditional students (for example, they, too, must choose and pay for a meal plan).

"The Clinton students are treated like our own and they give us no trouble," he adds. "They do bring in substantial revenue (at current rates the 70 students would generate $147,000 in room rent over an academic year), but the college does nothing to advertise the arrangement. (Clinton staff do promote it.)

"We look at the plan as the ultimate in cooperation between a four-year campus and a nearby community college," Roark says. "As far as we know, no other SUNY four-year institution chooses to make its housing available to students from neighboring two-year campuses."

Honorary Degree Committee Seeks Nominations

The college's Honorary Degree Committee is seeking nomination for the highest recognition offered by SUNY. The purpose of the honorary degree program is to recognize excellence in the fields of public affairs, the sciences, humanities and the arts, scholarship and education, business and philanthropy, and social sciences. The degree is recognition of meritorious and outstanding service to the University, the State of New York, the United States or to humanity at-large. Ideally, persons selected are those whose lives can serve as examples of the University's aspirations for its students.

Nominations, with supporting comments or documentation, should be forwarded to the Office of the President by February 15.

Budget Proposal Includes Continuation of Position Control (Continued from page 1)

service" — specifically, for contracts and library acquisitions. The $106,000 proposed for utilities costs represents the full amount requested, while $63,800 has been budgeted for OTPS.

Also on the positive side, the Executive Budget recommends continuation of campus control over positions for a second year.

"There are some trouble spots in this budget," President Warren continued. "Most notable, perhaps, is a proposal to eliminate TAP for graduate students — for those attending private colleges as well as SUNY institutions. We'll be studying the governor's recommendation in the coming weeks," he said, "while staying tuned to the legislative process that will ultimately produce our next operating budget."

Saunders Has Had 'Positive Impact on College, Community' (Continued from page 1)

an extremely positive impact on the college and surrounding community."

Pointing to her role on the college's Multicultural Affairs Committee, President Warren observed: "On any given committee there are those who participate and those who distinguish themselves by their insight, vision and leadership. Janet is an individual who explores and clarifies issues, identifies needs, builds a consensus and moves to address the needs of students, faculty and community members alike."

In multicultural activities on campus, Saunders formed the college's Gospel Choir, which is designed to help students explore their heritage while providing a dynamic support group. She has initiated a number of training programs to sensitize faculty to issues related to ethnicity, gender and sexuality, and she has developed a series of sensitivity workshops on the theme of the film, "Inequities in the Classroom."

In community service, among other commitments, Saunders serves on the personnel committee of the Hospice Care of Clinton County; as a director of the Plattsburgh Human Rights Commission; as an advisor to WCFF-FM radio; as a member of the region's Business and Professional Women's Club; and as a member of both the Martin Luther King Celebration Committee and the Black Poetry Day Committee.

Saunders has been twice recognized locally for her accomplishments and contributions to the community — in 1989 she was named the area's "Businesswoman of the Year" and this past year she was chosen as the city of Plattsburgh's "Volunteer of the Year."

Saunders joined the college in 1987. Previously, she was affirmative action and community relations manager for E.J. Brach and Sons, Inc., a division of American Home Products Corp., in Chicago.

Analysis of Ice Age Art Is Psychologist Smith's Latest Book

An Analysis of Ice Age Art: Its Psychology and Belief System, a book by Dr. Noel Smith, professor of psychology, has been published by Peter Lang Publishing of New York City in its American University Studies series.

The 242-page hard-cover book focuses on the intriguing drawings of animals and strange symbols that people of the Ice Age of 15,000 years ago placed in caves and rock shelters in Western Europe. It asks, "What mysteries did the caves hold that induced people to traverse their hazards, discomforts and darkness for the opportunity to engrave and paint pictures on the walls?"

According to the publisher, the Smith book shows how the psychological concepts and shamanistic beliefs of hunter-gatherers match a number of characteristics of the drawings. Its summary states: "Over 150 illustrations from the caves indicate the patterns that support the argument for links between animals and humans. The author brings us closer to understanding the nature of life and its most profound meanings for our fore-runners of so many thousands of years ago."

Dr. Noel Smith

The publisher quotes another SUNY Plattsburgh psychology professor, Dr. Henry Morlock, in its review. Morlock states: "The author applies a broad, behavioristic methodology to the search for understanding of paleolithic cave art of southern Europe. He has so well-documented his explanation of why paleolithic peoples drew the unusual designs and images on the cave walls that scholars will have to deal with his work for years to come."

Professor Smith has been a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty since 1963. Besides numerous articles on prehistorical, historical and theoretical psychology published in professional journals and elsewhere, he is the author of Greek and Interbehavioral Psychology: Selected and Revised Works (University Press of America); co-author of The Science of Psychology (Principia Press); and he served as senior editor of Reassessment in Psychology: The Interbehavioral Alternative (University Press of America).

A Fellow of the American Psychological Association, Smith is the founder of "The Interbehaviorist" and he has served as editor of the Interbehavioral Newsletter. He received the Ph.D. from Indiana University.

(Editor's Note: Professor Smith will give a slide presentation based on his book titled "What Was the Meaning of Ice Age Cave Art?" at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday (February 2) in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. The program is open to all.)

Incidences of Fire Alarms Decline; Mischief Cases Level Off

Statistics show that incidents leading to responses to campus fire alarms by the Plattsburgh City Fire Department have declined significantly in the past few years.

An overview for the fall 1992 semester indicate that the local fire department answered 25 alarms from September through December. That compares with 36 over the same period the previous year and 39 in 1990, 71 in 1989 and 66 in 1988.

Moreover, said Dr. Eldridge W. Roark Jr., vice president for student affairs, alarms attributed to "known mischief" — where someone deliberately activates the alarm device for no good reason — have leveled off. Fall semester known mischief alarms have occurred on six occasions in each of the past three years, down from 12 in 1989 and 18 in 1988.

"One false alarm signaled for any reason is one too many," Roark said,

"but it is important to point out that we maintain twelve residence halls occupied by nearly 3,000 students. Residence directors and assistants continuously emphasize safety and clearly define the consequences of turning in false alarms. The message apparently is getting through, so we are optimistic we can lower the mischief average for the entire academic year below one per residence building."

Roark noted that students caught pulling false alarms for no good reason automatically face suspension charges, and they are required to pay restitution costs equal to expenses incurred by the city's fire department. "We haven't caught any of the six responsible for false alarm pranks so far this year," he said, "but several students have been suspended for the offense in the past."

The remaining 19 fall semester false alarms were caused by actual fire or smoke (6), by accident (3), by system malfunction (2) or by reasons classified as "unknown" (8). System malfunction and unknown both involve system breakdown or activation for no apparent reason, but they differ in that the former cannot be reset while the latter can.

The unknown factor had plagued the college for several years, said Roark. The overview shows these incidents have dropped to eight during the past semester from 21 in fall of 1991, 15 in 1990, 51 in 1989 and 38 in 1988.

"It became apparent that system failure was the problem in facilities where unexplained alarms were happening frequently," said Roark. "We replaced the system, at substantial cost, I might add, but the results have been gratifying."

Sexual Harassment Network Established; 22 Volunteer

A network of advisors on sexual harassment has been established and will soon become operational.

The objectives of the advisors' program are twofold: to identify the existence of sexual harassment incidents, particularly those involving students and faculty and staff, through a broad communications network, and to provide a communication link between students and the administration to facilitate awareness, investigation and resolution of sexual harassment problems.

According to Janet Saunders, director of affirmative action, network participants — recruited from across the campus — have agreed to serve as resource persons for individuals who have concerns related to harassment.

An original group of 22 advisors met for the first time last Saturday for training. They are, by network guidelines, faculty and staff, men and women, "persons who are secure and respected in their positions, perceived as supportive by potential complainants and energetic in their concern for fairness" and who are "viewed as approachable" by students and their peers.

As resource persons, the advisors will provide information about sexual harassment to individuals and help them bring their concerns to the college's Affirmative Action Office. They will not investigate allegations; rather, they will help identify the nature of complaints and encourage documentation while offering support and comfort.

In cases where complaints are not related to sexual harassment, those who allege harassment has occurred will be referred to the proper person or office. In conjunction with Saunders' office and the Sexual Harassment Committee, network participants will assist in coordinating an educational campaign.

The current composition of the network: Laura Dominy, financial aid; Carol Frome, learning center; Dr.

William Gaeddert, psychology; Henry Goldenberg, philosophy; Robert Harsh, Educational Opportunity Program; Barbara Hebert, Career/Life Planning Center; Nancy Hoshlyk, Feinberg Library; Dr. John Kellermeier, mathematics; Kathleen Kiernan, facilities planning; William Kilduff, maintenance and operations; William Laundry, campus life; Rolando Miranda, foreign languages; Kevin Mundy, media services; Lori Parliament, School of Business and Economics; Dr. Gordon Pollard, anthropology; Sara Richman, Educational Opportunity Program; Dr. Richard Schnell, human resources; Dr. John Shout, English; Dr. Charles Simpson, sociology; Sally Stay, student health services; Robert Tabor, personnel; Jennifer Wade, academic advisement; and Dr. Ann Zielinski, art, music and theatre.

Others interested in serving as sexual harassment advisors may call Janet Saunders (5250) or Mary Dossin, committee chairperson (6138).

Professor Emeritus Engelhart to Address Women's Studies Forum

Dr. Carl Engelhart, professor emeritus of English, will open the spring semester 1993 Women's Studies Forum, titled "Margaret Fuller: Child of Scorn."

Engelhart's talk will take place at 12:15 p.m. tomorrow (January 28) in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. Fuller was a 19th century author, critic and social reformer.

Professor Emeritus Engelhart served the college and its Department of English for many years prior to his retirement in 1985. He is a former English department chairperson and Dean of the Humanities Division.

Women's Forum programs are held weekly in the Cardinal Lounge on Thursdays from 12:15 to 1 p.m. while classes are in session. They are free and open to the campus and community.

10 Students Earn Membership in Alpha Mu Alpha

Ten senior marketing majors have been nominated for membership in Alpha Mu Alpha, the marketing honorary society of the American Marketing Association (AMA).

According to Dr. Nancy Church, associate professor of marketing and the society's advisor, the ten represent the top ten percent of all marketing seniors on the basis of the grade point averages.

The ten and their hometowns are: Jeanne Araujo, Central Islip; Julia Bovee, Porters Corners; Gerald Caiazza, Troy; Jennifer Easton, Latham; Jennifer Lucas, Saratoga Springs; Marlo Manico, Newtonville; Heather Noun, Clifton Park; Edward Ross, Schenectady; Christine Ruggerio, Nanuet; and Jane Vangelov, Syracuse.

Church reports that the college's Marketing Club is the recipient of a 1992-93 Efficiency Award from the AMA. The award recognizes that the chapter has met requirements for charter renewal and that it ranks among the most proficient collegiate chapters in the nation.

CORRECTIONS

The public lecture by journalist Eric Marcus, author of The Struggle for Gay & Lesbian Equal Rights, 1945 to 1991, is scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday, January 28) in the Angell College Center Ballrooms, not as stated in last week's Weekly.

The organizational meeting of the "Project Focus" Steering Group was held last Thursday, not as reported in last week's Weekly. Also, subsequent to announcing the Project Focus initiative, student Samara Miller was appointed to the Steering Group.

Varied Events Highlight Celebration of Black History Month

Films, food, lectures, workshops, displays, forums and music and theatre performances are among the highlights of the college's annual celebration of Black History Month in February, and the 1993 event is taking shape as the most ambitious and comprehensive ever.

Black History Month begins at 7 p.m. next Wednesday (February 3) with presentation by WPLT-FM of the first installment in an eight-program, half-hour radio series titled "Black Achievers: Prescriptions for Progress."

The series features a historical and contemporary look at issues affecting the black community, and it features Maya Angelou, Charles Johnson, Governor Douglas Wilder and former Congresswoman Barbara Jordan, among others.

Other first-week activities include:

- Black History Month displays — the first a month-long exhibit in Feinberg Library depicting African-American history and culture and the other a display sponsored by Akeba and the Organization for Women of Ethnicity scheduled for 11:30 to 1:30 p.m. on February 4, 8, 15 and 22 in the Angell Center lobby;

- "Black Mother, Black Daughter," a Women's Studies Forum film and discussion program to be held at 12:15 p.m. on Thursday (February 4) in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge;

- An Akeba-sponsored (campus only) workshop titled "Unity and the Black Family" scheduled for 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday (February 6) in the Angell Center Amnesty Room; and

- A "Gospel Festival" to be held Saturday from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Recreation Center at Plattsburgh Air Force Base.

Other major events and activities on tap through the first week in March include:

- An appearance (still tentative) of "Kusika!, a West African Drumming and Dance Ensemble" — 8 p.m. Friday, February 12, Hartman Theatre (admission charged);

- A lecture by Roy Innis, renowned chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, 7:30 p.m. Saturday, February 13, Angell Center Ballrooms;

- An open forum: "Students, Faculty and Staff Addressing Multicultural Issues," 4 to 5:30 p.m. Friday, February 19, Angell Center Cardinal Lounge;

- SUNY Plattsburgh Gospel Choir (with varied guest gospel choirs), 7 p.m. Saturday, February 20, Angell Center Ballrooms;

- Presidents' Speakers Series: "To Live and Die in L.A.," a program in which former Los Angeles gang members will offer insights into gang violence, 8 p.m. Tuesday, February 23, Angell Center Ballrooms;

- A comedy program featuring Chris Thomas scheduled for 9 p.m. Friday, February 26, Angell Center Ballrooms (admission charged); and

- Presentation of "Thornwood," a new American play by Tony Howarth about teaching and survival at an inner-city high school, on March 3 to 6 at 8 p.m. and on March 7 at 2 p.m., Hartman Theatre (admission charged).

Details about these and other events will appear in Weekly and in this week on campus for the duration of Black History Month.

Residence Hall Staff Compile Impressive Fall Term GPA's

Academic data for SUNY Plattsburgh's residence staff for fall 1992 indicate the group collectively achieved an overall semester grade point average of 3.26 and had compiled an overall cumulative GPA of 3.184.

The semester GPA is below the previous year's 3.33 but the cumulative average is up slightly. Seventy-one (two fewer than 1991) of 92 residence staff achieved fall term GPA's above 3.0; 36 earned GPA's of 3.5 or higher; and seven — two more than a year ago — scored perfect 4.0 grades.

Staff in Macomb (3.535), Harrington (3.51) and Mason (3.43) halls rank as the top three in fall semester GPA's, respectively, among the college's 12 residence halls. The top three in cumulative GPA by hall are Macdonough (3.415), Harrington (3.377) and Wilson (3.307).

The undergraduate and graduate residence hall staff who achieved 4.0 GPA's last fall, their year in college, majors and hometowns are: Tricia Bliven, senior, French, Morrisville; Joshua Duntley, sophomore, psychology, Dannemora; Margaret Gamache, junior, biology, Greene; Amy Hicks, junior, hotel and restaurant management, Ballston Lake; Kathleen Leary, graduate student, elementary education, Plattsburgh; Mark Place, graduate student, administration and supervision, Hudson Falls; and Nicole St. Mary-Kingsley, graduate student, student affairs practice, Malone.

Other student residence staff who achieved a 3.5 GPA or higher were Deborah Anderson, Patrick Armet, Melanie Besculides, Holly Cwirka, Richard Davino, Patrick Dee, Kari

Flemming, Nicole Forkey, Carrie Freer, Amy Goi, Del Hart, Carrie Hughes, Chris Imponemi, Amanda Jankowski, Melissa Jenkins, Kay McEvoy, George McMurtry, Him McNamara, Criag Pederson, Jennifer Pinkham, Kelly Rose, Kelly Ryan, David Scott, Jill Shea, William Sherman, Angela Talada, Jennifer Whispell, and Wendy White.

Weekly to Publish Next Week on Thursday

Next week's Weekly will be published and distributed on Thursday, February 4, rather than Wednesday the 3rd, to allow for coverage of Thursday's annual meeting of the Plattsburgh College Foundation. The results of the Foundation's 1992 fund-raising year will be announced at the annual meeting.

David Brainard, a peer writing tutor in the Special Services Project, has had an essay accepted for publication in an upcoming issue of the Writing Lab Newsletter. Brainard wrote the essay as part of a requirement for English 390, a training course for peer tutors ... Dr. Suzann Buckley, professor of history and associate dean of arts and science, will chair the joint committee of the American Historical Association and the Canadian Historical Association from 1993-94. Her book review of Jane Lewis' Women and Social Action in Victorian and Edwardian England appeared recently in History: Review of New Books. Buckley and Dr. Douglas Skopp, professor of history, are cited as area specialists for Canada and Europe and the Soviet Union, respectively, in a social studies textbook, World Cultures — A Global Mosaic, published by Prentice Hall (1993) ... Dr. Vincent Carey, assistant professor of history, presented a paper titled "Colonial Conflicts: Gerald the XI, Earl of Kildare and Tudor Rule in Ireland" as a contribution to "Collaboration and Survival in Early Modern Ireland" at the annual conference of the American Historical Association held recently in Washington, D.C. He also co-authored a paper titled "Spenser, Faction and Colonial Policy in Ireland" which was presented in December in New York City at the annual conference of the Modern Language Association ... Dr. Raney Ellis, director of computing services, and Stanley Supinski, executive director of College Auxiliary Services, will give a presentation titled "Systems Connectivity and Converting the Campus to a New Card" at the State University of New York Business Officers Association's "Universal ID Card Workshop and Trade Show" to be held February 18 in Syracuse. Ellis and Supinski will describe how Plattsburgh connected both the campus mainframe and library computing systems to the new CAS card system, and they will discuss the procedure used to change from the former card to the new one ... "The Wittig Reaction in the Generation of Organometallic Compounds Containing Alkenes as Side Groups" is the title of an article by Dr. Edward Miller, associate professor of chemistry, which appears in a recent issue of the Journal of Organometallic Chemistry ... Dr. Lynn Schrum, assistant professor of education, presented a paper titled "Online Telecommunications Class: Professional Development in the Information Age" at a meeting of the International Society for Technology in education held recently in Denver. An article by Schrum titled "Professional Development in the Information Age" was published in the December 1992 issue of Educational Technology. She is also the author of "Social Interaction through Online Writing," a chapter in the book Computer Conferencing: The Last Word, published recently by Beach Holme Publishers ... An essay by Joyce Theroux, a 1991 SUNY Plattsburgh graduate with a degree in psychology and a former peer writing tutor in the Claude Clark Learning Center, has been published in the fourth edition of Kenneth Brufee's text, A Short Course in Writing.

Hockey Team Maintains SUNYAC, ECAC Unbeaten Strings

The Plattsburgh State hockey team stayed unbeaten in State University of New York Athletic Conference play and in the Eastern College Athletic Conference with wins last week over SUNYAC rival Potsdam and ECAC west leader Canisius.

It was a big two-game set for center Tim Sullivan. He picked up two assists in the Cardinals' 5-2 victory over the Bears in Potsdam on Tuesday (meanwhile, goalie Bill Sammartino, in his second start of the campaign, turned in an impressive performance, stopping 21 of 23 Potsdam shots).

Against Canisius, Sullivan scored six points with a pair of goals and four assists as the Cards blasted the Golden Griffins, 11-7. The line of Sullivan, Chris Fess and Lenny Pereira combined for seven goals and 17 total points. The Cardinal hockey team is 13-4-0 overall and 7-0 in SUNYAC.

The Plattsburgh men's basketball team won two of three on the road during the week to run its record to 9-6 overall and 5-4 in the conference. Senior forward Oronde King paced the Cards with 16 points in a 102-78 triumph over St. Lawrence at Canton.

On Friday, junior forward Damon Brown tallied 16 points and pulled down 11 rebounds at New Paltz, but his effort wasn't enough as the Cardinals dropped a disappointing 98-90 decision to the Hawks. They tightened on defense the following evening, however, to soundly thrash Oneonta's Red Dragons, 63-49, at Oneonta. Senior Chris Cavosie led the way with 14 points.

The Cardinal women's basketball team was 1-2 on the week, losing to St. Lawrence, 60-56, and New Paltz, 68-54, before nipping Oneonta, 66-64. Senior guard Alicia LaValley turned in strong performances against the Cards' SUNYAC foes with 18 points, six rebounds and five steals at New Paltz and with 21 points at Oneonta.

The college's indoor track team hosted the annual Cardinal Classic over the weekend at the Field House, with the women runners finishing first and the men third in a field that included athletes from St. Lawrence, Norwich, Middlebury, Castleton State and a local group known as the Momentum Track Club.

Heather Myrick led the Cardinal women with first place finishes in the long jump and triple jump. Kevin Shea was the top Plattsburgh competitor with firsts in the pole vault and the 55 meter hurdles. Tom Oulette crossed the line first for the Cardinals in the 3000 meters with a personal best time of 8:47.2.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, January 28 — THURSDAY, February 4

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, January 28

10am-3pm — U.S. Marine Corps will be on campus to speak to students regarding their Officer Selection Program, sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

11am — ACB presents Gyro and Fly Wall, sponsored by the Student Association. Angell Center Blue Room.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Dr. Carl Engelhart speaking on "Margaret Fuller: Child of Scorn," sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with support from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm — Upward Bound summer employment information meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

7pm — Cardinal Points meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Presidents' Speakers Series presents Eric Marcus speaking on "Making History: The Struggle for Gay and Lesbian Equal Rights, 1945 - 1990." Sponsored by the Offices of the Presidents with support from CAS. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Friday, January 29

3pm — Omicron Delta Kappa regular meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30pm — Akeba weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

5:30pm — El Pueblo general meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone is welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7:30pm — Men's Ice Hockey vs. Brockport. Tickets: $1.50 SA Members, $4 faculty, staff and public. Advance sale at the Angell Center Desk and at the door. Stafford Ice Arena.

8:00pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "A League of Their Own" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

Saturday, January 30

1pm — Men's and women's Swimming vs. Middlebury College. Memorial Hall.

7:30pm — Men's Ice Hockey vs. Fredonia. Tickets: $1.50 SA Members, $4 faculty, staff and public. Advance sale at the Angell Center Desk and at the door. Stafford Ice Arena.

Sunday, January 31

6pm and 8:30pm — The Theatre Department presents "Dream Staging" — Performers will act out the audience's dreams. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $4 faculty/staff and $7 public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning January 18th. Myers Studio Theatre.

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "Raising Cain" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, February 1

7:30pm — Club Canada's weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — J.V. Basketball vs. St. Lawrence. Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, February 2

12:15pm — Learn to Learn Seminar Series sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — Music Brown Bag sponsored by the Music Department. Angell Center Ballroom B.

Watch 'this week on campus' through March 7 for programs and activities celebrating 'Black History Month' at SUNY Plattsburgh

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.

4pm — Workshop on Tenant's Rights sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15pm — Faculty Senate Meeting. Clinton Hall Conference Room.

4:15pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Dr. Jin Kim, Department of Communications, speaking on "Chinese Dinner Memory Disfunction: The Fuss About Information Overload." Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30pm — "What is the meaning of Ice Age Cave Art?" sponsored by the Topical Discussion Group. For additional information please contact Noel Smith, ext. 3386. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Wednesday, February 3

11:30am — CVPH Blood Drive sponsored by Alpha Delta Theta Sorority. Angell Center Ballroom B.

12:15pm — Learn to Learn Seminar Series sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:15pm — International Awareness Forum presents Professor William Culver, Department of Political Science, speaking on "In the Boco del Lobo: Elections in Peru: November 1992." Sponsored by the Office of the Dean of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm — Readings of Original Student Plays sponsored by the Theatre Department. Myers Fine Arts, Studio Theatre.

8pm — Circle K International weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

Thursday, February 4

11am — U.S. Peace Corps information table sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

11:30am — Black History Month Display sponsored by the Black History Month Celebration Committee. Angell Center Lobby.

12:10pm — The Women's Studies Forum presents "Black Mother, Black Daughter" — film and discussion — sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7pm — Evening session for in-depth discussion of opportunities with the U.S. Peace Corps (see 11 a.m. item for this date). Angell Center Meeting Room #7.

8pm — Visual Artists Series slide/lecture sponsored by Art Resources. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Notes

Applications are available for Summer 1993 Orientation Leader positions at the Angell College Center Desk. The application eadline is February 12. For more information contact the Office of Campus Life, 564-3824.

Friday, January 29th at 4 p.m. is the deadline for new students (admitted January '93) to submit R.A. Applications for the 1993-94 academic year. Completed applications are to be turned into Campus Life, Angell Center 110.

CURRENT POSITION OPENINGS

Faculty

Biology — Assistant professor - fall '93 - deadline: open.

Business/Economics — Vita Bank - part time - deadline: open.

Human Resources — Lecturer, full- or part-time (counselor-educator) - deadline: open.

Lifelong Learning — Adjunct faculty - part time - extension sites - spring/summer '93 - deadline: open.

Communication (two positions) — Assistant professor - fall '93 - deadline: open.

Foreign Language (Spanish) — Vita Bank - part-time lecturer - deadline: open.

History — Instructor, part time - summer session II - deadline: 3/1/93.

Music — Assistant Professor - fall '93 - deadline: open.

Nursing — Department chair - July 1, 1993 - deadline: open.

Teacher Education — Assistant professor (three positions: educational foundations; secondary foundations; reading) - spring '93 - deadline: open.

WEEKLY

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • FEB. 4, 1993

College Foundation Tops $1 Million Mark for First Time; Annual Giving Establishes New Record With $455,643

The Plattsburgh College Foundation raised more than $1 million in 1992 for the first time ever, according to Foundation President Clifford Calongne, who released the figures during the corporation's annual meeting on Thursday (Feb. 4).

Calongne said, "The total figure for all campaigns — annual giving, endowment giving, gifts to the Centennial Fund, and planned giving — amounted to $1,074,114.12. This is a remarkable achievement at any time, but particularly so during a year when the economy was such a concern. This continued support is heartening and makes us all proud to be associated with the Foundation."

He continued, "A major reason for this outstanding success is due to the generosity of the late Dr. Edward E. Redcay who willed his home to the Foundation and to Dr. and Mrs. Xenophon Damianos, both alumni, who donated an adjacent piece of property. The lake-front parcels were sold this year and added considerably to the total Foundation income. The generosity and foresight of Dr. Redcay and the Damianos have greatly increased the Foundation's capacity to provide for the needs of the college and President Charles O. Warren commented, "Once again the Plattsburgh College Foundation, alumni, our staff and faculty colleagues, members of the business community, parents and friends have responded to the needs of our students in an extraordinary fashion — in fact, in a record-setting manner. This is especially impressive given the economic times that we've all experienced over the past several years. We have always been grateful for being a part of this wonderful community and this year's benevolence serves to deepen and broaden that gratitude."

Don Garrant, executive director of the Foundation, announced the results of the various segments of the campaign. "The its students."

SUNY Plattsburgh

(Continued on next page)

1992 Annual Giving
Sources of Income

THE PLATTSBURGH
COLLEGE FOUNDATION

Overall Giving — 1992

| | |
|-------------------|-----------|
| Annual Giving: | $455,643 |
| Endowment Giving: | 90,781 |
| Centennial Fund: | 59,480 |
| Planned Giving: | 468,210 |

Levitin Receives NEA Grant to Support Translation of Complete Work of de Andrade

Dr. Alexis Levitin, professor of English, has been awarded a 1993 Translators Fellowship Grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, the federal agency "that supports the visual, literary and performing arts to benefit all Americans."

Professor Levitin

The grant, in the amount of $10,000, will support Levitin's translation of the complete works of Eugenio de Andrade, leading to a large volume in English of The Collected Poems of Eugenio de Andrade. The prestigious award is one of only ten given nationally by NEA this year in the field of translation.

Levitin began translating Brazilian poetry and short fiction upon his return from
(Continued on back page)

Plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Six Appointed to College Foundation Board of Directors

Six new members were named to the Plattsburgh College Foundation's Board of Directors today during the Foundation's annual meeting. Elected to three-year terms, representing the community at large, were Roger Forrence, Dr. Celine Racine Paquette, Victor Podd and Meredith Prime.

Roger Forrence

Celine Paquette

Victor Podd

Meredith Prime

John Longware

Michael Rapley

Forrence is president of Forrence Orchards, Inc. of Peru. He formerly served on the Foundation Board and has been a member of the Foundation's Investment Committee for several years. He is a member of the Boards of Directors of Miner Institute and Paul Smith's College.

Paquette, a 1960 graduate of SUNY Plattsburgh, holds a doctorate in educational administration from SUNY Albany. Currently the owner and president of Paquette's Agency, Inc. in Rouses Point, she spent 27 years in the field of education. She is president of the Rouses Point-Champlain Kiwanis Club, and a member of the boards of directors of the Champlain Library and Literacy Volunteers.

Podd is president and chief executive officer of Powertex, Inc.; Powertex Plus International, Inc.; Fort Montgomery Estates and Omni Plus, Inc. He is also chairman and CEO of Omni Plus Inc. and Communications Gap Inc., both in Montreal. He is a member of the college's Canada/US Business Advisory Council. He is a director of the Private Industry

Council and the NYS North Country Regional Economic Development Council.

Prime, a resident of Lake Placid and Essex, serves on several community boards, including the Adirondack Nature Conservancy, the Adirondack Land Trust, WCFE, the Trudeau Institute, and the Cray Foundation. She is treasurer of the Lake Placid Center for the Arts.

The Alumni Association's Board of Directors elected John Longware to serve a three-year term as alumni representative. Longware earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees in education from SUNY Plattsburgh and has been a member of the Alumni Association's Board of Directors for several years. Retired principal of the Northside School in the Peru Central School District, he is co-owner of Cable Communications of Willsboro. He previously served on the Foundation board.

President Charles O. Warren appointed Michael Rapley, recently elected president of the Student Association, to a one-year term representing students. Rapley is a business economics major from Peekskill. Warren reappointed Dr. Nancy Church, associate professor of marketing, to a fourth one-year term as faculty representative. Church has co-chaired the Foundation's Faculty/Staff Campaign for several years.

The College Council reappointed Beth Johnson as its representative to the Board. Johnson is a member of the faculty of North Country Community College.

Besides Foundation President Calongne, other continuing directors include Marie L. Beemer, Ralph A. Boardman, Robert T. Booth, Elizabeth A. Kelly, Patrick T. Murnane, Michael J. O'Connor, Andrew J. Schonbek, Margot L. Thomas '71, and Peter A. Whitbeck '70.

Alumni Fund Again Sets the Pace in Annual Giving

Annual Giving Campaign," he said, "raised a record $455,643.34, up nearly 11 percent over last year's total, which was also a record high.

"Contributions to the varied endowments held by the Foundation totaled $90,780.97. The college realized $468,209.79 from six planned gifts. Those planned gifts include gifts from the Lewis Robinson Trust and Elva Guilbault Trust, bequests from Dr. Edward E. Redcay, James Ashley, and Barbara Crosby '45, and a gift of property from Dr. and Mrs. Xenophon Damianos '51/'52."

He continued, "Finally, fourth-year payments of pledges to the Centennial Endowment Fund totaled $59,480. Those contributions bring the total in that endowment fund to $594,393, almost 20 percent above its goal, and there is still a year left for final payment of pledges."

Within the Annual Giving Campaign (which raised $455,643), it was reported that alumni once again led the way, contributing $166,424, followed by the business community with $131,110. This year's Friends Campaign also hit a new high of $57,645. For the first time, the Parents Fund received support from more than 1,000 families.

Parents collectively donated $33,450, which is especially noteworthy considering that tuition has increased by 95 percent in the past two years. Faculty and staff continued their generous support for the college, this year contributing $23,815 to the annual giving campaign.

(Continued from page 1)

The Cardinal Booster Club noted a significant increase in membership and contributions this year, adding $21,791 to the annual giving campaign. Foundations and Organizations also provided significant support, contributing a total of $21,407.

Closing the meeting, Calongne expressed his appreciation to the many donors to the 1992 campaign and noted also the tireless efforts of the many Foundation volunteers who made such an outstanding success possible.

Showcase Planning on Schedule; Abstracts Due This Month

Showcase '93 is coming together in grand style. But prospective participants have less than a month to submit abstracts outlining plans for performances, productions, lectures, experiments, symposia, response has been good," she continued. "We have twelve abstracts on hand now, and that's twelve more than we had a year ago at this early date."

A few innovations are taking shape.

The most dramatic, Nardelli said, is a "Showcase Eve" music extravaganza, patterned after the music department's annual fall "Prism Concert" program, to be held Tuesday evening in the Angell Center Ballrooms.

Dr. Marshall Onofrio, associate professor of music, is coordinating this activity, and it will involve between 125 and 150 students and faculty who perform with the College Chorale, Cardinal Singers, Jazz Ensemble, Symphonic Band, Flute Ensemble, and the Brass Quintet — and one or more soloists. The format, Onofrio said, is a "musicians-in-the-round" program — with the audience in the middle — in which a spotlight cues the respective groups to perform. A reception in the Cardinal Lounge will follow the concert.

The printed program for Showcase will change, Nardelli said. Rather than two separate pieces, a chronological listing of events and an abstract book, all Showcase material will be presented in one document.

Also, she said, the newly formed Plattsburgh chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, the national honor society, will install its initial members during Showcase. Additionally, Deborah DeSilva of the communication department and Kevin Mundy of Feinberg Library's media services department are planning to produce a video tape of Showcase happenings for use during new student orientation programs during the summer.

Nardelli noted that the SUNY Plattsburgh College Council has planned its April meeting on Showcase day at the college to allow its members to attend as many activities as possible.

This year's Showcase program will be the fifth, and, like the last three, it is expected to break all previous records for participation (Showcase '92 featured more than 170 presentations). Classes, clinics and studio and laboratory experiences will be suspended on April 7 to allow for maximum participation and exposure to events and activities among students, faculty, staff and members of the community.

Showcase coordinator Anna Nardelli pins special Showcase button on Vice President for Academic Affairs Thomas Moran while President Charles O. Warren looks on.

workshops and exhibits "that demonstrate the scholarly and creative pursuits" of the SUNY Plattsburgh campus community.

"February 26 is the absolute deadline for abstracts," said Anna Nardelli, associate professor of education and chair-person of a college-wide committee charged to plan the day-long event, which will take place on Wednesday, April 7. "The early

GTE Lecture Program to Feature Political Theorist Winner

Dr. Langdon Winner, a political theorist who focuses on social and political issues generated by technological change, will be visiting lecturer at the college next Tuesday (February 9).

Winner, professor of political science in the Department of Science and Technology Studies at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, will discuss "How Artifacts Have Politics: Design and Power Technology & Politics in the 1990's," at 7:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Ballroom. The talk, to be presented under a grant to the college in the GTE Lectureship Program, is open to all.

Winner maintains that, as society considers a wide range of impending technological innovations, it looks primarily at their economic payoffs. Just as important in the long run, he claims, are the ways in which the shape of new technologies change the structure of society. His lecture will focus on a number of questions, including whether we will have satisfying workplaces, homes and communities in years to come, or whether freedom will flourish or will uniformity and a regimented way of life solidify around us.

Besides RPI, Winner has taught at M.I.T., the University of California at Santa Cruz and at the University of Leiden in the Netherlands, and he has lectured widely throughout the U.S. and Europe. He is the author of "Autonomous Technology," a study of the idea of "technology-out-of-control" in modern social thought, "The Whale and the Reactor: A Search for Limits in an Age of High Technology," and he is editor of "Democracy in a Technological Society."

The GTE Lectureship Program at the college is funded under a grant obtained by Dr. Ingrun Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs. The grant proposal was titled "Technology, Ethics, and the Environment: Connecting the Local to the Global."

Fess Tallies Six Goals as Card Hockey Team Wins 1, Ties 1

The Plattsburgh State hockey team won a game and tied another at home against SUNYAC opponents over the weekend to inch closer to a regular season conference title. The Cardinals trounced Brockport, 9-5, on Friday but could manage only a 5-5 tie with pesky Fredonia the following evening.

In the Brockport contest, Captain Chris Fess and linemate Lenny Pereira combined for six points, with Fess netting a pair of goals and Pereira scoring a goal and assisting on three. Fess came back strong on Saturday with four goals, highlighted by a first period hat trick, but his effort wasn't enough as the Blue Devils stormed back from a three-goal deficit to tie the game in regulation. Neither team could score in overtime.

The Cardinals, now 14-4-1 overall and 8-0-1 in conference play, held a decided edge in shots on goal in the two-game weekend set. They peppered the Brockport net with 61 shots, allowing the Eagles 32, and held a 58-39 cushion versus Fredonia.

The men's basketball team split a pair on the road, nipping Brockport, 71-68, on Friday before bowing to highly ranked Geneseo (sixth nationally), 110-84, on Saturday. Guard Brian Kochanowicz paced the Cardinals with 15 points in the Brockport victory, and forward Chris Cavosi tallied 19 points and pulled down 14 rebounds in the loss to Geneseo. SUNYAC rivals Cortland and Binghamton will test the Cardinals this weekend in Memorial Hall. Plattsburgh has won ten of 17 overall and is 6-5 against conference foes.

The women's basketball team, meanwhile, lost to Brockport, 71-42, and Geneseo, 107-60. Guards Kara Kitchen and Alicia LaValley led the Cards' weekend scoring, Kitchen with 11 points against Brockport and LaValley with 17 at Geneseo. The women cagers are 4-13 against all opponents and 2-9 in SUNYAC, and they, too, will host Cortland and Binghamton this weekend.

In indoor track, the women's team finished first and the men were third in the four-team Norwich invitational meet held over the weekend. Wendi Clark was a double winner for the Cards, taking the high jump in a school record 5 feet, two and one-half inches and the shot put with a throw of 27 feet, one-quarter inch to qualify for the SUNYAC and state championships in both events. The top performer for the men was Kevin Shea, who won the pole vault at 13 feet and the 55 meter hurdles in 8.2 seconds.

Two Cardinal swimmers qualified for the SUNYAC championships in a dual meet with Middlebury. The are Brian Paulsey, who won the 50 meter freestyle in 23.34, and Juli Dandrow, who won both the 50 and 200 freestyle events with times of 26.28 and 2:08.35, respectively.

Farb to Lecture

The renowned Nathan Farb, whose exhibition of photographs titled "Sacred Spaces: The Adirondack Vision" is on display through February 20 in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery, will present a lecture on his work at 8 p.m. today (February 4) in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. The lecture, presented and sponsored by the college's Visual Artists Series, is free and open to all.

Levitin's NEA Award One of 10 Given Nationally for Translation (Continued from page 1)

Brazil in 1974. He had spent two and a half years there, in the state of Santa Catarina, setting up a new graduate program in English and American Literature.

Since 1974, Levitin's translations of both Brazilian and Portuguese poetry and short fiction have appeared in well over 100 literary magazines, including American Poetry Review, Translation, and New Letters. They have also been included in more than a dozen anthologies and they include Macmillan's Women Poets of the World, New American's Library's Latin American Literature Today, and St. Martin's Latin American Writers.

Levitin's work has also resulted in six books to date. They are: Inhabited Heart: The Selected Poems of Eugenio de Andrade (1985), Woman Without Eden by Carmen Conde (co-translated with Jose R. de Armas) (1986), White on White by Eugenio de Andrade (1987), Memory of Another River by Eugenio de Andrade (1988), Soulstorm by Clarice Lispector (1989), and Slopes of a Gaze by de Andrade (1992).

Translations by Levitin have received a number of awards over the years. In 1984 his work on Clarice Lispector earned him the Van de Bovenkamp-Armand C. Erpf Award from the Translation Center at Columbia University. The previous year he received a SUNY Research Foundation Faculty Research Fellowship.

In 1987, Levitin's translation of White on White won a Betty A.

Colladay Award from the Quarterly Review of Literature. Memory of Another River was given an honorable mention by the Translation Center at Columbia University in 1990.

In 1991, Levitin won a New York State Council on the Arts Translation Grant, and in 1992, his sixth book, Slopes of a Gaze won the first Fernando Pessoa Translation Award from Columbia University and also received a Wheatland Foundation Grant.

Levitin has studied in Portugal, having worked there for about six months on further translations under a Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation Fellowship. He intends to return to Portugal for further work this summer.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, February 4 — THURSDAY, February 11
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, February 4

11am-4pm — U.S. Peace Corps information table sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

11:30am — Celebrating Black History Month: Display sponsored by AKEBA and the Organization for Women of Ethnicity. Angell Center Lobby.

12:10pm — The Women's Studies Forum presents "Black Mother, Black Daughter" film and discussion, sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Visual Artists Series slide/lecture featuring Nathan Farb. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm-9pm — Evening Session to find out more about the U.S. Peace Corps. Angell Center Meeting Room #7.

Friday, February 5

4pm — Welcome reception sponsored by Asian Students Providing Cultural Enrichment — ASPCE. All are welcome. Brief program at 5 pm. Refreshments will be served. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30pm — Akeba weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo general meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone is welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

6pm & 8 pm — Men's and women's basketball vs. Cortland. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, faculty/staf and public $2.50 on sale at the Angell Center Desk and the door. Memorial Hall.

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Celebrating Black History Month: Friday Night Film Series presents "Boomerang" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

Saturday, February 6

6:15am — Ski Trip to Sugarbush, sponsored by the SA Activities Coordination Board. Tickets: $28, includes lift and bus transportation, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. bus departs from the Rugar Street pull-off.

12pm — Celebrating Black History Month: Workshop facilitated by Shoptalk, "Unity and the Black Family," sponsored by AKEBA. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

1pm — Men's and Women's swimming vs. Potsdam. Memorial Hall.

6pm & 8 pm — Men's and women's basketball vs. Binghamton. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, faculty/staf and public $2.50 on sale at the Angell Center Desk and the door. Memorial Hall.

Sunday, February 7

4pm — SA Executive Council meeting. Student Association Exec. Council Office.

6:45 and 9:15pm — Celebrating Black History Month: ACBSunday Night at the Movies presents "SARAFINA" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, February 8

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Resumes and Cover Letters. Kehoe 609A.

7:30pm — Club Canada's weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room 7.

11:30am — Celebrating Black History Month: Display sponsored by AKEBA and the Organization for Women of Ethnicity. Angell Center Lobby.

7:30pm — Campus Poet Series presents Mario Duarte, sponsored by the Foreign Language and Literature Department and the Faculty of Arts and Science. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

8pm — The Marketing Club weekly planning meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee weekly meeting. Hudson Hall 028.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, February 9

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Targeting Your Job Search. Kehoe 609A.

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #4.

12:15pm — Learn to Learn Seminar Series sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — Adult Student Group weekly meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.

6pm — Women's Basketball vs. Clarkson. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, faculty/staff and public $2.50 on sale at the Angell Center Desk and the door. Memorial Hall.

6:30pm — Double feature film showing of Welles' "Othello" followed by Olivier's "Othello" sponsored by the English Department. Yokum CL 208.

7:30pm — GTE Lectureship Series Program on Technology and Ethics presents: Dr. Langdon Winner speaking on "How Artifacts Have Politics: Design and Power" sponsored by Academic Affairs. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Men's Basketball vs. Clarkson. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, faculty/staf and public $2.50 on sale at the Angell Center Desk and the door. Memorial Hall.

Wednesday, February 10

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Considering Graduate School. Kehoe 609A.

12:15pm — Learn to Learn Seminar Series sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7:30pm — Hillel weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

8pm — Circle K International weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

Thursday, February 11

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Cooperative Education. Kehoe 609A.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum, sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30pm — The Marketing Club begins a four-part series on etiquette with a program titled "How to Order and Entertain Out." Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

7:30pm — First Women's Rugby informational meeting. Angell Center Ballroom B.

Notes

Applications are available for Summer 1993 Orientation Leader positions, at the Angell College Center Desk. The application deadline is February 12. For more information contact the Office of Campus Life, 564-3824.

Just in time for Valentines' Day...RAP workshops on Relationships will be held in residence halls as follows:

| | | |
|--------------|--------------------|---------|
| Adirondack | Monday, Feb. 8, | 9 pm |
| Banks | Tuesday, Feb. 9 | 8 pm |
| deFredenburg | Wednesday, Feb. 10 | 8:30 pm |
| Harrington | Tuesday, Feb. 9 | 9 pm |
| Hood | Tuesday, Feb. 9 | 7:00 pm |
| Kent | Monday, Feb. 8 | 9:00 pm |
| Macdonough | Tuesday, Feb. 16 | 8:30 pm |
| Macomb | Monday, Feb. 8 | 8:30 pm |
| Mason | Tuesday, Feb. 9 | 7:00 pm |
| Moffitt | Wednesday, Feb. 10 | 8:30 pm |
| Whiteface | Monday, Feb. 8 | 9 pm |
| Wilson | Monday, Feb. 8 | 8 pm |

All workshops will be held in the Main Lounge except for Adirondack, which is in the Basement Study Lounge.

The WRITING WALK-IN, sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center, is available to all student, free of charge. Writing walk-in is held Monday - Thursday, 3:00 pm - 8:00 pm and Sunday, 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm in the writing instruction lab at the rear of the Learning Center.

Assertiveness Group: Do you wish you felt more self-confident? Is it hard to speak up in class? You aren't alone! Call 564-3086 for more information.

Feeling Stressed? The Psychological Services Center, located in the Infirmary of the Student Health Center, is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. Call now for an appointment (564-3086) or for further information. Walk-ins are welcome. This service is free of charge to all SUNY Plattsburgh students.

The Memory Impairment Caregiver Support Group will meet on Wednesday, February 10, from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon in room 335 of Sibley Hall. The group will explore the topic "Alzheimer's Caregiver Problem-Solving Method (Improving Caregiver Skills). The session is sponsored by the Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

WEEKLY

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • FEB. 10, 1993

Teacher Education Center Changes Name, Modifies Mission

SUNY Plattsburgh's oldest and largest academic unit has abandoned its old name for a new one, and, beyond what it's now to be called, the change reflects a substantive modification of its mission.

The college's Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, established a decade ago in a program evolution that can be traced back to the founding of the Plattsburgh Normal School in 1889, will henceforth be known as the "Center for Educational Studies and Services."

"The title change signifies a refocusing of our efforts in education," remarked Dr. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs. "Teacher training will remain central to the Center's mission, but its attention to 'education in society' will be broadened. We hope to create a greater connection with allied disciplines as well as intensify connections with the community."

Dr. Raymond Domenico, Center director and associate dean of professional studies, said the change in name culminates a structural reorganization and recognizes the scope of an academic division that enrolls about 880 undergraduates and 450 graduate students. "Some of our program areas," he noted, "elementary and secondary education, for example, are much larger than many other departments on campus."

The basic goal, he said, will be to revitalize teacher education at SUNY Plattsburgh, guaranteeing its emergence as "the premiere program in New York State," while continuing to build on strengths directed toward meeting the needs of public schools in the region and the state. At the same time, he added, the Center will be challenged to evolve in other ways. It should develop as a Center for expertise in teaching effectiveness and as a Center for educational scholarship and research in areas ranging from multiculturalism, women's issues and the explosive growth in educational technology to how to deal with gifted and talented children and children with special educational needs.

Reorganization will permit the appointment of associate directors of
(Continued on next page)

First to be Honored

College to Retire Hockey Standout Strack's Uniform Number

Lake Placid native Rick Strack, a 1981 SUNY Plattsburgh graduate who excelled in goal for some of the most successful teams in the annals of Cardinal hockey, will become the first athlete in college history to have his uniform number retired.

A replica of Strack's jersey, displaying the large No. 1 he wore during four campaigns as a Cardinal player and team leader, will be mounted on the south wall of Stafford Arena in the college Field House and unveiled Saturday prior to the 7:30 p.m. start of the Plattsburgh versus RIT contest. Strack will be recognized in a pre-game ceremony at center ice, and those on hand to salute him will include several former teammates expected to be among nearly 40 hockey alumni returning to campus for a weekend reunion.

Rick Strack (file photo)

The initiative to institute the honor originated with the college's Intercollegiate Athletic Board and was approved by President Charles O. Warren in October of 1990. It was reported then that conferral of the recognition would happen rarely and it would go only to "a superior student-athlete" who, besides extraordinary ability in his or her sport, could demonstrate "solid academic achievement" and "the qualities of good citizenship."

Now a Plattsburgh resident, where he is employed by the Federal Express Company, Strack compiled a 3.2 grade point average during his undergraduate career, graduating with a B.S. degree in business. He served as a resident assistant for two years, was inducted as a charter member of SUNY Plattsburgh's Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society, and earned nomination to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

In his freshman year—the college's second year of hockey on the NCAA Division III level—Strack played every game in goal, recording 18 wins against four losses in leading the
(Continued on back page)

Calongne, Kelly, Murnane Assume Foundation's Top Posts

Clifford P. Calongne, vice president for operations at Northern Insuring Agency, Inc. was elected to a full term as president of the Plattsburgh College Foundation during the organizational meeting of the Board President Charles Warren reappointed Donald L. Garrant as the Foundation's executive director.

In other business, the Foundation Board appointed Murnane to chair the Annual Giving Committee, Robert the Foundation Corporation. New community members are James Abbott, Lita Bechard, Michael Farrell, Claire Goineau, Marilyn Lorberbaum, Ann Martin, Deena McCullough, David Meath, Darcy Mousseau, Ruth

Clifford Calongne

Elizabeth Kelly

Patrick Murnane

Olive Flynt

John Homburger

of Directors held last Thursday (Feb. 4).

Calongne became president last August following the death of Curtis Shipman, who had served as president for six years. He has been active with the Foundation since 1983 and served as second and first vice president before assuming the presidency last summer.

Elizabeth A. Kelly, president of Holcombe Abstracts, was re-elected first vice president; Patrick T. Murnane, president of Murnane Building Contractors, was re-elected second vice president; Olive M. Flynt, retired assistant to the president at SUNY Plattsburgh, was re-elected secretary; and John R. Homburger, the college's senior business officer, was re-elected treasurer.

T. Booth to chair the Planned Giving Committee, and Roger Forrence to chair the Investment Committee. Calongne, Kelly, Murnane and Michael O'Connor will serve on the Executive Committee.

Several newcomers were named to Mary Ortliff, Celine Paquette, Eileen Perras, Jay Recore, Mark Rogers, and Carolyn Shipman. Edward Brohel was appointed a faculty representative and Michael Rapley and Greg Fortunato were named as student members of the Corporation.

Environmental Science Grad Quinby to Lecture

Dr. Peter A. Quinby, who graduated from SUNY Plattsburgh in 1977 with a bachelor's degree in Environmental Science, will return to campus on Tuesday, February 23 for a speaking engagement.

Quinby, who currently serves as director of Ancient Forest Exploration and Research in Powassan, Ontario, will discuss "Protecting Old Growth Forest in Ontario: Science and Policy" at 7 p.m. in Room 206 of Yokum Hall.

Alumnus Quinby received the master's degree in 1982 from Yale University in 1982 and the Ph.D. six years later from the University of Toronto. His visit to the college is being co-sponsored by the New York State Education Department under its "Collaborative Science Education for the North Country" program, the Center for the Study of Canada, and the William H. Miner Institute in Chazy.

Associates in Key Roles in New Education Center Scheme (Continued from page 1) —

undergraduate and graduate programs. An internal search is now in progress for the directors, who will assume responsibility for administrative functions previously carried out by coordinators of individual programs, including class scheduling, advisement, curriculum development, and student teaching placements.

"We have a solid foundation for rejuvenating the curriculum in the people we have now," said Domenico, "and with tremendous support from the college administration, we are recruiting new faculty for teaching lines left open by retirements and resignations.

"We are seeking faculty who can help our students learn how children learn and to become teacher-scholars, promoting the thinking process in children who will be enabled to construct knowledge rather than regurgitate 'factoids.'

"We are searching for educators who are at the leading edge of scholarship — talented individuals who have an interest in educational reform, who are committed to promoting the value of educational foundations where the philosophy, history and sociology of education inform their practice, experts who can bring a fresh approach to math and science education. As stated in our Center's by-laws, which have been recently revised, our purpose is 'to prepare educators to be leaders and reflective practitioners in the various education professions and to be agents of social change.'

"We believe this purpose is implied clearly in the Center's new name."

CORE's Innis to Visit for Black History Month Presentation

SUNY Plattsburgh's celebration of Black History Month continues this week with a public lecture on Saturday (February 13) by Roy Innis, national chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality.

Innis, who has been CORE's leader and principal spokesman for nearly 25 years, will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the Angell College Center Ballrooms. He will also answer questions from the audience and attend a reception in his honor to be held in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge immediately following his presentation.

A native of St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands, Innis grew up in New York City and was educated in the city's public schools and at City College of New York. He joined CORE's Harlem chapter in 1963 and became a forceful advocate of community-controlled education and black empowerment, quickly moving to the top of the chapter's ranks. He was elected second national vice chairman of the organization in 1967 and was chosen to lead CORE the following year.

Innis wrote the Community Self-

Determination bill of 1968 and garnered bipartisan sponsorship by one-third of the Senate and more than 50 members of the House of Representatives, marking the first time in U.S. history that a bill drafted by a black organization had been introduced into Congress. His later and continuing efforts for CORE — the third oldest and one of the four largest civil rights groups in the nation — have focused on educational issues and criminal justice matters, including victims' rights.

Innis' more recent activities have involved overseeing and participating in a public anti-drug campaign, championing the rights of immigrants, and cleaning up New York City's crime-ridden subway system. He led a CORE investigation that helped expose the Tawana Brawle hoax.

Innis' visit is being sponsored primarily by the Student Association's Central Affairs Board in collaboration with Akeba, the organization for black students, the Office of Campus Life and SUNY Plattsburgh's College Republicans.

Cultural Diversity Celebration Features Folk Duo Casselberry-Dupree, Forums

The award-winning reggae-folk duo Casselberry-Dupree, accompanied by Debbie Knapper, will perform at SUNY Plattsburgh on Friday, February 19 as part of the college's annual Celebration of Cultural Diversity.

Their music program will begin at 8 p.m. on Friday in the Hartman Theatre in the college's Myers Fine Arts Building. Tickets are $1 for Plattsburgh students and $2 for faculty, staff and the general public, and they will be sold at the door the evening of the performance.

Critics say that the blend of Casselberry's baritone/alto with Dupree's contralto/soprano produces a magical and contagious sound. Jaque Dupree came from a strict religious background; the only singing she did was in church. Judith Casselberry, however, grew up listening to jazz and big band music. They now performed a blend of reggae, African, gospel, country and pop, for some of the most political and innovative music being made today. The duo's commitment is to equality among the sexes and for people of color everywhere.

Casselberry-Dupree's album City Down was selected as "Best of 1986" by the Los Angeles Times, The Boston Globe, and Pulse Magazine, and their incredible rapport with their audiences is well documented.

The performance is the highlight of a day-long series of activities that includes a discussion session, oral vignettes on African-American history, a profile of student groups and a forum on multicultural issues (see next week's this week on campus for details). Celebration events are being sponsored jointly by the women's studies program, College Auxiliary Services, the Student Association, the college's Multicultural Affairs Committee, Campus Life and President's offices, the Center for Women's Concerns, organization of Women of Ethnicity, and AKEBA.

United University Professions President Douglas Skopp (r) presents a copy of the official version of the new collective bargaining agreement for the period 1991-94 for faculty, professional staff and librarians to SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren. History Professor Skopp also gave the president a UUP tote bag Plattsburgh Chapter officers are handing out as a token of appreciation to members who are involved in chapter activities or who are interested in becoming involved. The presentation took place last Thursday at a labor-management meeting between UUP representatives and college officials held in the Alumni Conference Room in Hawkins Hall. Copies of the agreement will be distributed to UUP members via campus mail this week.

Hockey Cardinals Crush Oswego, Geneseo; Win SUNY Title

The Plattsburgh State hockey team turned on the firepower on the road over the weekend, crushing Oswego, 9-2, and Geneseo, 11-0, to clinch the SUNYAC regular season title and gain the home ice advantage through the conference playoffs, which begin February 26 at Stafford Arena.

At Oswego on Friday, John Peron tallied the hat trick, Steve Moore chipped in with a pair of goals, and Len Pereira tallied one goal and assisted on three others to lead the Cardinal attack. Moore and Pereira contributed significantly to the potent Plattsburgh offense the following night, at Geneseo's expense, with Moore picking up five points on two goals and three assists and Pereira scoring two goals and assisting on two others. The Cardinals are at home against Cortland and RIT on Friday and Saturday, respectively.

The men's basketball team split a weekend set, defeating Cortland, 89-76, on Friday before bowing to conference division leader Binghamton, 80-77, on Saturday. In Friday's win, Chris Cavosie turned in an all-around strong performance with 19 points and ten rebounds. Brian Kochanowicz paced the Cards on Saturday with 19 points.

In other sports, the Cardinal women were 0-2 on the week, losing to Cortland, 65-52, and Binghamton, 64-43; the women's indoor track team defeated St. Lawrence, 73-60, while the men lost by a wide margin; and the men's and women's swimming and diving teams dropped a dual meet with Potsdam.

Individual highlights in track included Suzette Whitfield's first place finish in three events — the long jump (15 feet, 11.5 inches), the triple jump (31 feet, 8.5 inches) and the shot put (a personal best toss of 31 feet, 10.25 inches) — and Jeff Moulton's pair of firsts in the long jump (19 feet, 3 inches) and the high jump (6 feet).

Faculty Teaching General Education Distributive Component Meet Feb. 23

A meeting of all faculty teaching in the Distributive Component of General Education will be held Tuesday, February 23 from 4:15 to 6:00 p.m. in the Blue Room of Angell College Center.

The session will be the first of several faculty development meetings planned to implement the provision of the General Education Program calling for faculty involvement in development of each program category. Those provisions include "sharing course outlines, teaching methods and new course materials" and sharing in "the collective development, maintenance and evaluation of goals and standards" of each category.

Besides identifying different approaches to implementing the objectives of the General Education Program and of the category and exploring common questions and concerns, faculty will be encouraged to develop proposals for new initiatives that support the implementation of General Education. Funds have been set aside for up to 12 proposals of $400 each; more may become available.

All faculty currently teaching in the Distributive Component and those interested in teaching distributive courses are urged to attend.

The workshops are sponsored by the General Education Committee, the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate, the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the Office of the Dean of Arts and Science.

Strack's No. 1' to be Retired (Continued from page 1)

Cardinals to regular season championships in the SUNY conference and the New York Collegiate Hockey Association. He split goaltending duties with Don McNairn during his sophomore and junior years for teams that advanced to the ECAC West semi-final and final rounds, respectively.

As a sophomore, he was 11-0 in goal for the Cardinals, earning first team all-star honors in both SUNYAC and NYCHA, and he was a mainstay of a Plattsburgh team that compiled a 28-8-2 record in 1979-80. Strack played every game in goal in his senior year, when the Cardinals set a team record of 27 victories against four defeats and two ties — including wins over Division I schools Clarkson, Vermont and Colgate (and a tie with St. Lawrence) — and finished as runners-up to the University of Lowell for the national championship.

He was named All-ECAC West goalie in 1981 and a finalist for that year's Hobey Baker Award — hockey's equivalent to football's Heisman Trophy. He signed a professional contract with the New York Rangers that spring and went on to play for New Haven, Springfield and Tulsa of the American Hockey League — stints interrupted twice by recall from the NHL Rangers.

Strack has coached youth hockey in the Plattsburgh area and he was assistant coach at the former St. John's Academy when that school's hockey team won several sectional and state scholastic championships. He and his wife, Nancy (class of 1983), and sons Shawn, age 7, and Tim, age 2, reside on Tom Miller Road, Plattsburgh.

Correction:

Apologies to Dr. Celine R. Paquette, a new member of the Board of Directors of the Plattsburgh College Foundation. Dr. Paquette's business, Paquette's Agency, Inc., is located in Champlain, not as indicated in last week's Weekly.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, February 11 — THURSDAY, February 18
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, February 11

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Cooperative Education. Kehoe 609A.

11am-2pm — Celebrating Black History Month: Luncheon featuring a special buffet including salads, pork chops, jambalaya, spare ribs, corn bread, sweet potatoe and pecan pie. Cost is $5.50 per person, no reservation necessary. Angell Center Centennial Room.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum, "Who's That Girl? Madonna Revisioning Myth," presented by Julie Davies. Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30pm — "How To Order and Entertain Out" sponsored by the Marketing Club. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

7:30pm — First Women's Rugby informational meeting. Angell Center Ballroom B.

Friday, February 12

3:45pm — J.V. Basketball vs. North Country Community College. Free admission. Memorial Hall.

4:30pm — Akeba weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo general meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone is welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.
6pm & 8pm — Men's and women's basketball vs. Utica Tech. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, faculty/staff and public $2.50 on sale at the Angell Center Desk and the door. Memorial Hall.

7pm — InterVarsity Christian Fellowship weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7:30pm — Hockey vs. Cortland. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, faculty/staff and public $4, on sale at the Angell Center Desk and at the door.

Fieldhouse Stafford Ice Arena.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "A River Runs Through It" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

Saturday, February 13

6:15am — Ski Trip to Stowe, sponsored by the SA Activities

Coordination Board. Tickets: $28, includes lift and bus transportation, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. bus departs from the Rugar Street pull-off.

7:30pm — Hockey vs. RIT. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, faculty/staff and public $4, on sale at the Angell Center Desk and at the door.

Field house Stafford Ice Arena.

7:30pm — Celebrating Black History Month: Roy Innis, renowned National Chairperson of the Congress of Racial Equality, will be giving a public lecture. Sponsored by the SA Central Affairs Board. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Sunday, February 14

4pm — SA Executive Council meeting. SA Executive Council Office.

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "Crossing the Bridge" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, February 15

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Targeting Your Job Search. Kehoe 609A.

7:30pm — Club Canada's weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

11:30am — Celebrating Black History Month: Display sponsored by AKEBA and the Organization for Women of Ethnicity. Angell Center Lobby.

8pm — The Marketing Club weekly planning meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee weekly meeting. Hudson Hall 028.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, February 16

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Resumes and Cover Letters. Kehoe 609A.

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #4.

12:15pm — The Philosophy Colloquium presents Dr. John Yardan, Philosophy Department, speaking on "One Feminist's Ethics — Some Critical Comments on Nel Noddings' Women and Evil." Angell Center Ballroom B.

12:15pm — Learn to Learn Seminar Series sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — Adult Student Group weekly meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.

4:10pm — Human Services Association weekly meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.

4:15pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Professor William Klock, Art Department, speaking on "Korean 'Onggi' Ceramic: Trends and Influences." Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15pm — Institute of Management Accountants meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7pm-10pm — The Walt Disney World College Program will host an informational session to discuss possible co-op's with that organization, sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30pm — Hockey vs. Potsdam. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, faculty/staff and public $4, on sale at the Angell Center Desk and at the door. Field House Stafford Ice Arena.

Wednesday, February 17

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Cooperative Education School. Kehoe 609A.

12:15pm — Learn to Learn Seminar Series sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:15pm — International Awareness Forum sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30pm — Hillel weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

8pm — Circle K International weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

9pm — Plattsburgh State Men's Rugby Club meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

Thursday, February 18

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Interviewing Techniques. Kehoe 609A.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents a "Audre Lorde: A Remembrance," presented by Dr. Penny Dugan and students of English 323 — African-American Women Writers. Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4pm — Showcase '93 Committee meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

4pm — "Interviewing Etiquette" — Event #2 of a 4-part series on etiquette, sponsored by the Marketing Club. Open to the campus. Beverages and refreshments will be served. Angell Center Ballroom B.

Notes

Applications are available for Summer 1993 Orientation Leader positions at the Angell College Center Desk. Deadline for applying is February 12, 1993. For more information contact the Office of Campus Life, 564-3824.

The WRITING WALK-IN, sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center, is available to all student, free of charge. Writing walk-in is held Monday - Thursday, 3:00 pm - 8:00 pm and Sunday, 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm in the writing instruction lab at the rear of the Learning Center.

Assertiveness Group: Do you wish you felt more self-confident? Is it hard to speak up in class? You aren't alone! Call 564-3086 for more information.

Are you feeling lonely? Stressed out? Need someone to listen? Peer Counselors are available to help. The Peer Counseling Office is located in Kent Hall next to the main lounge and is open Sat. - Thursday from 7 - 9 pm. No appointment is necessary.

Feeling Stressed? The Psychological Services Center, located in the Infirmary of the Student Health Center, is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. Call now for an appointment (564-3086) or for further information. Walk-ins are welcome. This service is free of charge to all SUNY Plattsburgh students.

The Educational Opportunity Program is seeking applications for summer peer tutor/counselors. The EOP summer program will run for five weeks (July 4 - August 6; however, three days of training are scheduled from June 30 - July 2). Peer tutor/counselors are paid between $1,200 and $1,250 for the session and receive free room and board. Applications are available in the EOP Office, Room 103, Algonquin Hall. They will be reviewed beginning Monday, March 8.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

WEEKLY

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • FEB. 17, 1993

Education Department Approves B.S. Program in Social Work

SUNY Plattsburgh has been notified by the New York State Education Department that its proposal for a bachelor of science degree program in Social Work (BSW) has been approved and registered.

Approval of the program, said Dr. Carrie Harris, professor and director of the college's Center for Human Resources, culminates more than four years of planning and program development. It will replace the B.S. in human services, initiated here in 1986.

Students now enrolled in human services will be allowed to complete graduation requirements, Harris said, but admission to the program will be discontinued after September of this year in anticipation of a fall 1994 starting date for the Social Work program. When fully operational, the BSW will enroll up to 66 majors.

Harris pointed out that the content of the two programs is similar. However, she added, the curriculum for social work is organized differently from human services, particularly in the area of field instruction, so it can meet accreditation standards established by the Council on Social Work Education.

With emphasis on field studies, the Center will be seeking an additional faculty member whose teaching expertise includes practice the usual two.

The degree at the bachelor's level is otherwise useful for students seeking jobs in social work practice and human service agencies.

Students in the social work major will analyze the history and organization of social services in the United States and comparable societies, as well as the political, economic and cultural factors which have shaped their development. They will examine the ethical and policy dilemmas associated with the provision of social services.

Harris said the program is designed to provide students with an understanding of the interventions used by social workers to help individuals, families, and the larger community. Social Work majors will be required to complete a minor in either psychology or sociology.

Studies Show High Demand for BSW

State Education Department approval of the Center for Human Resources' new bachelor's degree program in social work had to bring the satisfaction of a task skillfully achieved to Drs. Marilyn Chase, Geoffrey Guest and Padi Gulati.

It was that trio, said Center Director Carrie Harris, that spearheaded development of the BSW proposal. Student demand is an important consideration in the design of any new program, and Dr. Gulati spoke to that point.

"Our studies show that SUNY institutions that offer the BSW are turning away large numbers of qualified students," said Gulati, noting that the major is part of the curriculum now at University campuses at Albany, Brockport, Buffalo and Stony Brook. "Brockport, for example," she said, "accepts fewer than one-half of the students who apply for admission to the program."

Gulati pointed out also that program entrance standards at those SUNY units are uniformly higher than average than for all other programs they offer. She said additionally that persons holding the baccalaureate in social work are in demand in the job market. "A recent New York State Department of Health personnel survey indicates a 7.8 vacancy rate for BSW graduates in the northeastern section of our state alone," she said.

as well as theoretical courses. The appointment will come by way of position re-allocation, Harris said, and the appointee will hold the doctorate in social work.

Accreditation is important, Harris continued, because graduates of sanctioned programs can obtain advanced standing in most graduate schools of social work in the U.S., Harris said, and that means they can receive the master's degree in that field in one year rather than

Memo from Personnel Attempts to Clarify TIAA-CREF Flap

The college's Personnel Office is distributing a memo to members of the TIAA-CREF Tier II, III and IV Optional Retirement Program (ORP) providing the latest information about the interruption of state contributions to those programs.

(Continued on next page)

Presidents' Series Program Presents 'To Live and Die in L.A.'

Kershaun Scott and Cle' Sloan, members of rival Los Angeles street gangs who are better known to

The message of Li'l Monster and Bone takes many shapes. They'll endorse a truce between rival gangs, Kershaun Scott ("Li'l Monster") meets the press.

calling unity "protection against a common foe: the L.A. Police Department"; they'll argue for community empowerment for the angry, urban poor; they'll talk about racism and Reaganomics; reinvestment and revolution; and they will bolster their arguments with quotes from the U.S. Constitution or the Geneva Convention.

The appearance by Scott and Sloan coincides with the college's month-long observance of Black History Month in February and is a presentation in the year-long Presidents' Speakers Series. The series, sponsored by College Auxiliary Services, is a collaborative effort involving the presidents of CAS and the Student Association and the president of the college.

Presidents' Speakers Series programs are open to all, free of charge.

television audiences as "Li'l Monster and Bone," will talk about their lives and experiences in a public program titled "To Live and Die in L.A." scheduled for Tuesday (February 23) at 8 p.m. in the Angell Center Ballrooms at SUNY Plattsburgh.

According to the Los Angeles Times, Scott and Sloan are former hard-core "gang-bangers," and both have records — notably, first-degree murder and attempted murder for Li'l Monster and assault with a deadly weapon for Bone. They are "articulate and intelligent," reports the Times, and through appearances on "Donahue," "Nightline," National Public Radio and on the campus lecture circuit — they have met bookings recently at UMASS-Amherst and California-Riverside — "they have become America's most recognized gang members."

Psychologist Moran '78 to Speak Here

Dr. Peter Moran, a clinical psychologist and SUNY Plattsburgh alumnus, will give a presentation at the college, titled "Panic Disorder: A Cognitive Approach," at 9 a.m. on Friday (February 19) in room 110 of Ward Hall.

Moran will discuss the nature and treatment of panic disorder from a cognitive-behavioral perspective. His talk will focus on panic disorder and its relationship to other anxiety disorders, including depression, suicide potential and substance abuse; patient's patterns of seeking frequent and costly medical attention; and treatment involving relaxation training techniques.

Moran received a master's degree in applied psychology from SUNY Plattsburgh in 1978 and the doctoral degree in clinical psychology from Brigham Young University in 1982. A specialist in the treatment of anxiety disorders and depression, he is clinical director of Boston Road Clinic, a private, multi-disciplinary mental health clinic in Worcester, Mass.; an instructor in psychiatry at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center; and a part-time member of the graduate faculty at Assumption College in Worcester.

The presentation is open to all.

FACT Provides $5,000 for Psychology Parley

The college and its psychology department have received funding totaling $5,000 from the FACT Conference on Computing the Discipline Program in support of a "Conference on Instructional Computing in Psychology" to be held on campus on June 3 and 4.

The grant proposal was submitted by Dr. Peter Hornby and Margaret Anderson, professor and lecturer in psychology, respectively.

The conference in June will provide opportunity for SUNY faculty and students to learn about ways in which computers can be used to enhance instruction in psychology. It will serve also to help establish a SUNY-wide support network for further development of computer applications in psychology instruction.

TIAA/CREF (Continued from page 1)

The action by the state, which stopped contributions to Tiers II through IV ORPs effective January 13 of this year, was reported to the college community last week in "Newslines," the newsletter of the campus chapter of UUP. The information was accurate, said Robert Tabor, personnel associate, except for the implication that Tier I ORP participants are affected by the action ("They're not, in any way," he said).

The memo coming from Tabor gives the history issue, going back to January of 1992 when the state stopped employer contributions "because of a legal linkage between the rates the state is required to pay to fund its own retirement systems — ERS and TRS — and the rates it pays for ORP members," and continues with an analysis of the current situation. He urges affected ORP participants to review the memo, saying more details will be made available as they become known.

Phoenix: Students' Return Ticket to Campus Mainstream

The Phoenix Program.

Some refer to it facetiously as "the last chance ranch." To others, it's SUNY Plattsburgh's answer to boot camp. To those who survive it, and their numbers and percentages are increasing, Phoenix is a ticket back to the mainstream of campus life and probable academic success.

Eighteen of 21 program students who had to pull themselves up academically to a 2.0 grade point average by the end of the fall 1992 semester, or face automatic dismissal, are among the latest to "graduate" from Phoenix to traditional academic life.

'One more chance'

The recent 86 percent success rate (65 percent is the norm) is the highest in the seven-year history of the program. More important than statistics, however, is the growing realization that the program works: Phoenix proves that some extra attention to potential and a firm but humane approach to discipline can lead to academic salvation.

Phoenix was conceived by Bill Laundry, director of Campus Life, who saw it as a means to give foundering new students, freshmen and transfers whose appeals to continue had been denied, one more chance to restore their academic standing. "Looking at dismissed students' appeal letters and their high school averages or two-year college GPA's," he said, "it was clear that many belonged here. They had good grades and solid recommendations, but for one or more reasons they were failing, in some cases miserably.

"Perhaps what they needed was a more structured environment..."

Members of a program Steering Committee, with the endorsement of the college's Academic Progress Committee, meet to review the records of students dismissed in May or December. Those whose academic standing and personal self-assessment indicate potential for success, and whose conduct has been salutary, are offered admission to Phoenix. Laundry says that about 20 students per semester enter the program. "Very few turn it down," he adds.

Praised by parents

A contract is required, and the terms are demanding. Phoenix students live together on the same floor in what Laundry describes as a "no-nonsense" environment. Study nights are in effect at 7 p.m. Sunday through Thursday (those who leave the floor must sign out, and records of those who exercise this option are kept on computer), and quiet hours are observed from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. seven days per week.

Phoenix students may not pledge a fraternity or sorority, and those who are current members of Greek organizations must go inactive. Class attendance is mandatory, and participants are required to show up for all programs offered by academic support services, such as programs on study skills and test-taking. Those in the program must allow their parents to have access to all available academic information (parents of Phoenix graduates are among the program's most avid boosters), including copies of mid-term exams and evaluations, and they must maintain contact with their Phoenix advisors.

Phoenix advisors are crucial to the program's effectiveness, Laundry says, noting that some have been involved from its beginning. The advisors, recruited from across the campus, serve to challenge students on the one hand while being available for understanding and support on the other, and their charges are required to meet with them at least once every three weeks.

Student welfare paramount

Phoenix is distinctive to the Plattsburgh campus, says Laundry, but other institutions have heard about it and are asking for details about how it works. He's happy to oblige, but he would caution attempting Phoenix or any program like it where relationships between the student and academic administrative functions are less than ideal.

"Phoenix works here," says Laundry, "because we don't have worry about turf battles. Student welfare is a shared concern between student affairs and academic affairs, and cooperation is a bridge between the two."

Phoenix program founder Bill Laundry: "No turf battles here," he says.

Hockey Jersey #1 Retired

Former Plattsburgh State All-Star goaltender and Hobey Baker Award finalist Rick Strack '81 (r) displays replica of exhibit mounted on the south wall of Stafford Ice Arena attesting to Strack's hockey skills, academic achievements and exemplary record of citizenship and to the retirement of the #1 jersey he wore during four campaigns as the Cardinals' netminder. Looking on is College Council chairperson Robert Garrow '52, a charter member of the Plattsburgh State Sports Hall of Fame, who presented the award to Strack — the first athlete in any sport at the college to be honored in this manner — in center ice ceremonies preceding last Saturday's ECAC contest against RIT (won by the Cardinals, 6-3).

6th Summer Job Fair Set for March 1

The sixth annual Summer Job and Cooperative Education Fair, an event designed to provide students with the opportunity to begin their summer job search early, will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on Monday, March 1 in the Angell College Center Ballrooms.

More than 15 local and regional employers offering full-time or part-time positions or co-op placements have already signed up to participate, and several campus offices also will be represented. The fair is open to all students except those on the May 1993 graduation list, who, under federal guidelines, are ineligible to participate.

Plattsburgh is one of 11 SUNY institutions that will host a summer job fair during March. The event at the college is distinctive from others in that it integrates seasonal only and co-op employment opportunities where those held elsewhere include only summer camps or seasonal only employers.

Barbara Hebert, student employment coordinator in Career/Life Planning, is coordinating the fair.

Hockey Cards, Cagers Post Perfect Marks on the Week

The Cardinal hockey team whipped Cortland, 9-3, at Stafford Arena Friday evening to finish its regular season SUNYAC schedule with an 11-0 mark (undefeated for the second consecutive year), then tripped RIT, 6-3, on Saturday, also on home ice.

Against Cortland, sophomore Steve Moore scored the hat trick and freshman Scott Haller potted a pair of goals. Haller turned in another strong performance on Saturday, scoring two goals and assisting on another as the Cards wrapped up victory # 18 on the campaign (against four losses and a tie).

In men's basketball last week, forward Damon Brown averaged 22 points and 7 rebounds in a three-game victory sweep for the Cardinals over Clarkson, 70-59, Utica Tech, 93-82, and Oswego State, 78-61. Brown scored 22 points and pulled down 12 rebounds at the expense of Clarkson, and at Oswego he tallied a career high 30 points, going 18 of 21 from the field.

The women's basketball team was 1-2 on the week, losing 69-56 to Clarkson and 78-60 to Utica before nipping Oswego, 54-50 in overtime. Alicia LaValley led the Cards in all three games, averaging 19 points, 6 rebounds and 10 steals per contest.

The Plattsburgh indoor track team competed against NCAA Division I, II and III institutions over the weekend in Colgate University's Class of '32 Invitation Meet. The top performer for the Cards was Becky Pagano, who finished third in the 3000 meters (10:47.79) and seventh in the mile (5:21.9) — both ECAC championship qualifying times and both personal bests.

Financial Aid Packets Now Available

The Financial Aid Office is now distributing financial aid applications for the 1993-94 academic year. The packet contains the application for federal student aid (FAFSA), a New York State Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) application and specific directions for applying. In contrast to former years, there are no filing fees.

Application packets have been placed in all residence hall mail boxes, and they are available also at the Angell College Center Information Desk and in the Financial Aid Office, 4th Floor Kehoe Bldg, for off-campus residents.

Using information from the FAFSA, students' eligibility will be determined for the Federal Pell and Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, the Federal Nursing, Perkins, Stafford, and Supplemental Loan programs, the Federal Work-Study Program and Plattsburgh College Foundation grants and scholarships. Information from the TAP application will be used to determine students' eligibility for the New York State grant program (TAP).

In a departure from the past, federal and state tax returns will no longer be required from all aid applicants. The Financial Aid Office will only request tax returns from students selected for review of income data by the federal government. Currently enrolled students who want to participate in the Federal Work-Study program for 1993-94 must stop in the Financial Aid Office by April 15 to declare their interest in the program.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, February 18 — THURSDAY, February 25
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, February 18

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Interviewing Techniques. Kehoe 609A.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents a "Tribute to Audre Lorde". Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4pm — Showcase '93 Committee meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

4pm — "Interviewing Etiquette" — Event #2 of a 4-part series sponsored by the Marketing Club. Beverages and refreshments served. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom B.

5:30pm — S.A. Executive Council meets. S. A. office..

7pm — Club International meets. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — College Democrats meet. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Adirondack Experience Club meets. Angell Center Meeting Room #3.

Friday, February 19

9am — Lecture by SUNY Plattsburgh Alumnus Dr. Peter Moran on "Panic Disorders: A Cognitive-Behavioral Approach." Ward Hall Room 110.

1pm — Celebration of Cultural Diversity presents "A Conversation Between Intervarsity Christian Fellowship and Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Alliance" with comment by a member of the Philosophy Club. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

2pm — Celebration of Cultural Diversity presents "Can You Hear The Beating Of My Soul?" — vignettes of African American History over the past 400 years, with a performance by members of OWE and AKEBA. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3:30pm — Celebration of Cultural Diversity presents "Profile of New Student Groups: Organization of Women of Ethnicity (OWE) and Asian Students Providing Cultural Enrichment (ASPCE)." Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4pm — "Students, Faculty and Staff Addressing Multicultural Issues — An Open Forum." Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30pm — Akeba meets. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo meets. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone is welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship meets. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7:30pm — Hockey vs. UCONN. Tickets: SA members $1.50, faculty/staff and public $4, on sale at the Angell Center Desk and at the door. Field House Stafford Ice Arena.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Chameleon Street."

Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8pm — Celebration of Cultural Diversity features the Reggae Duo Casselberry DuPree in Concert. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $2 faculty/staff and public on sale at the Angell Center Desk.

Saturday, February 20

6:15am — Ski Trip to Mad River Glen. Tickets: $28, includes lift and bus transportation, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the Rugar Street pull-off.

1pm — Men's and Women's Swimming vs. St. Rose. Memorial Hall.

7pm — Gospel Choir Winter Festival. Donations accepted at the door. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Sunday, February 21

9am — Women's Indoor Soccer Tournament. Field House Gym.

6pm — AKEBA dinner/dance. Open to all. Cost: $20 per couple, contact Hassan Tettah at 564-6440 for info. Valcour Educational Conference Center.

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "Consenting Adults." Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, February 22

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Interviewing Techniques. Kehoe 609A.

7:30pm — Club Canada meets. Angell Center Conference Room.

11:30am — AKEBA/Organization for Women of Ethnicity Black History Month Display. Angell Center Lobby.

8pm — The Marketing Club planning meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee meets. Hudson Hall 028.

8pm — Faculty Recital: Yenoin Guibbory, violin; Robert Klak, clarinet; and guest artist Kathryn Stuart, piano. Angell Center Ballrooms.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meets. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, February 23

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Cooperative Education. Kehoe 609A.

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns meets. Angell Center Meeting Room #4.

12:15pm — Learning Center's Learn to Learn Seminar Series.

Plattsburgh

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — Adult Student Group meets. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.

4:10pm — Human Services Assn. meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.

4:15pm — Historical Assn. meeting. CV Hall Commons.

4:15pm — General Education Faculty Development Workshop. Open to all faculty currently teaching in the Distributive Component and those interested in teaching in that component. Angell Center Blue Room.

8pm — Presidents' Speakers Series presents Kershaun Scott and Cle' Sloan speaking on "To Live And Die In L.A." Angell Center Ballrooms.

Wednesday, February 24

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Resumes and Cover Letters. Kehoe 609A.

12:15pm — Learning Center's Learn to Learn Seminar Series. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:15pm — Accounting and Finance Assn. meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7pm — Club Hispano Americano meets. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30pm — Hillel meets. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

8pm — Circle K International meets. Angell Center Conference Room.

Thursday, February 25

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Targeting Your Job Search. Kehoe 609A.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Beth Dixon, Philosophy Dept., speaking on "What Can She Know" by Lorraine Code. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30pm — "Art of Conversation and Cocktail Party Etiquette" — Event #3 of a 4-part series. Open to the campus. Beverages and refreshments served. Angell Center Ballroom B.

7:30pm — "Africans: A Legacy of Lifestyles" — Exploring Africa through film and discussion, sponsored by Club International and the Black History Month Celebration Committee. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

Notes

The WRITING WALK-IN, sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center, is available to all student, free of charge. Writing walk-in is held Monday - Thursday, 3 - 8 pm and Sunday, 6 - 8:00 pm in the writing instruction lab at the rear of the Learning Center.

Assertiveness Group: Do you wish you felt more self-confident? Is it hard to speak up in class? Call 564-3086 for more information.

Community CPR, Standard First Aid, and BLS non-credit courses will be offered to SUNY Plattsburgh students who are interested in obtaining American Red Cross certification or re-certification. See Mrs. Bardon in Room 220 of Memorial Hall.

Are you feeling lonely? Stressed out? Need someone to listen? Peer Counselors are available to help. The Peer Counseling Office is located in Kent Hall next to the main lounge and is open Sat. - Thursday from 7 - 9 pm. No appointment is necessary.

Intramural Fencing Tournament — entries due March 24-25, $2 entry fee, prior fencing experience required. It is strongly suggested that if you are planning to enter this tournament, you attend several practice sessions scheduled every Saturday, 4-6 p.m. in Memorial Hall Dance Studio, prior to the tournament. For further information contact Mrs. Bardon, 220 Memorial Hall, ext. 4150.

Attention: Water Safety Instructors — all WSI's must update prior to December 1993. Update group session scheduled for Saturday, March 27th, 1-3:30 p.m., Memorial Hall. Register and pick up update materials ($35.00) at the Red Cross, 56 Cornelia Street. See Mrs. Bardon, 220 Memorial, for further information.

Non-Credit Lifeguarding Instructor Courses: pre-requisites are WSI, Lifeguard Training, BLS CPR and Standard First Aid Certifications. Will be held each Tuesday, March 23 to April 20, 7-9:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall. Register at the American Red Cross, 56 Cornelia Street. Cost is $20.00. Contact Mrs. Bardon for further information.

The Educational Opportunity Program is seeking applications for summer peer tutor/counselors. The EOP summer program will run for five weeks (July 4 - August 6; however, three days of training are scheduled from June 30 - July 2). Peer tutor/counselors are paid between $1,200 and $1,250 for the session and receive free room and board. Applications are available in the EOP Office, Room 103, Algonquin Hall. They will be reviewed beginning Monday, March 8.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

Warren to Assume Lynchburg Presidency

Dr. Charles O. Warren, president of SUNY Plattsburgh since mid-summer of 1987, will leave the college to assume the presidency of Lynchburg (Va.) College, effective July 1.

The announcement that Warren will become Lynchburg's ninth chief executive came Saturday following a meeting of that institution's Board of Trustees. He will succeed Dr. George N. Rainsford, who will retire as Lynchburg's president this summer.

140 applied for post

Lynchburg is a private, residential college situated in a central Virginia city of 165,000. Founded in 1903, and currently the second oldest coeducational college of liberal arts and sciences in Virginia, Lynchburg enrolls 2,400 students in professional and liberal arts programs and graduate studies.

President Warren

Warren was selected for the post from more than 140 candidates by an 11-member search committee composed of trustees, alumni, faculty, representatives of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ, with which the college is affiliated historically), and the president of the college's student government. He was one of two finalists who visited Lynchburg earlier this month to meet with members of that campus community.

"It is with great joy and celebration that we welcome Dr. Charles Warren to the presidency," commented Lynchburg trustees' chairperson Frank H. Buhler, who also chaired the college's Presidential Search Committee. "He is eminently qualified for the position... (he) brings great liberal arts traditions and focus to the job."

Came as eighth president

Warren was appointed SUNY Plattsburgh's eighth president by the State University of New York Board of Trustees in April of 1987 — the successful candidate from among more than 80 applicants, including ten college and university presidents — and he assumed the post three months later, succeeding Dr. Joseph C. Burke, currently provost of the SUNY system. His administration inherited annual budget crises that had dogged the college and SUNY since the mid-1970's, but Warren responded by instituting a planning and accountability process designed not only to preserve but also to enhance quality.

Highlights of President Warren's tenure have included conduct of a successful 100th anniversary celebration during 1989-90 and, this past year, renewal of accreditation (accompanied by high commendation) by the Middle States

(Continued on page 4)

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • FEB. 24, 1993

More than 20 to Join College's Delegation to 'SUNY Day'

More than 20 individuals representing all campus constituencies will join colleagues from throughout the State University system in presenting the case for support for public higher education during "SUNY Day" activities in Albany next Tuesday (March 2).

The Plattsburgh delegation has scheduled morning and afternoon sessions on Tuesday where they will meet with state legislators representing the North Country as well as other Senate and Assembly leaders who chair committees vital to the University's interests. They will also attend a legislative session overview headlined by remarks by SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone and Kenneth LaValle (R-Selden) and Edward Sullivan (D-Manhattan), chairpersons, respectively, of the Senate and Assembly higher education committees.

An afternoon "advocacy workshop" also is on the agenda, and arrangements have been made for student members of the Plattsburgh group to meet individually with senators and members of the Assembly from their home districts. A later afternoon legislative reception concludes the day's activities.

"Our college ranks traditionally among the top two or three campuses in SUNY in representation at SUNY Day," commented Don Garratt, assistant to the president for college relations and development, who is coordinating the effort. "Our students, faculty, alumni and College

(Continued on next page)

Plattsburgh

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Macmillan Co. Issues Two Textbooks Co-authored by Baum

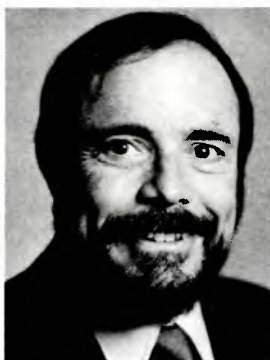

With the encouragement of one of the nation's leading college textbook publishers, SUNY Plattsburgh chemistry Professor Dr. Stuart Baum has parlayed his expertise in text writing and revision to produce two books in his field.

Baum is listed as co-author of Chemistry and Life: An Introduction to General, Organic and Biological Chemistry, an 850-page text, and Introduction to Organic and Biological Chemistry, the fifth version of a 480-page book the author published originally in 1970. Both were issued in recent weeks by Macmillan Publishing Company of New York.

Baum explained that two major approaches are used to educate college students majoring in the health-related sciences. The first is a one-year course in general, organic and biological chemistry that most colleges and universities follow, and the second (which Baum teaches here) is a second-semester-only course that combines organic chemistry and biochemistry.

Chemistry and Life fills the bill for the first approach, while Introduction to Organic and Biological Chemistry conforms to the latter. "Aware that I was revising my book," said Baum, "Macmillan asked me to help with the revision of the one-year text and to incorporate my own material, which, essentially, rounds out the second half of Chemistry and Life."

Professor Baum

Baum said that Chemistry for Life assumes that students have little or no chemistry background and attempts to present "seemingly mysterious" scientific phenomena in an informal, readable style.

Introduction to Organic and Biological Chemistry is designed to help students acquire a sound background in the subject and to help them apply the principles of organic chemistry and biochemistry to related areas, such as genetics, microbiology, pharmacology, physiology and nutrition.

Baum noted that study guides for students accompany both texts, and that a SUNY Plattsburgh colleague, Dr. Roger Sandwick, associate professor of chemistry, is co-author (with a member of the University of Texas faculty) of both. He believes that his activities in publishing led to his appointment by the American Chemical Society to that organization's Examination Institute, where, as a member of a subcommittee on general, organic and biological chemistry, he will help to develop the standardized exams ACS will administer nationwide in 1994.

A member of the Plattsburgh faculty since 1963, Baum was promoted in 1989 by the State University of New York Board of Trustees to the rank of Distinguished Teaching Professor. He is the recipient of numerous awards and grants, including one from the National Science Foundation that helps support a project that brings hands-on science education to the North Country's elementary and middle schools.

'SUNY Day' Delegation Represents All College Constituencies (Continued from page 1)

Council members are not only willing but also genuinely eager to participate, and this demonstrates they understand the importance of bringing the SUNY message to those who appropriate the funds."

The Plattsburgh contingent will be fortified with a 20-page document, titled "Reaffirming Our Commitment: The Need for Genuine Partnership," that will be handed to legislators and members of their staffs. The booklet addresses the college's critical needs, summarizes the effects of budget reductions in recent history, profiles the college's admissions outlook, its regional economic impact, its successful initiatives in fund raising, and focuses on recent institutional accomplishments and plans for the future.

The publication, Garrant said, also shows graphically where current students come from and where (and in what numbers) alumni reside in the Empire State. "With the help of many colleagues who contribute essential information compiled on a tight deadline, we are able to hand legislators a comprehensive and accurate description of our college and its performance."

The SUNY Day delegation from Plattsburgh is expected to include President Charles O. Warren; Dr. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs; Garrant; Malcolm Lavery, director of development and alumni affairs; Janet Saunders, director of affirmative action; Dr. Douglas Skopp, professor of history and president of the campus chapter of UUP; Dr. Marilyn Chase, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources and presiding officer of the faculty; and Betty Lennon, senior stenographer and president of the college's chapter of CSEA.

Also, Robert Garrow '52, College Council chairperson; Wayne Bryne, vice chairperson of the Council; Council members Arnold Amell '53, Beth Johnson, Barbara Parnass, and Jacqueline Walker; and Louis Testa '76, an Albany attorney who, along with Amell, serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the Plattsburgh Alumni Association.

Also, Student Association President Michael Rapley; SA vice presidents Greg Fortunato (finances), Mary Ellen Gillespie (academics) and Greg Moran (central affairs); SA Senator Carrie Harvey; and Hassan Tetteh, a member of the Executive Committee of the Student Assembly of the State University of New York.

Bruszewski '76 Leads Off Distinguished Alumni Program

Robert V. Bruszewski, a 1976 SUNY Plattsburgh graduate who is vice president of administrative and computing services at Frostburg (Md.) State University, will be the first of three alumni who will return to campus this semester to participate in the college's award-winning Distinguished Visiting Alumni program.

Bruszewski, who received the B.S. in business administration from the college, will be in residence here from March 1 to 3. His schedule includes class lectures, informal meetings with students, faculty and administrators in the School of Business and Economics, the Department of Computer Science and institutional computing services, respectively, and a public talk to be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesday (March 2) in the School's Harry Mowry Conference Room.

Mr. Bruszewski

In his current post, which he assumed in 1990, Bruszewski serves Frostburg as chief finance officer and chief information officer. The former involves responsibility for accounts payable and receivable, budgeting, auditing, accounting, payroll, financial operations and other areas, and the latter entails oversight of computing services, telecommunications, networking, printing and duplicating, and related areas.

From 1988-90, Bruszewski was director of computing services at Frostburg. Previously, he spent four years as associate professor and chair of the business and commerce division of Daemen College in Amherst, N.Y., and from 1977 to 1984 he served consecutively as assistant professor and business department chairperson and as director of administrative and computing services at College Misericordia in Dallas, Pa.

Following graduation from SUNY Plattsburgh, Bruszewski served as an agricultural research assistant at the University of Florida and, later, as an insurance salesman for Metropolitan Life in Watertown. He received the master's degree in business administration from Youngstown State University in 1977, and he is currently a doctoral candidate in educational administration and policy at SUNY Buffalo.

The Distinguished Visiting Alumni program was inaugurated during academic 1989-90 as part of the college's year-long Centennial celebration. It is coordinated by a committee of faculty, staff and students in cooperation with the college's Office of Alumni Affairs. In 1991 the program was selected by the Confederation of Alumni Associations of the State University of New York as the best on-campus program initiated in the SUNY system in the preceding year.

Sexual Communication Expert Parrot '75 to Lecture Here

Dr. Andrea Parrot, a 1975 SUNY Plattsburgh graduate who is recognized nationally for her expertise in the field of sexual communication, will visit her alma mater next week to give an "interactive lecture" and presentation on "Sex: How to Get What You Want But Not More than You Bargained For!"

The presentation by Parrot, a program in the college's "Alumni Speakers Series," will be held on Thursday (March 4) at 8 p.m. in the Angell College Center Ballrooms. It is open to all.

A 1980 Edward Sheldon Scholar at Cornell University, whose faculty she joined that year, Parrot travels extensively to conduct programs on interpersonal relationships. She has been a consultant to numerous colleges and universities, educational media producers and federal and state agencies, and she has provided expert testimony at congressional hearings and college judicial board hearings on problems related to sexual behavior on college campuses.

Dr. Parrot

Parrot's work has been featured in Redbook, Time, The New York Times, Ms., USA Today, Newsweek, The Chronicle of Higher Education, Money, and Parade. She has appeared on more than 20 television shows, including "Good Morning America," "The Real Story," "Face the Nation," "The Christian Broadcasting Network," "CBS This Morning," and "Larry King Live."

Besides Cornell, where she teaches a course on human sexuality to more than 1,000 students annually, Parrot is a clinical professor of psychiatry at the SUNY Health Science Center at Syracuse. The recipient of Cornell's Distinguished Teaching Award (1987), she is the author of four books and many articles, and she has produced two videos on sexual issues of interest to high school and college students.

Parrot received the B.S. degree in home economics from Plattsburgh. Her visit to campus is sponsored jointly by the Plattsburgh Alumni Association, the Office of Campus Life, College Auxiliary Services, the Greek Council, and the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

President Warren Accepts Lynchburg Post (Continued from page 1) —

Association of Colleges and Schools. Emphasis under his leadership has been placed on sustaining the institution's "teaching power," and this has been accomplished primarily

Arts and Science at Plattsburgh. He previously held several positions at Southwestern at Memphis (now Rhodes College) and he has been a research biologist at Memorial Clinton County Chamber of Commerce and WCFE Public Television and Radio.

Search plans being drawn

Procedures for the search for the college's next president are being drawn up in University Central Administration, in collaboration with the Plattsburgh College Council under SUNY Trustees' guidelines.

President Comments on Lynchburg Decision

President Charles O. Warren's next position in academia will take him closer to his roots (in Bluefield, W. Va.) and to an institution, he said, he explored for his undergraduate education (choosing, instead, VPI in Blacksburg, Va.).

Warren confirmed reports in Sunday's edition of the Press-Republican that he was nominated for the Lynchburg presidency, and that "no negative factors" related to the college or his current position and responsibilities entered into his decision to allow his candidacy to run its course. In response to a request from Weekly, the SUNY Plattsburgh president issued the following statement to the college family:

"Nancy and I are extremely grateful for the time we have spent as members of the SUNY Plattsburgh and North Country communities. We very much admire the dedication, talent and commitment to quality that has always existed here and that, more recently, has been manifested so clearly during extremely challenging times."

"The spirit of service to students, scholarship and community is indeed outstanding. We will always feel a part of SUNY Plattsburgh, and we know that you will continue the pursuit and attainment of excellence, for that is the way of professional life here. We will certainly miss you."

Lundergan to Share '93 ACDA Award for Doctoral Treatise

Edward Lundergan, assistant professor of music, has been named a co-winner of the 1993 Julius Herford Award, presented annually by the American Choral Directors Association to recognize outstanding by instituting office and program mergers and reconfigurations designed to increase efficiency while maintaining services. Academically, the college's general education program has been revised, the "freshman experience" has been introduced and honors programs have flourished.

Edward Lundergan

Significant progress has been achieved in fund-raising, in strengthening campus affirmative action and multicultural activities and in improving college and community relationships. With Warren's support, the college's School of Business and Economics and its Technical Assistance Center joined forces to create the Institute for Business Education, Research and Training.

Originally served as dean

Prior to joining Plattsburgh, Warren spent five years as provost and vice president for academic affairs at SUNY Cortland, and from 1979 to 1982 he was dean of the Faculty of University of Newfoundland, Buckman Laboratories in Memphis and at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

In service to SUNY, Warren is a member of the Chancellor's Budget Advisory Committee and the Chancellor's Task Force on Education; SUNY's Commission on Diversity and Pluralism, and the University Advisory Committee on Negotiations with UUP. He is a member of several Lake Champlain Groups that represent New York, Vermont and Quebec in addressing critical environmental, economic and recreation plans for the lake, and he serves as chairperson of the Lake Champlain Research Consortium.

Warren's ongoing and immediate past activities include service as a board member/trustee of the Crary Foundation, Keeseville National Bank, Miner Institute, the New York State Alliance for Girls and Women in Technology, the Plattsburgh and doctoral dissertations in the field of choral music.

Lundergan's treatise, Benjamin Britten's War Requiem: Stylistic and Technical Sources, was completed in 1991 at the University of Texas. A historical and analytical study of one of the major choral-orchestral works of the twentieth century, the Lundergan dissertation focuses on Britten's musical integration of the texts of the Requiem Mass with the poetry of Wilfred Owen. It also considers Britten's musical language in relationship to that of other twentieth century composers, Bella Bartok in particular.

Lundergan will receive the award on March 5 in San Antonio during the annual convention of the ACDA.

'Living Traditions,' Major Spring Exhibition, Opens Saturday

"Living Traditions: Mexican Popular Arts," the SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum's major exhibition of the spring semester, will open Saturday (February 27) in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery. Museum staff are calling the exhibition "an exciting and colorful view of Mexico ... that has its roots firmly entrenched in a long tradition of Mexican Indian culture."

The Exhibition, which will continue through April 11, will feature a former curator of the Rockefeller Mexican Folk Art collection.

Pilar Gomez, the internationally acclaimed Flamenco dancer, has loaned some delicately crafted dance costumes she has collected and preserved as a record of traditional dance rituals. Ceremonial dance masks have also been loaned by an anonymous private New York collector.

As its name suggests, Living Traditions provides the most comprehensive view by Mexican artists and artisans of an assimilation of traditional art forms, combined with recent innovative and often humorous adaptations. Since the 1950's, Mexican communities have had to adjust to changes resulting from economic and social modernization, and an influx of American and European tourism. How they have responded to these changes and maintained a sense of national cultural identity is one of the most visible factors of the exhibition.

In conjunction with Living Traditions, the Museum will present a continuous video film series, both in English and Spanish. The videos will be shown in the Conference Room adjoining the museum, Monday through Thursday from noon to 4:00 p.m.

The exhibition has been curated by Marta Turok, Presidente, Asociacion Mexicana de Arte y

Cultura Popular (AMACUP), and produced by Marijo Dougherty Interim Director, University Art Museum, SUNY Albany. Its sponsors here are the Student Association, College Auxiliary Services and the Council on the Arts for Clinton County, Champlain Centers, and the SUNY Plattsburgh Multicultural Affairs Committee.

Mexican 'Fiesta' Marks Exhibition Opening

The SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum will present a Mexican "Fiesta" reception on Saturday to celebrate the opening of the exhibition, "Living Traditions: Mexican Popular Arts."

From 5 to 7:30 p.m., visitors to the Myers Gallery can enjoy "Mariachi Mexico," Mexican musicians from Montreal, and sample exciting Mexican cuisine. Admission to the Opening Festivities can be obtained by purchasing a "flower ticket" for $3 or $1 for students ($5 for a family ticket).

"Flowers" can be obtained in advance on the day of the Opening only (from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.) at the Museum, the Angell College Center information desk, the Council on the Arts, and at the Champlain Center North Mall, or at the door at the time of the Opening.

Crescencio Perez Robles' "La Guriapa" (above), a Huichol yarn painting from the collection of Annie O'Neill, and "Trickster" (below), a mask of a Mexican jaguar, from the collection of Eugene J. Walter, are part of the major exhibition, "Living Traditions: Mexican Popular Arts," which opens Saturday in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery.

hundreds of art objects, including paintings, textiles, weavings, ceremonial masks, dance costumes, carved animals, ceramics, Huichol yarn paintings, embroideries and more. These works are on loan from the private collection of Annie O'Neill,

Card Hockey, Basketball Teams Begin Playoffs; LaValley Strong in Finale

Plattsburgh State men's teams in hockey (19-4-2) and basketball (15-9) vie for post-season honors this weekend in conference playoff action. The hockey team hosts Oswego at Stafford Arena on Friday and Saturday in the SUNYAC semi-finals, while the Card cagers will travel to Fredonia.

Meanwhile, the Cardinal women's basketball team ended its season last weekend with a 75-41 win at Castleton State. In that game, Alicia LaValley tallied a career-high 33 points to finish as the second all-time leading scorer in Plattsburgh women's basketball history with 1,438 points.

Studies in the Humanities Symposium on Tap Next Week

Nine members of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty from varied disciplines will join colleagues from ten public and private institutions in this state, other states and Canada as featured lecturers in the Third Annual Interdisciplinary Symposium in the Plattsburgh Studies in the Humanities series to be held here next Friday and Saturday (March 5-6).

All sessions in the 1993 symposium, on the theme "Re-Naming the Landscape," will be held Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning and afternoon in the Angell College Center Cardinal Lounge. The lectures and presentations are open to all.

According to an event program published by its organizers, Dr. Jurgen Kleist, assistant professor of German, and Dr. Bruce Butterfield, associate professor of English, symposium topics will focus heavily on English, literature and the classics. But changing "landscapes" in areas as diverse as biology, theology and political science and music, sociology and women's studies will also be explored and discussed.

The visiting symposium participants and their fields include Robert A. Butterfield, Oak Park, Ill., theology; Michael Johnson, SUNY Buffalo, literature; Martin H. Garrell, Adelphi University, physics; Patricia J. Siegel, SUNY Brockport, literature; David K. Heckerl, English, McGill University; Imre Szeman, SUNY Buffalo, comparative literature; Thomas Van Nortwick, Oberlin College, classics; Natalia Rachel Singer, St. Lawrence University, English; Nancy Leonard, Bard College, English; and Nancy Woodall and Miriam Jehensen, SUNY Oswego, English.

SUNY Plattsburgh's presenters and their areas of expertise include C. Leon Harris, biology; Harvey L. Schantz, political science; Dennis Costanzo, art history; Angela Brown, music; Charles Simpson, sociology; Thomas J. Braga, literature; Thomas J. Morrissey, English; M. Daphne Kutzer, English; and Jennifer Scanlon, women's studies.

The first two symposia in the Plattsburgh Studies in the Humanities series were titled "Mythology: From Ancient to Post Modern" and "Breakdowns," and they were held on campus in March 1991 and March 1992, respectively. Proceedings from the original in the planned five-symposium series were published during the past year by the international publishing firm of Peter Lang, Inc., with "Breakdowns" due this spring, also from Lang.

Playwright, Pendragon Player on Hand for 'Thornwood' Debut

The upcoming theatre department's maintstage production of Thornwood will feature a pair of twists.

First, the playwright, Tony Howarth, will attend the opening. Second, the cast will feature Joe Wednesday through Saturday, March 3-6, and at 2 p.m. on Sunday, March 7.

"This is a special project," said Dr. Tim Palkovic, associate professor of theatre, who will direct Thornwood, "and naturally we're very excited about it." Palkovic said the play is new — it has been performed previously only at Playwrights Horizons in New York City and at Case Western Reserve and Rutgers University. It is about teaching, learning and culture in an inner-city high school.

Guzman will play Thornwood, a brilliant high school English teachers "who seems to be slipping over the edge by using bravado techniques that sometimes have a cruel edge." In the play, Thornwood decides to set aside scheduled lessons to teach Hamlet.

"The plot follows the teaching of the Shakespearean drama," said Palkovic, "ending with near tragic results. Many education issues are covered, such as how students are motivated and whether education consists of filling notebooks or gaining experience."

Palkovic said he chose this particular play because it tells a compelling story with interesting characters. The students are the most fascinating aspect of the play, he said. "They face the audience ... their ensemble reactions hold the interest of the audience."

Tickets for Thornwood are $7 for general admission; $4 for faculty and staff and $1 for SUNY Plattsburgh students. They are on sale now at the Angell College Center information desk and will be sold at the door, if available, prior to each performance.

L-R: Joe Guzman, Tim Palkovic and Tony Howarth plan "Thornwood."

Guzman, a core company member with Pendragon Theatre, in the title role.

The production will be performed in Hartman Theatre at 8 p.m. on

this week on campus

THURSDAY, February 25 — THURSDAY, March 4
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, February 25

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Targeting Your Job Search. Kehoe 609A.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Beth Dixon, Philosophy Dept. speaking on "What Can She Know" by Lorraine Code, sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3pm — Reception at the newly remodeled SSP Classroom with presentations for academic excellence being made to SSP students. Angell Center Room 118.

4:30pm — "Art of Conversation and Cocktail Party Etiquette" — Event #3 of a 4-part series on etiquette, sponsored by the Marketing Club. Open to the campus. Beverages and refreshments will be served. Angell Center Ballroom B.

7:30pm — "Africans: A Legacy of Lifestyles" — Exploring Africa through film and discussion, sponsored by Club International and the Black History Month Celebration Committee. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Adirondack Experience Club weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #3.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

Friday, February 26

3:30pm — Asian Student Providing Cultural Enrichment meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30pm — Akeba weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo general meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone is welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Wind" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

9pm — The SA Activities Coordination Board presents Comedian Chris Thomas in celebration of Black History Month. Tickets: $3 SA Members, $4 faculty/staff and $5 public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Saturday, February 27

6:15am — Ski Trip to Killington, sponsored by the SA Activities Coordination Board. Tickets: $28, includes lift and bus transportation, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. bus departs from the Rugar Street pull-off.

Sunday, February 28

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "UNDER SIEGE" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, March 1

10am - 3pm — U.S. Marine Corps Officer Selection Program, sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

12pm — Save SUNY Day Rally, sponsored by the Student Association. Angell Center Blueroom.

1pm - 4pm — Summer Job and Cooperative Education Fair sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Ballrooms.

7:30pm — Club Canada's weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee weekly meeting. Hudson Hall 028.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, March 2

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — Adult Student Group weekly meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.

2pm — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Considering Graduate School. Kehoe 609A.

3pm — Dining Advisory Committee meeting, sponsored by Marriott and Campus Life. New members always welcome. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:10pm — Human Services Association weekly meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.

4:15pm — Plattsburgh State Historical Associational weekly meeting. CV Hall Commons.
 4:15pm — Institute of Management Accountants bi-weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.
 4:15pm — Tuesday Reflection presents Alexis Levitin speaking on "Eugenio de Andrade's Slopes of a Gaze" sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
 8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

Wednesday, March 3

2pm — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Targeting Your Job Search. Kehoe 609A.
 11:30am — CVPB Blood Drive, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Angell Center Ballroom B.
 2am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Targeting Your Job Search. Kehoe 609A.
 5:30pm — "The Art of Eating/Rules of Proper Dining" with Dr. Marilyn Chase, sponsored by the Marketing Club. Tickets: $8.00 students, faculty and staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk, 2/16 thru 2/26. Angell Center Centennial Room.
 7pm — Vegetarian Awareness Committee bi-weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #4.
 8pm — Circle K International weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.
 8pm — Management Club meets — Society for Advanced Management. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.
 8pm — The Theatre Department presents "Thornwood" with special guest Joe Guzman from Pendragon Theatre. Tickets: $15A Members, $4 faculty/staff and $7 public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Thursday, March 4

11am - 2pm — Seafood Fest Buffet, sponsored by Marriott Corporation. Price $5.50, no reservations necessary. Angell Center Centennial Room.
 12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Nancy Leonard, Director of Gender Studies at Bard College, speaking on "Rationale and Program for Gender Studies," sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
 12:15pm — Brown Bag Recital sponsored by the Music Department. Angell Center Ballroom B.
 12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.
 2pm — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: Resumes and Cover Letters. Kehoe 609A.
 8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8pm — The Alumni Speaker Series presents Dr. Andrea Parrot speaking on "SEX — How To Get What You Want But Not More Than You Bargained For!" Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Visual Artist Series Slide/Lecture, sponsored by Art Resources. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "Thornwood" (see 8pm Wednesday, March 3 for details).

Notes

The WRITING WALK-IN, sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center, is available to all student, free of charge. Writing walk-in is held Monday - Thursday, 3:00 pm - 8:00 pm and Sunday, 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm in the writing instruction lab at the rear of the Learning Center.

Assertiveness Group: Do you wish you felt more self-confident? Is it hard to speak up in class? You aren't alone! Call 564-3086 for more information.

Are you feeling lonely? Stressed out? Need someone to listen? Peer Counselors are available to help. The Peer Counseling Office is located in Kent Hall next to the main lounge and is open Saturday to Thursday from 7 - 9 pm. No appointment is necessary.

Intramural Fencing Tournament — entries due March 24-25, $2 entry fee, prior fencing experience required. For further information contact Mrs. Bardon, 220 Memorial Hall, ext. 4150.

Students interested in obtaining American Red Cross certification in Community CPR, Standard First Aid, BLS and/or re-certification; in updating WSI's; or in taking non-credit lifeguarding courses scheduled this semester: see Mrs. Bardon in Room 220 of Memorial Hall.

The Educational Opportunity Program is seeking applications for summer peer tutor/counselors. The EOP summer program will run for five weeks (July 4 - August 6; however, three days of training are scheduled from June 30 - July 2). Peer tutor/counselors are paid between $1,200 and $1,250 for the session and receive free room and board. Applications are available in the EOP Office, Room 103, Algonquin Hall. They will be reviewed beginning Monday, March 8.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

WEEKLY

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • MAR. 3, 1993

Leonard's Book 'Convincingly' Reassesses Reign of Peter III

Indiana University Press is about to release Reform and Regicide: The Reign of Peter III of Russia, a book by SUNY Plattsburgh's Dr. Carol Leonard that argues convincingly that the Russian monarch has been maligned unfairly by historians.

Leonard's work, published in the Indiana-Michigan series in Russian and Eastern European Studies, claims that Peter III was the victim of a coup engineered by his wife, the future Catherine the Great. The Plattsburgh history professor maintains that Catherine portrayed her emperor husband as "a libertine, a half-wit and a drunkard whose contempt for ordinary decency and for his country made imperative his removal."

Challenging traditional interpretations, Leonard contends that the policies and legislation pursued by Peter III during his short reign in 1772 were not foolish and arbitrary but rather were firmly rooted in the traditions of Russian absolutism and the intellectual climate of the mid-Eighteenth century. "Emperor Peter III," she maintains, "has received short shrift from Russian and Western historians."

Professor Leonard

In a review of Reform and Regicide, Columbia University's Richard Wortman calls the book "... a provocative re-examination of legislation and foreign policy under Peter III."

"Utilizing archival and published sources," he writes, "Leonard shows this brief reign to have been a significant turning point in the evolution of economic and social policy. This work represents an important contribution to our understanding of the Eighteenth-century Russian monarchy."

"Leonard's convincing reassessment of the reign of Peter III squarely places it in the reformist traditions for which Catherine II claimed to have served as exclusive midwife," Wortman continues. "This is an impressive departure from perceived notions about the contrast

(Continued on following page)

ADAC Receives $28,949 State Health Department Grant for Respite Program

The Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center (ADAC) at SUNY Plattsburgh has received a $28,949 grant from the New York State Department of Health in support of the Center's Alzheimer's Disease respite care, support and training program.

According to Dr. Taher Zandi, professor of psychology at the college and director of ADAC, the grant will enable the Center to augment staffing to provide a wide array of respite programs — ranging from in-home respite to day care to a short-term bed at a local nursing home — to individuals who care for cognitively impaired persons. "In doing so," he said, "we hope to be able to prevent premature institutionalization for Alzheimer's sufferers while promoting a sense of well-being among caregivers."

Zandi pointed out that national statistics and case studies show that persons who care for Alzheimer's

(Continued on following page)

Garrow, Jarvis Confer on Presidential Search

The search for a successor to President Charles O. Warren, who will leave the college July 1 to assume the presidency of Lynchburg (Va.) College, began unofficially yesterday in Albany.

College Council Chairperson Robert Garrow reported he met Tuesday with Marilou Jarvis, deputy to SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone, at University headquarters in the state capital. Jarvis will serve as SUNY Central Administration liaison to the college's presidential search committee, once that committee has been formed.

Garrow said he will call a special meeting of the Council soon for the purpose of reviewing search guidelines, and that creation of the search committee will follow. He emphasized that the search itself will be conducted "thoroughly."

"We'll take our time with the search," said Garrow. "Every member of the campus community will have the opportunity to participate in the selection of the college's next president."

Journal Provides Link Between College and Local High School

Faculty in SUNY Plattsburgh's School of Business and Economics have capitalized on an advertising initiative by the nation's leading business newspaper to establish a link to community high school students and teaching staff.

According to Dr. Robert Withington, associate professor of economics, when The Wall Street Journal ran a circulation-building campaign on the theme, "adopt a local school," he thought the idea could benefit Plattsburgh High School. "We're always looking for ways to open avenues for dialogue with high school students and faculty," he said, "and a Journal subscription seemed an effective way to do that."

With funds in short supply, Withington and his colleagues approached School of Business and Economics Dean Prem Gandhi, and he, in turn, petitioned the Plattsburgh College Foundation for support. The project won enthusiastic approval.

"We deeply appreciate the gesture," commented Laurene Mihalek, who teaches four sections of economics (plus a history course) at Plattsburgh High. The publication, she explained, is issued monthly and organized thematically, making it "user-friendly."

While the gift is too new to assess for impact, Mihalek said, its potential is significant. It will allow students who read the publication to apply economic concepts and principles to timely topics and to practice their analysis and decision-making skills.

"As someone close to the college and supportive of the College Foundation," Mihalek said, "I would term this action both judicious and commendable."

School of Business and Economics Dean Prem Gandhi (left, foreground) presents a copy of the student edition of "The Wall Street Journal" to Plattsburgh High School student Kanica Green. Looking on (l-r) are Dr. Michael Stoller, chairperson of the Economics Department at the College, Dr. Robert Withington, PHS student Maggie Gordeau, PHS teacher Laurene Mihalek, PHS student P.J. Whitbeck and PHS Principal John Gallagher.

Book Boosts Leonard as Authority on Russian History (Continued from page 1)

between Peter's reign and that of his ambitious spouse."

An authority on Eastern Europe and Russia, Leonard joined the Plattsburgh faculty in 1974 as an assistant professor and achieved the rank of full professor in the fall of 1991. Her many awards include grants and fellowships from the National Science Foundation, Exxon Foundation, Rockefeller Foundation, International Research and Exchanges Board and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Since 1978, Leonard has served as a fellow at the Harvard University Russian Research Center. She formerly chaired the State University of New York's joint symposia program with Moscow University, and during 1977-78 she served as resident advisor of SUNY's sex change program with that institution.

Leonard is the author of many articles and papers on topics related to history and society in Russia and the former Soviet Union. She received the Ph.D. in history in 1976 from Indiana University.

Latest ADAC Grant Third of Current Academic Year (Continued from page 1)

patients are most likely at risk of developing psychological and physical ailments. At the same time, the cognitively impaired can become victims of inappropriate caregiving practices because of caregiver "burnout," causing both to fall into a vicious cycle of pain and agony.

"The objective of our respite program is to break the cycle by alleviating some of the stress from caregivers and placing impaired individuals in an environment that promotes activities and socialization," Zandi said. "We believe this will enhance the caregivers' support system while bringing some joy and pleasure to the dementia victim."

The project will expand the current, three-days-per-week day care program by increasing hours of operation by one-third and by adding an additional weekend drop-in service respite program. It also provides for a public education effort designed to increase the Center's patient referral rate and for formation of a consortium of services to meet all respite and caregiver needs in the Center's multi-county service region.

The latest grant to ADAC is the third of the current academic year. During the fall semester the Center received first-year funding in a three-year, $550,000 grant for a Rural Outreach Demonstration Program awarded by the Department of Health and Human Services' Health Resources and Services Administration, and a $32,792 grant renewal from the New York State Office of Mental Retardation and Development to expand the ADAC senior day program supported by that agency.

CSEA SCHOLARS — Recipients of the 1993 scholarships awarded by the campus chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association to college staff and children of staff are (l-r) Denise Bell, Cherice Granger, and brother-sister act Denise and Bryan Sypek. Both Bell, a senior English major who is a transcript clerk in the registrar's office, and Granger, a sophomore psychology major who is a staff member in academic affairs, are Dean's List students. Both received $100 awards. Bryan Sypek, a freshman biology major, also is a Dean's List student while his sister, Denise, is crowding that honor. The Sypeks, each of whom received $200 awards, are the daughter and son of Arlene (keyboard specialist, professional studies) and Richard Sypek.

10-day Advisement Period Follows Break

Spring break is on the horizon. But students and faculty are advised to be prepared for the rush of fall 1993 course selection and registration, which gets underway as soon as the vacation period is over.

The term "rush" takes on new meaning, says Suzanne Daley, assistant to the vice president for academic advisement. Where registration in the past was spread over twelve days, it is now a 10-day process.

Course selection and registration will begin March 22 — the day classes resume following spring break — and continue (excluding weekends) through April 2. Students should schedule appointments with their advisors (whose assignments are on file in the offices of department chairpersons and are posted also in the vicinity of the Registrar's Office, third floor Kehoe Building). Those having double majors must contact both advisors, while those thinking of changing majors should meet with the chairperson of the major they wish to declare.

Confirmed fall semester schedules will be sent to students' local addresses on April 22 and 23, so students should be certain that the Registrar's Office has their accurate local address on record.

Library Hours for Spring Break

| | |
|---------------------------|------------------|
| Wednesday, March 10, | 8:00am — 8:00pm |
| Thursday, March 11 | 8:00am — 4:30pm |
| Friday, March 12 | 8:00am — 4:30pm |
| Saturday, March 13 | CLOSED |
| Sunday, March 14 | CLOSED |
| Monday — Friday 3/15-3/19 | 8:00am — 4:30pm |
| Saturday, March 20 | CLOSED |
| Sunday, March 21 | 2:00pm — 11:30pm |

Regular hours resume on Monday, March 22, 1993.

Computer Instruction Videoconference Focuses on Writing

SUNY Plattsburgh's Department of English and its Claude J. Clark Learning Center are co-coordinating a national interactive video-conference on computer-aided writing instruction that will be held next Wednesday (March 10) from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

The videoconference is designed for faculty, staff and students from Plattsburgh and from other regional colleges and high schools who are interested in learning about using computers to teach writing. Participation is free, but registration is required (call 564-2134 to sign up).

Presented via satellite by Kirkwood Services, the conference will focus on the successful implementation of computer-aided instruction at several colleges and universities across the country. It will demonstrate classroom activities that involve computer technology, explore myths about the application of technology in the writing classroom and address possibilities for enhancing the learning experience through the use of multimedia.

Dr. Rick Anderson, lecturer in English, and Mary Dossin, writing specialist in the learning center, are coordinating the program and local follow-up efforts. As follow-up, Anderson said, conference participants will be able to consult with SUNY Plattsburgh instructional computing faculty on planning and implementing their own computer-based writing projects.

Conferees, Anderson added, will take part in a new SUNY Plattsburgh "instructional computing board." At a local follow-up meeting at the end of the current academic year, participants will report on the progress of their projects, learn about other projects, and take part in computer-based writing workshops.

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Anna Battigelli, assistant professor of English, has been asked to contribute two essays to Feminist Literary Theory: A Dictionary, a single-volume reference focusing on topics "which arise in the current discussion of feminist literary theory. The essays, respectively, will deal with mother-child relationships and mother-daughter relationships... Dr. Richard A. Bernardi, assistant professor of accounting, has had two papers accepted for presentation at the Third Critical Perspectives on Accounting Symposium to be held in mid-April in New York City. They are: "Fraud Detection: An Experiment Testing Differences in Perceived Client Integrity and Competence, Individual Auditor Cognitive Style and Experience, and Accounting Firms," and "Cognitive Differences in Gender, Firms and Employment Level of Auditors from National Accounting Firms: Evidence on Who the Profession Retains" ... Kay Branagan, adjunct lecturer in the minority studies program, will present a paper on "Including Women in Teaching About South Africa" at the 1993 New York African Studies Association's annual conference on Cross-Cultural Developments to be held in mid-April at Adirondack Community College ... Nine black & white photographs by Robin Brown, college photographer and photography instructor, are featured in a four-page spread devoted to her work that appears in the April 1993 issue of Adirondack Life magazine ... "Using Logo to Develop Problem Solving Skills" is the title of an article by Dr. Stewart A. Denenberg, professor of computer science, that will appear in the spring issue of the Journal of Computer Science Education ... Mary Dossin, writing specialist in the Claude Clark Learning Center, is the author of "The Sine Qua Non for Writing Tutors," an article accepted for publication in an upcoming issue of the Writing Lab Newsletter, a publication of the National Writing Centers Association.

Card Hockey Team Advances to SUNYAC Finals

The Plattsburgh State men's hockey team crushed Oswego 5-1 and 12-6 in a two-game weekend set to advance to the SUNY Conference finals, which they will host this Friday and Saturday at Stafford Arena with Cortland providing the opposition. Cortland turned back Fredonia two games to none to earn the right to challenge the Cardinals for the 1993 SUNYAC title.

The men's basketball team was eliminated from the conference playoffs in a 79-70 loss to Fredonia in quarterfinal action last Friday, but on Monday the Cards were invited as eighth and lowest seed to vie for the ECAC post-season tournament championship. They meet top-rated Hamilton College at 7:30 p.m. today at Clinton, and, if successful, they will move on to the "final four," with the semi-finals and finals scheduled for Saturday and Sunday on the campus of the highest surviving seed.

In indoor track, the Cardinal women finished second in an 18-team field in the New York State Women's Collegiate Athletic Association championship meet hosted by the college over the weekend. The Cards' Becky Pagano placed first in the 5000 meter run in 18:43.97 (a school record) and in the 3000 meters in 10:39.56, and ran a leg for Plattsburgh's win in the two-mile relay, to earn state meet MVP honors. First-rate performances were turned in also by Heather Myrick, who placed first in the triple jump (11.40 m) and third in the long jump (5.37 m), and by Jen Wiseman, who placed first in the 800 meters with a time of 2:25.10.

Dr. Warren Dixon (l), professor of economics, accepts congratulations from Dr. Prem Gandhi, dean of the School of Business and Economics, on the publication of his "Minitab Workbook," which supplements the fourth edition of "Applied Statistics," a textbook published by Allyn and Bacon and "used profitably" here by Dixon's students. The 250-plus-page softcover workbook is designed to acquaint students with basic Minitab routines that apply to specific text materials and to serve "as a warm-up" to more extensive problem-solving. Professor Dixon has been a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty since 1965.

Weekly Takes a Break

Because of spring break, Weekly will not be published on March 10 or 17. The next issue will be distributed on March 24. The copy deadline for that issue is noon on Monday, March 22. Suggestions for articles are welcome at any time. Send items to Room 808 Kehoe or call ext. 2090.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, March 4 — THURSDAY, March 25

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, March 4

11am - 2pm — Seafood Fest. Price $5.50, no reservations necessary. Angell Center Centennial Room.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Nancy Leonard, Director of Gender Studies at Bard College, speaking on "Rationale and Program for Gender Studies." Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Brown Bag music recital. Angell Center Ballroom B.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

2pm — Career/Life Planning workshop: Resumes and Cover Letters. Kehoe 609A.

5:30pm — S.A. Executive Council meeting. Student Association Office, Angell Center.

7pm — Club International meets. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8pm — The Alumni Speaker Series presents Dr. Andrea Parrot speaking on "SEX — How To Get What You Want But Not More Than You Bargained For!" Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Visual Artist Series Slide/Lecture. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — Adirondack Experience Club meets. Angell Center Meeting Room #3.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "Thornwood" with special guest Joe Guzman from Pendragon Theatre. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $4 faculty/staff and $7 public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Friday, March 5

1:45pm — "Re-Naming The Landscape" Plattsburgh Studies in the Humanities Third Annual Interdisciplinary Symposium. Programs are scheduled from 2 pm through 5:45 pm, concluding with a social at the Rockwell Kent Gallery 6-7 pm. See brochure for a complete listing of programs. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3pm — ODK members' meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

3:30pm — Asian Student Providing Cultural Enrichment meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

4:30pm — Akeba meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone is welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7:30pm — Political Science Department presents "World Affairs: Irish Update." Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Mr. Saturday Night."

Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL200.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "Thornwood" (see 8pm Thursday, March 4 for details).

8pm — Battle of the Bands featuring 5 local bands competing for $1500. Tickets: $2 SA Members, $4 general admission, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Coffee House featuring live music and refreshments. A $2 donation is suggested. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

Saturday, March 6

6:15am — Ski Trip to Whiteface. Tickets: $28, includes lift and bus transportation, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the Rugar Street pull-off.

8:45am — "Re-Naming The Landscape" symposium (see 1:45 pm Friday, March 5 for details).

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "Thornwood" (see 8pm Thursday, March 4 for details).

Sunday, March 7

2pm — Student Recital featuring Rennie Gonyea, trumpet, Patricia Luby, trombone, and Matt Veitch. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

2pm — The Theatre Department presents "Thornwood" (see 8pm Thursday, March 4 for details).

3-6pm — International Women's Day Celebration/Party. Dancing, video, song, art and door prizes in honor of IWD on March 8th. Angell Center Ballroom A and Cardinal Lounge.

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "Sneakers." Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk.

7pm — Cardinal Points staff meeting — anyone is welcome to attend. Cardinal Points Office, Angell Center 3rd floor.

Monday, March 8

7:30pm — Campus Poets Series presents Robin Caudell, staff writer for the Press Republican. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7:30pm — Club Canada meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee meets. Hudson Hall 028.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, March 9

10am — CSEA Stress Management Workshop. Open to all members. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.
12:15pm — Adult Student Group meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.
12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.
4:10pm — Human Services Association meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.
4:15pm — College Historical Association meets. CVH Commons.
4:15pm — Faculty Senate Meeting. Clinton Hall Conference Room.
8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.
8pm — Symphonic Band and Cardinal Singers in Concert. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.
8:15pm — Hillel meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

Wednesday, March 10

10am — CSEA Information Day. Angell Center Ballrooms.
1pm — Videoconference on Computers and Writing. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
8pm — Circle K International meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.
8pm — Management Club Meeting — Society for Advanced Management. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

Sunday, March 21

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "Singles." Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, March 22

7:30pm — Club Canada meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.
8pm — Environmental Action Committee meeting. Hudson Hall 028.
7:30pm — The Distinguished Visiting Professor Program presents Professor Gerald Cohen, Chichele Chair of Philosophy, Oxford University, speaking on "Is There Still A Case For Socialism?". Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, March 23

11am — Nutrition and Fitness Fair sponsored by Marriott and the Student Health Center. Angell Center Ballrooms.
11am — Fun Flicks: (Be the star of your own music video). Angell Center Blue Room.
12pm — Center for Women's Concerns meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.
12:15pm — Adult Student Group meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.
12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.

4pm — English Department's advanced advisement session. Angell Center Ballroom B.

4:10pm — Human Services Association meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.

4:15pm — Plattsburgh State Historical Association meeting. CV Hall Commons.

4:15pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Drs. Philip DeVita and James Armstrong, Anthropology: Distant Mirrors: Foreign Reflections on American Culture. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8:15pm — Hillel meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

Wednesday, March 24

9am — Exchange Program with Royal Military College of St. John's, Canada, sponsored by the Institute for International Business (IBERT). Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15pm — Accounting and Finance Association meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

6pm — Center for Teacher Education Advisement and Registration session. Sibley Hall Gym and Cafetorium.

7pm — Vegetarian Awareness Committee Meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #4.

7pm — Club Hispano Americano meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — Robert Klak: music recital. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Thursday, March 25

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Jeanne Ellsworth, Center for Educational Studies and Services, speaking on "Women Migrant Workers: Choices and Options." Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

5pm — Resident Assistant training for all newly appointed R.A.'s. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — Public Lecture by Barbara Smith. Angell Center Ballroom B.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

Notes

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a Bus to Montreal on Saturday, March 27, 9 am - 6 pm. Tickets: $9 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, March 22nd. For more information call 564-3824.

The college's Personnel Office is sponsoring a "Benefits Information Day" on Wednesday, March 10 in the Angell Center Ballrooms. The event will take place from 10 am to 1 pm and from 2:30 to 5:30 pm.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

WEEKLY

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • MAR. 24, 1993

Presidential Search Committee Convenes April 7; 16 to Serve

The Search Committee to find a successor to President Charles O. Warren will consist of 16 persons representing all SUNY Plattsburgh constituencies.

At a special meeting of the College Council, held March 12, it was agreed that the composition of the Search Committee will include Council chairperson Robert M. Garrow '52, who will chair the committee, and three additional Council members; a member of the college's Executive Council; six faculty (five teaching faculty and one member of the professional staff); two students; a member of the classified staff; an alumnus; and a representative of the Plattsburgh College Foundation. Letters have been sent out advising leaders of each group to forward their recommendations to the Council for approval by April 1. Meanwhile, Don Garrant, executive assistant to the president for college relations and development, and Thelma Lyon, secretary to the president, were appointed ex officio administrative liaisons to the committee. Garrant will serve as staff coordinator for the search while Lyon will provide staff support for the search process.

Garrow said that the organizational meeting of the Search Committee and the entire College Council (with SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone attending, if his schedule permits) will be held at 2 p.m. on April 7. Subsequent meetings, likely to be held every two weeks once applications begin arriving, will be scheduled for late afternoon on Thursdays through the summer months.

The tentative search timetable calls for the position to be advertised next month, followed by a review of applications during the summer and development of a list of between 10 and 12 finalists by late August. Finalists would be interviewed on campus during September. The committee's recommendation would be forwarded to the SUNY Board of Trustees in early October, with the new president taking office on January 1.

During the March 12 Council meeting, Dr. Marilou Jarvis, deputy to the chancellor and the chancellor's liaison to the Search Committee, clarified the search process as delineated in guidelines approved by

(Continued on next page)

State Legislature Elects Dawson to Board of Regents

Dr. James C. Dawson, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science and SUNY Distinguished Service Professor, has been appointed by the New York State Legislature to serve a seven-year term as a Regent of the University of the State of New York.

Dawson's tenure as Regent begins April 1 and will continue through March 31 in the year 2000, making him the first new Regent whose term extends into the next century. He will represent the 11-county Fourth Judicial District — with 25 percent of New York's land mass, the largest geographically among the state's 12 districts.

The 16-member Board of Regents was established by act of the Legislature in 1784. The University they govern is the most comprehensive educational organization in the world, and it includes all public and private elementary and secondary schools; all post-secondary institutions, including SUNY, CUNY and all independent and proprietary schools; all museums, libraries and historical societies; vocational rehabilitation agencies; and it has jurisdiction over 37 major professions.

Dawson acknowledges he sought the prestigious position, citing his extended and continuing interest particularly in secondary science and mathematics education. He made several trips to Albany and survived three rounds of interviews with legislators and legislative leaders before emerging as the successful candidate from among more than 10 prominent citizens who vied for the post.

He is not the first from the State University of New York to be appointed a Regent (SUNY Albany's Shirley Brown preceded him), but Dawson did look into the question of conflict of interest, learning that service is permissible for faculty but not for administrators. Asked about his extensive involvement currently in campus and public service

(Continued on page 4)

Dr. Dawson

Plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

130 to be First Installed in Campus Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi

A slate of officers will be installed and 130 members of the campus community will be inducted to membership when the SUNY Plattsburgh chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, the national honor society, is formally established at the college on Wednesday, April 7.

The initial induction ceremony here will take place at 7:30 p.m. in Hartman Theatre in the college's Myers Fine Arts Building. It has been planned to coincide with "Showcase '93," the fifth annual, college-wide celebration of the pursuit of scholarship among SUNY Plattsburgh's students, faculty and staff, which will take place throughout the day on April 7.

President Charles O. Warren, a current member of Phi Kappa Phi, will be the featured speaker at the event, and he has chosen "On Making Connections" as his topic. The Plattsburgh chapter's first slate of officers, also prior inductees to the society, will consist of Dr. Mary Roark (human resources), president; Mark Kaiser (accounting), vice president; Elizabeth Bogucki (computing center), secretary; Dr. Rachel Pollow (nursing), treasurer; and Dr. Carrie Harris (human resources), public relations officer.

Phi Kappa Phi has nearly 250 chapters in 49 states, the District of Columbia, the Philippines and Puerto Rico, and its purpose is to recognize and encourage superior scholarship in all disciplines. Membership is open to undergraduates at the junior and senior level, to graduate students, provided their number doesn't exceed 10 percent of the number of candidates for graduate degrees during a given academic year, and to faculty, staff and alumni "who have achieved distinction."

Admission to the Phi Kappa Phi is by invitation and requires nomination and approval by a chapter in accordance with bylaws of both the chapter and the national society. Besides superior scholarship, good character is a criterion for membership. Those to be inducted to the society on April 7 are:

Seniors — Robert G. Ahrens, Jacob P. Alabiso, Christopher P. Anderson, Julie M. Bampton, Cynthia L. Barbagelata, Darren G. Barkman, Nancy L. Bathrick, Lawrence BeLasco, Robin M. Belzile, Peter S. Benson, Tricia D. Bliven, Stacy L. Brink, Susan M. Bryant, Julie M. Clackler, Robert A. DeCamp, Christopher E. Deming, Mary Beth Forster, Jennifer Gifford, Jeanne M. Gregory, Belgin E. Hanson, Kelly M. Harrigan, Delbert R. Hart, Christine M. Hines, George J. Hoffman Jr, Geoffrey M. Hopkins, Charles J. House Jr, J. Beckwith Hubbell, Darcy L. Hudson, Rebecca A. Jabaut, Kelly J. Jaeschke, Brigitte L. Jean, Jody A. Jessey, and Lynn A. Johnson.

Also, Tammi M. Jupin, Kiernan A. Kenney, Patience L. Landry, Kathleen A. Lemza, Lori L. Lomax, Jacqueline L. Mazur, L. Sue McClure, Charles D. McElrath, Helen A. McNamara, James T. McNamara, Tanya M. Merlow, Carol E. Moakler, Colleen A. Murphy, Christine M. Murray, Colleen A. Murray, Robert G. Newton, Gemma C. Orzech, Bethany R. Poharski, Kari A. Poust, Steven Purkis, Kristie E. Reed, Gerald S. Rock, Kelly J. Rose, Lee Schaller, James A. Schoep, Keri L. Smith, Amy R. St. John, Edna M. Stone, Joseph Adam Tatro, Thomas J. Taylor, Heather B. Thomson, David C. Toulson, Amy M. Tuthill, Bridget J. Vesosky, Elaine M. Williams, Rebecca A. Woodcock, Gregory J. Yukl, and Michelle Zian.

Juniors — Daniel P. Apsey, Molly J. Austin, Thomas O. Dabolt, Ann E. Diehl, Michael C. Dupras, Margaret D. Hector, Patricia K. Honan, Joyce A. Lucia-Kolb, Douglas A. Morrissey, Daniel J. Morse, Yukiko Oyauchi, Rose A. Robinson, and Amy L. Santor.

Graduate students — Christine M. Blakely, Frances P. Boyden, Alison Brown, W. Douglas Chamberlain, Willima F. DeLoache, Linda J. Hooper, Karen R. Marshall, Lynn A. Mayack, Gail C. Meyer, Vicki K. Olsen, Rosemary Porteus, Andrew N. Poserow, Diane M. Rolfs, and Thomas N. Wood, III.

Faculty/Staff — Julius A. Archibald, Dr. Stuart J. Baum, Dr. Richard J. Beach, Dr. Hinda-Rose Bizem, Dr. Donald J. Bogucki, Edward R. Brohel, Dr. Bruce A. Butterfield, Dr. Nancy J. Church, Dr. James C. Dawson, Dr. Philip R. DeVita, Dr. W. Raney Ellis, Dr. Prem P. Gandhi, Dr. Peter H. Gore, and Dr. Raymond M. Guydosh.

Also, Dr. Ann C. Hasting, Cheryl M. Hogle, Cori Jackson, Jean V. Kibler, Dr. H. Z. Liu, Dr. Matthew R. Merrens, Dr. E. Thomas Moran, Dr. Henry C. Morlock, Dr. Thomas J. Morrissey, Dr. David N. Mowry, Anna R. Nardelli, Dr. Eldridge W. Roark, Dr. Craig L. Sample, Dr. Roger K. Sandwick, Dr. Lawrence C. Shaffer, Suzanne M. Sokolowski, Dr. Eleanor P. Stoller, and Dr. Ann B. Tracy.

Presidential Search

(Continued from page 1)
the University's trustees. She focused on the importance of a timely, well-organized search, outlined Chancellor Johnstone's role in the process, and pointed out that the person appointed as acting president (from the time Dr. Warren leaves campus July 1 to assume his new position as president of Lynchburg (Va.) College to the appointment of SUNY Plattsburgh's next chief administrative officer) will not be considered a candidate for the presidency.

No Smoking, Please!

Because of a growing number of complaints, members of the college community and visitors who smoke are reminded that a smoking policy is in effect in all campus buildings.

Smoking is permitted in designated areas only, and those who feel they must light-up are requested to be considerate of their non-smoking colleagues and peers.

College to Host Science Fair for Area High School Students

More than 60 students from area junior high and high schools will participate in the 1993 North Country Science Fair, an event to be held Saturday, March 27 at SUNY Plattsburgh under sponsorship of the Collaborative Science Education for the North Country (CSENC) program, a State Education Department-supported project.

The Science Fair will feature an 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. exhibition of science projects—initiated and completed by students attending schools in the Chazy, Peru, Beekmantown, Plattsburgh, Elizabethtown-Lewis, Seton Catholic, and AuSable Valley school systems — in the lobbies and adjoining classrooms of Hudson Hall on the SUNY Plattsburgh campus. The fair, co-sponsored by the college, its Sigma Xi Club and Wyeth-Ayerst Laboratories, will include formal judging of projects, a buffet dinner, and an awards ceremony. The students' works will be on display for the public from 1:15 - 2:30 pm.

"The Science Fair is a means for encouraging students to do project-oriented science — science which is more representative of the investigative research that scientists actually perform," explained Dr. Roger Sandwick, associate professor of chemistry at the college and a member of the Science Fair organizing committee. "It is hoped that the student participants gain satisfaction from 'doing' science similar to that of practicing scientists."

The CSENC program, Sandwick said, is a Dwight D. Eisenhower Title IIA Higher Education project designed to improve science education in the northeastern section of New York State. It uses a four-pronged approach which includes a two-week summer science camp at SUNY Plattsburgh and Miner Institute for high school students, several "Teacher-to-Teacher Science Workshops," a public lecture series on science and technology, and the Science Fair.

The objectives of the project are to increase the communication and interaction between area science teachers, college science faculty, and local industrial researchers and to give additional science opportunities to area youth. "The Science Fair is the culmination of the efforts of this year's program," Sandwick said. "A similar proposal for 1993-94 year has been submitted to the State Education Department."

Besides Sandwick, the Science Fair Organizing Committee consists of Shirley Butler of Plattsburgh High School, David Beebie of Beekmantown Central School, William Smith of Peru High School, and Dr. Kenneth Adams and Karen Larkin of SUNY Plattsburgh's Centers for Earth and Environmental Science and Educational Studies and Services, respectively.

Library of Congress Researcher Porter to Visit as DVA Program Participant

Dr. Donna V. Porter, a 1971 SUNY Plattsburgh graduate who is a specialist in life science at the Congressional Research Service in the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C., will return to campus next week to participate in the college's Distinguished Visiting Alumni program.

Porter, who received the B.S. in food and nutrition from the college, will be in residence here from March 28 to 30. Her schedule includes class lectures, informal meetings with students and faculty in the Center for Human Resources and in nursing.

In her current post, Porter is responsible for answering questions and doing research work for members of Congress and staff on issues related to food safety and nutrition. She served as project director for a 1990 study by the Institute of Medicine's Committee on the Nutrition Components of Food Labeling which issued the report Nutrition Labeling: Issues and Directions for the 1990s, for which she received the FDA

Commissioner's Citation Award for 1991. She also was project director for the IOM's Committee on State Food Labeling, whose report, titled Food Labeling: Toward National Uniformity, was mandated by the Nutrition Labeling and Education Act of 1990.

Prior to joining the Library of Congress in 1980, Porter was a fellow at the National Nutrition Consortium in Washington and a Congressional Science Fellow assigned to the Science Policy Research Division of CRS. She received the Ph.D. in human nutrition from the Ohio State University in 1980, and she holds the Distinguished Alumna Award from both SUNY Plattsburgh and Ohio State, conferred in 1984 and 1992, respectively.

The Distinguished Visiting Alumni program was inaugurated during academic 1989-90 as part of the college's year-long Centennial celebration. It is coordinated by a committee of faculty, staff and students in cooperation with the college's Office of Alumni Affairs.

Coming April 6 & 7:

SHOWCASE '93!

Career/Life Planning Center's 'Career Night' Set for April 1

The Career/Life Planning Center's nineteenth annual "Career Night" program will be held next Thursday (April 1) from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Ballrooms.

The event is designed to provide students with opportunity to expand their career horizons and to interact with employers in an informal setting. "In times like these," remarked Carolyn Delcore, assistant director in the Center, "it is more important than ever for students to acquire accurate information about the realities in the world of work."

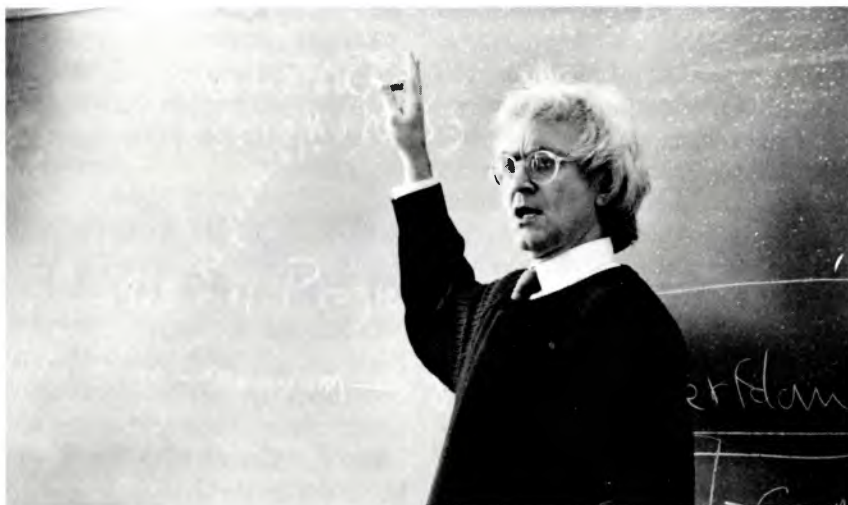

Normally, Delcore said, the program is geared specifically for seniors. However, she added, citing the fluctuating economy and the uncertainty of the job market, currently and in the long-term, this year's Career Night is open to all SUNY Plattsburgh students.

Reservations from employers are still coming in, so it is difficult, Delcore said, to estimate participation. Several who will take part are alumni who are returning to campus not only as potential employers but also to offer advice to current students.

Some participating employers will remain on campus an extra day to conduct interviews for existing vacancies, and this aspect of the program is restricted to senior-level students. Interested students must schedule interview appointments (and provide a copy of their resume for each employer's file) in the Career/Life Planning Center, Kehoe 606, by March 30.

Distinguished Visiting Professor Gerald Cohen, Chichele Professor of Social and Political Theory and Fellow of All Souls College at Oxford University, speaks Monday to students in Dr. Edward Schaffer's class on the "History of Sociology." Cohen, the author of three books on Karl Marx, including one in Spanish and another translated to Chinese, and of numerous articles on philosophy, social history and public affairs published in this country and abroad, was on campus through the first part of the week to meet with students and faculty and to present a public lecture Monday evening on the topic, "Is There Still a Case for Socialism?". A Fellow of the British Academy, Cohen has taught in England since the early 1960's and has held visiting teaching posts at McGill University in Montreal and at Princeton University.

Dawson Elected to Board of Regents (Continued from page 1)

endeavors, he implied that his teaching responsibilities combined with those as a Regent will force him to re-evaluate his commitments and probably curtail or postpone some of them.

Dawson is known widely for his service and leadership in a variety of areas related to environmental concerns and public policy issues. A member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty since 1970, he was among the organizers of the Lake Champlain Research Consortium, a group representing seven four-year colleges that coordinates research and teaching efforts in the Lake Champlain basin. He was a founder and past chair of the Adirondack Land Trust and a trustee and past vice chairperson of the Adirondack Nature Conservancy; a founding member of the Board of Directors of the New York Parks and Conservation Association, and past vice chair of the New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation's Point au Roche State Park Advisory Committee.

Dawson also served as New York chair of the Lake Champlain Committee, Inc. and is currently New York vice chair. He was appointed to the Lake Champlain Management Conference in 1990, and earlier he served as the forest preserve specialist on the Governor's Commission on the Adirondacks in the Twenty-First Century. Last summer he participated as the geologist-environmental scientist in the development of a "Land Policy for the Lake Baikal Watershed" recommendation report to the governments of Mongolia and Russia, a study conducted with support from the World Wildlife Fund, the Government of Mongolia, the Buryat Republic and Chita and Irkutsk Oblasts of Russia.

Dawson has twice chaired the college's Faculty Senate, and he currently represents the campus as its University Faculty Senator, serving also as a member of that body's Executive Committee. He has written, co-authored and edited more than 40 articles, scholarly papers, books and proceedings on environmental and geological subjects.

Cards Unbeaten in Post-Season Heading into Title Tourney

The Plattsburgh State Cardinals enter this weekend's NCAA ice hockey tournament "final four" riding a 16-game unbeaten streak.

The defending national champion Cardinals (25-4-2) will meet Wisconsin-River Falls (18-12-1) at 8 p.m. (CST) Friday in the tournament nightcap in Aldrich Arena in the St. Paul, Minn. suburb of Maplewood. Wisconsin-Stevens Point (23-5-2) takes on Elmira (24-6-0) in the 3:30 p.m. opener, with the consolation and national championship games scheduled for 3:30 and 7 p.m. on Saturday.

The 1992-93 Cardinals boast an abundance of playoff experience with 15 players on the present roster who played a role on last year's "Triple Crown" (NCAA, ECAC, SUNYAC) championship team. The veterans will be counted on to provide the leadership necessary to bring home a second consecutive NCAA title.

A year ago, the Cardinals won nine straight playoff games and outscored their opponents 59-28 last year en route to the national title. This season they hold a 6-0 post-season record, outscoring the opposition to date by a 53-22 margin.

As defending national champions, the Cardinals were put to the test every game this season and they responded with an undefeated SUNYAC conference record and the recent SUNYAC championship with series wins over Oswego and Cortland. Overall, two of Plattsburgh's four losses came at the hands of Division I opponents (Colgate and Army).

Coach Bob Emery achieved his 100th win (against 25 losses and nine ties) behind the Cardinal bench as the Cardinals took the two-game NCAA quarterfinal series at Stafford Arena over spring break with 5-2 and 9-4 wins over Babson College. Emery has brought the Cardinals to the finals of the NCAA tournament in two of his first three years and to the final four in three of the four years he has been at the helm.

Sophomore forward Steve Moore leads Plattsburgh in post-season scoring with 23 pts (8 goals, 15 assists) in 6 games. Junior forward Lenny Pereira is second in post season scoring with 18 pts (7 goals, 11 assists) and has extended his consecutive point scoring streak to 27 games. Senior forward Tim Sullivan notched his first hat trick of the season in game 2 against Babson and now ranks as the Cardinals third leading scorer in the post season with 13 pts (7 goals, 6 assists).

The honors are beginning to pour in for the 1992-93 Cards. Pereira has been named SUNYAC Player of the Year, and he,

Moore and Chris Fess were named to the All-SUNYAC first team (Scott Mastrodonato is second team All-Conference). Moore garnered the All-SUNYAC tournament most valuable player award while Pereira, Sullivan and Mastrodonato earned berths on the all-tournament team.

Hebert Assumes Personnel Associate Post

Barbara Hebert has joined the staff of the college's Personnel Office as personnel associate, effective March 8.

In her new position, Hebert will be responsible for all aspects of benefits administration, oversight of the recruitment, selection and appointment process, for employee orientation and exit interviews, and for coordination of campus training initiatives.

Hebert has been a member of the SUNY

Plattsburgh staff since 1974, having served as coordinator of student employment services in the Financial Aid Office and more recently in the Career/Life Planning Center. She has served also as test center supervisor, where she has been responsible for administering standardized graduate-level tests for the Educational Testing Service. Hebert holds the B.A. in business and the M.A. in liberal studies from SUNY Plattsburgh.

Student to Deliver Paper at Boston Conference

Jamie Colburn, a sophomore criminal justice major from Saratoga Springs, will lead a student delegation that will visit Boston this weekend to participate in proceedings of the 63rd annual meeting of the Eastern Sociological Society.

Colburn, who is secretary-treasurer of the SUNY Plattsburgh chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta, the international sociology honor society, will present a paper during a Saturday morning session of the conference, housed at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel. He explained that he wrote the paper, which examines "governmental deviance and ... abusive actions taken by the FBI during the (J. Edgar) Hoover years," in the fall of 1991 for a class in "Sociology of Law" taught by Dr. Stephen Light, assistant professor of sociology, and submitted it for presentation at the society's annual meeting several weeks ago.

Colburn reports that he and two peers will be attending the conference "on behalf of the sociology and criminal justice department, as well as all students, in support of scholarship on (the Plattsburgh) campus." He states: "I feel this is a marvelous opportunity for Alpha Kappa Delta to represent Plattsburgh, indeed all of SUNY, showing the rest of academia that our commitment to excellence is real."

SUNY DAY—State Senator Ronald B. Stafford, R-Plattsburgh (seated, right) hosts part of the college's SUNY delegation that visited the state capital on March 3 to advocate the University's mission and lobby for an end to a series of crippling annual budget cuts.

A review of Don Akenson's At Face Value: The Life and Times of Eliza McCormack/John White by Dr. Suzann Buckley, professor of history and associate dean of arts and science, has been published in The American Review of Canadian Studies ... Dr. Anthony D'Aristotle, associate professor of mathematics, who is serving as a visiting scholar in Harvard University's Department of Mathematics while on sabbatic leave from the college, gave a presentation there recently — at a joint Harvard-MIT seminar — on the topic, "Random Walks and Gelfand Pairs." A paper by D'Aristotle titled "Random Walks on Subspaces of a Vector Space and Time to Stationarity" has been published as a technical report by Stanford University's Department of Statistics ... "The Real Exchange Rate and Macroeconomic Performance in Sub-Saharan Africa," an article by Dr. Dhaneshwar Ghura, assistant professor of economics, appears in a recent issue of the Journal of Development Economics. Ghura has also published Working Paper No. WPS 1000, Country Economics Department of the World Bank, Washington, D.C., entitled "World Bank Adjustment Lending and Economic Performance in Sub-Saharan Africa in the 1980s" ... Dr. Padi Gulati, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, was guest editor for the Journal of Sociology and Social Welfare's recently published special issue on homelessness. The authors represented several disciplines, including sociology and social work, and came from both private and public colleges and universities, and the topics ranged from social policy issues related to homelessness to the political mobilization of the homeless ... Dr. Edwin Hamblet, professor of French, has been invited to read a paper on Quebec literature at the 66th annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers of French to be held in July in San Diego. Hamblet has been named an editorial consultant for Selecta, the official journal of the Pacific Northwestern Foreign Language Council ... Dr.

Roger P. Hamernik, professor in the Departments of Physics and Hearing and Speech Science and director of the college's Auditory Research Laboratories, was invited to attend a meeting held March 8 called by the National Academy of Science to plan a conference on otologic blast injuries. Hamernik explained: "The destruction of an army barracks by a scud missile has focused attention on the severity of hearing and vestibular damage incurred by the survivors of the blast and the difficulties associated with treating such trauma" ... "The Integration of Language, Literature and Culture: Goals and Curricular Design," an article by Dr. Sylvie Debevec Henning, professor and chair of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature, appears in the latest issue of Association of Departments of Foreign Languages Bulletin ... Dr. Bryan Higgins, professor and coordinator of the geography program, will attend the Association of American Geographers meeting in Atlanta in April, where he will present a paper titled "A Geography of Environmentalism: Ecopolitics and the Lake Champlain Basin" ... Elaine Leavitt, director of Upward Bound, served as a trainer for the Southeastern Association of Educational Opportunity Program Personnel Training Center's Upward Bound New Directors' Training, held recently in Atlanta. As a trainer, Leavitt was among 13 experienced Upward Bound directors from throughout the nation who provided training and assumed mentor responsibility for 60 trainee participants. She and other trainers had direct responsibility for five individuals in a program attended by trainers and trainees from all parts of the continental U.S. and as far away as the Marshall Islands ... Dr. John E. Lewis, professor of physics, is the author of "The Molybdenum growth and characterization of $Hg_{1-x}Mn_xTe$," which appears in Semicond. Sci. Technol 8 (1993) ... Dr. E. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs, is co-author (with Marcia Mentkowski of Alverno College in Milwaukee, Alexander Astin of UCLA, and Peter Ewell, director of the Higher Education Research Institute at the National Center for Higher Education Management Systems in Boulder, Colo.) of a monograph titled "Catching Theory Up With Practice: Conceptual Frameworks for Assessment," published in the American Association for Higher Education's Assessment Forum ... Dr. Marjorie Pryse, professor of women's studies, delivered a paper titled "Reading Regionalism: The Difference It Makes" at the Modern Language Association convention held recently in New York City. An article by Pryse, "Distilling Essences: Regionalism and Women's Culture," appears in the winter issue of American Literary Realism ... Dr. Thomas Rumney, associate professor of geography, is the author of "Patterns of Agricultural Land Change in Illinois: 1969 to the Present," an article that appears in a recent edition of Bulletin, Illinois Geographical Society. Rumney's review of Tim Unwin's "Wine and the Vine: A Historical Geography of Viticulture and the Wine Trade" was published recently in the Journal of Geography ... Joseph M. Segriff, a graduate student in education, is the author of recently published short stories and poetry. His short stories "Rehearsal" and "Another Sandman" appeared in Phoenix Rising and Puck and Pluck, respectively, and his poem "Young and Old, Spectrum of Life," appeared in Maturity Today ... Dr. George F. Sheats, professor of chemistry, is the author of a published research paper titled "Pentamethylcyclopentadienyl Halfsandwich Complexes of Rhodium and Iridium Containing 1,1'-Ferrocene Dichalcogenido Ligands" ... "Recruiting Minorities into Teaching: A Joint Registration Model," an article by Dr. Geraldine F. Wolfe, assistant professor in the Center for Educational Studies and Services, appears in the February/March issue of the Community College Journal.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, March 25 — THURSDAY, April 1

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, March 25

11am — WPLT's Sixth Annual Radiothon, sponsored by WPLT Campus Radio Station. Angell Center Lobby.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Jeanne Ellsworth, Center for Educational Studies and Services speaking on "Women Migrant Workers: Choices and Options," sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

5pm — Resident Assistant Training for all newly appointed R.A.s, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30pm — Weekly meeting of the College Republicans — new members welcome. Angell Center Meeting Room #4.

8pm — Public Lecture by Barbara Smith, sponsored by Women's Studies. Angell Center Ballroom B.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

Friday, March 26

11am — WPLT's Sixth Annual Radiothon, sponsored by WPLT Campus Radio Station. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15pm — Omicron Delta Kappa regular meeting, open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3:30pm — Asian Student Providing Cultural Enrichment meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4pm — Omicron Delta Kappa New Member Orientation, open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30pm — Akeba weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo general meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone is welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "HERO" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

Saturday, March 27

8am — "The Possibilities Are Amazing" — 1993 Educational Symposium on Telecommunications, sponsored by the Education Department, Academic Computing and CAS. Reservations made through CAS, 564-2035. Check-in at the Angell Center, 2nd floor Lobby.

9am — Bus to Montreal sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Tickets: $9 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the Angell Center, Ruger Street pull-off.

8pm — Talent Review sponsored by AKEBA. Tickets: $3 SA Members and faculty, $4 general public, on sale at the door. Myers Fine Arts, Hartman Theatre.

8pm — Buffalo Creek Native American Dancers, sponsored by Campus Life and the Multi-Cultural Affairs Committee. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Sunday, March 28

6:15am — Ski Trip to Stowe, sponsored by the SA Activities Coordination Board. Tickets: $28, includes lift and bus transportation, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning noon on Monday March 22nd. Bus departs from the Ruger Street pull-off.

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "Last of the Mohicans" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, March 29

2pm — Workshop: "Resumes and Cover Letters" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

7pm — Marketing Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7pm — North American Native Film Series sponsored by AKWEKON. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7:30pm — Council for Exceptional Children weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting room #4.

7:30pm — Club Canada's weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee weekly meeting. Hudson Hall 028.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, March 30

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns meets. Angell

Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — LGBA meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

12:15pm — Adult Student Group meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.

2pm — Workshop: "Targeting Your Job Search" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

4:10pm — Human Services Association weekly meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.

4:15pm — Plattsburgh State Historical Associational meeting. CV Hall Commons.

4:15pm — Institute of Management Accountants meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8:15pm — Hillel meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

Wednesday, March 31

2pm — Workshop: "Interviewing Techniques" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

2pm — SUNY Jazz Festival — High School Concert, sponsored by the Music Department. Angell Center Ballrooms.

4:15pm — Canadian Writer Sharon Butala reading from her fiction, sponsored by Canadian Studies and Bruce Butterfield. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm — North American Native Film Series sponsored by AKWEKON. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — Women of Ethnicity meeting. Meeting Room #5.

7:30pm — SUNY Jazz Festival Concert, sponsored by the Music Department. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $4 faculty/staff, $7 public on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning March 22nd. Angell Center Blue Room.

8pm — Circle K International weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Showcase of Original Student Written Plays, sponsored by the Theatre Department. Tickets on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hartman Theatre, Myers Building.

Thursday, April 1

10am — U.S. Marine Corps Officer Selection Program information table, sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Transfer Club. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7pm — Annual Career Night Program sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Ballrooms.

7pm — Club International weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — International Business Club weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

7:30pm — Debate by the College Democrats and College Republicans. Angell Center Blue Room.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8pm — Showcase of Original Student Written Plays (see 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 31 for details).

Notes

The Writing Walk-in, sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center, is available to all student, free of charge. Writing walk-in is held Monday - Thursday, 3:00 pm - 8:00 pm and Sunday, 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm in the writing instruction lab at the rear of the Learning Center.

Assertiveness Group: Do you wish you felt more self-confident? Is it hard to speak up in class? You aren't alone! Call 564-3086 for more information.

Intramural Entries due April 1 - 2, 1:30 - 4 pm, Memorial Hall Room 219 for the following: Men's and Women's Softball and Tennis Doubles.

For information about Community CPR, Standard First Aid, BLS non-credit courses, non-credit Lifeguarding Instructor Courses and Water Safety Instruction, contact Mrs. Bardon in Room 220 of Memorial Hall.

Participate in the next RAP workshop being held in your dorm... Sexual Harassment and Acquaintance Rape.

| | | |
|---------------|----------------|---------|
| Adirondack | Monday 3/29 | 9 pm |
| Banks | Tuesday 4/6 | 8 pm |
| deFredenburgh | Wednesday 4/7 | 9 pm |
| Harrington | Tuesday 3/30 | 9 pm |
| Hood | Tuesday 3/30 | 7 pm |
| Kent | Monday 3/29 | 9 pm |
| Macdonough | Tuesday 4/6 | 8:30 pm |
| Macomb | Monday 3/29 | 8:30 pm |
| Mason | Tuesday 3/30 | 7 pm |
| Moffitt | Wednesday 3/31 | 8:30 pm |
| Whiteface | Monday 4/5 | 9 pm |
| Wilson | Monday 3/29 | 8 pm |

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

178 Separate Demonstrations Highlight Wednesday's Showcase '93 Celebration

Several months of planning and plain hard work will yield results next week with the arrival of "Showcase '93," SUNY Plattsburgh's fifth annual "day of enrichment" — an event designed to demonstrate and celebrate academic excellence as it exists across the campus.

Showcase, involving hundreds of students and scores of faculty, will be held throughout the day on Wednesday (April 7) in varied locations in several campus buildings. But it will actually debut on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. with a "Musical Sound Spectacular" — a public concert to be held in the Angell College Center Ballrooms.

The lead-off program, hosted by Dr. Marshall Onofrio, associate professor of music, will feature several ensembles and student and faculty chamber music, with the audience seated in the round, and it will follow a non-stop program format. A reception in the Cardinal Lounge will follow the concert.

Wednesday's activities will feature 178 separate presentations, productions, performances, seminars, symposia and poster displays that will occupy prime spaces in the Angell Center and in Yokum, Redcay, Myers, Ward, and Hudson halls. "The number of presentations represents a record," said Anna Nardelli, associate professor of education and Showcase chairperson, "and it culminates months of effort by a broadly representative organizing committee of 29 faculty, staff and students.

"There's more to Showcase than displaying the talent of SUNY Plattsburgh's best and brightest students and the incredible range of scholarly pursuits that occur on campus," Nardelli continued. "We believe the event enhances scholarship by facilitating the exchange and development of ideas and by communicating openly and effectively the quality of work that goes on here year-round, every year."

(Continued on next page)

WEEKLY

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • MAR. 31, 1993

U. of Chicago Press Publishes Book Co-authored by Rumney

Dr. Thomas A. Rumney, associate professor of geography in the college's Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is co-author of A Scholar's Guide to Geographical Writing on the American and Canadian Past, a comprehensive bibliography of the historical geography of North America.

The 700-page-plus, soft-cover work, listing more than 10,000 books, dissertations and articles from 1850 to 1990, was published by the University of Chicago Press and is scheduled for release tomorrow (April 1). Co-authors with Rumney are Michael P. Conzen, professor of geography and chair of the Committee on Geographical Studies at the University of Chicago, and Graeme Wynn, professor of geography and associate dean of the Faculty of Arts and the University of British Columbia, Vancouver.

According to the publisher, entries in A Scholar's Guide are grouped by region and ordered by date of publication. The grouping "creates an especially useful tool for scholars to trace the development of research on any region, identifying gaps in research, evaluating the depth and range of the field, and suggesting avenues for future work."

Rumney said publication of the book culminates more than three years of work. He teamed up with Conzen, an acquaintance of several years, and Wynn, whom he has never met, when each of the three discovered the others were busy developing similar types of bibliographical material.

The book, Rumney said, will be of value "as a good place to start" for persons interested in doing research on either the United States or Canada. Early reports, he said, indicate it will be of interest to historians as well as

(Continued on next page)

Dr. Thomas Rumney

Plattsburgh

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Presidents' Series to Feature Human Rights Activist Kabat

Stacey Kabat, an award-winning human rights activist and community educator on domestic violence, will visit SUNY Plattsburgh next Thursday (April 8) to give a public talk on "Defending Our Lives" as guest lecturer in the college's popular Presidents' Speakers Series.

Kabat, the founder and director of Battered Women Fighting Back! (BWFB!), a Boston-based task force of 100 volunteers who work to improve the treatment battered women receive through reform of the judicial system, will speak at 8 p.m. on Thursday in the Angell Center Ballrooms. This past December, the 28-year-old Kabat was among four human rights activists — the others were from Northern Ireland, Zaire and East Timor — who were honored in Boston and who share equally in a $100,000 prize as recipients of the 1992 Reebok Human Rights Award.

As the daughter and granddaughter of battered women, Kabat has worked tirelessly to help victims of domestic violence. Much of her efforts focus on educating the public on the horrors of domestic violence and on lobbying for better protection for battered women under the law. She believes that the failure of the police and the judicial system to protect battered women amounts to silent endorsement of torture in the home, and she founded BWFB! to target laws which not only fail to protect victims but, she maintains, deny them "their fundamental rights under the Universal Declaration of Human Rights."

According to Kabat, when battered women fight back in self-defense, sometimes killing their batterers, courts refuse to allow evidence of prior domestic violence. Further, she says, 23 states exclude expert testimony on battered women's syndrome in cases where women have fought back in self defense.

Kabat has recruited more than 35 lawyers, law students and paralegals to lobby state legislatures for change. Over the past several months, she and her cause have been the subject of several in-depth feature articles and editorials in the Boston press.

The Presidents' Speakers Series at SUNY Plattsburgh is sponsored by the offices of the president of the college, the president of the Student Association and the president of College Auxiliary Services. Programs in the series are free and open to all.

Engelbride Honored for Service to Greek Organizations

Edward Engelbride, assistant director of Campus Life for special programs, was presented with the 1993 Philippi Outstanding Advisor Award at the annual meeting of the Northeast Interfraternity Leadership Conference, held recently in Stamford, Conn. The Conference consists of more than 100 colleges and universities.

The award is named for a former NEIFC executive director and was established to recognize campus Greek advisors "for their commitment and dedication to furthering the fraternity experience." Nominees are judged on the basis of the time they give to fraternity advising, the programs they initiate and the interaction they have with their institution's Greek Council.

Ed Engelbride

Engelbride's nomination points out that he has been working with Greek organizations on this campus since 1986, and that his responsibilities have included helping to organize rush orientation, checking eligibility of students who rush, tabulating Greek grade point averages, and maintaining active membership lists.

It notes that he was instrumental in establishing the SUNY Plattsburgh chapter of the Order of Omega, the national Greek honor society, which is the only chapter in operation in the University system, and that he serves as faculty advisor to campus Greeks.

A 1982 graduate of the college, Engelbride also serves as the Student Affairs liaison with the greater community. He has been a member of the Student Association College Community Relations Board, the city of Plattsburgh Downtown Task Force, and he was instrumental in establishing the "Adopt-A-Block" campus-community relations program.

Abstract Booklet is Showcase Guide (Continued from page 1)

Nardelli pointed out that 27 college programs and activities will participate in Showcase '93, noting that a 28-page booklet containing abstracts of all presentations, along with where and when they will take place, has been published and will be readily available to those who patronize the event. Classes will be suspended all day on Wednesday to allow all members of the college community to take advantage of Showcase happenings.

The proceedings this year are dedicated to President Charles O. Warren, who was instrumental in establishing the event (and who will leave the college at the end of June to accept the presidency of Lynchburg (Va.) College). Warren will be the featured speaker at Wednesday's concluding event — the chartering and first initiation ceremony of Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Society, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Hartman Theatre in the Myers Fine Arts Building (see the March 24 issue of Weekly for full information about the installation and induction ceremony).

Rumney Bibliography

(Continued from page 1)

geographers.

A member of the faculty here since 1984, Rumney taught previously at Keene State (N.H.) College and at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. He teaches courses in world regional geography, historical, economic and urban geography and in Canadian, European and New York State geography.

Rumney is the recipient of three Canadian studies Enrichment Grants for research and course development awarded by the Canadian Embassy in Washington, D.C. He holds the Ph.D. (1980) from the University of Maryland.

Menz Chosen as ODK's 1993 Province I Leader of the Year

SUNY Plattsburgh senior Cynthia Menz has been selected as Omicron Delta Kappa National Honor Society Province I Leader of the Year for 1992-1993.

Province I of ODK includes 26 universities and colleges throughout New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Eastern Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia. Menz, a theatre major, will be recognized at the annual conference of the honor society to be held at Penn State on Saturday (April 3). Among seven SUNY Plattsburgh students to receive this honor over the past 12 years, she will now compete with eleven other

Cynthia Menz

Province Leaders of the Year for ODK's national award.

Menz is a member of the college's Honors Program, a member of Phi Eta Sigma, the national honor society for freshmen, and president of the Honors Student Association. She was also selected for inclusion in 1992-93 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, and is the recipient of an acting award from the college's theatre department.

Menz has served as an orientation leader and, for the past two years, as a resident assistant and as a teaching assistant in the college's Freshman Experience Program. She is president of Alpha Psi Omega, the honor's organization in theatre, and she served as a member of a self-study work group during the college's preparation a year ago for re-accreditation by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

Work by Menz has been shown in an exhibit of student art, and she has served as a member of the college yearbook staff.

She has appeared in varied lead and supporting roles in college theatre productions, including "The Marriage of Bette and Boo," "Women and Wallace," "Much Ado About Nothing," "Life Underwater" and "One For the Road." She has also served as director, assistant director, lighting designer, stage manager or costume designer for several others.

Campus Life Picks 32 for RA Posts for Academic 1993-94

SUNY Plattsburgh's Office of Campus Life has completed the selection process for students who will serve as Resident Assistants during 1993-94.

Twenty-six will join the staff in August while six will assume RA positions in January. Campus Life reports that 66 students who currently hold RA posts will return to the staff for the coming academic year.

Those who will be first-time RAs in August, their class standing and majors include: Jamin Alabiso (freshman, accounting), Kim Boston (junior, special education), Sarah Boulay (junior, mass communication), Deanna Bourdeau (junior, nursing), James Davis (sophomore, accounting), Marty Farrant (sophomore, mass communication), Jeff Gerstein (sophomore, mass communication), Kim Golden (sophomore, psychology), Daniel Haughney (sophomore, criminal justice), Amy Insalaco (sophomore, child family services), Zhenique Israelion (junior, psychology), and Greg Kuehn (junior, mass communication).

Also, Al Lione (freshman, computer science), Aimee Lim (junior, psychology), Sondra Lowenstein (sophomore, special education), Douglas Morrissey (junior, mass communication/history), Scott Munroe (junior, criminal justice), Dorraine Jai Riker (sophomore, nursing), Richard Robinson (sophomore, pre-med), Matthew M. Ryan (sophomore, mass communication), Seth Silver (sophomore, undeclared), Kathryn Tallman (sophomore, mass communication), Seth Turner (sophomore, special education), Bridget Wallace (sophomore, secondary education English), Mark White (sophomore, geography), and Alicia Yaeger (freshman, environmental science).

Those who have been hired for

January 1994 are: Michelle Abbott (sophomore, elementary education), Robert Arsenault (sophomore, nursing), Elizabeth Culliney (freshman, biology), Michael Debyah (junior, accounting), Matt Griffin (junior, criminal justice), and Anita Morzillo (freshman, in vitro cell biology).

College Republicans, Democrats to Meet in Public Debate

The national election may be over but the debate on issues continues ... at least on this campus.

Members of the college's Republican and Democratic Clubs will square off in debate tomorrow (April 1) at 7:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Blue Room. The topic will be: "Do We Need a Reversal of the Last 12 Years?"

The campus political organizations encourage students, faculty and members of the local community to attend.

Correction

Barbara Hebert, appointed recently as personnel associate in the Office of Personnel, has been a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh campus community since 1984, not as reported. Also, she received her undergraduate degree in psychology with a minor in business.

Hockey Cards Fall Short in Bid for 2nd Straight NCAA Title

The Plattsburgh State hockey team's bid for a second consecutive national title was thwarted last weekend as the Cardinals fell to the University of Wisconsin River Falls, 4-2, and Elmira College, 8-3, in the NCAA Division III national championship tournament at Aldrich Arena in Maplewood, Minn.

In opening round action, River Falls tallied twice in the first two minutes of the game and then frustrated the Cards the rest of the way with a strong defensive game plan. Goals by Scott Mastrodonato and Nick Forbes helped Plattsburgh close the gap to 3-2 after two periods, but goalie Ron Gullett came up big for the Falcons in the final stanza, stopping 12 shots including six in the last minute when the Cardinals pulled netminder Mike Mondello for an extra forward. An empty-net goal by River Falls with little time remaining settled things and set the stage for an all-Wisconsin final between the Falcons and Stevens Point, a 7-2 winner over Elmira in Friday's preliminary game (the Pointers went on to win the championship — their fourth in the last five years — on Saturday with a 4-3 overtime victory over River Falls).

In Saturday's consolation game, Elmira opened up a four-goal, first period lead and then coasted to an 8-3 triumph. Mastrodonato, Chris Fess and Steve Moore were the Cardinals' goal scorers.

Plattsburgh finished the 1992-93 season with a 25-6-2 record and as undefeated champions of the State University of New York Athletic Conference. Moore, with 33 goals and 46 assists, and Len Pereira, with 28 goals and 51 assists, wound up the campaign tied for the team scoring lead with 79 points each.

The NCAA tournament ended the playing careers for six members of the team — Ray DeBlois, Paul McGrath, John Peron, Bob Posma, John Sandell and Tim Sullivan.

Clark Center's Tutor-Training Program Recertified; Several to Receive Certificates for Participation

The Claude Clark Learning Center's program for training undergraduates to be writing tutors has been recertified through June of 1996 by the College Reading and Learning Association (CRLA). Certification renewal will allow writing tutors to continue to receive recognition and positive reinforcement for their successful work from that international organization.

Plattsburgh's program is authorized to offer certificates recognizing two levels of training and experience: Regular and Advanced. Regular level tutors must have a minimum of ten hours of tutor training and 25 hours of actual tutoring. Advanced level tutors must have a minimum of 20 hours of tutor training and 50 hours of tutoring.

Also required is coverage of a minimum of eight (regular) and 12 (advanced) topics including setting goals/planning, communication skills, tutoring ethics, cultural awareness, and the use of probing questions. Presentations at national conferences, which Plattsburgh tutors have done for the past three years, also contribute to eligibility.

Nine peer writing tutors were awarded certificates at last year's Spring Academic Convocation. The certificates will be awarded this spring to twelve students. The regular level tutors, their year in school, majors and hometowns are: Jeanine Broadwell, sophomore, English, Morrisonville; Bridget Wallace, sophomore, English, Clayton; and Tanya VanOrnum, sophomore, psychology, Gouverneur.

The advanced level tutors are Jill Bielawski, senior, English, Duaneburg; Pat Cosgrove, senior, history/English, Chateaugay; Molly Denicore, senior, secondary education English, Oneonta; Becky Dwyer, junior, elementary education, Endwell; Diane Ferraro, junior, English, Miller Place; Kari Flemming, senior, psychology, Rome; Samy Habib, junior, undeclared, New York City; Alicia Jermano, senior, English, Tupper Lake; and Gemma Orzech, senior, English, Morrisonville.

Council Meets April 7

The SUNY Plattsburgh College Council will meet on Wednesday, April 7 at 3:30 p.m. in the Alumni Conference room in Hawkins Hall. Council meetings are open to the public.

Besides routine reports from Council liaisons, the meeting agenda includes an action item related to the naming of a space in the SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum.

Senior track and field jumper Heather Myrick, shown with SUNY Plattsburgh track Coach Scott Slade, recently earned the honor of All America for her performance in the triple jump at the NCAA Div. III Indoor Track and Field Championships held at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine. Her leap of 37-4 1/2 secured a fourth place finish and her second All-American title. Myrick took an eighth place finish in the long jump in the 1991 outdoor championships for her first award. En route to qualifying for the championships, she also set a school record of 37-5 in the event.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, April 1 — THURSDAY, April 8

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, April 1

10am — U.S. Marine Corps Officer Selection Program information table, sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7pm — Annual Career Night Program sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Ballrooms.

7pm — Club International meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — International Business Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

7:30pm — Debate: "Do we need a reversal of the last 12 years?" by the College Democrats and College Republicans. Angell Center Blue Room.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8pm — Showcase of Original Student Work - Love, sponsored by the Theatre Department. Tickets: $3 general admission, $2 faculty/staff and $1 SA Members, on sale at the door only. Studio Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Friday, April 2

8am — Recruitment Day sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell College Center.

10am — U.S. Marine Corps Officer Selection Program information table, sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

3:30pm — Asian Student Providing Cultural Enrichment meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30pm — Akeba meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo general meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone is welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7pm — InterVarsity Christian Fellowship meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Single White Female" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8pm — Showcase of Original Student Work - Love (see Thursday, April 1, for details).

Saturday, April 3

10am — Culture Expo sponsored by the Center for Teacher Education and the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature. Sibley Hall, Cafetorium and Gymnasium.

7pm — Club International's Annual Fashion Show. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Showcase of Original Student Work - Love (see Thursday, April 1, for details).

Sunday, April 4

6:15am — Ski Trip to Jay Peak (College Day), sponsored by the SA Activities Coordination Board. Tickets: $28, includes lift and bus transportation, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning noon on Monday March 22nd. Bus departs from the Ruger Street pull-off.

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "The Bodyguard" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, April 5

2pm — Workshop: "Targeting Your Job Search" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

6:30pm — Passover Dinner sponsored by Hillel. Tickets: $5 with a meal card and $7.10 without, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Centennial Room.

7pm — Marketing Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — Council for Exceptional Children meeting. Angell Center Meeting room #4.

7:30pm — Club Canada's meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee meeting. Hudson Hall 028.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, April 6

11:30am — CVPB Blood Drive, sponsored by Campus

Life. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — LGBA meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

12:15pm — Adult Student Group meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook meeting. Angell Center Meeting #8.

2pm — Workshop: "Resumes and Cover Letters" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

4:10pm — Human Services Association meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.

4:15pm — Plattsburgh State Historical Association meeting. CV Hall Commons.

4:15pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Drs. Gary Brannigan and Matthew Merrens, Department of Psychology speaking on The Making Of The "Undaunted Psychologist" sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science with support from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30pm — Academic Showcase '93 — Musical Sound Spectacular featuring large and small ensembles, faculty and student soloists. Reception following the concert in the Cardinal Lounge featuring members of the SUNY Jazz Ensemble. Sponsored by the Music Council. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8:15pm — Hillel meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

Wednesday, April 7

SHOWCASE '93 — Consult posters for times and locations of the various events scheduled throughout the day.

3pm — Showcase '93 Senior Recital: Ian MacDougall. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm — Pre-Health Professions Club presents Dr. Richard Frost, Chairman of CVPH Medical Center, speaking on "Successfully Managing a Multi-Million Dollar Health Care Facility." Yokum CL 210.

7:30pm — Women of Ethnicity meeting. Meeting Room #5.

8pm — Circle K International meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #7.

Thursday, April 8

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

2pm — Workshop: "Considering Graduate School" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

4:30pm — Film showing on Spanish Culture sponsored by El Pueblo, the Latin American Organization. Angell Center Conference Room.

7pm — Topical Discussion Group (third in a series) presents Ben Morreale speaking on "Sicily — The America of the Ancient World," sponsored by Noel Smith. Myers FA Gallery Lounge, Room 232.

7pm — Distinguished Visiting Professor Program presents Gerald Pomper speaking on "The American Party System," sponsored by the Political Science Department. Angell Center Centennial Room.

7pm — Club International meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — International Business Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

8pm — The Presidents' Speakers Series presents Stacey Kabot, Director of Battered Women Fighting Back, speaking on "Defending Our Lives." Sponsored by the Offices of the Presidents: SUNY Plattsburgh; Student Association; CAS. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

Notes

The WRITING WALK-IN, sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center, is available to all student, free of charge. Writing walk-in is held Monday - Thursday, 3-8 pm and Sunday, 6-8 pm in the writing instruction lab at the rear of the Learning Center.

Assertiveness Group: Do you wish you felt more self-confident? Is it hard to speak up in class? You aren't alone! Call 564-3086 for more information.

Are you feeling lonely? Stressed out? Need someone to listen? Peer Counselors are available to help. The Peer Counseling Office is located in Kent Hall next to the main lounge and is open Sat. - Thursday from 7 - 9 pm. No appointment is necessary.

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a bus to Montreal on Saturday, April 17, 9 am - 6 pm. Tickets: $9 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, April 12.

Intramural Entries due April 1 - 2, 1:30 - 4 pm, Memorial Hall Room 219 for the following: Men's and Women's Softball and Tennis Doubles.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

WEEKLY

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • APRIL 7, 1993

Ryan, Scanlon Receive NYS/UUP Drescher Leave Support

Two members of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty are among 25 professors University-wide who have received 1993-94 NYS/UUP Dr. Muala McGann Drescher Affirmative Action Leave Program awards for research activities.

The two are Dr. Jeanne Ryan, assistant professor of psychology, and Dr. Jennifer Scanlon, assistant professor of women's studies. The awards honor a former UUP president and are made available to minorities, women, persons with disabilities or Vietnam era veterans who are full-time, non-tenured term employees and who have received at least a one-term continuing appointment.

Ryan, whose specialty is neuropsychology, will work this summer and through the coming fall semester investigating the neurobiological and neuropsychological basis of wandering in Alzheimer's disease. Scanlon will take leave during academic 1993-94 to develop her dissertation, titled Inarticulate Longings: Consumer Culture and the Modern Woman, 1910-1930, into a publishable book.

Ryan's leave will allow her to conduct more intensive research
(Continued on next page)

Dr. Jeanne Ryan

Dr. Jennifer Scanlon

Search Committee Formed; Chancellor to Visit Next Week

Appointments to the Search Committee to find a successor to

Council Chair Garrow Calls for Open Forum for Input on Search

Seeking "the widest possible input" from all segments of the campus community in the search for SUNY Plattsburgh's next president, the Presidential Search Committee has called an Open Forum for Wednesday (April 14). The session will be held from 12 noon to 1:30 p.m. in Ballroom B of the Angell College Center.

Committee Chairperson Robert Garrow said that he — and as many members of the search group whose schedules permit — will be available at the forum. Its purpose is to solicit
(Continued on page 5)

President Charles O. Warren are complete and the 16-member group will be convened today at 2 p.m. in a joint meeting with the College Council to be held in the Alumni Conference Room in Hawkins Hall.

The Search Committee meeting agenda includes introductions and remarks by Robert M. Garrow '52, the group's chairperson and chair of the Council, a review of a proposed advertisement for the position, and a discussion of strategy for soliciting applications (an injury forced SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone to cancel plans to attend today's session; he will be on campus next Wednesday to meet with the committee at 2 p.m. in the Alumni Conference Room).

The composition of the Search Committee, by constituency:

- College Council — Garrow, Vice Chairperson Wayne Byrne, Arnold Amell '53, and Jacqueline Walker.

- Students — Michael Rapley, president of the Student Association, and Mary Ellen Gillespie, SA vice president for academics.

- Faculty — Edward Brohel, director of the Art Museum; Raymond Gydosh, assistant professor in the Department of Management and Marketing; Patricia Bentley, associate librarian; Dr. John Hewitt, assistant professor of education; Dr. Eleanor Stoller, professor of sociology; and Dr. Edward Miller, associate professor of chemistry.

- Plattsburgh College Foundation — Plattsburgh attorney Robert T. Booth.

(Continued on next page)

Prevention Project Receives Grant to Continue National Study

The Center for Human Resources' Prevention Research Project (PRP) at SUNY Plattsburgh has received a $14,326 grant from the National Association of Teen Institutes to provide ongoing support in 1993-94 for a study of substance of the study, the grant will provide funding for project administration, student research assistants, data gathering and analysis, and report generation for prevention programs in 24 states.

"We anticipate studying the prevention and health promotion model." Schnell said. "It is a large-scale effort—one of the largest of its kind in progress in the U.S."

Zoanne Schnell, associate professor of nursing and principal investigator of the grant, pointed out that the Research Foundation of SUNY and the Center for Human Resources have received in excess of $32,000 this past year in support of the study, and more than $40,000 since its beginning in 1991. In remarks as keynote speaker at a prevention conference in Burlington, Vt. a year ago, Vivian Smith, director of the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention for the National Institute of Health, cited the SUNY Plattsburgh project as an example of a prevention research effort which "significantly contributes to national and regional prevention goals."

The objectives of the prevention study are threefold: to study the characteristics of males and females participating in the prevention program — including some who become peer educators; to examine with follow-up the impact of a week-long prevention model; and to help establish a abuse prevention characteristics among the nation's high school students.

(Continued on page 5)

Zoanne and Richard Schnell compare notes on substance abuse prevention study.

According to Dr. Richard L. Schnell, assistant professor of counseling in the Center for Human Resources and director values and behaviors of approximately 8,000 to 10,000 high school youth from across the United States who are participating in the Teen Institute, which is a youth substance abuse prevention on wandering — one of the most problematic aspects of Alzheimer's and the number one reason for institutionalization of afflicted individuals during the mild to moderate stages of the disease—at both the Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center (ADAC) on campus and at the college's Neurobehavioral Science Laboratory.

Ryan, Scanlon to Use Drescher Awards for Research (Continued from page 1)

During the summer she and Dr. Roger Heintz, professor and chairperson of the biology department, will work together using a high performance liquid chromatographer to study brain samples of rats, used as an animal model, mimic many of the neurobehavioral, neuropathological and neurochemical aspects of Alzheimer's disease and may elucidate the central nervous system mechanisms involved in the actual disease state..

During the fall Ryan will work mainly at ADAC where she and undergraduate and graduate students will examine the degree of frontal lobe and striatal damage that may contribute to the wandering behavior in Alzheimer's patients. The research will be developed for publication.

Scanlon's Inarticulate Longings is a cultural history based on the Ladies Home Journal in the early twentieth century. She offers a "new and provocative" perspective on the magazine, the advertising industry and women's lives during the period.

Where many scholars have drawn on the Journal and historians of journalism have acknowledged its importance, Scanlon explains, she alone has attempted to capture the message of the magazine as a whole. Her analysis challenges the commonly held assumption that the Ladies Home Journal was the voice of simple popular culture gender conservatism. Her book, she feels, will compel historians, literary critics and feminist scholars in many disciplines to rethink the role of women's magazines in general, and the Journal in particular, and that it will set new standards for the historical analysis of cultural materials.

Scanlon's research will take her to Boston, Philadelphia and Durham, N.C. Her dissertation attracted a great deal of attention among publishers, and she is confident that an expanded manuscript will appeal to one or more of them.

Besides the Drescher awards, Ryan and Scanlon have something else in common: both received their Ph.D.'s from SUNY Binghamton, Ryan in 1986 and Scanlon in 1989. Ryan joined the Plattsburgh faculty in 1988; Scanlon in 1989.

Search Committee

(Continued from page 1)

- Executive Council — Dr. Prem Gandhi, dean of the School of Business and Economics.

- Classified Staff — Elizabeth Lennon, secretary 1 in the Department of Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports.

- Alumni — Malcolm Lavery, director of development and alumni affairs.

Nursing Student Hubbell Named 1993 Helene Fuld Fellow

J. Beckwith Hubbell, a junior nursing major from Chazy, is among 51 nursing students — one from each state and the District of Columbia — to be named 1993 Helene Fuld Fellows. The fellowship program is supported by the Helene Fuld Health Trust, the largest private charitable trust in America devoted exclusively to nursing.

J. Beckwith Hubbell in college's nursing lab.

Hubbell was chosen for the honor from more than 250 nominees from across the United States by an eight-member Fellowship Selection Committee of prominent educators and leaders in the nursing profession. The award includes a trip to Madrid, Spain at the end of June to attend the International Council of Nurses (ICN) 20th Quadrennial Congress, where Hubbell and other Fuld Fellows from the U.S. will participate in the ICN assembly with students from around the world. The SUNY Plattsburgh delegate is expected to share congress insights with peers and faculty when she returns to campus in the fall.

According to Dr. Caridad Buncab, associate professor of nursing, members of the selection committee "were especially impressed by Hubbell's academic and extra-curricular achievements" as well as by her "demonstrated leadership ability." In a statement supporting her nomination, President Charles O. Warren wrote of Hubbell: "... her concerns and sensitivities are broad and deep, and she excels in every undertaking she pursues, both in the classroom and beyond ... She brings to our campus a balance of perspective that is highly positive and very valuable."

Besides her active involvement as vice president of the Student Nurses Association at the college, Hubbell currently serves as president of her nursing class — an office she has held since her sophomore year. She is a member of SUNY Plattsburgh's Center for Women's Concerns; she participated in the March for Women's Lives, held last April in Washington, D.C.; and she served as student representative on the Search Committee for a chairperson of the Department of Nursing.

Hubbell is a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society, and she was selected for inclusion in the 1992-93 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. She will be among the 130 college faculty, students, staff and alumni who will be inducted this evening (April 7) to membership in the newly formed campus chapter of Phi Kappa Phi.

Madrid will be the second stop for Hubbell on her spring-summer, academically related travel schedule. Later this month, with some financial assistance from College Auxiliary Services, she will attend the 41st Annual Convention of the National Student Nurses Association in Kansas City, where she will take part in plenary sessions on topics that include caring dimensions of nursing, nursing ethics and international nursing.

CAS to Hold Line on Meal Plan Costs; '93-94 Program Support Tops $427,000

The Executive Committee of College Auxiliary Services has approved board rates for the next academic year, and SUNY Plattsburgh's meal plan subscribers will be spared an increase.

The action will mark 1993-94 as the third consecutive year that CAS will have held the line on board costs. At the same time, Auxiliary Services reported that it had negotiated an arrangement with the Canteen Corp. that will keep prices for vending machine products at current levels during the upcoming year.

"The 19-meal plan will remain at $796 per semester and the 14-meal rate will be $758," remarked Stanley Supinski, executive director of CAS. "Also," he added, "the Executive Committee approved an additional meal plan option. It allows students who choose the 14-meal plan to opt for a 10-meal alternative at the same price, but with a $50 voucher they can use at their discretion in any campus food service facility."

It was pointed out at the Executive Committee meeting that CAS will continue to provide funds exceeding $427,000 for campus programs during academic 1993-94. CAS resources support scholarships, tutoring, the Presidents' Speakers Series, the resident assistant program, student travel for academically related purposes, aerobics, campus beautification, student temporary service and other activities. Also, CAS pays $125,000 annually to State University for utilities and rental fees.

Auxiliary Services at Plattsburgh have management responsibility for college food services and student accounting, for College Store, Twin Valleys, and Valcour Educational Conference Center operations, for maintenance of the college's auto fleet and for the Office of Conferences and Institutes.

Junior Forward Len Pereira Earns All-America Recognition

Junior forward Lenny Pereira has been named to the first team of the 1992/93 NCAA Division II-III TITAN All-America Ice Hockey Team.

An assistant captain, Pereira was instrumental in leading the Cardinals to their second straight appearance in the recent NCAA "Final Four" championship tournament. He was their most consistent performer, finishing the season as assist leader (51) and tied with teammate Steve Moore in total scoring with 79 points.

Pereira's 28 goals included three game-winners and seven power play and four shorthanded goals (including two while the Cards were down two men). His 27-game consecutive point scoring streak spanned more than four months of the season, and he scored at least a point in 30 of Plattsburgh's 33 games.

All-America Len Pereira

Besides making the All-America roster, Pereira was first team all-State University of New York Athletic Conference, a member of the conference championship playoff all-tournament team and he ultimately was selected as SUNYAC "Player of the Year."

He was twice named Eastern College Athletic Conference "Player of the Week."

"No one is happier than I am that Lenny received this recognition," commented Bob Emery, head coach of the Cardinals. "I'm sure Lenny is pleased by the accomplishment, but I'm just as certain he would trade the individual honor for a team championship. "His 'team-first' attitude is probably a primary reason why he made All-America."

The Plattsburgh coach, who recorded his 100th victory at the helm of the Cardinals this spring in only his fourth campaign behind the bench, described Pereira as the "go-to man" in every situation. He pointed out that the individualized major from Mississauga, Ont. played on the first line, the number one power play unit and killed penalties.

Women's Tennis, Men's Soccer and Basketball Dominate PEARS' Fall '92 All-Academic Team

Women tennis team members and men soccer and basketball players dominate on the fall 1992 Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports Department's All-Academic Team.

The All-Academic Team, selected each semester, honors the top five women and men athletes, respectively, for maintaining academic excellence while participating in intercollegiate sports. Eligibility requires a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher.

While four of five of the women's All-Academic Team played tennis, volleyball player Jennifer Stachnik topped all performers academically (men as well as women). The junior special education major from Mahopac earned a perfect 4.0 GPA.

The tennis team's Tammi Jupin, a junior biology major from Auburn, ended the fall term with a 3.85 GPA, while teammates Patricia Boylston, a junior from Rome, Ann Diehl, a junior from Kingston, and Kristen Ferris, a senior from Schenectady, earned GPA's of 3.8, 3.7 and 3.77, respectively. Boylston, Diehl and Ferris all major in elementary education.

Only one one-hundredth of a point separated the GPA's of soccer players Marc Whitmen and Andrew Gatherer. Elementary Education major Whitman, a senior from Gloversville, had a 3.66 average and Gatherer, a sophomore undeclared major from Wappingers Falls, came in at 3.65.

Eric Rose of Buskirk, a senior mathematics major who ran cross country, compiled a 3.446 GPA. Basketball players Greg Veitch, a sophomore criminal justice major from Saratoga Springs, and Brian Myatt, a junior education major from Oneida, earned GPA's of 3.39 and 3.35, respectively, to round out the men's team.

Besides the top ten, 32 other students received honorable mention with grade point averages above the 3.0 mark. Nearly 40 percent of the fall semester's women athletes made the honorable mention list.

Pereira is 5th First Team All-America

Len Pereira is the fifth SUNY Plattsburgh hockey player to earn first team All-America honors.

Records show that the first chosen — defenseman Doug Kimura — is also the only two-time Cardinal All-America. Kimura made the team in 1978-79 and in 1979-80, his final two seasons at Plattsburgh.

The remaining Cardinal All-America players, like Pereira, were forwards. They are Gaetan D'Anjou (1981-82), Peter DeArmas (1984-85) and Joey Ferras (1986-87).

Two former Plattsburgh players won spots on the NCAA Division III second team All-America squad. They are goalie Michelle Valliere (1984-85) and Dave Piromalli (1985-86).

Higgins to Direct EPA-Sponsored Lake Champlain Project

SUNY Plattsburgh has received a $15,951 grant from the New York State Environmental Protection Agency's Lake Champlain Basin Program for a project titled "Lake Champlain's Future: A Community-Based Strategy for Environmental Policy Development."

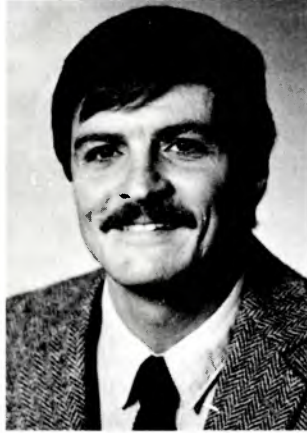

Dr. Bryan Higgins, professor and chair of the college's programs in geography and planning, will direct the grant — the first, direct SUNY Plattsburgh project regarding the Lake Champlain Basin Program — which is under way now and will continue through February of next year. Its focus is on designing, conducting and evaluating a series of workshops regarding different social interests in the New York, Vermont and Quebec portions of the basin.

Higgins maintains that, given the divergent political influences and a historical lack of a unified governing body to regulate the Lake Champlain basin, current education and outreach face numerous obstacles and challenges. The project he is directing intends to address a "complex web of environmental issues" by bridging the gap between different levels of government authority within the basin, by developing a strategic analysis of the diversity of non-governmental interest groups in that region, and by empowering community participation in the development of the Lake Champlain Pollution Prevention, Control and Restoration Plan.

"It is crucial for environmental planning to address the environmental beliefs, opinions and preferences of residents in the basin," Higgins said. "This project will be a first attempt to systematically investigate the geography of environmentalism within the Champlain-Adirondack region."

The workshops, Higgins reported, will be exceptionally participatory. They will incorporate a role-playing format to give participants hands-on experience with environmental decision-making and to encourage their further participation. Educational materials will be developed to facilitate broader dissemination of the environmental policy-making experience.

Preliminary to the workshops, key federal, state and local government officials and leaders of non-governmental interests — for example, those who speak for sports and recreation enthusiasts, tourists, lake shore property-owners, businesses and environmentalists — will be interviewed. They will be asked to identify present concerns about Lake

Dr. Bryan Higgins

Champlain and to identify perceptions about issues of consensus versus conflict in the environmental management of the lake.

Also, relevant governmental policy and planning documents and other forms of information will be collected and non-governmental participants will be invited to provide facts and value statements from their perspectives. Finally, recommendations will be developed for a basin-wide planning process to synthesize the disparate government interests and for a strategy to incorporate the diverse perspectives of important citizens' groups.

A member of the college's faculty since 1981, Higgins has received more than $500,000 in grants to support his research. During 1988-89 he studied urban and regional planning in Nicaragua under a Fulbright research grant. He holds the Ph.D. (1980) from the University of Minnesota.

Schnells Both Plattsburgh Grads (Continued from page 2)

national data base for prevention research and for individual program evaluation.

The results of each study will be analyzed on the basis of female/male comparisons and pre-test and post-test comparisons using the National Prevention Assessment. The assessment is an instrument Richard Schnell began developing while studying for a second doctorate at the Rockefeller College of Public Affairs and Policy SUNY Albany.

The Schnells are both Plattsburgh graduates: Richard, a former Student Association president here, received the bachelor's and master's degrees in psychology and counseling in 1971 and 1972, respectively, and Zoanne received the bachelor's in nursing from the college in 1970.

A member of the Plattsburgh faculty since 1990, Richard Schnell served previously as executive director of the Champlain Valley Family Center, Clinton County's drug treatment and prevention service. He holds the Ph.D. from the University of Massachusetts (1978).

Zoanne Schnell, who has taught at the college for more than ten years, received the master's degree in child psychiatric nursing from Wayne State University in 1972. She is a Ph.D. candidate in social work at SUNY Albany.

Forum Seeks College-wide Input (Continued from page 1)

opinion among faculty, staff, students and others in respect to the qualities the committee should be seeking in a new president as well as future directions for the campus under that person's leadership.

"We want to obtain a sense of the thinking and concerns of SUNY Plattsburgh's people at the earliest possible stage of the search process," commented Garrow. "We hope the forum provides a convenient means for sharing feelings about this critical issue and for suggesting ways for the committee to meet its charge."

Dr. Stuart Baum, professor of chemistry, presented a paper titled "Building Educational Bridges Via Chemistry Outreach" at the annual national meeting of the American Chemical Society held recently in Denver. The paper described the Science Van Project whereby Baum's students are bringing science experiments and demonstrations to regional schools ... Dr. Thomas J. Braga, professor of French and Portuguese, read his poetry in a session titled "Poetry Reading by NEMLA Members" at the Northeast Modern Language Association Convention held recently in Philadelphia ... Dr. James C. Dawson, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is the author of a book-length report titled "The Lake Baikal Region in the Twenty-Firs. Centure: A Model of Sustainable Development or Continued Degradation?", which is based on his experiences last summer as a member of a joint Russian-American scientific team ... Dr. Penelope Dugan, assistant professor of English, is the author of "As We Share, We Move Into the Light," an article in Writing Ourselves Into the Story: Unheard Vocies from Composition Studies, published recently by Southern Illinois University Press. Her article, "The Course Conceived and the Course Received: Faculty Plans and Students' Perceptions of a Revised Course in Early American Literature," appears in the April issue of the journal, Transformations ... Robert M. Garrow, chairperson of the College Council, has been elected as second vice president of the Board of Directors of the Association of Council Members and College Trustees of the State University of New York. He also chaired the Board's nominating committee. A review of the Aubrey W. Bonnett and C. Llewellyn Watson book, Emerging Perspectives on the Black Diaspora, by Dr. Charles Herod, professor of minority studies, was published recently in Canadian Review of Studies in Nationalism ... Heather

McBath, a senior biology major from Lisbon, gave a research presentation titled "Accelerated Colony Founding in Arctic Bumblebees: A Comparative Study" at the 7th National Conference on Undergraduate Research held recently in Salt Lake City. McBath's presentation was based on research she conducted in Alaska and New York (funded in part by her 1992 SUNY Plattsburgh Summer Research Fellowship) with Dr. Daniel Vogt, associate professor of biology, and with undergraduate environmental science major Tod Dabolt. McBath was awarded funds from College Auxiliary Services, the Sigma Xi Society and a Beaumont Grant-in-Aid of Research to support her participation in the conference ... Michael Oliver, an assistant professor in the Center for Human Resources, will co-present (with a colleague at Widener University) a paper titled "Burnout Before the Fire is Lit" at the upcoming annual meeting of the Council on Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Education to be held in Chicago ... "Archives of Female Friendship and the 'Way' Jewett Wrote" is the title of an article by Dr. Marjorie Pryse, associate professor in the curriculum inclusion project, that appears in the March issue of The New England Quarterly ... Dr. Mary L. Roark, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, gave three lectures recently at Lyndon State College. She spoke to the faculty on "The Effects of Campus Violence in the Educational Process," to students on "Individual and Institutional Responsibilities Relative to Rape, Harassment, and Assault on Campus," and to the institution's student affairs staff on "Changing the Future of Campus Violence: How Do We Do It?" ... Dr. Altina Waller, professor of history, chaired a panel at the Sixteenth Annual Appalachian Studies Conference held recently in Johnson City, Tenn. (Note to 'Spotlight' contributors: Please include academic or professional title and name of department, program or activity when submitting items for this feature.)

U.S. Political Party Expert to Visit as Distinguished Visiting Professor

Dr. Gerald M. Pomper, professor of political science at Rutgers University and a leading expert nationally on American political parties and elections, will visit SUNY Plattsburgh tomorrow and Friday (April 8 and 9) as a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP).

Pomper will deliver a public lecture titled "The American Party System After the Elections of 1980-1992" at 7 p.m. on Thursday in the Centennial Room of the Angell College Center. His talk will examine the immediate past and future prospects of the Democratic and Republican parties.

Pomper is the author or editor of numerous books and articles on American political parties and elections. His books include The Election of 1992 (1993), Passions and Interests: Political Party Concepts of American Democracy (1992), The Election of 1988 (1989), Voters, Elections, and Parties (1988), Elections in America (1968), and Nominating the President (1963).

Pomper has taught at Rutgers since 1962, where he has served as chairperson of the university's Department of Political Science Chairperson, and he has lectured and been a visiting professor in numerous colleges in the U.S. and foreign countries. He received the Ph.D from Princeton University.

Pomper's visit is sponsored by the college's DVP and its Department of Political Science. It is part of an academic-year lecture series on "Presidential Elections Through the Years." For more information, contact Dr. Harvey Schantz, Political Science Department (ext. 5826).

this week on campus

THURSDAY, April 8 — THURSDAY, April 15

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, April 8

10am— Lip Sync Contest sponsored by the Student Services Board. Angell Center Blue Room.

12:10pm— Women's Studies Forum features the film "L'Operacion," presented by Anna Munoz, El Pueblo, with a discussion following. Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

2pm— Workshop: "Considering Graduate School" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

4:30pm— Film showing on Spanish Culture sponsored by El Pueblo, the Latin American Organization. Myers FA Room 226.

7pm — Topical Discussion Group (third in a series) presents Ben Morreale speaking on "Sicily—The America of the Ancient World," sponsored by Noel Smith. Myers FA Gallery Lounge, Room 232.

7pm— Distinguished Visiting Professor Program presents Gerald Pomper speaking on "The American Party System," sponsored by the Political Science Department. Angell Center Centennial Room.

7pm— Club International weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm— Student Service Board weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #5.

7:30pm — International Business Club weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

8pm — The Presidents' Speakers Series presents Stacey Kabat, Director of Battered Women Fighting Back, speaking on "Defending Our Lives." Sponsored by the Offices of the Presidents: SUNY Plattsburgh; Student Association; CAS. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

Friday, April 9

3:30pm — Asian Student Providing Cultural Enrichment meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30pm — Akeba weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30 pm — El Pueblo general meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone is welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7pm— Intervarsity Christian Fellowship weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — 1st Annual Reception sponsored by the Organization of Women of Ethnicity. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Honeymoon In Vegas" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8pm — The Activities Coordination Board presents Comedy Night featuring Shaffer and Henson. Tickets on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Saturday, April 10

6:15am — Ski Trip to Smuggler's Notch sponsored by the SA Activities Coordination Board. Tickets: $28, includes lift and bus transportation, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning noon on Monday March 22nd. Bus departs from the Rugar Street pull-off.

10pm — "Come Party with O.W.E." — party sponsored by the Organization of Women of Ethnicity. Tickets: $1 Angell Center Ballroom B.

Sunday, April 11

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "Bram Stoker's Dracula" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, April 12

10am — Workshop: "Interview Techniques" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

7pm — Marketing Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — Council for Exceptional Children weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting room #4.

7:30pm — Club Canada's weekly meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

7:30pm — Poet Series presents Steven Mitchell and Pierre LeBlanc, two poets from Tupper Lake, sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science and the Foreign Language and Literature Department. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

8pm— Environmental Action Committee weekly meeting.

Hudson Hall 028.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, April 13

10am — Workshop: "Cooperative Education" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — LGBA meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

12:15pm — Adult Student Group weekly meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook weekly meeting. Yearbook Office, Angell Center, 3rd floor.

4:10pm — Human Services Association weekly meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.

4:15pm — Institute of Management Accountants bi-weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:15pm — Faculty Senate Meeting, open to the campus. Clinton Hall Conference Room.

4:15pm — Historical Association meeting. CV Commons.

7pm — Homophobic Workshop for Greeks sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — Chamber Ensembles sponsored by the Music Department. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8:15pm — Hillel meets. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

Wednesday, April 14

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop: "Resumes and Cover Letters." Kehoe, 6th floor.

4:15pm — Asian Update sponsored by the Asian Studies Committee. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30pm — Women of Ethnicity weekly meeting. Meeting Room #5.

8pm — Visual Artist Series sponsored by Art Resources. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — Circle K International weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #7.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "A Lie of the Mind," a play by Sam Sheppard. Tickets: $1 SA members, $4 faculty/staff, $7 general public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

8pm — HANDS bi-weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

Thursday, April 15

10am — Career/Life Planning Center Workshop:

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

"Targeting Your Job Search." Kehoe, 6th floor.

11:30am — Multicultural Student Weekend, sponsored by the Admissions Office. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Rabbi Carla Friedman, Temple Beth Israel speaking on "Twenty one years of Women in the Rabbinate" sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30pm — Film showing on Spanish Culture sponsored by El Pueblo, the Latin American Organization. Angell Center Conference Room.

7pm — Club International weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — International Business Club weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

7:30pm — Public Lecture by Lynn Davidman, Brown University: "Family, Gender Identity, and Community; The Appeal of Fundamentalism to Contemporary Women." Sponsored by Hillel, Women's Studies and Temple Beth Israel. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "A Lie of the Mind" (see 8pm Wednesday, April 14 for details).

8pm — Student Recital: Jun Matsuo, piano, sponsored by the Music Department. Angell Center Ballroom B.

8pm — Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

NOTES

The Northern New York Center's Family Corner is seeking couples from the community to participate in a treatment Foster Care Program for emotionally disturbed children. Couples are trained to provide a therapeutic family environment to a child with serious and persistent behavioral and emotional problems. The children need a consistent, stable homelife and full-time emotional support. Parents receive training in behavior management skills, ongoing support and a generous stipend. For full details, contact Frances Moore at 561-8815 Monday through Friday.

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a Bus to Montreal on Saturday, April 17, 9 am - 6 pm. Tickets: $9 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, April 12. For more information call 564-3824.

On Saturday, April 17, the Newman Center is sponsoring an Interfaith Student Retreat from 10 am - 3 pm. All are welcome. The facilitator is Ms. Jeannine Nichols, a survivor of the Holocaust. She will give testimony of her beliefs and experiences. Her theme is "Reassurance from God and Others."

Chancellor to Recommend Oneonta Provost Assume Role as College's Acting President

State University of New York Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone will recommend that the College at Oneonta's chief academic officer be appointed as SUNY Plattsburgh's acting president while the institution conducts its search for a new president.

Chancellor Johnstone announced yesterday (April 13) that he will ask the University's Board of Trustees to name Dr. Walter vom Saal, Oneonta's provost and vice president for academic affairs, as Plattsburgh's acting president when the Trustees meet on April 22. The appointment would become effective on July 1—the date current President Charles O. Warren vacates the post to become president of Lynchburg (Va.) College—and would continue until a successor to Warren is named and able to assume the presidency.

The SUNY chancellor is on campus today to meet with the college's 16-member Search Committee in a session scheduled for 2 p.m. in the Alumni as the target date for the college's next president to take office.

Conference Room in Hawkins Hall. The committee has set January 1, 1994

Anticipating affirmation by the Trustees, Dr. von Saal, who will not be a candidate for the presidency here, said he is looking forward eagerly to working with the Plattsburgh college community. "I have heard of many exciting and innovative things that are happening on your campus," he said.

"I'm also very much aware of the strengths of the Plattsburgh faculty and staff, the college's reputation for excellence and its positive ties with the community at-large. Please make it known that during my time on campus I'm anxious to do what I can to ensure a smooth transition for the new president."

(Continued on next page)

Oneonta Provost vom Saal

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • APRIL 14, 1993

Historian Rapone Receives '93-94 Fulbright to Mexico

Dr. Anita Rapone, associate professor of history, has been awarded a Fulbright Senior Scholar Award by the Council for International Exchange of Scholars to teach in Mexico during academic 1993-94.

Rapone is awaiting word from Mexican authorities about where she will be assigned, but she is certain she will be teaching courses in U.S. history at the college level. During her term as Fulbright lecturer, she expects to offer a broad range of courses to both undergraduate and graduate students, to work individually with advanced students, to help with curriculum design, and to interact with colleagues who teach and conduct research on the United States. She hopes the Fulbright leave will allow her sufficient time to meet with Mexican scholars who are studying the history and status of women in Latin America.

"Working in a Latin American academic setting and learning to see the United States from the perspective of Mexican colleagues will be an educational experience that will contribute to my growth as an historian," commented Rapone. "I feel it will enable me to contribute to curricular development in SUNY Plattsburgh's Latin American studies program, and to serve as a resource person as the college implements its plan to internationalize the campus."

The prestigious award program, established in 1946 under legislation introduced by former Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), was created "to promote better mutual understanding among the people of the

(Continued on next page)

Fulbright winner Rapone

Plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Campus Life Selects Its '93 Summer Orientation Leaders

SUNY Plattsburgh's Office of Campus Life has selected its leadership team for Summer Orientation '93.

Robert Schofield, a senior political science major who will graduate in May, will coordinate the student orientation staff. Schofield is a veteran orientation leader, having served as a staff member in the past two years.

Rejoining the student orientation staff for the fourth and third summers, respectively, are senior psychology majors Larry Ellis and Amanda Jankowski. Returning for a second year are Cynthia Menz, a senior theatre major; Michael Lynch, a senior economics major; Dan Bennett, a junior Latin American studies major; and Janine Pangburn, a senior political science major. The first-year student leaders will be Shannon DiUbaldo, a senior elementary education major; Laurie McDonnell, a junior speech and hearing major; Andre Cleghorn, a senior management major, and Jan Kesslen, a junior who is majoring in economics and philosophy.

Edward Engelbride, assistant director of campus life for special programs, will direct the parent orientation program. His staff will consist of Holly Davis, a junior English major who will be returning for her third tour; Bruce McDonald, a junior mass communication major and a one-year orientation program veteran; and first-year parent orientation leaders Mary Ellen Gillespie, a senior speech communication major; Nicole Forkey, a junior art major; and Jeff Gerstein, a junior mass communication major.

vom Saal Chancellor's Pick for Acting President (Continued from page 1) —

Dr. vom Saal, 48, has served in his current position at Oneonta since 1989, where he is responsible for all academic programs at a college that enrolls 5,000 students and employs 278 full-time faculty in 23 academic departments.

He oversees a budget exceeding $18 million and he has supervisory responsibility for four academic deans and those who direct or manage Oneonta's library, learning support services, educational opportunity program, registrar, instructional resources, international education and other areas. Dr. vom Saal, who holds the B.A. (1966) from Columbia University and the M.S. (1967) and Ph.D. (1969) from McMaster University (Hamilton, Ont.), all in psychology, began his academic career at Princeton University in 1969 as assistant professor. During 1973-74 he served in an administrative position at the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute, then joined Millersville (Pa.) University where, as an associate professor and later full professor, he taught and held varied psychology department posts, including department chairperson.

He became Millersville's assistant provost in 1986, and two years later he was appointed as the university's associate vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. vom Saal is the author of numerous papers and publications in his field and the recipient of several awards, including Millersville's Certificate of Excellence in Teaching and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's Distinguished Teaching Chair, that state's highest teaching award. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and in 1979 he was inducted as a charter member in the Millersville University chapter of Phi Kappa Phi.

Dr. vom Saal and his wife, Leda, are the parents of three children, ages 24, 21 and 13.

Rapone Wins Fulbright to Mexico (Continued from page 1) —

world through educational and cultural exchanges." In notifying Rapone that her application was successful, the chairperson of the Fulbright Scholarship Board cited her "impressive academic accomplishment," adding, "We know you will exemplify the same standards of excellence when you become a representative of the American people abroad."

A member of the Plattsburgh faculty since 1983, Rapone teaches courses in U.S. history on topics ranging from modern America to the history of American women. Her research has focused on the movement of women into clerical work in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries in the U.S., particularly the interaction between culture and occupational change in a modernizing economy.

During the past year she has played host to Central American families seeking refuge in Canada and has helped them as a volunteer translator and parolag counselor. This involvement led to a new area of research in which Rapone is studying Central American refugees who have been granted asylum in Montreal, with emphasis on the role of women in the processes of resettlement, community development and adaptation to the host society.

Rapone served as coordinator of the college's women's studies program from 1986-88. She is the author of one book, The Guardian Life Insurance Company, 1860-1920: A History of a German-American Enterprise (New York University Press) and co-editor of two others: Women's Experience in America: An Historical Anthology (Transaction Publishers) and Radical Feminism (Quadrangle-New York Times Books).

Rapone holds the Ph.D. from New York University (1981).

GTE Program Brings Florida Scholars to Campus to Speak

The GTE Lectureship program brings two scholars from the University of Florida to campus in the coming week to speak in public forums related to the general theme, "Technology, Ethics, Environment: Connecting the Local to the Global."

On Tuesday (April 20), Dr. Jeffrey Burkhardt, director of Florida's Ethics and Policy Studies Program in Agriculture and Natural Resources, will discuss "Ethics — The Next Generation: Moral Education in the Technoscientific Enterprise" at 7:30 p.m. in room 206 of Yokum Hall.

On Thursday (April 22), Dr. Raymond Coward, director of that institution's Center on Rural Health and Aging and associate director of its Center for Health Policy Research, will speak on the topic, "Use of Formal Services Among the Rural Elderly: Do We Really Know What We Think We Know?" Coward's visit is co-sponsored by the college's Institute for the Study of Gerontology, and his lecture is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Angell College Center Cardinal Lounge.

Besides his lecture, Burkhardt will speak with students in a joint meeting of the college's Philosophy Club and several science clubs scheduled for 4 p.m. on Tuesday in the Angell Center Amnesty Room, and at 10 a.m. the following day he will meet with philosophy and science faculty in the Angell Center Conference Room.

Coward cites studies showing that rural elders use fewer formal services than do older people who live in more urban and suburban places, noting that many gerontologists are concerned that low utilization rates place the most vulnerable rural elders at risk. His research, however, disputes the evidence, and his findings have implications both for practitioners in social services and health-related programs who deliver services and for families seeking support for frail, older relatives.

Montanaro-Hurll Pantomime Duo Begin Residency, to Give Public Performance Under DVP Program

The innovative duo of pantomime artist Tony Montanaro and his partner Karen Hurll will present a public concert in the Hartman Theatre at 2 p.m. on Sunday, April 25, kicking off a week's residency as part of the Visiting Distinguished Professor Program.

Montanaro, who has studied with Marcel Marceau and Etienne Decroix, is a master of improvisation and storytelling and has introduced vocalization into the silent language of classic mime. He is best known for having invented "the wall" pantomime, which for many people is the recognizable illusion which identifies the art.

Performing partner Hurll, a principal ballerina with the Portland

Ballet, uses her lyric ballet movements to complement the mime in several of the numbers.

While on campus, Montanaro will give a one-credit workshop entitled "Topics: Comedy Impro." Only seven places remain with the class, with the first meeting to be held on Monday, April 19 at 7 p.m. in the Media Review Room, Feinberg 105.

Tickets for Sunday's concert are on sale at the Angell College Center desk at a cost of $1 for SUNY Student Association members and for children under 12; $4 for SUNY faculty and staff; and $5 for general admission. Tickets also are to be on sale at the door. The event is sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh Theatre Department.

Tony Montanaro

Coward's background includes a number of research grants; serving as an expert witness to state and federal agencies and legislative bodies; lecturing internationally at universities and professional societies in Canada, Poland, Hong Kong, Hungary, the Philippines and Mexico; and serving as an editor of The Journal of Rural Health, The Gerontologist and the Journal of Applied Gerontology.

Poet-Author-Performer Piri Thomas Here Next in Presidents' Series

The Presidents' Speaker Series presents poet, author, writer Piri Thomas on Saturday, April 17 at 8 p.m. in the Angell Center Ballrooms.

Thomas, well known for his autobiography Down These Mean Streets, grew up in New York City's Spanish Harlem and now shares his experiences of those times with audiences all across the United States. He presents the audience with dramatic readings from his published and unpublished works, and works from others. These are sometimes accompanied by an electric harp, flute saxophone or guitar. Thomas tries to have the audience to attain a comprehension of an outside world as well as an inner one.

He is a man who reaches all levels of society through his presentations and speeches; from the young to the old or even hard core prisoners to students. Thomas has seen "both sides of the coin." Because of his determination to overcome the hardships of his life against the devastating odds presented to him, he can bring insight into a variety of areas for a wide range of people.

Thomas will be performing a concert of poetry and prose for the public, Creative Flows for Peace and Justice. The Presidents' Speaker Series is sponsored by the president of the college, the president of the Student Association and the president of College Auxiliary Services. Programs in the series are free and open to all.

Sando Exhibit Focuses on Difficult Issues of Sexual Abuse

"Dis-Covering Recovery," an exhibition of drawings, paintings and sculpture by Gretchen Sando, a senior psychology major at the college, will open next Tuesday (April 20) in the women's studies lounge, room 106, in Hawkins Hall, and continue through May 15.

The exhibit includes 20 works by Sando — an adult student who expects to graduate next month summa cum laude (with highest honors) — that focus on "the difficult issues surrounding sexual abuse, including the enduring effects of abuse on one's self-concept." Sponsors include the Student Association, Campus Arts Council and the college's women's studies program.

In the printed exhibition program, Sando, who has completed more than 40 credit hours in studio art, states that her work with a variety of materials enables her to "explore issues, including body-image, vulnerability, shame and denial." Her paintings and drawings, she explains, reflect "a literal and metaphorical effort to look more closely at myself and the abuse," while the sculptures express "an innermost anguish and a shattered sense of self." All of the works together, she continues, represent "fragments of recovered memories and emotions connected with sexual abuse."

She writes: "Discovering through art-making has become a visual affirmation of my struggles and of my progress toward recovery. The process of creating provides me a powerful means for confronting the pain and terror experienced as a victim, while enabling me to realize a sense of strength as a survivor."

Sando's quest for a degree began in 1975 at Clarion State College, where she majored in elementary education and earned NCAA Division II national championship titles in swimming before dropping out in 1977 to reassess her educational goals. She married, gave birth to two sons, held varied positions in a wide range of fields, divorced and returned to college, at SUNY Plattsburgh, six years ago.

Sando has been inducted to Psi Chi, the national honor society for psychology students, and to Alpha Sigma Lambda, the national honor society for adult students. She serves as a volunteer with an arts and crafts unit in the day treatment program at the Northern New York Center in Plattsburgh.

"I hope that people who view my work will become more aware of sexual abuse and its effects," says Sando, whose future plans include an advanced degree in art therapy. "Perhaps it will touch some who have suffered sexual abuse and thus validate their own experiences ... maybe it will help to convince them they are not alone, that their pain merits attention and recovery."

"My exhibit is dedicated to those who were abused last night and to those who will be abused tonight."

Phi Kappa Phi Established Here

Dr. Ronald G. Johnson of Old Dominion University (second from left), northeast region vice president of the national honor society, Phi Kappa Phi, holds charter symbolizing establishment of a society chapter on this campus. With Johnson are the Plattsburgh chapter's newly installed first officers (l-r): President-elect Mark Kaiser, Dr. Mary Roark, president, Elizabeth Bogucki, secretary, Dr. Rachel Pollow, treasurer, and Dr. Carrie Harris, public relations. About 130 members of the faculty and staff, graduate students and juniors and seniors became charter members of Phi Kappa Phi, which recognizes and encourages superior scholarship in all academic disciplines, during the chapter's installation and initiation ceremony held last Wednesday as the capstone event of "Showcase '93" at SUNY Plattsburgh.

Track Teams 3rd, 8th in Ithaca Invitational Meet

The college's women's and men's outdoor track and field teams placed third and eighth, respectively, in the ten-team field that competed in last weekend's Ithaca College invitational meet.

For the Cardinal women, two-time All-America Heather Myrick placed first in the long jump with a leap of 16 feet 7 inches; Wendi Clark was first in the high jump at five feet; Jennifer Wiseman won the 400 meter hurdles event in 70.1 seconds; and Lori Czerw earned team points by finishing second in the 400 meter dash in 63.2 seconds. Myrick and Clark are seniors; Wiseman and Czerw are sophomores.

The Cardinal men placed in the top five in three events. Sophomores Tom Ouellette and Jeff Moulton were the top performers, with Ouellette winning the steeplechase in 9:51.7 and Moulton placing second in the long jump at 20 feet 10 inches and fourth in the high jump at six feet.

Gold Medalist West Keeps Jumping 'to Keep His Sport Alive'

Don West says he was never a quality ski jumper, but the medals he owns seem to indicate otherwise.

The amiable SUNY Plattsburgh associate professor of mathematics

Mathematician-ski jumper Don West.

returned to campus recently from Kuopio, Finland, where he made headlines for winning one event and finishing fifth in a second in the fourth annual "Masters International Ski Jumping Competition." West is a member of an international fraternity of seasoned, die-hard jumpers who ski and soar not only for the thrill of it but also to keep the sport alive.

The 1993 tournament, West explains, attracted more than 180 jumpers. They came from Norway, Sweden, Russia and Estonia as well as Finland and the U.S.A. They contended in age groups organized in five-year intervals beginning at 30 and ending at — "... well," the soft-spoken Plattsburgh mathematician said, with a hint of reverence in his tone, "at least the tender age of 80, because one octogenarian jumped this year at Kuopio."

Over three days of jumping, West contested in the 55-59 age group in the 64 meters and the loftier 90 meters ("We're about halfway up a 90 meter hill," he mused deductively, glancing downward from the eighth floor of the Kehoe building). He placed fifth in the former with an average of 130 feet in the best two of three jumps, and first in the "big hill" event with an average of 147 feet.

West has won gold medals previously — in the first Masters competition in Lake Placid in 1990 and again the following year in Odnos, Norway — and he hopes to compete again next year in Hurdal, Norway. The 1994 tournament will be held a week following conclusion of the winter Olympics in Lillehammer, a site conveniently only a two-hour drive to the north.

Ski jumping certainly isn't among the more widely known and practiced recreational pursuits — even in the North Country, famous internationally for its modern, world-class facilities at Lake Placid. But it's almost second nature to West, who started jumping more than 45 years ago as a youngster growing up in region of Wisconsin heavily populated by Norwegian-Americans.

He took an involuntary break from the sport during his undergraduate years at George Washington University in the nation's capital, but took it up again on returning to his home state, where he earned the master's and doctoral degrees at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. His first teaching position was at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, about 45 minutes from Brattleboro, Vt.

"I knew there was jumping in Brattleboro," he says, "but I didn't know then that it was a dominant center of the sport. Something was always happening at the Brattleboro hill."

West's "good luck" as a jumper continued in 1969 with his appointment to the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty. After all, Lake Placid had been a major player in ski jumping for many years, but he had no idea at the time that "America's Olympic village" would become the center of ski jumping activity in North America.

West dismisses jumping as dangerous ("All sports are dangerous in one way or another.") and winces when someone mentions the opening shot of ABC's Wide World of Sports, which depicts a disastrous take-off from a jump ("That purely sensational piece of film has done irreparable harm to jumping in our country."). However, he does admit that weather and "hill" conditions can make a jumper think twice about jumping, and that he has vacillated about commitments to take part in tournaments that only marginally appeal to his competitive instincts.

"But I usually end up competing," he said. "It's like adhering to a code that demands that ski jumpers support one another. If nobody shows up, nobody jumps; if nobody jumps, there is no tournament; and if there is no tournament, the sport dies ..."

Seven Represent College at ODK Meet

The SUNY Plattsburgh Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa sent seven delegates to the ODK Province One Conference held recently at Penn State University in State College PA.

Besides Cheryl Hogle, associate director of Campus Life, who was the conference chairperson in her capacity as Province One faculty director, the delegation included students Monica Elliott, Ed Smith, Steve Matthews, George Matthews, George McMurtry, Missy Jenkins and Mary Murphy. Elliott and Smith presented a workshop on membership selection to conference participants.

Also, Smith, a senior criminal justice major from Chaumont and president of the SUNY Plattsburgh Circle of ODK, was elected to a one-year term as student director of Province One. Smith's election makes him the fourth SUNY Plattsburgh student to serve in this capacity since the 1981-82 academic year. Smith will now join Hogle and Dr. Eldridge W Roark, vice president for student affairs and national ODK president, as a member of the General Council of the Society.

Province One includes 27 ODK circles at campuses in New York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

SPOTLIGHT

Three poems, including one in Portuguese titled "Desconfiado" ("Distrustful"), and two in English titled "Due" and "Sugar Teat", by Dr. Thomas J. Braga, professor of French and Portuguese, appeared in the spring issue of James River Review ... Dr. Edwin Hamblet, professor of

Skier Who Reached South Pole in January to Speak Here Monday

The navigator and equipment specialist for the four-member American Women's Expedition team that reached the South Pole on skis three months ago will give a lecture-slide presentation at the college on Monday (April 19).

Sue Giller, 46, a mountain climber as well as a skier who has been teaching both sports for more than two decades, will talk about her experiences during the South Pole expedition at 8 p.m. on Monday in the Angell College Center Cardinal Lounge. Her visit coincides with an Honors Program seminar on Antarctica.

Giller and her companions reached the South Pole on January 14, following a grueling, 660-mile trek on skies — each woman hauling a 200-pound sled filled with all necessary supplies. During the journey, the team encountered head winds of up to 50 miles per hour and temperatures that plummeted to minus 30°F.

The team's arrival at the South Pole marked the first such achievement by an all-woman expedition. Prior to their Antarctic experience, the team "warmed up" by becoming the first all-American women's team to traverse the entire Greenland ice cap.

Giller has participated in seven Himalayan Mountain expeditions, including climbs of Mt. Everest and Ama Dablam. Well-known in the climbing community, she is a member of the American Alpine Club and sits on the Board of Directors of the American Mountain Federation.

French, reviewed Gerald Tougas' La Mauvaise Foi in the April issue of The French Review ... Dr. Sylvie Debevec Henning, professor of French, presented a paper on Samuel Beckett's novelistic investigations at the Northeast Modern Language Association convention held recently in Philadelphia ... Dr. Bryan Higgins, professor and chair of the college's programs in geography and planning, participated in a National Science Foundation workshop on "Geographic Contributions to Global Change Research," held recently in Atlanta. He is one of 35 geographers selected from the United States, Canada, and British Isles to develop a broader agenda for global change research ... Dr. Anita Rapone, associate professor of history, chaired a session on "Migration" and presented a paper titled "Women in the Central American Refugee Community in Montreal" at the Fifth International Interdisciplinary Congress on Women, held recently in San Jose, Costa Rica ... Dr. Mary Roark, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, presented a program, "Changing Paradigms for Resolving Campus Violence," at the American College Personnel Association annual convention held recently in Kansas City. She also was a panelist for programs on "Campus Violence Redefined" and "Writing for Professional Publication."

SPOTLIGHT on 'Showcase '93'

Last Wednesday's Showcase '93 celebration featured more than 175 separate presentations depicting academic excellence at SUNY Plattsburgh including (above) a discussion of "Gender and Helping Behavior in Computer Games" by junior psychology major John Leonard and (below) a demonstration of services provided by the college's Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, April 15 — THURSDAY, April 22

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, April 15

10am — Workshop: "Targeting Your Job Search" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

11:30am — Multicultural Student Weekend, sponsored by the Admissions Office. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Rabbi Carla Friedman, Temple Beth Israel speaking on "Twenty one years of Women in the Rabbinate." Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30pm — Film showing on Spanish Culture sponsored by El Pueblo, the Latin American Organization. Angell Center Conference Room.

7pm — Club International weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7pm — ASPCE Mini-Movie Series: "Rapid Fire". Yokum CL 202.

7:30pm — International Business Club weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

7:30pm — Public Lecture by Lynn Davidman, Brown University: "Family, Gender Identity, and Community; The Appeal of Fundamentalism to Contemporary Women." Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "A Lie of the Mind," an American Play by Sam Sheppard. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $4 faculty/staff, $7 general public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

8pm — Recital: Jun Matsuo, piano. Angell Center Ballroom B.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

Friday, April 16

3:30pm — Asian Student Providing Cultural Enrichment meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4-8pm — Conference Registration for El Pueblo's "Latino Pride and Empowerment: Past, Present and Future." Angell Center Lobby.

4:30pm — Akeba meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7pm — Open forum on Parking on Campus — comments and suggestions welcome. Angell Center Ballroom B.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Deep Cover." Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "A Lie of the Mind" (see Thursday, April 15 for details).

Saturday, April 17

9am — Bus to Montreal sponsored by the office of Campus Life. Tickets: $9 round trip on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, April 12. Bus departs from the Angell Center, Ruger Street pull-off.

10am-5pm — Annual Spring Arts and Crafts Fair. General admission $1, SA members free of charge. Field House.

10am — Latino Conference continues — session 1: "Latin Rhythms" lecture and demonstration featuring the SUNY Plattsburgh Jazz Ensemble. Angell Center Ballrooms. (Consult program brochure for detail of the day's sessions)

1pm — Council for Exceptional Children Carnival. Sibley Hall Cafetorium.

8pm — Presidents' Speakers Series presents Piri Thomas, keynote Speaker for the Latino Conference. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "A Lie of the Mind" (see Thursday, April 15 for details).

10pm — Latino Conference social dance.. Open to conference attendees only. Angell Center Point/Snack Bar.

Sunday, April 18

2pm — The Theatre Department presents "A Lie of the Mind" (see Thursday, April 15 for details).

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "Aladdin." Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, April 19

10am — Workshop: "Cooperative Education." Kehoe, 6th floor.

12pm — Lecture: "Chile on the Brink of Development" by Luis Ortega, Chilean historian. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

6pm — Movie celebrating Earth Week. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7pm — Marketing Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — Council for Exceptional Children meeting. Angell Center Meeting room #4.

7:30pm — Club Canada meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee meeting. Hudson 028.

8pm — "Antarctica" — a slide presentation by Sue Giller, one of four women who reached the South Pole on skis on January 14, 1993. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10:15pm — SA Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, April 20

10am — Workshop: "Considering Graduate School." Kehoe, 6th floor.
12pm — Center for Women's Concerns meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.
12pm — President's Longevity Luncheon, by invitation only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
12:15pm — LGBA meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.
12:15pm — Adult Student Group meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.
12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook meeting. Yearbook Office, Angell Center, 3rd floor.
4:10pm — Human Services Association meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.
4:15pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Dr. Thomas Konda, Political Science Department, speaking on "Women and Minorities in the New Congress: What Difference will it Make?" Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
4:15pm — Plattsburgh State Historical Association meeting. CV Hall Commons.
5pm — Open House Tourguide Meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.
6pm — Movie celebrating Earth Week. Angell Center Amnesty Room.
8pm — Faculty Composition Recital featuring Marshall Onofrio. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.
8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.
8:15pm — Hillel meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

Wednesday, April 21

10am — Workshop: "Targeting Your Job Search." Kehoe, 6th floor.
4:15pm — Accounting and Finance Association bi-weekly meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.
6pm — Movie celebrating Earth Week. Angell Center Amnesty Room.
7pm — Hispanic-American Club meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
7pm — Weekly meeting for those interested in vegetarian issues, sponsored by the Vegetarian Awareness Committee. Angell Center Meeting Room #4.
7:30pm — Women of Ethnicity meeting. Meeting Room #5.
8pm — Circle K International weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #7.
8pm — The Theatre Department presents "The Insanity of Mary Girard; and Man Against Medusa: A Dramatic Study of the Medusa Complex". Tickets: $1 SA Members, $2 faculty/staff, $3 general public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office, Show nights only. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Thursday, April 22

10am — Workshop: "Resumes & Cover Letters." Kehoe, 6th floor.
11am-2pm — Asian Awareness Celebration presents an Oriental Buffet featuring foods from China, Japan and Korea. Cost: $5.50 per person. Angell Center Centennial Room.
12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Joan Cusack Handler, poet and psychotherapist, reading a selection of her poems. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
4:30pm — Film showing on Spanish Culture. Angell Center Conference Room.
6pm — Movie celebrating Earth Week. Angell Center Meeting Room 7.
6pm — Coffeehouse in celebration of Earth Week. Angell Center Blue Room.
7pm — Club International. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.
7pm — ASPCE Mini-Movie Series presents "Ran". Yokum CL202.
7:30pm — GTE Lecture Series presents Dr. Raymond Coward. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
7:30pm — International Business Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.
8pm — Asian Awareness Celebration presents a Karate Demonstration featuring the Plattsburgh State Karate Club. Angell Center Ballroom B.
8pm — Faculty Recital: Rebecca Baker, piano, assisted by Michael Baker, Edward Lundergan and Angela Brown. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.
8pm — Visiting Poet and Writers Series presents Joan Cusack Handler reading from her poetry. CV Hall Commons.

Notes

The WRITING WALK-IN, sponsored by the Claude J. Clark Learning Center, is available to all student, free of charge. Writing walk-in is held Monday - Thursday, 3:00 pm - 8:00 pm and Sunday, 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm in the writing instruction lab at the rear of the Learning Center.

On Saturday, April 17th the Newman Center is sponsoring an Interfaith Student Retreat from 10 am - 3 pm. All are welcome. The facilitator is Ms. Jeannine Nichols, a survivor of the Holocaust that took place during World War II in Germany. She will give testimony of her beliefs and experiences. Her theme is "Reassurance from God and Others."

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

Homburger Promoted to Vice President for Business Affairs

John R. Homburger, a SUNY Plattsburgh alumnus, a member of the college's administrative staff since 1977 and its senior business officer for the past four years, has been promoted to the rank of vice president.

SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren said that the promotion is effective immediately. Homburger's new title is vice president for business affairs, but his duties remain unchanged. He is responsible for operations and activities in the offices of accounting, bursar, financial aid, analysis and assessment, payroll, personnel, purchasing (including campus mail services and printing and duplicating) and telecommunications.

John Homburger

Warren commented, "John Homburger's promotion, at once, is broad recognition of his outstanding performance and leadership as senior business officer and an understanding that he has, to a large extent, functioned as a 'vice president' for sometime. His professional talent and dedication to this college and to SUNY have been vital, and will continue to be so, in the maintenance and enhancement of services to our students, faculty and staff, to the University and to the broader community."

Representatives of other campus constituencies hailed the president's action.

"I'm certain that John Homburger's promotion will come as welcome news to all who serve the College Council," said Council chairperson Robert Garrow, "and we applaud President Warren for recognizing his contributions to the college in this manner. John has shouldered enormous responsibility and has handled a truly demanding job during difficult times with remarkable skill. It is clear that Mr. Homburger has

(Continued on next page)

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • APRIL 21, 1993

Open House '93 Expected to Surpass Attendance Records

Open House 1993 on Saturday (April 24) promises to be an energetic event this year, with accepted students and their families signing up in numbers that are surpassing recent attendance records.

Richard Higgins, director of admissions and Open House committee chairperson, remarked, "The high attendance is especially exciting in a year that has seen a dramatic increase in the numbers of campus visitors."

Nearly 1,100 guests have already registered for Open House, which will be held from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Saturday. President Charles O. Warren and Student Association President Michael Rapley will initiate the day's activities at a welcoming session in the Angell College Center Ballrooms.

Unlike Open House programs at many other colleges, Higgins noted, Plattsburgh's is a once-a-year only special event. Accepted students spend the day visiting academic departments, touring the campus, meeting faculty, and generally getting more acquainted with the college.

"With a May 1 tuition deposit deadline right around the corner," he said, "Open House is also a day for serious thought for many students trying to make up their minds about which college is the right one."

The day offers plenty for both freshman and transfer applicants, with a selection of workshops on admissions, financial aid, housing, and campus life. The admissions and financial aid offices will be open for visitors, but will not be offering personal interviews. The housing and bursar's offices will be open to accept deposits.

Higgins pointed out that students and their families visited the campus more this past year than in any of the previous ten years. "Students are really taking the time to investigate colleges," he said. "The marked increase in campus visitors this year may be attributable in part to the college's expanded visitation initiatives.

"It's very important to provide a flexible and open campus visit program," Higgins added, "so that prospective students and their families can get to see us, despite hectic family schedules."

(Continued on next page)

Plattsburgh

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

ODK to Welcome 34 to Membership in Induction Ceremony

The SUNY Plattsburgh Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honors society, will induct 34 members of the college community to membership in a ceremony scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Saturday (Apr. 24) in the Newman Center.

ODK's Class of '93 includes one graduate student, 12 seniors, 20 juniors and an alumnus. The speaker at the spring induction program will be senior theatre major and ODK member Cynthia Menz, who was selected in December as the SUNY Plattsburgh circle's 1992-93 Leader of the Year and was recently named as ODK Province One Leader of the Year.

ODK was chartered at Plattsburgh in 1981, and the latest inductees will swell its membership to 810 students, faculty, staff, alumni and community leaders.

This spring's alumnus inductee is John R. Homburger, promoted this week to the rank of vice president (see page 1). The students who will become ODK members on Saturday, their year in college, majors and hometowns, are:

Michael Jay Allen, Junior, Theatre, Portsmouth, NH; Kari K. Anderson, Senior, Canadian Studies/Political Science, Glenfield; Robin Belzile, Senior, Elementary Education Mathematics, Willsboro; Daniel P. Bennett, Junior, Latin American Studies, Shortsville; Sarah J. Boulay, Junior, Mass Communications, Clay; Patricia E. Boylston, junior Elementary Education, Rome; Kristen M. Carlson, Junior, Elementary Education, Tonawanda; Brian Cennamo, Junior Marketing, Mahopac; Jamison E. Colburn, Junior, Criminal Justice/Political Science, Saratoga; Joshua Duntley, Junior, Psychology, Dannemora; Jennifer Easton, Senior, Marketing, Latham; Barbara Fink, Junior, Elementary Education, Valley Stream; Kari Flemming, Junior, Psychology, Rome; and Nicole Forkey, Junior, Studio Art, Lyon Mountain.

Also, Michele Griffin, Junior, Nursing, Northport; George J. Hoffman Jr., Senior, Political Science, Craryville; Jay H. Kesslen, Junior, Economics/Philosophy, Slingerlands; Mary Kuhne, Junior, Elementary Education, Lake Grove; Kathleen M. Leary, Master of Science in Teaching (Elementary Education), Niagara Falls; John D. Leonard, Senior, Psychology, Katonah; Thomas D. Loughran Jr., Junior Psychology, Wappingers Falls; Kimberly J. Mazur, Junior, Studio Arts, Plattsburgh; James T.

(Continued on page 4)

Promotion Recognizes Homburger's 'talent, dedication' (Continued from page 1)

earned the confidence and respect of all who know and work with him, and he deserves our congratulations."

Edward Brohel, director of the SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum and chairperson of the Faculty Senate's Resources and Planning Committee, heartily endorsed Homburger's promotion.

"It (the promotion) attests to John's work ethic, his dedication to the college, his creative business sense, and to the support he has achieved among faculty and staff across the campus," Brohel said. "His approach to budgeting and resource allocation has been consistently open and collegial, and I admire the way he works the 'money side' to bring about positive results on the 'academic side.'"

A 1975 graduate of the college, with a B.S. in accounting, Homburger joined his alma mater two years later as assistant to the director of the Technical Assistance Center. He later served as assistant controller (1978-83) and controller (1983-89), assuming the post as senior business officer in June of 1989.

Homburger participates on more than a dozen college boards, councils and committees, including the Plattsburgh College Foundation and College Auxiliary Services, both of which he serves as treasurer, and he is a Phoenix Program and Freshman Experience Program mentor. He is a member of numerous SUNY-wide committees on business affairs, and his community service activities include leadership roles with the Plattsburgh and Clinton County Chamber of Commerce's Leadership Clinton program, with Lothlorian House, the Plattsburgh Lions Club, the American Cancer Society and with the Joint Council for Economic Opportunity, among other organizations.

Open House Caps Several, Varied Admissions Initiatives (Continued from page 1)

New visitation programs this year have included special weekends designed for high-profile scholars, science students, and minority students. About 60 prospective Educational Opportunity Program students came to campus recently on EOP's annual bus trip.

According to Higgins, faculty have been more involved than ever this past year, lending an important dimension to recruitment efforts. "Faculty have been especially active in calling students to offer their congratulations, and in writing to keep accepted students informed about departmental program developments.

"We sincerely appreciate this willingness to support recruitment efforts, make contact with students, and lend a personal touch."

Higgins also chairs a broadly represented Admissions Advisory Group, which meets regularly with President Warren to discuss activities related to application flow, acceptance yield, retention issues, and special recruitment initiatives.

Room in Myers to be Dedicated to Honor Benefactor Slatkin

One of SUNY Plattsburgh's most generous benefactors will be honored in appreciation of her sustained generosity to the college through the Art Museum. The College Council voted recently to dedicate a room on the second floor of the Myers Building as the Regina Slatkin Study Collections Room.

"We're very pleased to be able to name this room in honor of Mrs. Slatkin," said SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren. "The space is about to be completely renovated to serve as a seminar and collections study room. Faculty and students will use it for in-depth study of selected pieces from our rich and varied permanent art collection. Mrs. Slatkin has been an integral part of building our collection and is also a noted art scholar in her own right. It is fitting that we pay tribute to her through the room's dedication in her honor."

Mrs. Slatkin, who spends summers in Essex, has, over the past several years, enriched the college's art collection with numerous gifts of sculpture, tapestries, and maquettes. Museum Director Edward Brohel estimated that the value of the many pieces she has donated exceeds several hundred thousand dollars.

Regina Slatkin

Mrs. Slatkin also recently notified the college that she intends to add an extensive decorative arts collection and a print collection to the museum's holdings and will also create an endowment fund to maintain the Slatkin Collections.

Brohel explained that the Slatkin Room is located adjacent to the Myers Gallery on the second floor of the Myers Building and has been used in the past for exhibition preparation, framing and storage. The room will be completely remodeled, painted and carpeted and a small storage room will be added. Display cases to house the Slatkin Decorative Arts Collection will be installed and other furnishings will include a seminar table and audiovisual equipment.

He said, "As our collection has grown, many of its contents have been incorporated into the teaching/learning environment. For example, art history faculty members may now demonstrate lectures using actual pieces from the collection.

Faculty from other disciplines, literature and history also use certain pieces to illustrate their lectures. Those activities will now be centered in the Slatkin Study Collections Room. Additionally, the area may also be used as an ancillary exhibition space for larger shows in the main gallery."

Work on the Slatkin Room will begin this summer and the new collection pieces will be processed during the next academic year. Brohel anticipates that the Slatkin Room will be completed and dedicated in fall of 1994.

'Cool Pose' Author Majors, '77 Grad, to Visit, Lecture Here

Dr. Richard Majors, a 1977 graduate of SUNY Plattsburgh and its Educational Opportunity Program, and a nationally recognized expert on the social, academic and professional concerns of black males, will visit his alma mater for five days next week as a participant in the college's Distinguished Visiting Alumni Program.

Majors, an assistant professor of psychology at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, is the author of the recently published book Cool Pose: the Dilemmas of Black Manhood in America, which has attracted national and international attention. He will be on campus from Monday through Friday, April 26-30, to give talks in varied classes and speak to student organizations and interest groups. On Wednesday (Apr. 28), he will give a public lecture in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge on the topic "Black Males: An Endangered Species."

The New York Times described Majors' work on Cool Pose "as being at the forefront of a movement of black social scientists who are seeking ways to understand inner city youths better and to marshal the strengths of the black middle class to help these troubled young people survive." He has appeared on numerous television and radio programs, including the Oprah Winfrey Show and national public radio. Besides the Times, his work is frequently cited in such newspapers as USA Today, Chicago Tribune, Boston Herald, Chicago Sun Times, Detroit Free Press, Washington Post, New York Daily News, and New York News Day, and in Time, Reader's Digest and other leading magazines.

Majors, originally from Ithaca, majored in psychology here. A former American Psychological Association Predoctoral Minority Fellow research award recipient, he received the Ph.D. in counseling psychology from the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, and completed post-doctoral work at the University of Kansas.

He has served as a Clinical Fellow in Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School. While at Harvard, Majors co-founded the National Council of African American Men (NCAAM), the first umbrella group in the United States for African American males. He is past chairman and currently on the board of directors of NCAAM.

Majors is also the co-founder and deputy editor of the Journal of African American Males Studies (JAAMS) and the founder of the Annual State of Black Male America. His latest book, The American Black Male: His Present Status and Future, is due out this spring.

'93 Longevity Luncheon Salutes 52 for Long-Term Service

Each year through a luncheon, the President's Office recognizes the work of individuals who have devoted 25 years or more to the college. Through various fields of employment, these 52 individuals have collectively given 1,453 years of service to the college. From professors to cleaners and groundswomen to typists, all have been an integral part of the successes that the college sees today. This year's longevity luncheon honored the following people yesterday for their contributions to the college:

38 years

Barbara Caska, secretarial stenographer; Dr. Howard Miller, professor of English.

37 years

Dr. Herman Doh, professor of English; Patty Wood, administrative assistant.

36 years

Leda Bushey, clerk 2.

35 years

Lawrence Arcarese, associate professor of communications.

34 years

Carolyn Turner, secretary 1.

33 years

Donald Garrant, executive assistant to the president for college relations and development; Sandra Murphy, supervisor of payroll and campus identification; Dr. J. Stallard Waterhouse, professor of biological sciences.

32 years

Dr. Francis Bethlen, professor of social sciences; Hazel Crary, Marriott food service worker.

31 years

Dr. Charles Blood, professor of chemistry; Dr. Ernie Coons, professor in the Center for Teacher Education; Dr. Lawrence Gillett, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science; Dr. David Robertson, associate professor/chairperson for physical education and recreational sports; Dr. George Sheats, professor of Chemistry.

30 years

Derek Allan, director of facilities.

25 years

Antoine Barber, groundswoman; Francis Barber, labor supervisor; Carolyn Belair, keyboard specialist; Bonnie Brady, library clerk 2; Carolyn Burakowski, secretary 2; David Carter, resource associate; Stanley Case, maintenance supervisor; Alice Champagne, associate professor of nursing; Dr. Marilyn Chase, associate professor for human resources; Leon Clodgo, maintenance supervisor 4/director of maintenance and grounds; Marlyn Cotter, information processing specialist 2; Victoria Defayette, senior data entry operator; Patti Dodson, calculations clerk 2; Helga Dore, janitor; Jeannette Dubrey, cleaner; Bernard Girard, staff assistant for the Maintenance Control Center; Joann Gordon, janitor; Sherwood Hart, supervisor of grounds; William Klock, professor of art; Mildred Lafave, keyboard specialist; George Mclean, public safety; Dr. George Pasti, Jr., professor of history; Thomas Sears, maintenance assistant; Dr. Sitaram Shastri, professor of physics; Francis Sorrell, associate for technical services; Dr. Norman Teator, associate professor of teacher education; Dianne Trowbridge, secretary 2; Mary Turner, clerk 1; Betty Vanderhoff, Library Clerk 2; Charles Whitesell, senior stationary engineer; Palmyra Wood, keyboard specialist.

LaValley Finishes 1st Nationally in spg Average; Track & Field Teams Well Back in Albany Meet

Alicia LaValley, Plattsburgh State's second all-time leader in scoring (1,438 pts) and all-time leader in career steals (408), is the 1992/93 NCAA Women's Division III Statistical Champion in steals per game with 6.2 per outing (149 in 24 games). Her closest competitor, a York College athlete, finished with a 6.0 spg.

LaValley also set Plattsburgh State records this season for steals in one game with 12 against Oswego on February 14 and three point field goals in one game with seven in the final game of her career against Castleton State. She also scored a career high 33 points in that game.

As a team and statistical leader on the court and role model off the court, LaValley, a senior from Canton, will be sorely missed by the Cardinal women's basketball program. She led the team in virtually every statistical category this season in field goals made (9129), three-point field goals made (34), free throws made (98), points (390), rebounds (128), assists (59), steals (149), and minutes per game (34.0).

In sports action over the weekend, the men's and women's outdoor track and field team placed 13th and 15th, respectively, among 17 teams that competed in the third annual SUNY Albany Track and Field Invitational. Top finishers for the Plattsburgh men were sophomores Tom Oullette and Kevin Shea. Oullette finished third in the men's 3000 meter steeplechase (9:55.90) while Shea placed third in the highly competitive Decathlon with 5,489 points. Senior Wendi Clarke was the top finisher for the Plattsburgh women, placing third in the high jump (4'11 3/4").

ODK Induction

(Continued from page 2)

McNamara, Senior, Biochemistry, Carmel; Gregory C. Moran, Junior, Political Science, Troy; Rachel O'Donnell, Senior, International Business/Canadian Studies, Point Lookout; Gemma C. Orzech, Senior, English, Morrisonville; Krista Rehm, Senior, Hearing & Speech Science, Hazlet, NJ; Dorraine Jai Riker, Senior, Nursing, Gansevoort; Edward A. Ross, Senior, Marketing, Schenectady; Jeffrey A. Susi, Senior, Criminal Justice, Tribes Hill; Michael A. Tokarz, Junior, Accounting, Queensbury; Erol Turk, Junior, Secondary Education/Physics, Westport; Carla Wilmoth, Junior Accounting, Red Hook.

Senior Reed Lands Prized Internship at National Art Gallery

Michael Reed, a senior art history major from Ogdensburg, has received an appointment as an intern to the National Art Gallery Intern Michael Reed in the Winkel Sculpture Court.

National Art Gallery in Washington, D.C.

Reed will spend June, July and August doing research and working with material in the Gallery's Department of Modern Prints, Drawings and Photographs. His supervisor will be Ruth Fine, curator of the National Art Gallery.

"This is a major accomplishment for Michael as well as a marvelous opportunity for him," commented SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum Director Edward Brohel. "Internships at the National Art Gallery are highly competitive. Besides working with the gallery's collection, he will have the opportunity to experience procedures and standards in place in one of the world's truly great museums."

Brohel said that Reed's success in landing the appointment results from a combination of his talent and motivation and strong recommendations from SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum benefactor Regina Slatkin of New York City and Essex (see related story on Mrs. Slatkin in this issue of Weekly) and college President Charles Warren. "We all believe that Michael Reed is highly intelligent, well-educated and experienced for his age," said Brohel, "and that he will work as hard as three people and fulfill all responsibilities given to him."

Reed, who plans to pursue an advanced degree in museum studies in preparation for a professional position in a museum, has served as a gallery assistant in the college's art museum for the past two years. His responsibilities have included cataloging and inventory of art objects in the college's permanent collection, assisting with installation of varied exhibitions, developing designs for items sold in the museum shop, helping in the acquisition of prominent art objects, and giving gallery talks during exhibitions. Previously, he had carried out similar duties in the Frederic Remington Art Museum in Ogdensburg.

"My experiences here (at the Plattsburgh Art Museum) in the past two years, working with a great collection, have been especially rewarding," said Reed, who has held a George and Nina Winkel research scholarship provided by the Plattsburgh College Foundation. "I'm also indebted to the faculty, particularly in the art department, because my education overall has been outstanding."

Presidential Search Process Continues

SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone (c) was on campus last Tuesday to confer with the 16-member Search Committee charged to lead the process to find a successor to outgoing SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren. With Johnstone (l-r) are Dr. Marilou Jarvis, deputy assistant to the chancellor and the chancellor's liaison to the committee, and Robert M. Garrow, chairperson of the Plattsburgh College Council.

Morreale to Read at Phi Alpha Theta Installation Ceremony

A reading of his own work by Dr. Ben Morreale, professor emeritus of history, will highlight next Thursday's (April 29) initiation of new members of Phi Alpha Theta, the history honors society.

The initiation ceremony is scheduled for 7:20 p.m. in the Angell College Center Ballroom. Morreale's reading, from his latest book, La Storia, will follow, and a reception will conclude the program. The event is open to all.

AERho Cops Model Chapter Award; McDonald, Ensel Cited

The SUNY Plattsburgh National Broadcasting Society Alpha Epsilon Rho chapter walked away with several awards at the Society's 50th anniversary national convention held recently in St. Louis.

For the second straight year, the Plattsburgh chapter was named one of eight "Model Chapters" in the nation (among 125 were eligible to be considered for the honor). Model chapters must meet many criteria, including level of membership, fund-raising activities in support of the Tourette Syndrome Association, and attendance at regional and national conventions.

SUNY Plattsburgh's NBS/AERho chapter was also named the Most Improved Chapter of the Year for 1992-93. The recognition cited several exemplary chapter activities, including its role as host to last fall's East/Northeast Regional Convention last fall; its high level of participation in last year's National Convention in Washington D.C., its award-winning student productions, and its success in maintaining a membership of 40 students.

Also at the St. Louis convention,

Chapter President Bruce McDonald, a junior from Champlain, was elected to the national position of vice president for student development, and Chapter Co-Advisor Peter Ensel, assistant professor of communication, was elected national vice president for public information with responsibility for coordination of national publicity projects as well as overseeing Signals, the Society's newsletter.

Bruce McDonald

Peter Ensel

McDonald will represent the entire student membership to the other national officers by maintaining frequent communication with chapter presidents and visiting as many conventions and chapter activities as possible. He will also serve as an assistant to the national president of the Society and will help her preside at the national convention.

McDonald was also awarded the Abe Voron Radio Award, the John Bayliss Broadcast Foundation Scholarship and an NBS/AERho scholarship. These were all presented based on his service to college broadcasting and to NBS/AERho. The three awards totalled $3,500, and McDonald will use them to offset his educational expenses for next year.

"The convention is a chance for broadcasting students from across the country to learn about broadcast techniques and meet professionals in the communication industry. Approximately 300 students, professionals, and faculty members were on hand for this year's event.

Transportation expenses for two of the eight students who represented SUNY Plattsburgh were paid for by the College Auxiliary Services Academic Travel Fund, since they were competing for national awards.

College's AMA Chapter Selected to Host Regional Meeting

The SUNY Plattsburgh collegiate chapter of the American Marketing Association has been picked to host the 1993 eastern regional conference.

Collegiate chapter members from about 60 colleges and universities in a region stretching from Maine to Virginia are expected to send delegates to the conference, scheduled for Friday through Sunday, Oct. 29-31. It will be chaired by junior marketing major Paul LaFountain of nearby Altona.

The conference theme is "Creating and Marketing an Image," and attendees will learn how organizations in northeastern New York and Vermont promote their own distinct images in order to differentiate themselves from their competition. According to SUNY Plattsburgh chapter Advisor Dr. Nancy Church, associate professor of management and marketing, participants tentatively include representatives of Ben & Jerry's Homemade Ice Cream, the Vermont Teddy Bear Company, the Pyramid Companies, the area's Foreign Free Trade Zones, and the Olympic Regional Development Authority.

Church hopes this year's assembly will be as successful as one the college's AMA collegiate chapter hosted in 1987. That event, on direct marketing, attracted nearly 125 conferees and several top flight professionals in that field.

Meanwhile, some of the college's marketing students are making their mark in activities related to their major. Jeffrey Wolf, a senior from New City, was among 20 students nationwide who won a scholarship to attend the Direct Marketing Collegiate Institute, held recently in New York City.

Sponsored by Direct Marketing Days in New York, the five-day seminar brought leading experts to the Institute to teach sessions on direct marketing media, database marketing, direct marketing applications and careers in the field. Scholarship winners were selected to attend on the basis of their academic achievements and their interest in direct marketing.

Two other members of Plattsburgh's AMA collegiate chapter will give talks at the organization's 15th annual International Collegiate Conference in New Orleans that begins tomorrow and continues through Saturday. Chapter President Ed Ross of Schenectady and Treasurer John Williams of Camillus, both juniors, will discuss "Fund-raising for AMA Chapters" and "Programming Ideas for AMA Chapters," respectively, and they will jointly give a presentation on plans for the regional conference to be held on this campus in the fall.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, April 22 — THURSDAY, April 29

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, April 22

10am — Workshop: "Resumes and Cover Letters" sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Kehoe, 6th floor.

11am-2pm — Asian Awareness Celebration presents an Oriental Buffet featuring foods from China, Japan and Korea. Cost: $5.50 per person. Angell Center Centennial Room.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Joan Cusack Handler, poet and psychotherapist, reading a selection of her poems. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15pm — International Awareness Forum presents Jeff Halper, Israeli Anthropologist and Director of Friends World Program, Long Island University, speaking on "Zionism, Israeli Culture, and the Palestinians." Angell Center Blue Room.

4:30pm — El Pueblo, the Latin American Organization, presents a film showing on Spanish Culture. Angell Center Conference Room.

6pm — Movie in celebration of Earth Week. Angell Center Meeting Room 7.

6pm — Earth Day Concert in celebration of Earth Week. Angell Center Blue Room.

7pm — Club International meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7pm — ASPCE Mini-Movie Series presents "Ran". Yokum CL 202.

7:30pm — Institute for the Study of Gerontology presents Dr. Raymond Coward, Director of the Center on Rural Health and Aging, University of Florida, speaking on "Use of Formal Services Among the Rural Elderly: Do We Really Know What We Think We Know?" Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30pm — International Business Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

8pm — Asian Awareness Celebration presents a Karate Demonstration featuring the Plattsburgh State Karate Club. Angell Center Ballroom B.

8pm — Faculty Recital: Rebecca Baker, piano, assisted by Michael Baker, Edward Lundergan and Angela Brown. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

8pm — Visiting Poet and Writers Series presents Joan Cusack Handler reading from her poetry. CV Hall Commons.

Friday, April 23

3pm — Omicron Delta Kappa meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3:30pm — Asian Student Providing Cultural Enrichment meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30pm — Akeba meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Everyone welcome. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Gas, Food & Lodging." Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "The Insanity of Mary Girard; and Man Against Medusa: A Dramatic Study of the Medusa Complex". Tickets: $1 SA Members, $2 faculty/staff, $3 general public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office, show nights only. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Saturday, April 24

9am — Annual Spring Open House Program. Consult Open House Brochure for a detailed listing of the various programs.

1pm — Women's rugby vs. Montreal. Sibley Hall field.

4pm — Phi Eta Sigma Induction Ceremony, open to members only. Angell Center Centennial Room.

7:30pm — Induction Ceremony for New Members sponsored by Omicron Delta kappa Honor Society. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

8pm — The Theatre Department presents "The Insanity of Mary Girard; and Man Against Medusa: A Dramatic Study of the Medusa Complex" (see 8 pm Friday, Apr. 23 for details).

Sunday, April 25

1pm — Kappa Delta Pi Induction Ceremony. Angell Center Ballrooms.

2pm — Pantomime Concert featuring Tony

Montanaro and Karen Hurl. Tickets: SA Members $1, faculty/staff $4, general public $5, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Myers Fine Arts, Hartman Theatre.

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACBSunday Night at the Movies presents "Malcolm X." Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Monday, April 26

7pm — Marketing Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30pm — Council for Exceptional Children meeting. Angell Center Meeting room #4.

7:30pm — Club Canada meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee meeting. Hudson Hall 028.

8pm — Reception for SA Officers, Boards, and Committees. Open to members only. Angell Center Centennial Room.

8pm — Adopt-A-Block organizational meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, April 27

10am — Marine Corps Officer Selection Program information table. Angell Center Lobby.

11:45am — UUP Luncheon/Presentation for Board and Departmental Representatives. Open to members only. Angell Center Ballroom A.

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12pm — Philosophy Colloquium presents Dr. John Yardan speaking on "Assisted Suicide — Some Troubling Aspects." Angell Center Ballroom B.

12:15pm — LGBA meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

12:15pm — Learn to Learn Seminar Series. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — Adult Student Group meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook meeting. Yearbook Office, Angell Center, 3rd floor.

4:10pm — Human Services Association meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.

4:15pm — Plattsburgh State Historical Association meeting. CV Hall Commons.

4:15pm — Institute of management Accountants meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8pm — Student Voice Recital — David Toulson, tenor; Jason Hagen, baritone; accompanied by Jun Matsuo, piano. Angell Center Ballroom B.

8:15pm — Hillel meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

Wednesday, April 28

10am — Marine Corps Officer Selection Program information table. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15pm — Clark Learning Center's "Learn to Learn" Seminar Series. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7pm — Vegetarian Awareness Committee meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #4.

7pm — Public Lecture by Distinguished Visiting Alumnus Dr. Richard Majors. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30pm — Women of Ethnicity meeting. Meeting Room #5.

8pm — Circle K International meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #7.

10:15pm — WPLT staff meeting and elections. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Thursday, April 29

9am — Course Adjustment for Fall 1993 class schedules, sponsored by Registrar. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10am — Marine Corps Officer Selection Program information table. Angell Center Lobby.

12pm — Omicron Delta Kappa Lunch with a Leader, open to members only. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Dr. John Kellermeier speaking on "Creating the Riskable Classroom: Feminist Pedagogy for General Education Mathematics." PLEASE NOTE LOCATION CHANGE TO THE ANGELL CENTER BLUE ROOM.

7pm — Club International meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7pm — ASPCE Mini-Movie Series presents "Ran". Yokum CL 202.

7:20pm — Phi Alpha Theta initiation ceremony, featuring Dr. Ben Morreale, professor emeritus of history, reading from his book, La Storia.

7:30pm — International Business Club meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

8pm — Choral Festival: "Night Music." Tickets: SA members $1, faculty/staff $3, general public $5, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning April 19.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

Murnane Apparent Low Bidder on Phase II of Hawkins Project

Murnane Building Contractors, Inc. of Plattsburgh is the apparent low bidder on Phase II of a project for the restoration and preservation of historic Hawkins Hall at SUNY Plattsburgh.

Murnane's bid of $4,778,750 is 11 percent or $570,250 under the estimated cost of the project, and it came in $61,050 under the second low bid, submitted by Engelberth Construction, Inc. of Colchester, Vt. Five firms bid for the contract, with $721,250 separating Murnane's low estimate from a high of $5,500,000 offered by a Connecticut contractor.

Hawkins Hall, SUNY Plattsburgh's oldest building, was built in 1932 to replace the college's original Normal School, which had been destroyed by fire three years earlier. It was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1982. Considered the campus landmark structure, Hawkins currently houses the presidents' office, the college's Honors Center, its women's studies program, Academic Computing Center, and classrooms for instruction in nursing, mathematics, geography and political science.

According to J. Derek Allan, director of facilities at SUNY Plattsburgh, the bids will be reviewed by the State University Construction Fund, and the contract is expected to be awarded on or before June 1 — six weeks from last Wednesday's bid opening. The project has an August 31, 1995 completion date.

Allan said the Hawkins project includes bottom-to-top rehabilitation. The building's basement facilities, including laboratories and office space that house academic computing and computing support services, will be extensively renovated. Seminar rooms and two new classrooms will be lower level additions.

First floor refurbishment will include two lecture rooms, seminar rooms, a small recital hall and construction of a new office suite.
(Continued on next page)

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • APRIL 28, 1993

NLN's Beebe to Assume Nursing Chair Position on July 1

Dr. Gretchen Crawford Beebe, currently associate director of accreditation for the National League for Nursing (NLN) in New York City, has been appointed chairperson of the nursing program at SUNY Plattsburgh, effective July 1.

The appointment of Beebe concludes a nationwide search begun last fall. Besides general administrative responsibilities, Beebe will undertake the tasks of assisting and supporting the nursing faculty in its preparation of a self-study report for reaccreditation by the NLN, and she will spearhead faculty efforts to expand computer holdings, primarily in the areas of instruction and testing.

"We are very pleased to welcome Dr. Beebe to SUNY Plattsburgh," commented Dr. Virginia Barker, the college's dean of professional studies. "As a nursing leader having an excellent background in nursing education, practice, research and professional and community service, she brings the talent and experience needed to strengthen our nursing program and to give leadership to its future development."

Dean Barker, whose educational and professional background likewise is in nursing, pointed out that her colleague's wide range of experience encompasses not only education and practice but also service with professional organizations. Besides the NLN, where Beebe has been employed for the past two years, the latter includes the New York State Nurses Association in Guilderland, where she was director of nursing education from 1988 to 1991.

Beebe, whose clinical specialty is community health nursing, holds the B.S.N. (1964), M.S.N. (1977) and Ph.D. in nursing (1980) from Case Western Reserve University. She has held positions in nursing and nursing administration in large and small hospitals in Cleveland and Parma, Ohio, and in Glens Falls, and her academic appointments have included teaching posts at her alma mater and at The Ohio State University, the University of
(Continued on next page)

Dr. Gretchen Beebe

10th Annual Spring Academic Convocation Set for Saturday

The college's annual celebration of student academic achievements — Spring Academic Convocation — will

Hawkins Project

(Continued from page 1)

and the second level will include new nursing laboratories and faculty offices. Varied code compliance requirements will be met under the project, including a new fire alarm system, sprinklers on all floors, elevator access for the physically challenged and new heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems in selected areas of the building.

The electrical system in Hawkins will be upgraded to include new transformers, panel boards and switchgear, and conduit systems will be installed to provide for future voice data and video technology. The E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium will have new stage rigging and a new stage lighting system, and improvements will be made to the auditorium's heating system and air conditioning will be added to the facility. Finally, the building's existing copper roof will be replaced and fire areas will be created in the attic.

Phase 1 of the Hawkins Hall preservation project, completed last summer at a cost of roughly $600,000, included mostly exterior work on masonry and repair of the building's entry stairwells.

Beebe on Board July 1

(Continued from page 1)

Connecticut and, most recently, at Russell Sage College, where she was an adjunct member of the faculty.

Beebe is a member of several professional societies and a past member of several more. She is a member of Sigma Xi, the national scientific honor society, and she is listed in Who's Who in American Nursing. In 1991 Beebe received the New York State Nursing Students' Association's "Nurse-Mentor Award."

be held on Saturday (May 1) beginning at 11 am in the Angell College Center Ballrooms.

This year's convocation observes two milestones: the tenth anniversary of the event and President Charles O. Warren's final appearance as the presiding officer at the ceremony.

More than one hundred individual awards for academic excellence will be presented to students who represent nearly every major field of study at the college. Members of the college's varied honors societies and students who have achieved Dean's List status in either or both of the past two semesters have been invited to attend the program and be recognized.

Also, in what has become an annual Convocation tradition, the recipient of the Phi Eta Sigma Distinguished Faculty Award will be announced. Established in spring 1983, the national honor society for freshman bestows this award annually on one member of the Plattsburgh teaching faculty "to recognize that person's teaching effectiveness, concern for freshmen and outstanding contributions to the academic success of freshmen."

Dr. William Culver, professor of political science and coordinator of the college's Latin American Studies program, will deliver the Convocation address. Culver was in the spotlight last fall when he was selected as one of only 16 Americans asked to participate in a 70-member delegation from North and South America sent to Peru to observe that country's major constitutional election.

Music will be provided by the SUNY Plattsburgh Brass Quintet under the direction of Dr. Marshall Onofrio, associate professor of music, and a reception, hosted by President and Mrs. Warren, will immediately follow the program.

The Spring Academic Convocation is open to the entire campus community.

Placing Position Papers in the Right Hands

Human Resources seniors Amy Tuthill (l) and Claudia Schlankowitz (r) present copies of papers they wrote in their spring semester senior seminar class to Congresswoman Patricia Schroeder (D-Colorado), who chairs the House Select Committee on Children, Youth and Families, during Schroeder's visit last weekend to Lake Placid where she gave the keynote address at a conference of the New York State Association for the Education of Young Children. The students prepared the briefs describing critical issues facing American children and families as a course assignment. Dr. Jane Gore, professor in the Center for Human Resources, teaches the seminar.

Engelbride to Assume Duties as Foreign Student Advisor

Edward Engelbride will assume the role as foreign student advisor with responsibility for providing support for the college's inter-national students. The assignment follows a year-long study of international initiatives under way at the college.

Engelbride, who serves as assistant director of Campus Life for special programs, will also chair a campus-wide International Student Advisory Committee. The committee is now being formed.

"We are hopeful that Ed Engelbride's new focus will enable the college to serve a larger number of foreign students," commented Dr. E. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs, "while allowing for expanded services and greater visibility for students from other cultures."

Edward Engelbride

Dr. Eldridge W. Roark Jr., vice president for student affairs, said, "I am delighted that Ed will be broadening his responsibilities of working with students and student groups of various cultures to include our international students. In addition, the Office of Campus Life will be an ideal place for our international students to receive the administrative support that is distinctive to their special needs."

To this point, advisement of foreign students has been the responsibility of Jaimie Trautman, who serves also, and will continue to serve, as judicial coordinator in Student Affairs. However, a gap in the area of foreign student advisement developed over time following Trautman's retirement as a full-time member of the staff and subsequent return on a part-time basis.

Besides his new duties, Engelbride will continue to provide direction to the college's initiatives in multi-cultural affairs, and to serve as Student Affairs liaison to Greek organizations and students and to WPLT, the campus radio station. A new position will be created to handle responsibilities Engelbride will relinquish, namely landlord-tenant relations, campus-community relations and volunteer services.

Monday's Reception for Retirees to Honor 22 Faculty, Staff

Twenty-two members of the faculty and staff who amassed nearly 575 years of combined service to SUNY Plattsburgh, and who retired during the past year or will soon retire, will be honored Monday (May 3) in a reception to be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Blue Room.

The event is co-sponsored by the campus chapters of the Civil Service Employees Association, United University Professions and the Office of the President. The retirees who are eligible to be honored this year, their positions and dates of service are:

Lawrence C. Arcarese, associate professor of communication, September 1958 to January 1993; Robert L. Arnold, associate professor of education, September 1966 to September 1992; Eileen Benton, associate professor of nursing, September 1978 to August 1992; Eileen M. Brassard, janitor, October 1970 to March 1993; Carolyn A. Burakowski, secretary, February 1967 to June 1993; Barbara B. Caska, secretarial stenographer, August 1955 to May 1993; Dr. Ralph M. Clark, professor of biology, September 1963 to June 1993; Elizabeth J. Emery, public safety officer, September 1973 to March 1993; Lendall L. Haskell, associate professor of education, September 1960 to January 1993; and Dr. Harold G. Klein, associate professor of biology, September 1962 to December 1992.

Also, William H. Klock, professor of art, September 1967 to January 1993; Dr. Roy S. Malpass, professor of behavioral science, September 1973 to November 1992; June E. McElwaine, cleaner, May 1964 to June 1992; Dr. Anna L. Messer, professor, Center for Human Resources, September 1963 to December 1992; Dr. Charles W. Mitchell, Sr., professor of education, September 1962 to January 1993; Dr. Arthur A. Newgarden, associate professor of philosophy, September 1964 to January 1993; Dr. James F. Olmsted, professor of geology, September 1964 to January 1993; Elizabeth Pasti, acting director, Center for Lifelong Learning, September 1977 to June 1992; Homer A. Snow, janitor, January 1973 to April 1993; Francis O Sorrell, associate for technical services, September 1967 to December 1992; Sylvia G. Thume, clerk 2, June 1966 to July 1992; Dr. Edward H. Worthen, associate professor of French, September 1970 to January 1993; and Donald C. Zoss, director of the speech & hearing clinic, September 1981 to January 1993

Stratford Visit Pending; Early Response Urged

SUNY Plattsburgh's Department of English is planning a four-day visit to Stratford, Ont. in the fall to see four plays by Shakespeare, and those who might want to make the trip are advised to act quickly.

The trip, scheduled for Oct. 8 to 11 at a cost estimated at $235 (double occupancy), includes tickets to The Importance of Being Earnest, The Imaginary Invalid, Antony and Cleopatra and A Midsummer Night's Dream, transportation, lodging, breakfast daily and other amenities. However, reservations are first come, first served, and they are due by the end of this week.

Interested persons are urged to contact Jane Kowalkowski in the English department at 564-2134 as soon as possible.

Yale's Mayhew, U. S. Political Expert, to Lecture as DVP

Dr. David Mayhew, professor of political science at Yale University and a leading expert nationally on Congress, the president, and political parties, will visit SUNY Plattsburgh next week, Wednesday to Friday, May 5-7, as a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP).

Mayhew will deliver a public lecture titled "Presidential Elections and Policy Change: How Much of a Connection is There?" at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday May 5 in Ballroom A of the Angell College Center. His talk will examine the policy implications of presidential elections, including the 1992 contest.

While on campus Mayhew will conduct a seminar for political science students and faculty on "Party Control and Lawmaking: The Clinton Presidency in Perspective." This talk will borrow from his award-winning 1991 book, Divided We Govern: Party Control, Lawmaking, and Investigations 1946-1990.

Mayhew is the author of a number of important books and articles on American politics. These include Party Loyalty Among Congressmen (1966), Congressional Elections: The Case of the Vanishing Marginals (1974), Placing Parties in American Politics (1986), and Divided We Govern (1991).

Mayhew has taught at Yale University since 1968. He has served as chairperson of Yale's Department of Political Science and currently is the Alfred Cowles Professor of Government. He received the Ph.D. from Harvard University.

Mayhew's visit is sponsored by the Distinguished Visiting Professor program and the college's Department of Political Science. It is part of an academic-year lecture series on "Presidential Elections Through the Years."

For more information, contact Dr. Harvey Schantz, Chairperson, Political Science, 564-5826.

'93 Senior Art Exhibition

"Stoneware Bottle, 1993" by Mary Reynolds, one of 14 students whose works comprise the SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum's year-ending and "visually and thematically exceptional" Senior Art Exhibition, on display in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery beginning Friday (April 30) and continuing through May 13. An opening reception is scheduled for 4 to 6 p.m. on Friday. Environmental concerns, women's issues, Greek philosophy, and art history are but a few of the interests apparent in the exhibition, a spring semester highlight on the Museum calendar. The students' works culminate the undergraduate careers of the participants and are viewed as a foundation for their futures as graduate students or art professionals. The exhibition is sponsored in part by the Student Association through the Art Resources Association and the Campus Arts Council.

Canada Center Grants in Recent Months Total $165,800

The sometimes tedious process of seeking grants has paid off for the Center for the Study of Canada this year. In the past few months 11 grants have been awarded, adding up to a sum of $165,800.

Although most grants are funded through the government of Canada, the largest lump sum of the total comes from the United States Department of Education under Title VI, $78,200, for a multi-purpose program. Other grantors include: the government of Quebec, the Royal Bank of Canada and Imasco Ltd.

These grants provide funds for student scholarships, enable Canadian Studies faculty to participate in professional meetings, bring guest speakers to campus, support special events for the campus and community, and allow students to attend meetings in Canada.

Books for the library, some center staff and the operation of the Canadian Film Distribution Center also are supported with these funds.

Foundation Business Campaign Begins with $125,000 Goal

The Plattsburgh College Foundation will launch its 1993 Business Campaign tomorrow (April 29) at a 7:30 a.m. breakfast meeting to be held in the Angell Center Centennial Room.

More than 70 volunteer solicitors from the community at-large have been invited to attend the meeting to learn about the objectives of the campaign and to select the names of business leaders they will contact to ask for contributions. According to Don Garrant, executive director of the Foundation, the goal for this year's drive has been set at $125,000.

"The amount we have been challenged to raise represents a substantial increase in a year's time," said Garrant. "A year ago the goal was set at $100,000, and we wound up with more than $103,000 in gifts from 242 contributors, breaking records in both categories.

"However," he added, "costs for students keep going up, and that means it is necessary to establish an even higher level of giving to meet an increasing demand for scholarship funds generated by the Business Campaign. We're counting on many past donors to increase their level of support."

Michael O'Connor, account executive with PaineWebber, and Amy Whitehead, regional manager for CellularOne, will serve as campaign co-chairpersons. Each will head six teams consisting of seven solicitors, including team captains. O'Connor's 1993 captains are Marie Beemer, Craig Cashman, Ann Martin, Kurt Mowry, Patrick Murnane and James Wyand, while Whitehead's unit leaders are Anne Brandell, Clifford Calongne, Gene Chauvin, Michael Farrell, Darcy Mousseau, and Peter Whitbeck.

The campaign chairpersons and team captains will gather several times in the coming weeks for reporting sessions. The business drive ends officially on June 30.

Phonothon Callers Contact 15,000; Pledges Top $98M

The Annual Alumni Phonothon concluded last week after students spent four weeks calling 15,000 alumni asking for their support.

Carolee Smith, associate director of development and alumni affairs, said that 2,621 alumni pledged $98,745 to this year's campaign, while another 978 alumni said they would support the campaign, but weren't sure how much their pledges would be.

The total pledged is $10,000 above the amount pledged last year, when 2,315 alumni pledged $88,737. Smith said that difference is partially due to several successful efforts to increase the number of accurate telephone numbers in the alumni data base. "The Alumni Office was able to add more than two thousand phone numbers to our data base during the year, greatly increasing the donor pool."

Smith credited the phonothon's overall success to the enthusiasm of the student callers. "The student callers did a terrific job," she said. "We had quite a few new callers this year, including several freshmen, and they worked out very well. In many cases, they were successful in convincing alumni who had never donated to the fund to agree to make pledges to this year's drive."

She added, "We're very pleased with this year's results, especially since the mail campaign, which began about three weeks prior to the phonothon, has generated an outstanding response."

President to Host Thank-you Event for Heritage Society Charter Members

More than 20 individuals and couples — persons who have declared their intention to make planned gifts to the college — will be honored Saturday evening at a reception at the president's home as members of the Plattsburgh College Foundation's newest giving fellowship, the Heritage Society.

The honorees include 20 charter members, those who came into the Heritage Society fold in 1992, and a couple that joined the group earlier this year. All have made a commitment to SUNY Plattsburgh through a bequest, a gift of securities, the designation of the college as beneficiary of a life insurance policy, donation of real estate, creation of a trust, or through membership in the College Foundation's Pooled Income Fund. Each will be presented with an attractive recognition plaque.

Charter members of the Heritage Society include: Marie L. Beemer; Erwin L. "Joe" Bornstein; Florence C. Callahan; Dr. Xenophon and Virginia Damianos '51/'50; M. Genevieve Douglass '32; Olive M. Flynt '41; Donald '57 and Mary Garrant; Clara R. Johnson; Elizabeth A. Kelly; Clara LaRose; Malcolm R. Lavery '64; Peg and Martin Mannix Jr. '88/'64; Robert and Maureen Moll; M. Margaret Ryan '32; M. Gertrude Rusterholtz; Evelyn Pat Storer '25; Francis B. Turner '47; Lila M. Vorce '37; John and Ruth '42 Walrath; and Nancy and Charles Warren.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. James McKee Jr., who recently became charter members of the Foundation's Pooled Income Fund, will be welcomed to the Heritage Society.

Evelyn Pat Storer displays Heritage Society plaque presented to her recently at her Deerfield Beach, Fla. home.

Nine EOP Seniors Among Those Honored for Achievement

Nine SUNY Plattsburgh Educational Opportunity Program seniors—recipients of 1993 Academic Achievement Awards from the University's Office of Special Programs — were among EOP students due to graduate next month who were honored yesterday (April 27) at a reception sponsored by program staff.

Besides the nine cited for academic achievement, specifically for earning grade point averages of 3.0 or higher, EOP awards were presented to individuals in the areas of distinguished student service, community service, and professional service and for achievement as a program graduate. Author-educator Dr. Richard Majors '77, on campus this week as a Distinguished Visiting Alumnus, was the featured speaker at the reception.

SUNY Binghamton Psychologist to Give Sigma Xi Talk on 'Aging'

Sigma Xi brings to campus Dr. Robert Isaacson, distinguished professor at SUNY Binghamton, to speak on "Aging: Its Prevention and Cure," Monday, May 3 at 7:45 p.m. in Hudson Hall 106.

During his 35-year career in the field of psychology, Isaacson has served on the Scientific Advisory Committee for the National Institute of Health, the Society for Neuroscience, and has served on advocacy committees for the mentally retarded. He is the associate editor for the Neuropsychologia journal, and is on the editorial boards of Neuroscience Research Communications, Brain Research, Behavioral and Neural Biology, and Restorative Neurology and Neuroscience.

Isaacson also has written 15 books and 235 journal articles and currently is a fellow with the American Psychological Association. The lecture, co-sponsored by Psi Chi, is free to the public.

The students who received the SUNY-wide awards, their majors and hometowns, are: Christopher Anderson, double major in mathematics and biology, Moriah; Sarah Durgan, human services, Peru; Sharon Flicker, elementary education, Bayside; Bridget Maher, nursing, Tupper Lake; Gemma Orzech, English, Morrisonville; Janine Pangburn, political science, Wynatskill; Jon Provost, special education, Plattsburgh; Carol Robinson, elementary education, Merrill; and Sara Sample, elementary education, Champlain.

Andrew Gronosky, a senior double major in mathematics and physics and head tutor for EOP, received the 1993 Distinguished Student Service Award; Willie Herne, an Upward Bound counselor at St. Lawrence University, received the Distinguished Community Service Award; SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren was presented the Distinguished Professional Service Award; and Heidi Clute '80, a local financial planning specialist, received the Distinguished Alumna Award.

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Anna Battigelli, assistant professor of English, has had two essays accepted for publication. The first, "Between the Glass and the Hand: the Eye in Margaret Cavendish's Blazing World" will be published in 1650-1850: Ideas, Aesthetics, and Inquiries in the Early Modern Era. The second, "Constructing Our English Palace: Authorship, Antiquity, and Modernity in the Works of John Dryden" will be published in the Talking Forward, Talking Back: Critical Dialogues with the Enlightenment ... Mary Dossin, writing specialist in the Claude Clark Learning Center, and five peer writing tutors — Jill Bielawski, Molly Denicore, Kari Flemming, Bridget Wallace, and David Welch — attended the recent conference of the New England Writing Centers Association held in Burlington Vermont... Peter Ensel, assistant professor of communication, presented a paper he co-authored with Communication Department Chairperson, Albert Montanaro Jr., titled "Survey of Media/Communication Programs at Two Year Institutions in New York State" at the National Broadcasting Society's 1993 National Convention, held recently in St. Louis ... Dr. Paul Johnston, assistant professor of English, will present a paper titled "New England Tragedy: Longfellow and the Coming Civil War" at the New York College English Association Conference to be held May 1 at New York University ... Dr. Altina Waller, professor of history, presented a paper, "The Perils of Capitalism: Entrepreneurship in Late Nineteenth-Century Northern New York," at the Eighty-Sixth Annual Meeting of the Organization of American Historians, held recently in Anaheim, Cal.

Senate Calls Informational Meeting for by-law Review

An informational meeting for the purpose of reviewing proposed bylaw changes to the Faculty Handbook is to be held Thursday, April 29 at 4:15 p.m. in the Ward Hall Lounge.

Proposed bylaw changes fall under 2.9 Standing Committee on Faculty Affairs, with 2.9.2.1. concerning responsibilities of the committee being deleted, and, also inclusive of the committee's responsibilities, 3.1.8.2.a. which is proposed to be revised and reworded.

14 Students Take Part in Annual NYS Psychology Conference

Undergraduate research in psychology was presented recently by 14 SUNY Plattsburgh students at the 28th Annual New York State Undergraduate Psychology Conference held at Nazareth College in Rochester.

The conference, organized and run each year by undergraduate students across the state under faculty supervision, drew over 100 students speaking on a variety of psychology subjects.

Students are selected for participation in the conference through a proposal that is submitted by a faculty member based on the written research by these students.

One of the faculty sponsors for the Plattsburgh students, Dr. Henry Morlock, said that he has been involved with this program for several years and has noted that it is "a great opportunity for students to present their research to others, and is an excellent way for students to interact with other students and faculty from across the state." Cynthia Lightfoot also served as a faculty participant for Plattsburgh.

According to Morlock, the conference is not the only one of its kind, but expressed that it is one of the premiere conferences of this type among approximately five or six across the country. He added that although the conference is open to all colleges and universities across the state, Plattsburgh always is noted for its high number of chosen participants.

Plattsburgh participants were: Kelle Conners and Christine Baker speaking on "Adolescent Risk-Taking and Changing Social Networks"; Lovine Johnson and Janet McWhorter presenting "The Role of Gender and Identity Status in Future Interpersonal vs. Career Concerns of College Students"; Tricia D. Bliven, Channon M. Moon, Kelly Hazel, Zhenique Isrealiani and Dave Wagnor on "Spatial Learning and Motor Activity: Changes in Monoamine Levels as Measured Through In Vivo Microdialysis"; Ron Backer and Heather Myrick spoke on "Sleep Quality and Personality"; Amy Santor on "Anxiety, Fantasy and Self-Consciousness"; and Michael Lorenzo, Allison Neveu, Hazel, Wagnor and Isrealiani on "Spatial Memory Impairment and Hyper-activity: Localization of Changes in Acetylcholine Levels and Dopamine Receptors."

Morlock said that this year's participants did a great job in making their presentations, and added that many of the Plattsburgh presenters did have the opportunity to "practice" for the conference through making presentations at "Showcase '93" earlier this semester.

Plattsburgh has played host to the conference in the past, including last year's 27th annual conference.

Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity Granter Charter; Given SA Recognition

Following a 14-month probationary period, Pi Kappa Phi fraternity has been granted a charter and 40 SUNY Plattsburgh students have been initiated to membership. The fraternity has been recognized also as a Student Association student organization.

Founded in 1904, Pi Kappa Phi's service activities focus on many serious issues facing today's college students. Those issues include AIDS, date rape, substance abuse, hazing and racial diversity.

Additionally, the organization has created its own philanthropic cause: "PUSH America," which stands for "People Understanding the Severely Handicapped." Last year, student chapters of the fraternity raised $2 million to fund awareness programs and projects related to PUSH America.

Pi Kappa Phi's initial president is Eric Frend, a junior secondary education major from Bellport.

Shea, Ouellette, Myrick and Wiseman Set Pace for Card Track & Field Athletes at SUNYAC Meet

Sophomore Kevin Shea claimed the honor of SUNYAC pole vault champion this past weekend at the SUNYAC Outdoor Track and Field Championships in Cortland, clearing the bar at 13'5 1/2". Earlier in the week, Shea placed first in the pole vault (14'3 1/4") and tied a Plattsburgh State record in the 110m hurdles (15.1s) at the Union College Lightning Open.

Sophomore Tom Ouellette was Plattsburgh's other top male performer at the SUNYAC championships, finishing second in the steeplechase with a time of 9:52.15. For the SUNYAC meet, Plattsburgh finished last in a seven-team field.

In women's competition, Heather Myrick claimed the honor of SUNYAC long jump championships in Cortland with a Davis Field record leap of 17'5.75". Myrick also placed in the triple jump at 35'6.5". Earlier in the week, at Union, she qualified for NCAA championships in the triple jump with a distance of 37'8.5".

Sophomore Jennifer Wiseman was Plattsburgh's other leading woman performer at the SUNYAC meet. Wiseman placed second in the 800m Run with a personal best time of 2:23.29 and displayed commendable determination by finishing fourth in the 400m Hurdles with a time of 70.1s. The 400 was run only 10 minutes after the 800, allowing little time for recovery.

For the SUNYAC meet, the Plattsburgh women finished 6th among seven entries.

Honoring Long-term Service to the College

Thirty-seven of the 52 members of the college community who were honored last week at a "longevity luncheon" for having devoted 25 years or more to SUNY Plattsburgh pose on the stairway linking the first and second floors of the Angell College Center. They are (please refer to the appropriate number in the photo silhouette below): 1. Sherwood Hart; 2. Dr. Sitaram Shastry; 3. Dr. Norman Teator; 4. Carolyn Belair; 5. Alice Champagne; 6. Victoria Defayette; 7. Joann Gordon; 8. Leda Bushey; 9. Helga Dore; 10. Francis Barber; 11. Antoine Barber; 12. Thomas Sears; 13. Mildred Lafave; 14. Patti Dodson; 15. Bonnie Brady; 16. Mary Turner; 17. Betty Vanderhoff; 18. Dianne Trowbridge; 19. George Mclean; 20. Leon Stone; 21. Dr. Paul Szydluk; 22. Patty Wood; 23. Dr. Marilyn Chase; 24. William Klock; 25. Palmyra Wood; 26. Sandra Murphy; 27. J. Derek Allan; 28. Carolyn Turner; 29. David Carter; 30. Carolyn Burakowski; 31. Barbara Caska; 32. Don Garran; 33. Bernard Girard; 34. Dr. Ernest Coons; 35. Dr. J. Stallard Waterhouse; 36. Leon Clodgo; and 37. Dr. Francis Bethlen. Among those in the photo, Barbara Caska, with 38 years, is the college's longevity leader. The luncheon was sponsored by the President's Office.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, April 29 — THURSDAY, May 6

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, April 29

9am — Registrar's Office course adjustment for fall 1993 class schedules. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10am — Marine Corps Officer Selection Program information table. Angell Center Lobby.

12pm — Omicron Delta Kappa Lunch with a Leader, open to members only. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Dr. John Kellermeier speaking on "Creating the Riskable Classroom: Feminist Pedagogy for General Education Mathematics" sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Blue Room.

7pm — Club International weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7pm — ASPCE Mini-Movie Series presents "Ran". Yokum CL 202.

7:20pm — Phi Alpha Theta initiation ceremony, sponsored by the History Department. Angell Center Ballrooms.

7:30pm — International Business Club weekly meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

8pm — Reading by Professor Emeritus Ben Morreale — "La Storia." Sponsored by the History Department with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — Choral Festival: "Night Music" sponsored by the Music Department. Tickets: SA members $1, faculty/staff $3, general public $5, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning April 19th. Myers Fine Arts, Hartman Theatre.

Friday, April 30

9am — Course adjustment for fall 1993 continues. Angell Center Ballrooms.

3:30pm — Asian Student Providing Cultural Enrichment meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30pm — Akeba meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

5:30pm — El Pueblo meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

5:30pm — Newman Association meeting and dinner. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7pm — Alternative Film Festival sponsored by the Anthropology Club. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "The Player" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

Saturday, May 1

9am — Bus to Montreal sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Tickets: $9 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, April 26th. Bus departs from the Rugar Street pull-off.

10am — Adopt-A-Block brunch sponsored by the Student Association. Invitation only. Angell Center Centennial Room.

11am — Tenth Annual Spring Academic Convocation sponsored by the Academic Convocation Planning Committee. Angell Center Ballrooms.

11am — Paragliding presentation sponsored by the Activities Coordination Board. Angell Center Blueroom. Live demonstration immediately following on Memorial Field.

1pm — Academic Convocation reception. Angell Center Centennial Room.

4pm — Black Greek Informational Forum sponsored by Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — Choral Festival featuring College Choral and the Cardinal Singers. Myers Fine Arts, Hartman Theatre.

Sunday, May 2

2pm — "The Kathy and Mo Show: Parallel Lives." sponsored by the Theatre Department. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $2 faculty/staff, $3 public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office show night only. Studio Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACB Sunday Night at the Movies presents "Toys" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8pm — "The Kathy and Mo Show: Parallel Lives" (see 2pm, this date, for details).

Monday, May 3

9am — Course adjustment for fall 1993 continues. Angell Center Ballrooms.

3:30pm — Retirement reception sponsored by the President's Office. Angell Center Blue Room.

4pm — Phi Kappa Phi membership meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

5:30pm — Financial Aid exit interviews Angell Center Ballroom A.

7:30pm — Council for Exceptional Children meeting. Angell Center Meeting room #4.

7:30pm — Club Canada meeting. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Environmental Action Committee meeting. Hudson Hall 028.

8pm — "The Kathy and Mo Show: Parallel Lives" (see 2pm Sunday, May 2 for details).

10:15pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, May 4

9am — Course adjustment for fall 1993 continues. Angell Center Ballrooms.

12pm — Center for Women's Concerns meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15pm — Financial Aid exit interviews Angell Center Ballroom A.

12:15pm — LGBA meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

12:15pm — Adult Student Group meeting. Angell Center Adult Student Room, second floor.

12:30pm — Cardinal Yearbook meeting. Yearbook Office, Angell Center, 3rd floor.

4:10pm — Human Services Association meeting. Ward Hall Lounge.

4:15pm — Faculty Senate meeting, open to the campus. Clinton Hall Conference Room.

4:15pm — Historical Association meeting. CV Commons.

8pm — Visual Artists Series sponsored by Art Resources. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — Symphonic Band Concert sponsored by the Music Department. Myers Fine Arts, Hartman Theatre.

8pm — Plattsburgh State Karate Club — all students are welcome. Memorial Hall Dance Studio.

8:15pm — Hillel meets. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

Wednesday, May 5

9am — Course adjustment for fall 1993 continues. Angell Center Ballrooms.

9am — Financial Aid exit interviews. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

11:30am — CVPH Blood Drive sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity. Angell Center Ballroom A.

4:15pm — Accounting and Finance Association meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

6:30pm — Multi-Perspective faculty debate of issues of current interest in Psychology and related fields, sponsored by Psi Chi. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm — Meeting for persons interested in vegetarian issues, sponsored by the Vegetarian Awareness Committee. Angell Center Meeting Room #4.

7pm — DVP David R. Mayhew "Presidential Elections and Policy Change: How Much of a Connection Is There?" Angell Center, Ballroom A.

7:30pm — Women of Ethnicity meeting. Meeting Room #5.

8pm — Circle K International meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #7.

Thursday, May 6

9am — Course adjustment for fall 1993 continues. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents "Making Face, Making Soul" — a presentation on/by/about Women of Color by Dr. Jennifer Scanlon and the students in WMS 455, sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4pm — Thirteenth Annual Student Recognition Awards Program, hosted by Omicron Delta Kappa, the National Leadership Honor Society and sponsored by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. Angell Center Ballrooms.

4pm — Men's Rugby. Sibley Field.

7pm — Club International meeting. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

8pm — "Sexual Perversity in Chicago" by David Mamet and "Unidentified Human Remains and the True Nature of Love" by Brad Fraser, sponsored by the Theatre Department. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $2 faculty/staff, $3 public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office, show night only. Myers Studio Theatre.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

NBC's Fratangelo to Receive Distinguished Alumna Award

NBC News correspondent Dawn Fratangelo will receive the Distinguished Alumna Award during spring commencement exercises at SUNY Plattsburgh on Saturday, May 15.

Fratangelo, a 1982 SUNY Plattsburgh graduate with a degree in communication, will also represent the alumni constituency as one of three graduation ceremony speakers (see related story, below).

Dawn Fratangelo

The Distinguished Alumna-Aumnus Award is presented by the college and the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association to honor graduates of SUNY Plattsburgh "for their achievements, their humanitarian efforts and/or their contributions to the college."

Fratangelo joined NBC News in the past month as a general correspondent based in the network's Chicago bureau. She previously had been with WNBC-TV, NBC's "flagship" television station in New York, where, since 1991, she was co-anchor of the station's 6 p.m. newscast. She also contributed live reports to the station's 11 p.m. newscast and was a regular substitute news anchor on NBC News "Today" and "NBC News at Sunrise."

While at WNBC, Fratangelo was credited for her series of "issue pieces" during the Democratic national convention; for her series that served as a guide for workers, fearful of their jobs in the new workplace environment; and for her field reporting on
(Continued on next page)

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • MAY 5, 1993

Kline, Rapley Join '82 Alumna as Commencement Speakers

A member of the college's Department of Theatre faculty, the president of the Student Association and an alumna who recently became a regional network correspondent for NBC news will deliver remarks during SUNY Plattsburgh's 103rd spring commencement exercises on Saturday, May 15.

This year's speakers are Dr. Ruth Kline, associate professor of theatre; SA President Michael Rapley; and Dawn Fratangelo, a 1982 graduate of the college's program in communication who recently joined the NBC network's Chicago bureau (see related story, above). Their presentations will highlight the graduation program, scheduled for 11 a.m. on May 15 in the Field House.

Kline, a member of the SUNY

Plattsburgh faculty since 1978, teaches theatre history, criticism, acting, costume design, and playwriting, and

Dr. Ruth Kline

Michael Rapley

this past year she developed two new courses for the college's General Education Program — Feminist and Ethnic Theatre, an entirely new course being instituted in theatre curriculums across the country, and Canadian-American Theatre. She has served as director, artistic director, or costume or makeup designer for more than 100 academic year and Plattsburgh Summer Theatre plays and musicals, the majority in collaboration with her late husband, Dr. Charles Kline.

In 1980, Kline received an "Excellence in Design" award from the American College Theatre Festival at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts for her costumes for that fall's production of William Shakespeare's Twelfth Night. She holds the Ph.D.

in theatre from the University of Illinois at Urbana.

SA President Rapley, a senior business economics major from Peekskill, assumed office on January 1 of this year. He had served the SA
(Continued on next page)

Plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Search Committee Adopts Guidelines for Applicant Review

With guidelines for the candidate review process adopted and a national advertising campaign under way in earnest, the college-wide Presidential Search Committee will focus next on approving the evaluation instrument the group will use in reviewing applicants. The 16-member committee meets next to consider this and related matters at 4 p.m. on Monday, May 18.

At their April 27 session, members of the committee were informed that seven applications and six nominations for the position had been received and acknowledged during the first week of the search. They also agreed to a search format whereby all committee members will review all candidate files, then work to reduce the initial list to between 25 and 30 candidates, narrow that list to 15 to 20 candidates, recommend eight or 10 finalists to bring to campus to meet with committee members only, invite five or six for a return visit, and narrow the list to three or four who would return for a second, two- or three-day visit for meetings with all campus constituencies and with SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone.

Meanwhile, the position has been advertised in The Chronicle of Higher Education, Black Issues in Higher Education, Hispanic Outlook and The Women's Review of Books. Nearly 575 letters requesting nominations, signed by College Council and Search Committee Chairperson Robert M. Garrow, have been disseminated to all member institutions in the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, all campuses in SUNY, to heads of university systems, and to black and minority institutions and organizations.

Council Meeting Set for Commencement Day

The SUNY Plattsburgh will meet next at 9 a.m. on Commencement Day, May 15, in the Sibley Hall Cafeteria.

The meeting agenda consists solely of reports by officers of the Council, the college, the Faculty Senate, the Student Association and by Council liaisons to the various offices and divisions at the college. Council meetings are open to the public.

Semester's Final WEEKLY Next Week

Next Wednesday's (May 12) issue of Weekly will be the last of the spring semester. News items or suggestions for stories are due in the Office of College Relations and Development by 4:30 p.m. on Friday, May 7.

Weekly will be published twice during the summer. The tentative dates are June 23 and July 28. The weekly schedule will resume in late August.

Fratangelo Got Her Start in TV News in the North Country (Continued from page 1) —

the disappearance of young Katie Beers, the child subsequently discovered to have been held against her will in an underground prison.

Prior to joining WNBC, Fratangelo had been co-anchor of the weekend newscasts for WCVB-TV in Boston since 1986. Before that, she served as an anchor/reporter with KFMB-TV, the CBS affiliate in San Diego. While there, she received a Southern California "Golden Mike Award" for her reporting of the AeroMexico plane crash in Cerritos, CA, in August 1986.

Fratangelo began her broadcast career at WPTZ-TV in Plattsburgh, where she anchored the 6 and 11 p.m. newscasts from 1983 through 1985.

From the start of her career, she has served as both a reporter and news anchor.

SUNY Plattsburgh's 1993 Alumna of the Year has covered a wide range of stories, including the human and economic effects of the Alaskan oil spill; an in-depth analysis of the Bush/Gorbachev summit; a series on the quality of life in Massachusetts when that state was plagued by the recession; a series of personal interviews with the victim's family in the famous Charles Stuart murder case in Boston; and an in-depth report marking the 20th anniversary of Chappaquiddick, a report that revealed, through an exclusive interview with the Grand Jury foreman, that vital information was allegedly suppressed in the case.

While an undergraduate, Fratangelo was a leading member of the college's perennial championship forensic team. She has remained close to her alma mater, endorsing the college's educational quality in student recruitment publications and serving as a member of the Centennial Campaign Committee, which raised more than $600,000 in a mini-capital campaign to create an endowment fund to meet the institution's needs in the 21st century.

Fratangelo is a native of Savannah, N.Y.

Kline, Rapley to Address '93 Spring Commencement (Continued from page 1) —

previously as a student senator and as vice president for central affairs, and he is the immediate past president of Akeba, the college's black student union.

As student body president, Rapley is responsible for an organization that has major responsibility for most student activities and that administers a yearly budget of about $700,000. He serves as the undergraduate representative on the College Council and as a member of the Board of Directors of the Plattsburgh College Foundation, and he is serving currently as one of two SA representatives on the Presidential Search Committee.

The joint faculty-student-alumnus commencement speaking arrangement was initiated in 1990 to culminate that year's year-long centennial celebration. The format has been warmly received.

Alumni Directors Welcome Warrens as 'Honorary Alumni'

President and Mrs. Charles O. Warren were honored by the SUNY Plattsburgh Alumni Association's Board of Directors Friday evening, as Alumni President Rolando Thorne '72 conferred upon them the status of Honorary Alumni.

The board had unanimously voted to confer the honor, which has previously been given to only three people — the late Dr. Edward E. Redcay, the late Dr. George W. Angell, and Willard C. Flynt, former dean of students.

Thorne read the citation, officially proclaiming the Warrens as Plattsburgh alumni during a reception attended by the board members at the President's Home. The citation read, "The SUNY Plattsburgh Alumni Association is proud to confer the status of Honorary SUNY Plattsburgh Alumni upon Charles and Nancy Warren in fond recognition of your impressive service to our alma mater. For the past six years, your devotion and dedication to SUNY Plattsburgh have been unparalleled. Without hesitation, you opened your home and your hearts to all the college's alumni. Further, you have traveled far and wide to promote the college's message and mission among distant alumni. You have worked diligently to improve the academic quality of the institution, thereby ensuring the continued value of a SUNY Plattsburgh diploma in the workplace. Because of your many efforts, SUNY Plattsburgh is today recognized throughout the region, the state and the nation as a leading educational institution. We are proud to be SUNY Plattsburgh alumni and we are proud to count you among us."

The Board also presented the Warrens with a watercolor by noted area artist Patricia Reynolds and gave President Warren a SUNY Plattsburgh chair.

Alumni Board Reviews Homecoming Events; New Brochure

The SUNY Plattsburgh Alumni Association Board of Directors held its semi-annual board meeting this past weekend.

A major topic of discussion was the upcoming Homecoming Weekend, scheduled for October 15-17. The Board reviewed the regularly scheduled events and discussed holding a special event for graduates of the 1970's. The Young Alumni Picnic, developed several years ago for 1980's graduates, has been very successful and a similar event will be inaugurated this fall for alumni of the 1970's. Details will be announced shortly.

The board reviewed and approved a draft copy of a new informational brochure which will be distributed to new students to familiarize them with the Alumni Association and its benefits to both students and alumni.

Don Garrant, executive director of the Plattsburgh College Foundation, informed the board about development activities that have taken place since their last meeting in October and upcoming events.

Additionally, the board was fully briefed on the search procedure which is currently underway to select a new college president.

Mal Lavery, the Association's executive director, informed the board about the progress of an alumni directory, to be published by the Harris Corporation in 1994 and progress toward implementation of a new membership card program for lifetime Association members.

Seven of nine Educational Opportunity Program seniors whose grade point averages of 3.0 and higher earned them 1993 Academic Achievement Awards from the SUNY Office of Special Programs join EOP staff and a participant in the college's Distinguished Visiting Alumni (DVA) program at a reception in their honor held in the Angell Center. L-R: Janine Pangburn, political science major; Sara Sample, elementary education major; Gemma Orzech, English major; Christopher Anderson, double major in mathematics and biology; Jon Provost, special education major; Marlene Fields, director of the EOP program; DVA Dr. Richard Majors, a 1977 graduate of the EOP program here who is a member of the faculty at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire and author of the recently published book, Cool Pose: the Dilemmas of Black Manhood in America; Bridget Maher, a nursing major; and Carol Robinson, an elementary education major.

Phi Eta Sigma Picks Warren for Distinguished Faculty Award

In a move that surprised no one but the recipient, Phi Eta Sigma Saturday conferred its 1993 Distinguished Faculty Award on President Charles O. Warren.

Phi Eta Sigma President Seth Turner (r) presents Distinguished Faculty Award to President Charles O. Warren.

Presentation of the award highlighted the 10th annual Spring Academic Convocation program, held in the Angell College Center Ballrooms. Created by the college's chapter of the national honor society for freshmen, the award recognizes the faculty member who, in the past year, "has demonstrated teaching effectiveness in combination with concern for freshmen and outstanding contributions to the success of freshmen."

Students inducted to the society last fall and this semester voted on the award.

Dr. David Mowry, director of the Honors Center and faculty advisor to Phi Eta Sigma, said the nomination of Warren recognized his support of the Freshman Experience program and his service as a program mentor since assuming the presidency in 1987. According to Mowry, "Society members seemed also to be very much aware of President Warren's commitment, during difficult budget times, to maintaining teaching power at the college and otherwise making the classroom experience as productive as possible."

Warren served a five-year term as provost and vice president for academic affairs at SUNY Cortland before becoming this college's chief administrative officer, and from 1979 to 1982 he was dean of arts and science at Plattsburgh. He will leave the college to assume the presidency of Lynchburg (Va.) College on July 1.

Annual Student Awards Event on for Thursday

The 13th annual Student Recognition Awards Program will be held tomorrow (May 6) at 4 p.m. in the Angell College Center Ballrooms.

The event is sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society. ODK's objectives include giving "recognition and honor for meritorious leadership and service in extracurricular activities" and promoting "outstanding scholarship and the development of general campus citizenship."

William Laundry, director of Campus Life, will preside at the program. Senior criminal justice major Edward S. Smith III, president of ODK, will give welcoming remarks, and the Hon. Clyde Rabideau, mayor of the city of Plattsburgh, Michael Rapley, president of the Student Association, and Dr. Eldridge W. Roark Jr., vice present for student affairs, will extend greetings.

A number of students will be honored for service provided to varied community organizations and agencies, and others will be recognized for service to campus programs and activities. Outstanding members of fraternities and sororities, residence hall organizations and service and social action groups also will be recognized.

Special achievement awards will be presented to students who were nominated for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges; to leading members of the Forensic Union; to leading members of ODK, including those to be cited as the Circle's "outstanding sophomores;" and to several other students who have demonstrated top leadership skills. Surprise awards include the announcement of the recipients of several scholarships.

Booster Club to Honor Student-Athletes at Picnic

More than 150 student athletes who participated in one of more intercollegiate sports during the current academic year will be honored today (May 5) at a picnic and recognition program to be held beginning at 4:30 p.m. at the Valcour Educational Conference Center.

The highlight of the event, sponsored annually by the Cardinal Booster Club, will be the announcement of the male and female student-athletes selected, respectively, to be recognized as the college's "Athletes of the Year" for 1992-93. Also, Cardinal teams in men's soccer and ice hockey will receive plaques observing their championship seasons, and awards will be presented to 49 men and women who are scheduled to graduate later this month.

The Cardinal Booster Club is an organization of alumni, businesses, faculty and staff and other friends of the college who share a commitment to foster excellence in intercollegiate sports at the college.

Gustainis Book Focuses on American Rhetoric and Vietnam War

"Rhetoric during wartime is about the creation of consensus," writes J. Justin Gustainis, associate professor of communication at SUNY Plattsburgh.

In his book, American Rhetoric and the Vietnam War, released recently by Praeger Publishers of Westport, Conn., Dr. Gustainis discusses efforts to build or destroy public support of America's most controversial war of the twentieth century. The book is one of several published in the "Praeger Series in Political Communication."

According to the publisher, the work by Gustainis analyzes "several important aspects of Vietnam era rhetoric," including presidential rhetoric, protest rhetoric and the war as portrayed in popular culture. "Broadly defining rhetoric 'as the deliberate use of symbols to persuade,' the author explores partisan use of speeches, marches, songs, military campaigns, gestures, destruction of property, comicstrips, and films."

Dr. J. Justin Gustainis

The Gustainis book is in three parts. The first, "Prowar Rhetoric," opens with a chapter devoted to the domino theory as a "condensation symbol." Subsequent chapters discuss the "hero myth" in reference to President John F. Kennedy and the Green Berets, rhetoric and the Tet Offensive, and Nixon's "Silent Majority."

Part two examines antiwar rhetoric, and includes studies of Daniel Berrigan, the Students for a Democratic Society movement, The Port Huron Statement, and the Weathermen. In his treatment of these subjects, Gustainis argues that the antiwar movement did not stop the war, and may have prolonged it.

In part three, the author analyzes Doonesbury as antiwar rhetoric, then turns to an examination of how the war has been portrayed in popular film. He includes a political, military and rhetorical chronology of the war as an appendix.

A member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty since 1982, Gustainis teaches courses in fundamentals of speech, argumentation and reasoning, persuasion, communication theory, rhetorical theory and in other areas, and he is a debate team coach. He taught previously at the University of Rhode Island and Bowling Green State University.

Gustainis has written several articles for scholarly journals and has published more than 35 book reviews in Best Sellers, and he is currently working on a book-length study of the rhetoric of Jimmy Carter. He received the Ph.D. from Bowling Green.

Frost Elected to Phi Upsilon Omicron District 1 Position

Phi Upsilon Omicron, the national honor society in home economics, recently announced the election of Associate Professor of Human Resources Marty Frost to the post of District I councilor and national council member.

Responsibilities of the district councilors include maintaining contact with the chapters in their respective districts through correspondence and visits, counseling and advising chapters as needed, and representing the district on the national council. District I comprises the 10 collegiate and alumni chapters in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New York.

A 23-year member of the honor society, Frost also has served on the National Conclave Planning Committee, the National Expansion Committee, and has spoken at several of the organization's national biennial conclaves. Frost's installation will occur at the June 26-28 nation council meeting in Orlando.

Among 34 members of the college community who participated in spring semester induction ceremonies sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society, held recently at the Newman Center, are (l-r) Dr. Edridge W. Roark Jr., vice president for student affairs and national president of ODK; John Homburger, vice president for business affairs and a 1975 graduate of the college, who was inducted to membership; and ODK officers Monica Elliott, treasurer; Ed Smith, president; and Patrick Dee, vice president.

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Donald Adams, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is the author of "Sediment Pore Water Sampling," a chapter that appears in the Handbook of Techniques for Aquatic Sediments Sampling ... Margaret Anderson, lecturer in psychology, and Dr. Peter Hornby, professor of psychology, have collaborated on two published articles and two presentations. They are the authors of "The Impact of Computerized Laboratory Activities on a Traditional Cognitive Psychology Course" and of "Incorporating Process and Product Technology in a Computerized Psychology Course" which have appeared in Rethinking the Roles of Technology in Education. They presented their research on both topics at the Tenth Annual International Conference on Technology and Education, held recently in Cambridge, Mass. ... Dr. Kenneth Adams, associate professor in the Center for Earth And Environmental Science, and senior environmental science majors Brian Hall and Marie Peterson, have received a $2,000 grant from the New York State Biological Survey to research "Fire-Structured Pine Ecosystems in Clinton County." The funds will be matched by the W.H. Miner Research Foundation to provide summer stipends for the two students ... Dr. Bruce Butterfield, associate professor of English, presented a paper on the Canadian novelist and critic Robert Kroetsch, titled "Badlands: Transforming the Boundaries of History," at the 1993 conference of the Western Social Science Association held recently in Corpus Christi, Texas ... Dr. Robert Davis, associate professor and chairperson of the Department of Hearing and Speech Science, is the author of "Frequency Selectivity in Noise-Damaged Cochleas," an article that appears in a recent issue of The Journal of Audiology. Dr. Roger Hamernik, professor and director of the Auditory Research Laboratories, and Dr. William Ahroon, senior research scientist, co-authored the article ... Dr. Thomas Morrissey, professor of English, was re-elected to the Executive Committee of the SUNY Council on Writing at that organization's annual meeting, held recently at Niagara County Community College. The Council is the University-wide organization of writing instructors and composition specialists ... Dr. Samuel Northshield, assistant professor of mathematics, has received a stipend that will enable him to participate in the federally funded Summer Intern Program in Probability and Stochastic Processes to be held from June 14 through August 6 at the Center for Mathematic Sciences at the University of Wisconsin at Madison ... Dr. Noel Smith, professor of psychology gave an invited address on "The Psi Chi Ceremony and Mind-body Dualism" at the recent installation of the Psi Chi chapter at the College of St. Joseph in Rutland, Vt. Smith also served as the installation officer for the chapter.

Charter members of the Plattsburgh College Foundation's Heritage Society gather Saturday at the home of President and Mrs. Charles O. Warren for a reception in their honor. The Heritage Society is a planned giving organization for persons who have made a commitment to SUNY Plattsburgh through a bequest, a gift of securities, the designation of the college as a beneficiary of a life insurance policy, donation of real estate, creation of a trust, or through membership in the Foundation's Pooled Income Fund. Each received an attractive recognition plaque. The charter members are front row (l-r): Irwin Joe Bornstein, Nancy Warren, James McKee, Jr. and Willard Flynt; second row (l-r): M. Gertrude Rusterholtz, Florence Callahan, Maureen Moll, Mary Garrant, M. Margaret Peg Ryan and Doris McKee; and third row (left to right): Marie Beemer, Martin D. Mannix, Jr., Peg Mannix, President Warren, Robert Moll, Olive Flynt, Elizabeth Kelly, Don Garrant, Clara Johnson, Malcolm Lavery and Virginia Damianos.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, May 5 — SATURDAY, May 15

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, May 6

12:10pm — Women's Studies Forum presents "Making Face, Making Soul" — a presentation on/ by/about Women of Color by Dr. Jennifer Scanlon and the students in WMS 455, sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15pm — Transfer Club meeting. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4pm — Thirteenth Annual Student Recognition Awards Program, hosted by Omicron Delta Kappa, the National Leadership Honor Society and sponsored by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. Angell Center Ballrooms.

4pm — Men's Rugby Game sponsored by Recreational Sports. Sibley Field.

7:30pm — The Topical Discussion Group presents "A Reading from Borderlands, Poems and various aspects of Old World-New World cultural values and conflicts" by Thomas Braga. Myers Fine Arts Gallery Lounge, Room 232.

7:30pm — Open Discussion: "Black Consciousness in Present Day South Africa," sponsored by African-American Studies. Contact Brian Shurr (ext. 4249). for more information. Ballroom B, Angell College Center.

8pm — "Sexual Perversity in Chicago" by David Mamet and "Unidentified Human Remains and the True Nature of Love" by Brad Fraser, sponsored by the Theatre Department. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $2 faculty/staff, $3 public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office, show night only. Myers Fine Arts, Studio Theatre.

Friday, May 7

3pm — Omicron Delta Kappa regular meeting, open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7pm — Alternative Film Festival sponsored by the Anthropology Club. Angell Center Conference Room.

8pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Enchanted

April" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8pm — Jazz Ensemble Concert sponsored by the Music Department. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

10pm — Pajama Party sponsored by Sigma Pi Theta. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Saturday, May 8

2pm — "Sexual Perversity in Chicago" by David Mamet and "Unidentified Human Remains and the True Nature of Love" by Brad Fraser, sponsored by the Theatre Department. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $2 faculty/staff, $3 public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office, show night only. Myers Fine Arts, Studio Theatre.

4:30pm — Sigma Delta Tau Senior Ceremony, open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8pm — "Sexual Perversity in Chicago" by David Mamet and "Unidentified Human Remains and the True Nature of Love" by Brad Fraser, sponsored by the Theatre Department. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $2 faculty/staff, $3 public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office, show night only. Myers Fine Arts, Studio Theatre.

Sunday, May 9

6:45 and 9:15pm — ACBSunday Night at the Movies presents "A FEW GOOD MEN" sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $1 SA Members and $2 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Tuesday, May 11

1pm — End-of-Year Party and Reception for Women's Studies Associates and Friends, including a slide and photo presentation on the recent March on Washington. Awards will be announced at 2 p.m.

Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
3:30pm — Farewell Reception for Dr. and Mrs. Warren. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Wednesday, May 12

2:30pm — Internship Supervisors meeting, sponsored by the Counseling Department. Open to members only. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

Thursday, May 13

4:30pm — Management Club Presentation. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Friday, May 14

12:30pm — Reception for Graduating Nursing Students sponsored by the Department of Nursing. Angell Center Blue Room.

2pm — 7th Annual Senior Clambake sponsored by Alumni Association, CAS, Campus Life, Marriott and the Student Association. Open to Graduating Seniors, their guests, and faculty/staff. Tickets: (Pre-sale) $5 Senior, $11 guests and faculty/staff, (Day of Event) $8 Senior, $14 guests and faculty/staff on sale at the Angell Center Desk. (Please check Clambake Poster for guidelines regarding who is eligible to attend and the type of I.D. that is necessary.) Angell Center Courtyard.

Saturday, May 15

11am — 103rd Commencement Ceremony. Tickets required for admission. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

Notes

Plattsburgh Little Theatre presents "The Cemetery Club," a comedy in two acts by Ivan Menchell, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Performances will be on Friday, May 21, Saturday, May 22 and Sunday, May 23, all at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are $5 per person, reserved seating, on sale at the Office of Campus Life. For more information call 564-3824.

CURRENT POSITION VACANCIES

Faculty

Anthropology - Instructor/Vis. Prof. - Fall '93 - Deadline - open

Arts & Science Vitae Bank - Lecturer P/T - Fall '93 & Spring '94 - Deadline-open-Art, Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, English, Foreign Language & Literature, History, Math, Music, Psychology, Sociology, Theatre, Women's Studies

Biology - Asst. Prof. - (2) Fall '93 - open

Business & Economics - P/T Vita Bank - Deadline - open
Center for Earth & Environmental Science - Asst. Prof. (1) - Fall '93-deadline-open, Geology-Asst.Prof.-Fall '93-deadline-5/14/93.

Center for Lifelong Learning - P/T Adjunct Faculty - Extension sites Spring & Summer '93 - Deadline - open Communication (2 positions) - Full-time Assistant Professor - Fall 1993 - Deadline - open

Foreign Language-Spanish - Part-time Lecturer Vitae Bank - Deadline open, Asst.Prof. (1)-Full-time-Fall '93, Deadline - open

History (2 positions) Full-Time-Vis. Instructor/Asst. Prof.-Fall-93 Deadline - open

Music - Full-Time Assistant Professor - Fall 1993 - Deadline - open

EOP Summer Instructors (6 positions); Language Arts (2), Communications (2), Math (2) - 7/5/93-8/6/93-Deadline - 5/10/93

Teacher Education - Asst.Prof. (5 positions) Reading (1), Curriculum & instruction (3), Science Education (1) - Fall 1993 - Deadline - open

Professional

Campus Life Staff Assistant -Full-time-8/12/93-Deadline-open

College Physician-Full-time-8/93-Deadline-Open

President - January 1994 - Deadline-open

Research Foundation:

Upward Bound - Summer Faculty - Deadline - Open
Complete details are available in the Research Foundation, Kehoe - 7th Floor

SUNY/Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer. It is the policy of this College to provide equal opportunity in employment for all qualified persons without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, handicap, or veterans status.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and edited and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday of the week prior to publication.

1,000 to Receive Degrees at 103rd Commencement on Saturday

More than 1,000 students will receive degrees during SUNY Plattsburgh's 103rd commencement exercise to be held Saturday (May 15) at the college Field House.

A standing-room-only crowd is expected to witness the event, which begins at 11 a.m. President Charles O. Warren will preside at the ceremony.

The processional will feature Nelhybel's Toccata and Fugue and Karg-Elert's March Triomphale, and these works will be performed by the College Brass Ensemble and Organ under the direction of Dr. Marshall Onofario, assistant professor of music at the college. The invocation will be delivered by the Rev. Linda McIntyre, pastor of the Ellenburg United Methodist Church.

The Cardinal Singers, directed by Dr. Edward Lundergan, assistant professor of music, will sing The National Anthem and the college's Alma Mater. President Warren will recognize the recipients of the University Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Teaching, Professional Service and Librarianship.

This year's Chancellor's Award winners are Dr. John McCormick, associate professor of computer science, for excellence in teaching; Dr. Ingrun Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs, for excellence in professional service; and Dr. Dennis Kimmage, head of information and instructional services, Feinberg Library, for excellence in librarianship (see related story, below).

Rolando A. Thorne of Atlanta, a 1972 SUNY Plattsburgh graduate and president of the Plattsburgh Alumni Association, will present the 1993 Distinguished Alumnus Award. The recipient is Dawn Fratangelo '82, who joined NBC News in April as a general correspondent based in the network's Chicago bureau.

(Continued on page 5)

PUBLISHED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE PLATTSBURGH COLLEGE COMMUNITY • MAY 12, 1993

Kimmage, Lafleur, McCormick to Receive Chancellor's Awards

Three members of the SUNY Plattsburgh campus community — one from each eligible constituency — have been selected to receive Chancellor's Awards for Excellence for their professional performance.

The office of SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone notified the college late last week that the awards have been approved for Drs. Dennis Kimmage, Ingrun Lafleur and John W. McCormick. Kimmage, head of information and instructional services in Feinberg Library, will received the award for excellence in librarianship; Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs, will be recognized for excellence in professional service; and McCormick, associate professor of computer science, will be honored for excellence in teaching.

The achievement of the three will be acknowledged during spring commencement exercises on Saturday approved and very happy for all three recipients," commented SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren. "The career performance of each has been marked by a high level of energy and enthusiasm, and our college and our students in particular are the beneficiaries of their extraordinary and unselfish commitment to excellence. They are truly model faculty and staff and highly valued colleagues."

The award program, now in its 21st year, was established to honor faculty and professionals for outstanding service to the University.

The college's 1993 recipients were recommended for the award by a campus selection committee es-

(Continued on page 2)

Dr. Kimmage

Dr. Lafleur

Dr. McCormick

(May 15). Each will receive a commemorative medallion to be worn at formal academic ceremonies.

"We are delighted that our recommendations have been established by the Faculty Senate's Faculty Affairs Committee and composed of students and faculty, and endorsed by President Warren.

Congratulations and Good Luck to the Class of '93

Chancellor's Awards Honor Kimmage, Lafleur, McCormick (Cont. from p. 1)

Kimmage joined the college in 1976 as reference librarian and was appointed to his current post in 1982. He served a six-month term in 1986 as acting director of libraries, and for the past ten years he has been an associate in the Center for the Study of Canada. Before beginning his career as a librarian, he was an assistant professor of Russian for six years at SUNY Binghamton.

Kimmage has been a steady force at the college behind the rapid transition of reference services to a computerized environment, having introduced numerous net technologies to speed and enhance the information search. In service, he has been willing consistently to share his talents as a linguist and humanist with students, faculty, guests of the college and area citizens involved in programs and activities related to Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union. In scholarship, he has integrated successfully his two areas of expertise, librarianship and Russian studies, to earn international recognition as an expert in both areas as well as in Russian libraries.

Kimmage is the author of the book, Russian Libraries in Transition: An Anthology of Glasnost Literature, published last year by MacFarland Publishers. He was co-organizer of a May-June 1992 "Russian-American Seminar on Critical Thinking and the Library," the first grassroots conference of librarians ever held in Russia and one that received widespread attention in that country.

Lafleur came to SUNY Plattsburgh in her current role in 1985, with responsibility for the college's General Education program and for designing and coordinating transfer articulation agreements with the University system's two-year colleges. She had served previously as dean and chairperson of the Division of General Studies at Stockton State College (N.J.).

The presentation supporting Lafleur's nomination for the award credits her for developing "an outstanding General Education program ... (one that) compares favorably to national programs, especially to those with an emphasis on curriculum inclusion and global perspectives." It notes her efforts in developing workshops and symposia that explored different aspects of the General Education curriculum; in implementing the "Conversations on Teaching" series which brought distinguished speakers to campus and provided a forum in which Plattsburgh faculty could share their own innovative pedagogical strategies; and in obtaining $90,000 from the SUNY Joint Ventures Fund to hire faculty to develop initiatives for curriculum inclusion projects, for recruitment of minority students into teaching and for foreign language instruction for teacher education.

Under Lafleur's direction SUNY Plattsburgh has developed articulation agreements with 30 University community colleges, and she collaborated in a successful application for a $250,000 grant from the Fund for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education for use in developing programs to improve the educational experiences and retention rate of transfer students. A year ago Lafleur received the women's studies program's Distinguished Service Award, and she obtained a grant from the GTE Corporation for a lectureship program titled "Technology, Ethics, Environment: Connecting the Local to the Global" which supported a series of symposia involving visiting lecturers, SUNY Plattsburgh faculty and students and members of the local community held throughout the current academic year.

The summary presentation on McCormick calls attention to his "unique ability to motivate students and generate a thirst for knowledge well beyond information provided in classroom lectures." It also notes his ability to "create an environment that is challenging, yet supportive" while maintaining high standards for his students.

A member of the faculty since 1978, McCormick's teaching agenda ranges from introductory courses for new students to specialized classes for seniors. Besides the traditional lecture, he employs a variety of teaching techniques, notably the use of a model railroad laboratory to develop real-time software.

McCormick received a grant from the National Science Foundation to purchase equipment for a real-time systems laboratory, where students use the model railroad to apply programming skills to solve complex problems. His laboratory has been copied by numerous colleges and universities not only in the U.S. but also in Japan, Brazil and Spain. In 1991, his research on model railroads and software engineering was awarded "best paper" and "best presentation" at the annual national conference of the Association of Computing Machinery.

McCormick was instrumental in the establishment and ongoing maintenance of computing facilities for students, including acquisition of a mainframe computer in the college's Academic Computing Center that is dedicated for student use. Student evaluations of McCormick's performance in the classroom rate him at the high end of the scale, and student reports consistently describe him as "a challenging but fair" educator. He is rated similarly for accessibility to students and for his helpfulness as academic advisor to more than 60 undergraduates.

Dawson to Embark on Research Trip to Ussuri River Basin

Helping to save an endangered species is not an everyday occurrence. Becoming part of an American team to help out the People's Republic of China and the Russian Federation also isn't something that one does very often.

Throw in developing a land use policy for a 2,000-mile area and you have the five-week project in which SUNY Plattsburgh professor Dr. James Dawson is participating.

Dawson, SUNY Distinguished Service Professor and professor in the college's Center for Earth and Environmental Science, has been chosen to participate in a joint Chinese-Russian-American interdisciplinary team to develop a comprehensive program of land use policy for the Ussuri River basin in the Russian Far East and China. Within the Ussuri watershed are the last viable populations of Siberian tiger and the habitats of the Japanese and white-naped crane, as well as the only remaining Asian leopards living just outside of the southern boundary.

Dawson's role in the project is to serve as the mineral reserves specialist who will make recommendations on where and how the countries' mining of coal and heavy metals can continue and not impede upon the habitats of these endangered animals.

According to the draft proposal, "This three-year project is designed to initiate cooperative and complementary land use and resource development policies between the People's Republic of China and the Russian Federation along one of the biologically richest regions of their 2,000-mile common border."

The Ussuri River, historically the site of border disputes, is currently experiencing trade expansion; and although disputes have largely been resolved, tensions still continue over the use of the riverine resources, trans-border pollution, declining salmon runs, and the management of endangered wildlife. China's growing population and rapid economic growth, combined with Russia's devolution of power to the provinces and recent opening of Vladivostok to international trade, and the promotion of market economies in both countries, are placing the project area's natural resources under pressure. According to the proposal, it was for these reasons that both sides decided to take a look at establishing comprehensive land allocation policies.

The American role in the project was generated due to a lack of follow-through by both the Chinese and Russians. The proposal noted that both sides' officials expressed "enthusiastic hope that the Americans could 'deliver' the cooperation of the other side."

The nine-person American team consists of specialists in public resource policy, environmental and land use law, ecology, forestry, land use planning, soil science/agronomy, resource economics, mineral resources, and natural areas designation and management. Many American participants in the project have volunteered their time.

Dawson has been involved in similar projects in the past, including serving on the United States-Russia Lake Baikal watershed and Mongolia comprehensive land use projects in 1992-93, and in environmental and natural resource policy development in New York State with emphasis on the Adirondack region and Lake Champlain basin. Through his various projects in the past, he has worked with a number of the American team members that will be taking part in this upcoming project.

In commenting on the upcoming project, Dawson said, "This is an important project, and is one of a few that are centered around the preserving of certain endangered species. The project gives us the opportunity to do something for these countries' economies as well, which may allow them to grow and expand — and if we can walk away afterwards with accomplishing these things, I think we will have done a good thing.

"It really will be a wonderful experience for me to be able to do something for these countries," he added.

A member of the college's faculty for 23 years, Dawson is the author of more than 40 publications emphasizing land use and public environmental policy, and is instrumental in UNESCO's designation of Champlain-Adirondack Biosphere Reserve. He is a member of the International Union of Geological Sciences, and he was recently appointed to the New York State Board of Regents.

Dawson embarks on the trip on Friday, May 24 and will be returning to Plattsburgh on June 20.

Phi Epsilon Chi's Ban Lifted Probationally

Phi Epsilon Chi's suspension has been lifted.

In a letter dated April 15, SUNY Plattsburgh Vice President for Student Affairs Eldridge W. Roark notified the fraternity that, effective that date, it may again function "with all of the attendant rights and responsibilities" of all other recognized Greek organizations.

Phi Epsilon Chi had been suspended on January 20, 1992. It has been reinstated on probation through April 15 of next year.

Conditions of probation include ongoing review of the fraternity status, development of a case-specific pledge education program covering Phi Epsilon Chi's next two pledge classes, and submission of monthly reports indicating the degree to which the fraternity is meeting its community service obligation. Prior to its suspension, Phi Epsilon Chi had achieved distinction for having won the Presidents' Cup, awarded annually at Homecoming for service-oriented activities, more than any other campus organization.

Dr. James Dawson

119 to Graduate With Honors; Eight Summa Cum Laude

One-hundred nineteen degree candidates — roughly 12 percent of the total number of undergraduates eligible to participate in the ceremony — will receive their degrees with honors during commencement exercises scheduled for 11 a.m. Sunday (May 15) in the college Field House.

The 1993 printed commencement programs lists the names of eight students who will receive degrees Summa Cum Laude (with highest honors, or grade point average between 3.9 and 4.0); 29 who will graduate Magna Cum Laude (with high honors, with GPA's in the range of 3.7 to 3.89); and 82 who have earned Cum Laude (with honors, with GPA's between 3.4 and 3.69) distinction.

The honors graduates, their majors and home towns, are:

Summa Cum Laude — Lawrence Belasco, Political Science, Malone; Peter Stephen Benson, Elementary Education N-6, Saranac Lake; Susan Marie Bryant, Psychology, Port Henry; Keith B. Henry, Accounting, Constable; Kathleen A. Lemza, Environmental Science, Port Henry; Thelma J. Moore, Mathematics, Nashville, Ind.; Gretchen S. Sando, Psychology, Plattsburgh; and Gary F. Strubel, Anthropology, Latham.

Magna Cum Laude — Bernadette S. Baretsky, Accounting, Dannemora; Robin M. Belzile, Elementary Education N-6, Willisboro; Gerald Henry Capria, Art (Art Studio) North Syracuse; Lysa N. Clark, Biology, Las Vegas, Nev.; Michelle A. Conners, Hearing & Speech Science, Morrisonville; Cynthia S. Dukette, Accounting (Professional), Plattsburgh; M. Beth Gallagher-Forster, Elementary Education N-6, Science 7-9, AuSable Forks; Belgin Erkan Hanson, Nursing (Registered Nurse Option), Plattsburgh; Delbert Ralph Hart, Mathematics/Computer Science (Software Systems), Ellenburg; Christine M. Hines, Hearing & Speech Science, West Sayville; Joan Barbara Hogan, Human Services, West Chazy; Darcy Lee Hudson, Special Education K-12, Westport; Rebecca A. Jabaut, Elementary Education N-6, Morrisonville; Amanda Marie Jankowski, Psychology, East Syracuse; Machi Kudo, 3 + 2 Spanish, Tokyo, Japan; Patience

Lynne Landry, Mathematics/Secondary Education Mathematics 7-12, Plattsburgh; Helen McNamara, Elementary Education N-6, Syracuse; Cynthia Ann Menz, Theatre, Rochester; Tanya Marie Merlow, Elementary Education N-6, Hudson Falls; Colleen A. Murphy, Special Education, Redford; Joseph Joshua Rebhan, Biochemistry, Kenmore; Kelly Jo Rose, Psychology, Fultonville; Donna Anne Stefano, 3 + 2 French, Rochester; Amy R. St. John, Art, Plattsburgh; Adam Thompson Stone, English, Newburgh; Edna Mae Stone, Elementary Education N-6, Plattsburgh; Jessica Robertson Todd, Physics, Saranac Lake; and Rebecca Anne Woodcock, Elementary Education N-6, Queensbury.

Cum Laude — Robert G. Ahrens, Physics, Farmingdale; Jacob Paul Alabiso, English, Grand Island; Christopher Page Anderson, Environmental Science, Moriah Center; Jeanne Araujo, Business (Marketing), Central Islip; Susan M. Archer, English, Plattsburgh; David J. Ashline, Medical Technology, Rouses Point; Deanna L. Babcock, Nursing, Penfield; Darren George Barkman, Speech Communication, Cobleskill; Debora Jean Biondo, Elementary Education N-6, Cohoes; Tricia Dawn Bliven, Psychology, Salisbury Mills; G. Joseph Boisclair, Criminal Justice, Salem; Kimberly Ann Bourgeois, Elementary Education N-6, West Chazy; Thomas Michael Brothers, Psychology, Massena; Angell Lynn Bruce, Elementary Education N-6, Schuylerville; Brigit A. Burt, Environmental Science, Jamesville; Amanda E. Byrnes, Elementary Education N-6, Poughkeepsie; Nicole Rose Carter, Elementary Education N-6, Ellenburg Center; Cherie Patricia Chovan, Food And Nutrition, North Syracuse; Kelle A. Conners, Psychology, Plattsburgh; Stephanie D. Cook, Nursing, Chateaugay; Nicole Anne Cunningham, Food and Nutrition, Bombay; Cheri Lynne Czaban, Accounting, Alplaus; Lisa Marie Daiute, Elementary Education N-6, Amsterdam; Carol Ann Deyo, Elementary Education N-6, Mathematics 7-9, Altona; Roy Robert Dumas, Political Science, Mooers; Joanne Lee Elsasser, Accounting, Batavia; Karie Ann Fagan, Elementary Education N-6,

Monroe; Kristen F. Ferris, Elementary Education N-6, Schenectady; Sharon Joy Flicker, Elementary Education N-6, Bayside; Melba Foronda Frey, Nursing, Sacramento, Calif.; Eric Ian Gibson, Secondary Education English 7-12, Ellenburg Depot; JoAnne M. Groff, Elementary Education N-6, Watertown; Sherry Ann Healing, Psychology, Plattsburgh; George J. Hoffman Jr., Political Science, Crayville; Tracie Louise Hopkins, Anthropology, Plattsburgh; Andrew M. Hotaling, Accounting, Cobleskill; Jennifer Ann Hussey, Hearing & Speech Science, Massapequa Park; Melissa Beth Immesoete, Elementary Education N-6, Canandaigua; Brigitte L. Jean, Psychology, Plattsburgh; Jody A. Jessey, Communication: Mass Media, Plattsburgh; Cheryl Jones, Elementary Education N-6, North Syracuse; Kathleen F. Joslyn, Psychology, Jamestown; Kumiko Karita, Mathematics, Kanagawa, Japan; Amy Louise Kohanski, Food and Nutrition, Plattsburgh; Suzy Anne LaMay, Special Education, Massena; Michael Fredrick Lambert, History, Plattsburgh; Lori L. Lomax, Hotel & Restaurant Management, Warrensburg; Jennifer Emmy Lucas, Business (Marketing), Saratoga Springs; Kelly M. Lynch, Business (Management), Glenham; Douglas Mackenzie Jr., Communication: Mass Media, Sloatsburg; Marlo Marie Manico, Business (Marketing), Newtonville; Jacqueline L. Mazur, Geography, Plattsburgh; Christopher James McCabe, Elementary Education N-6, Albany; Michele McCloud, Special Education, Peru; Janet S. McWhorter, Psychology, Argyle; Karen Lynn Munro, Special Education K-12, Albany; Lorraine Nancy Nardone, Elementary Education N-6, English, 7-9, Poughquag; Leslie Gerdinier Orelup, Nursing, Shoreham, Vt.; Melisia Padilla Perez, Accounting, Plattsburgh; Alicia Jodi Porter, Elementary Education N-6, Richmondville; Kari Ann Marie Poust, Elementary Education N-6, Mathematics 7-9, Morrisonville; Stacey Leigh Purdy, Elementary Education N-6, Keene; Steven D. Purkis, Secondary Education Biology 7-12, East Worcester; Heidi Lynn Rabideau, Elementary

(Continued on next page)

Bates, Harvey, Turner Are ODK's Sophomores of the Year

Three undergraduates share the distinction of being named Omicron Delta Kappa's "Sophomores of the Year" for 1993.

Maggie Bates, a double major in English and anthropology from Dryden, Seth Turner, a special education major from Mechanicville, and Carrie Harvey, a special education major from Chazy, received the honor at Thursday's 13th annual Student Recognition Program sponsored by SUNY Plattsburgh's Circle of ODK, the national leadership honor society. This spring's selections mark the first time in at least four years that ODK settled on three recipients — the maximum allowed in any given year.

Bates is a member of the Student Association's Central Affairs Board, the SA's Judicial Board, the Intercollegiate Athletic Board (IAB) and its finance committee, and she is secretary of Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman honor society. She has served as a dorm council secretary, an AIDS Quilt volunteer, a Scholars Weekend hostess, this year's SUNY Plattsburgh delegate to the Northeast Region Honors Council, and as a member of the staff of Cardinal Points, the student newspaper.

Turner, who was selected recently as a 1993-94 resident assistant, is the current president of Phi Eta Sigma and a member of the Honors Council. He is a member of Theta Kappa Beta fraternity and of the Greek Council and the Council's standards board. He has served as an Educational Opportunity Program tutor-counselor, and he represented the college's chapter of Phi Eta Sigma at that organization's recent conference at Purdue University.

Harvey, currently a resident assistant and SA senator, has been a member of IAB and its finance committee for the past two years, and she, too, served as an AIDS Quilt volunteer. She also serves as a Special Olympics volunteer, a BOCES volunteer and as a member of the Who's Who Selection Committee.

Omicron Delta Kappa's Sophomores of the Year are (l-r) Carrie Harvey, Seth Turner and Maggy Bates.

Honors Graduates

Continued from page 4)

Education N-6, Mathematics 7-9, Cadyville; Kristie Elizabeth Reed, Psychology, Port Henry; Meredith Shawne Ripps, Elementary Education N-6, Baldwin; Gerald S. Rock, History, Aurora, Colo.; Edward Alexander Ross, Business (Marketing), Schenectady; Carin Jocelin Rounds, Elementary Education N-6, Bainbridge; Christine Rose Ruggiero, Business (Marketing), Nanuet; Sara L. Sample, Elementary Education N-6, Champlain; Deborah J. Scardaccione, Elementary Education N-6, Science 7-9, Plattsburgh; Lee Schaller, Special Education, Plattsburgh; James A. Schoep, Criminal Justice, Clarksville; Kimberley Kristin Shields, Hearing & Speech Science, Endwell; Andrea Deanna Stamboly, Hearing & Speech Science, New Hartford; Jeanie S. Swed, Special Education K-12, Warrensburgh, Mo; Amy M. Thomas, Elementary Education N-6, Syracuse; Ruth Anne Thomas, Elementary Education N-6, Schuylerville; Kathleen Mary Todd, Elementary Education N-6, Buffalo; David C. Toulson, Hotel & Restaurant Management, Vestal; and Karen E. Trudo, Elementary Education N-6, Saranac.

1,000 to Graduate Saturday Continued from page 1)

Following the ceremony format introduced four years ago, Fratangelo will be the first of three speakers representing the college's alumni, faculty and student constituencies, respectively. Following her remarks, Dr. Ruth Kline, associate professor of theatre, and Michael Rapley, president of the Student Association, will give brief commencement addresses.

Dr. E. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs, will present the candidates for degrees. President Warren will confer the degrees and Robert M. Garrow '52, chairperson of the College Council, and Wayne H. Byrne, the Council's vice chairperson, will award the diplomas.

The benediction will be given by the Rev. John Kennehan, pastor of John XXIII College Community, Plattsburgh.

A reception for graduates, parents, relatives, friends, and faculty and staff will be held immediately following the ceremony on the lawn in front of the Field House, or in the event or rain, in the Ronald B. Stafford Ice Arena.

Class of 1992 Shows 93.7 Percent Employment Success

If the Class of 1992's success in the job market is a barometer for what's in store for the Class of '93, students who become SUNY Plattsburgh alumni on Saturday have reason for optimism.

The preliminary results of the "Alumni Career Survey" of 1992 graduates conducted over the past several months by the college's Career-Life Planning Center have been tabulated, and the analysis shows that 93.7 percent of respondents who sought employment have found it. The figure represents a decline of eight-tenths of one percent in a year's time. But, says

Higgins Re-elected Senate Chairperson for Academic '93-94

Dr. Patricia Higgins, professor of anthropology, has been re-elected as chairperson of the Faculty Senate. Senate elections for academic 1993-94 were held last Tuesday.

Dr. John Myers, professor of history, will serve as vice chairperson and Patricia Hoffman, lecturer and program writing assistant in the School of Business and Economics, will be secretary. Executive Committee members at-large are Dr. Mohamed Gaber, associate professor of accounting, and Dr. Thomas Morrissey, professor of English.

The Senate also elected or re-elected the following persons to serve as Senate chairpersons: Leith Bardon, associate professor in the Department of Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports, College Services; Edward Brohel, director of the SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum, Resources and Planning; Dr. George Flynn, professor of physics, Academic Policies; Dr. William Teator, associate professor of education, General Education; Dr. Daniel Vogt, associate professor of biology, Faculty Affairs; and Dr. Kathleen Whittier, assistant professor of education, Curriculum and Programs.

Patrick Lennahan, director of the Center, the drop is insignificant — especially when national employment and unemployment statistics are taken into consideration.

The Center sent surveys to 1,488 May 1992 graduates, and received replies to more than half of them. The analysis takes into account the number who report full-time and part-time employment and who are looking for jobs or say they are not seeking employment.

The survey also asks whether positions are related to the respondents' major field of study, and 78.3 percent — an increase of more than two percentage points — answered in the affirmative. Additionally, it asks whether "studies at SUNY Plattsburgh" prepared them satisfactorily for their current occupations or graduate studies, and

85.2 percent — about the same number as a year ago — said "yes."

Fifteen percent of the '92 graduates, down a fraction in comparison with the previous year's class, are pursuing education on a full-time basis. However, those who doing graduate work part time dropped by four percentage points, from 23.5 percent reported for the Class of '91 to 19.5 for last May's graduates.

Average salaries are up slightly, and pay for women employed full time is inching toward parity with their male counterparts. Starting salaries for all graduates with full-time jobs average $23,906, with men earning $25,521 on the average compared to $23,027 for women. While the difference remains at roughly $2,500, the gap narrowed by $66 in a year's time and it has closed by more than $1,000 over the past five years.

Eight members of the faculty and staff who have retired recently or will soon do so were honored by their peers — including several who have preceded them into retirement — at a reception held last Monday under sponsorship of CSEA, UUP and the Office of the President. They are (seated, l-r): Barbara Caska, secretarial stenographer, June McElwain, cleaner, and Eileen Benton, associate professor of nursing, and (standing, l-r) Dr. Ralph Clark, professor of biology, Dr. James Olmsted, professor of geology, Lawrence Arcarese, associate professor of communication, Dr. Harold Klein, associate professor of biology, and William Klock, professor of art.

Myrick, LaValley, Whitman Earn Athlete-of-the-Year Honors

An All-America jumper, a national statistical champion and an All-State soccer player have been named as the college's "Athletes of the Year for 1992-93.

Seniors Heather Myrick (Plattsburgh), Alicia LaValley (Canton) and state champion and two-time ECAC champion. This year, Myrick earned the title as SUNYAC long jump champion, setting a stadium record in the process.

Academically, Myrick has been named to the PEARS All-Academic Team, SUNYAC All-Academic Team and the SUNY Plattsburgh dean's list. She gave presentations at Showcase '93 and the 28th annual New York State Undergraduate Psychology Conference. She has been involved in a research apprenticeship through Dr. Henry Morelock, quantifying results for over 250 subjects within the psychology department, and she is a peer tutor in art history and European history.

The SUNY Plattsburgh Cardinal Booster Club's Athletes of the Year for 1993 (l-r): Alicia LaValley, Marc Whitman and Heather Myrick

Marc Whitman (Gloversville) were honored as the college's top student-athletes at a year-end picnic and recognition program for all Cardinal athletes held last Wednesday at Valcour Educational Conference Center. The event was sponsored by the Plattsburgh State Cardinal Booster Club.

SUNY Plattsburgh's Athletes of the Year are selected by a committee representing the Booster Club, the Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports Department (PEARS) and the Student Association. For the first time since the awards' inception, co-Athletes of the Year — Myrick and LaValley — were unanimously chosen by the committee.

A senior psychology major with a coaching minor, Myrick was a four-year indoor track and three year outdoor track participant. She achieved All-America status twice in her career, in the long jump (1991) and the triple jump (1993), and she holds Plattsburgh State records in those events. Myrick was a four-time

LaValley, a senior with a double major in mathematics and secondary education 7-12, was four-year captain of the Cardinal women's basketball team and she started every game but one in her four-year career. She holds five school records: career steals (408), steals in one season (149), steals in one game (12), career three-point field goals (96), and three-point field goals in one game (7). She averaged more than 15 points per game in her career and finished as Plattsburgh State's second all-time leading scorer with 1,438 points. This past season, LaValley led the nation in steals per game (6.2). She was named to the SUNYAC first team.

LaValley was named to the PEARS All-Academic team three times and is a member of ODK (National Leadership Honor Society) and Kappa Delta Pi (International Honor Society in Education).

Whitman, a senior mathematics major and team captain, has been the leading scorer in soccer for the past four years. Often double-teamed by opposing defenses, Whitman scored the most goals in SUNYAC for the last three seasons and finished his career as the third all-time leading scorer in Plattsburgh State soccer history. He was one of the key ingredients to the recent success of the Cardinal soccer team, which, during his career, compiled a 57-17-9 record, shared the 1990 ECAC title, won the SUNYAC conference championship in 1992 while earning the first-ever NCAA post-season tournament bid for a Plattsburgh soccer team.

This past season Whitman set a new single-season scoring record with 17 goals. A four-time All-SUNYAC player, Whitman was the recipient of the A. Huntley Parker award as SUNYAC Player of the Year for the 1992 season, and he was named second team All-New York State by the NSCAA/UMBRO All America Committee.

Whitman was named to the fall 1992 PEARS ALL-Academic Team and the fall 1992 SUNYAC All-Academic Team after receiving a 3.66 semester G.P.A. Following graduation on Sunday, Whitman will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps and will attend flight school.

Sturm Assumes SUNYAC Presidency

Phoebe Sturm, SUNY Plattsburgh's assistant athletic director and head women's basketball coach, assumed the presidency of the State University of New York Athletic Conference (SUNYAC) today (May 12) during the organization's annual convention in Utica.

Sturm becomes the second Plattsburgh president to hold the office. Joseph Jastrab, professor emeritus of physical education and former head coach of the men's basketball team, was SUNYAC president from 1966-68.

"I'm looking forward to an enjoyable and challenging year serving as president for one of the top Division III conferences in the nation,"

(Continued on next page)

SPOTLIGHT

Three members of the faculty in the School of Business and Economics have presented papers or will do so or have published in scholarly journals. Dr. Richard Bernardi, assistant professor of accounting, gave presentations recently at the Irish Accounting and Finance Association's Conference, held in Dublin, and at the British Accounting Association Conference, held in Glasgow, Scotland ... Dr. Nancy Church, associate professor of management and marketing, will present a paper titled "Canadian Tourist Destination Marketing Strategies: Trends and Innovations" at the Administrative Sciences Association of Canada Annual Meetings to be held May 29-June 1 in Lake Louise, Alberta. Church also will chair a session on "Tourism Marketing" ... Dr. Neal Duffy, assistant professor of economics, is the author of "The Determinants of State Manufacturing Growth Rates:

Sturm Takes Over as SUNYAC President

(Continued from page 7)
commented Sturm. She will hold the position through 1993-94, then turn over the conference leadership to another SUNY Plattsburgh administrator — Peter Luguri, director of athletics, who will be conference president during 1994-95.

Sturm and Luguri, both of whom will become members of the SUNYAC Executive Committee at the end of their terms as president, have been active in conference affairs. Sturm served a two-year term as chair of the SUNYAC Women's Sports Committee, and Luguri is currently in the second year as chair of the Men's Sports Committee.

Conference presidents call and preside at all meetings of the SUNYAC Executive Committee, represent the conference at meetings of intercollegiate athletics groups, including the annual meeting of the NCAA, and serve as the official spokesperson for the conference.

A Two-Digit-Level Analysis," an article that will be published in the Journal of Regional Science ... Six students were initiated recently into the Epsilon Omega Chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, the college's chapter of the international geography honor society, by the chapter's president, Jeanne Cowan. The six are: Adam Deans, Travis Crocker, Michael Hughs, Tim Lake and

Michael Richer. Two other students — Michelle Blaauw and Ron Clements — also qualified for membership ... Dr. Mary Roark, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, was the speaker at Community College of the Air Force graduation exercises held recently at Plattsburgh Air Force Base. Her topic was "Enlightened Questions, Unfinished Answers."

AMA Collegiate Chapter Garners Three Awards

The SUNY Plattsburgh Collegiate Chapter of the American Marketing Association won three awards at the 15th Annual Collegiate Conference of the American Marketing Association, which was held recently in New Orleans.

The first award, for "Outstanding Chapter Planning," reflects "excellence in the development of the annual chapter plan." The second, for "Outstanding Chapter Programming," recognizes the club's fall semester series of speakers on a retailing theme. The third award, for "Outstanding Special Projects," recognizes the club for its "Etiquette Series" of four seminars.

The Plattsburgh Chapter had won only two previous national awards in its 14-year history. Edward Ross, chapter president, and John Williams, its treasurer, attended the conference and accepted the awards.

INTERSESSION LIBRARY HOURS

Sat., May 15 - Sun., May 30

| | |
|---------------------------|-----------------------|
| Hours: Mon - Fri | 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. |
| Sat - Sun | CLOSED |
| Mon., May 31 Memorial Day | CLOSED |

SUMMER SESSION I

Tues., June 1 - Fri., July 2

| | |
|------------------------|-----------------------|
| Hours: Mon - Thurs | 8:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m. |
| Fri | 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. |
| Sat | 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. |
| Sun | CLOSED |
| Sat., Sun., July 3 & 4 | CLOSED |

SUMMER SESSION II

Mon., July 5, Aug. 6

| | |
|------------------------|-----------------------|
| Hours: Mon. - Thurs | 8:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m. |
| Fri | 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. |
| Sat | 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. |
| Sun | CLOSED |
| Sat., Sun., Aug. 7 & 8 | CLOSED |

INTERSESSION

Mon., Aug. 9 - Sun., Aug. 29

| | |
|------------------|-----------------------|
| Hours: Mon - Fri | 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. |
| Sat - Sun | CLOSED |

College Community Mourns Death of Dr. Ingrun Lafleur

Dr. Ingrun Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs and associate professor of history at SUNY Plattsburgh, died June 7 at her camp in Willsboro. She was 52.

"I know the entire college community joins me in mourning Dr. Ingrun Lafleur," said President Charles O. Warren. "She was a dedicated and tireless colleague, an outstanding administrator and a wonderful friend to all who knew her. She demonstrated remarkable courage through a devastating illness while retaining a positive outlook on life and living and her distinctive and deeply appreciated sense of humor. Ingie Lafleur will be sorely missed."

Dr. Lafleur was born June 1, 1941 in Novisad, Yugoslavia, the daughter of Nicholas Lafleur and Thea Schild. She joined SUNY Plattsburgh in 1985. As associate vice president, she was responsible for the college's General Education program and for designing and coordinating transfer articulation agreements with the SUNY system's two-year colleges. Previously, she had served as dean and chairperson of the Division of General Studies at Stockton State College.

During spring commencement exercises this past May, Dr. Lafleur was honored as the recipient of the SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Professional Service. The award nomination recognized her for developing "an outstanding General Education program," one that "com-

(Continued on next page)

The late Ingrun Lafleur

SUMMER Weekly

PUBLISHED BY THE OFFICE OF COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE COLLEGE COMMUNITY • JUNE 23, 1993

Stoller, Waller Promoted to Distinguished Professor Rank

Two SUNY Plattsburgh professors are among 17 individuals University-wide honored with promotion to "Distinguished" faculty status, the highest academic rank in the 64-campus system.

In action taken at their meeting on May 27, the University's Board of Trustees conferred the title Distinguished Service Professor on Dr. Eleanor Stoller, professor of sociology, and Distinguished Teaching Professor on Dr. Altina Waller, professor of history.

The Distinguished Service Professorship honors extraordinary service not only to the honoree's campus and to State University, but service to the broader community, the state or even the nation "by sustained effort in the application of intellectual skills drawing from his or her scholarly and research interests to issues of public concern." The Distinguished Teaching Professorship is awarded to personal and professional growth, extraordinary service to students and dedication to their intellectual growth, and adherence to the highest standards of academic excellence."

"Both Dr. Stoller and Dr. Waller richly deserve this recognition, and I join their students and colleagues in offering them sincere congratulations," commented President Charles O. Warren. "Eleanor Stoller's contributions in research and scholarship are clearly exceptional, and she merges her admirable achievements as a teacher and

Professor Stoller

Professor Waller

sons who have demonstrated outstanding teaching competence over a period of years... (and it) honors and rewards "consistently superb teaching, mastery of teaching skills, scholarship into a career of meaningful service to others that is unparalleled. Altina Waller is a rare teacher who truly engages her students in innova-

(Continued on next page)

Good Luck and Godspeed to Charlie and Nancy Warren!

Lafleur Received Chancellor's Award in May (Continued from page 1)

pared favorably to national programs, especially to those with an emphasis on curriculum inclusion and global perspectives. It noted her efforts in developing workshops and symposia that explored different aspects of the General Education program; in implementing the "Conversations on Teaching" series which brought distinguished speakers to campus and provided a forum in which Plattsburgh faculty could share their own innovative pedagogical strategies; and in obtaining $90,000 from the SUNY Joint Ventures Fund to hire faculty to develop initiatives for curriculum projects, for recruitment of minority students into teaching and for foreign language instruction for teacher education.

Under Dr. Lafleur's direction, SUNY Plattsburgh developed articulation agreements with 30 University community colleges, and she collaborated in a successful application for a $250,000 grant from the Fuld for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education for use in developing programs to improve the educational experiences and retention rate of transfer students.

In 1992, Dr. Lafleur received the women's studies program's Distinguished Service Award, and she obtained a grant from the GTE Corp. for a lectureship program titled "Technology, Ethics, Environment: Connecting the Local to the Global." This program supported a series of symposia involving visiting lecturers, SUNY Plattsburgh Faculty and students and members of the local community held throughout the 1992-93 academic year.

Survivors include a domestic partner, Penelope Dugan of Plattsburgh, and her mother and brother, both of San Diego, Calif. A memorial service, open to the public, will be held at 3 p.m. today (Wednesday, June 23) at the John XXIII Newman Center on Broad Street in Plattsburgh. Light refreshments will follow the ceremony.

Donations in Dr. Lafleur's memory can be made to High Peaks Hospice or to the Plattsburgh College Foundation in care of the Foundation's Ingrid G. Lafleur Scholarship Fund.

Stoller, Waller Elevated to SUNY's Highest Rank (Continued from page 1)

tive and creative research and allows them to pursue intellectual endeavors in ways they never dreamed possible."

According to her nomination narrative, "Professor Stoller's scholarly research, her work with countless regional and local human service agencies, her many publications and presentations to disseminate her research findings, and her many contributions to the Plattsburgh campus are truly extraordinary." Stoller joined the Plattsburgh faculty in 1973 as an assistant professor of sociology. She was promoted to associate professor in 1978 and to full professor in 1985, and for the past five years she has served as coordinator of the women's studies program. From 1980 through 1983 she served as chairperson of the sociology department.

Professor Stoller has received nearly $1,120,000 in grants and contracts from federal agencies for research in the field of gerontology, particularly health care for the elderly. She has helped define the field of gerontology by developing concepts that have become critical to understanding the management of long-term health care for the elderly. She is the author or co-author of dozens of articles that have been published in leading journals related to aging, medical care, marriage and the family, nursing research, ethnicity, death and dying and other topics in her areas of expertise. She has given numerous presentations and public lectures at national, state and regional meetings, and she has served as a consultant to varied organizations, including Hospice Care of Northeastern New York, the Health Systems Agency of Northeastern New York in Albany, the Clinton County Home for the Aged and the Clinton County Mental Health Association. She serves on the editorial boards of the Journal of Gerontology and the Journal of Applied Gerontology and she reviews several other publications.

Professor Waller's nomination refers to her as a "widely acknowledged as an exceptionally talented teacher, (whose) service to her students and the SUNY Plattsburgh community, in addition to her contributions to scholarship on a national scale, have been consistently excellent." She is noted for setting high standards in the classroom, and her students respond well to those standards. She has had particular success working with non-traditional aged students, including several who have gone on to Ph.D. study in history at highly respected universities. Her effectiveness in the classroom was recognized a year ago when she received the SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching.

Waller came to SUNY Plattsburgh in 1983 as an associate professor. She was promoted to professor in 1988, and since 1991 she has served as chairperson of the history department. She is an authority on "the politics of culture and feuding" and the author of two critically acclaimed books, Feud: Hatfields, McCoy's and Social Change in Appalachia (1988, University of North Carolina Press), which is being used as a text at more than 20 colleges and universities, and Reverend Beecher and Mrs. Tilton: Sex and Class in Victorian America (1982, University of Massachusetts Press). Her work has been featured also in numerous articles and reviews, and she is a frequent presenter at professional conferences. Waller has received numerous awards and honors, including a National Endowment for the humanities College Teachers Fellowship, a Berea College Fellowship in Appalachian Studies and an American Council of Learned Societies Fellowship.

SSP Receives 1st Installment of 5-year, $1.39 Million Grant

SUNY Plattsburgh has received $340,780 from the U.S. Department of Education to support its Special Services Project (SSP) during the period of September 1 of this year through August 31 of next year.

The grant, however, represents a long-term investment by the sponsoring agency. According to SSP Director Michele Little, USDE will provide $1,390,382 for the project over the next five years.

The purpose of SSP is to provide a high quality education to students of differing abilities and from diverse backgrounds. Its track record shows that eligible students who receive services — low-income, first-generation students, students with disabilities, students from under-represented ethnic backgrounds and racial minorities — achieve at a rate competitive with all SUNY Plattsburgh students.

SSP provides basic skills instruction to students in classes, workshops and individually. Participants have frequent and sometimes required contact with counselors and advisors to address barriers to academic success. They are also given help with the decision-making process that leads to a realistic choice of an academic major leading to graduation or, possibly, to admission to graduate school.

Jay Kesslen of Slingerlands, NY (photo left) was honored this spring as the college's first Curtis E. Shipman Scholar. The award was created jointly by the Plattsburgh College Foundation and Evergreen Banks in memory of the late Curtis E. Shipman, former president and chief executive officer of Keeseville National Bank and the Foundation. It will be given annually to an outstanding student who exemplifies the late Mr. Shipman's integrity, exemplary work ethic, high moral principles and humane values. The Shipman Scholar receives an award equal to full tuition and fees (currently $2,950) and the student's name is engraved on a plaque displayed in the School of Business and Economics. Kesslen is a resident assistant on a freshman floor, a member of the Philosophy Club and Amnesty International, and a member of the college's Forensic Team. A Dean's List student, he plans a career in finance on Wall Street. Presenting the award were Mrs. Carolyn Shipman, Mr. Shipman's widow, and Dr. Prem Gandhi, dean of the School of Business and Economics.

Work by Five Plattsburgh Artists in SUNY-wide Exhibition

Five members of the college's art faculty have been selected to have their work included in the first exhibition of SUNY-wide faculty artists titled "Working With Tradition: The Academic Artist."

The exhibition, which features the work of 56 artists from 18 campuses, opens Friday (June 25) at the Burchfield Art Center at the University Center at Buffalo. An opening reception will be held from 5:30 to 8 p.m. on Friday in conjunction with exhibit openings at the Albright-Knox Art Gallery and the Buffalo and Erie County Historical Society.

"Working With Traditions" is an official event of the International Cultural Festival being held to celebrate the World University Summer Games hosted by SUNY Buffalo. Dr. Donald Kuspit, a renowned critic from Stony Brook, is curator of the exhibition. He has traveled to various SUNY campuses to "choose works with expressive and stylistic diversity of the University, with a focus on quality."

Plattsburgh's representatives at the exhibition, and their specialties, include Robin Brown, photography; Diane Fine, printmaking; Rick Mikkelsen, painting and drawing; Don Osborn, sculpture; and Roger Arrandale Williams, photography. The exhibition will remain in Buffalo until August 22, and will open again next February in the New York State Museum in Albany.

Roger Williams' "Devastation trail, Kona, Hawaii" will be shown at the "Working With Tradition" Exhibition.

Kudos to ...

Dr. David Mowry, professor of philosophy and director of the Honors Center, who was elected vice president of the Northeast Region of the National College Honors Council. The region includes colleges and universities from New England through the Middle Atlantic States and has more than 200 member institutions. Among other tasks, Mowry will be responsible for organizing the regional annual conference to be held in Baltimore in April of 1994. After a year as vice president, Mowry will serve a year as president of the Northeast Region.

Dr. Mowry

Professor Mowry notes that the college hosted the recent meeting of the Honors Semester Committee of the National Collegiate Honors Council. Faculty and honors program directors from throughout the U.S. held a working meeting at the college's Educational Conference Center at Valcour. Besides proceeding with plans for honors semesters at the University of Texas at El Paso, Western Carolina University, the United Nations in New York City and another to be held overseas in Morocco, the committee reviewed facilities, faculty and programmatic resources at SUNY Plattsburgh for a possible Honors Semester here. Mowry reports that the programs are held both in the United States and abroad, noting that, if Plattsburgh should become the site of an Honors Semester, it would happen tentatively in the fall of 1996. The Plattsburgh semester would focus on U.S./Canadian relations with special emphasis on the Province of Quebec. During their visit here, members of the Honors Semester Committee visited Montreal to look at that city's resources.

(Editor's Note: The editorial below is reprinted with permission of the PRESS-REPUBLICAN. It appeared in the Sunday, May 20 edition of the newspaper.)

VIEWPOINT

Thanks, Charlie, and good luck

To most people in the region who only read about him in the newspaper or saw him on television, he was Dr. Charles Warren. To anybody who had the good fortune to observe him in person, he was Charlie.

We speak, of course, of the departing president of SUNY Plattsburgh. It has been a measure of his term in office that "Charlie" was the preferred form of address.

He was not a president like other presidents. Not that he wasn't scholarly, reasoned and decisive; he was. But, along with that, he was down to earth, reasonable and willing to listen and learn. The Press-Republican found him warm, good-humored and entirely likable.

Our relationship, like most relationships of any duration, was not without its spats. We once petitioned for a report on the college's findings in its investigation of alleged NCAA infractions in the Cardinal hockey program. The president, understandably, was protective of the school; we were equally protective of our rights to the report. The issue was settled to no one's complete satisfaction, but Charlie and the Press-Republican remained cordial and, we would like to think, grew close.

One measure of Charlie Warren's character is the popularity he enjoyed among college employees and students. Presidents are not always popular; popularity is not one of the assets required of — and, sometimes, desirable in — those in charge.

But, as we said, Charlie Warren was not like most people in charge. The fact that he was well liked, as well as respected, by those around him while executing all the duties expected of him is tribute, indeed, to his strength and affability. The naming of the Charlie and Nancy Warren Ballroom stands as proof of the affection and esteem that rained on him throughout the campus.

Another measure is his constant attention to the problem of kids and their behavior downtown, which might have been his biggest headache of all.

Charlie Warren wanted it known on campus that SUNY Plattsburgh was a neighbor, and a good one. He would abide nothing less.

Yet, he realized that 5,000 18-to-22-year-olds away from home will be boys and girls. How to reconcile the two. How to render the kids more responsible, the community, more tolerant.

He took suggestions from every corner: the community, the city government, the students, the faculty — anybody who had an idea.

Some will say the problem is unsolvable. Others will say Charlie Warren came as close as anybody's going to get.

Yet another measure, in a small, almost undetectable way, is his reply to those who wanted to hold an extravagant farewell testimonial for him.

He said thanks, but no thanks. Instead, he wanted to hold a reception for all those who had helped him and the college during his years of service. He declined an evening in the spotlight in favor of an evening in which he could shine the light on others.

To say he will be missed by this community falls far short of the mark. His civic involvement was multitudinous. His testimony was vital in the region's successful effort in keeping Plattsburgh Air Force Base open during Base Closure and Realignment Commission hearings in 1991, and that's just one small example of the impact he's had around here.

And don't forget all the community owes to Nancy Warren, either. She was so much more than the president's wife. She deserves several testimonials, herself; together, they've been a godsend to Plattsburgh.

College president, civic stalwart, nice fellow. As the New York Yankees found out when Lou Gehrig finally had to take a seat after a record for longevity, you can put another name in the lineup, but replacing him is another matter.

For many, many people in the North Country, and particularly at the college, that's so true.

County Medical Society Gift Supports Nursing Scholarships

The Clinton County Medical Society has joined the Plattsburgh College Foundation's E. Glenn Giltz Society for the first time.

Dr. John Vasile, CCMS president, and President Clifford Calongne during a recent meeting.

The contribution will be used to fund one or more scholarships for nursing students at the college who graduated from a Clinton County high school. The scholarships will be awarded on the basis of demonstrated financial need and academic merit and will be presented for the first time this fall.

At the same time the check was presented, Vasile and Grinberg-Funes also presented a plaque to Calongne noting the creation of the scholarship and citing the college's nursing department. The plaque reads, "In appreciation of the role of the School of Nursing, SUNY Plattsburgh, which has helped to maintain the health care of our county by continuing to provide well-trained nurses to the area."

Donald L. Garrant, executive director of the Foundation, said, "We are very pleased to have our nursing program recognized by the Clinton County Medical Society, since its members work directly with nurses trained at SUNY Plattsburgh. Area physicians are certainly in a position to know first-hand the quality of our graduates and their creation of this scholarship award is a very concrete testimony to the competence of our program and our nursing alumni."

Clinton County Medical Society officers Dr. John Vasile, president, (l) and Dr. Diego Grinberg-Funes, treasurer, (r) present a plaque recognizing the college's nursing program and a check for $1,000 for nursing scholarships to Plattsburgh College Foundation President Clifford Calongne.

and Dr. Diego Grinberg-Funes, the society's treasurer, presented a check in the amount of $1,000 to Founda-

Presidential Award of Honor recipients Hazel Crary and Francis Barber flank President Charles O. Warren following surprise announcement at post-commencement luncheon on May 15 that they had been singled out for recognition. Food service employee Crary was cited "in appreciation of more than three decades of sustained excellence as a SUNY Plattsburgh and Marriott Food Service staff member — in particular for (her) quiet but dignified and always efficient and genuinely friendly way of interaction with people, whether student or faculty member, visitor or administrator." Barber, labor supervisor in the college's Maintenance and Operations Division, received the award "in recognition of (his) loyalty and dedication and (his) responsiveness, always promptly and creatively and often under severe time constraints, to meet the need for room and building arrangements for programs, activities, and special events ranging from Commencement and Homecoming to functions accommodating or honoring dignitaries and distinguished visitors whose impression of SUNY Plattsburgh depends to a significant degree on how well (he) honors (his) obligation to college service." Barber has been a member of the college family for 25 years.

NASA Grant Funds Flynn's Ongoing Study of Cosmic Dust Particles

SUNY Plattsburgh has received a $36,050 grant from NASA for a project titled "Trace Element Abundance Measurements on Cosmic Dust Particles."

Dr. George Flynn, professor of physics, is directing the project, which begins July 1 of this year and continues through June 30 of 1994.

According to the proposal abstract, Flynn will examine trace element abundances on interplanetary dust particles collected from the earth's stratosphere and the polar ices to determine the solar nebula conditions under which the particles formed. He will also define genetic relationships between the particles and various meteorite types and constrain the temperature reached by each particle on atmospheric entry, which, he reports, can help distinguish asteroidal from cometary particles.

Flynn has received funding from NASA in the past to conduct similar research. A member of the faculty since 1975, he has conducted research on cosmic dust for many years at the Brookhaven National Laboratory under auspices of the space agency.

Foundation to Honor 225 President's Club Contributors

Two hundred and twenty-five members of the Plattsburgh College Foundation's President's Club will be honored on Sunday, July 25 at a brunch to be held at 12:15 p.m. at the Valcour Educational Conference Center Boathouse.

Each year the Foundation recognizes alumni, community friends, businesses and organizations that achieve President's Club status for contributing $500 or more during calendar 1992. Foundation President Clifford Calongne will welcome the honored guests, and Interim President Dr. Walter vom Saal will bring them up to date on the state of the college. Vom Saal will also present plaques and date tabs to members of the leadership giving society.

The 1992 President's Club includes 24 newcomers and 201 continuing members. New members this year include:

Adirondack Gynecology & Infertility, P.C.; Albany Savings Bank; James Merton Ashley Estate; Mr. & Mrs. Otto Bolles; Dorothy R. Brannigan '54; Virginia Brown; Richard E. Deuel '72; Dr. Herman H. Doh;

Mr. & Mrs. Stephen P. Duggan; Donald F. Duley & Associates; Evergreen Bancorp, Inc.; Stanley M. Fifield '62; Dan Finkle '80; and Mr. & Mrs. James L. Foster.

Also, Barry H. Goldenberg '75 Estate; Mr. & Mrs. Albert M. Hassler II '78; Mr. & Mrs. Herman Hormel, Jr.; Dr. & Mrs. William F. Lawrence; Thomas A. & Kimberly H. Maier '81/'82; Marjorie C. Nolan; Thomas J. Skea '81; William H. & Carolee C. Smith / '86; Watertown Econo-Lodge; and Jonathan M. Weld.

Highlights of Commencement '93

College Council Chairperson Robert M. Garrow '52 (r) twice surprised President Charles and Nancy Warren during the college's 103rd commencement exercises on May 15. In a departure from the formal ceremony, Garrow first reported that the Council had voted earlier in the day to present the college's Distinguished Service Award to the Warrens, then followed up with an announcement that the Council also had approved naming the second floor Ballroom in the Angell Center the "Charles and Nancy Warren Ballroom." Garrow pointed out that the DSA is the highest award the college is permitted to bestow, adding that the Ballroom was chosen to carry the Warren name because it is used by a diversity of outside and campus organizations. The dedication ceremony naming the Warren Ballroom will take place tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the facility.

Above (l-r) commencement speakers Dawn Fratangelo '82, NBC News correspondent in Chicago, Student Association President Michael Rapley, and Dr. Ruth Kline, associate professor of theatre, pose following the ceremony. Below: Fratangelo receives the Distinguished Alumna Award, which honors graduates of the college for "their achievements, humanitarian efforts and/or contributions to the college," from Rolando Thorne '72, president of the Plattsburgh Alumni Association.

SUMMER Weekly

PUBLISHED BY THE OFFICE OF COLLEGE RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT FOR THE COLLEGE COMMUNITY • JULY 28, 1993

$250,000 Legislative Grant Funds Two Multimedia Projects

SUNY Plattsburgh has had $250,000 added to its 1993-94 budget to support two special academic projects—installation of an advanced technology-multimedia classroom in Sibley Hall and establishment of a multimedia language learning center on the ground-floor level of Feinberg Library.

The funds for the projects were included in the college's 1993-94 budget, passed in April, as Legislative grant items secured by State Senator Ronald B. Stafford (R-Plattsburgh). They will allow the college to enhance instruction significantly in program areas hindered previously from development for lack of resources.

"Senator Stafford's reputation as a friend of SUNY, and of this institution in particular, is well known among educators in New York State," commented Dr. Walter vom Saal, interim president of the college. "His willingness to listen to our proposals and to see their merit, and his eagerness to press for their approval, is extraordinary and deeply appreciated. The true beneficiaries of Senator Stafford's insight and leadership will be future generations of our students."

The advanced technology-multimedia classroom, funded at $150,000, will be located in room 308 in the Sibley building. According to Dr. W. Raney Ellis, director of computing services, the facility has college-wide academic program applications, and it will bring SUNY Plattsburgh to the cutting edge of modern educational technological programming. It will be a fixed installation, equipped with 25 Macintosh computer stations for student use and a separate station for use by class instructors. Its other features are expected to include a ceiling-mounted projection unit, a projection pad, an overhead projector, a laserdisc player, a VHS VCR unit, an Ethernet hub for connection to PLAnet, and furniture.

Ellis said the facility is expected to be operational by January of 1994. In the meantime, a campus Advisory Committee on Technology-Based Classrooms is circulating a survey among faculty that will serve to determine demand.

"When we have a better sense of demand and faculty readiness," said Ellis, "we can establish a policy for
(Continued on next page)

USDE Grant Supports 2-year Cross Border Studies Project

SUNY Plattsburgh has received a two-year grant from the United States Department of Education, effective September 1, to support a project titled "Cross Border Studies."

First-year funding is $69,763, while second year support is expected to total $70,420. The project is subtitled "A Proposal to Initiate an Undergraduate Foreign Language and International Studies Project Emphasizing Societal Values and Contemporary Policy Issues of Quebec and Mexico through Curriculum Enhancement, Faculty Development and Student Assessment."

The grant will be administered jointly by the college's Department of Foreign Languages and Literature and its Institute for Business Education, Research and Training (IBERT). Dr. Sylvie Devebec Henning, professor and chairperson of the foreign languages department, is project director. Co-directors are IBERT's Dr. Prem Gandhi, dean of the School of Business and Economics, and Alan Lessler, director of the college's Technical Assistance Center, who will assist with project management and provide support services.

"We are delighted about the prospect of IBERT working with Dr. Henning and the Department of Foreign Languages on a project which cuts across disciplinary boundaries," commented Dean Gandhi. "We have always viewed IBERT as developing interdisciplinary relations at SUNY Plattsburgh. This project is a fine example of our objective."

The grant proposal maintains that contemporary social and economic realities dictate that college faculty and students possess an "in-depth appreciation of the non-English cultures of North America." It asserts
(Continued on next page)

Dr. Henning

Plattsburgh

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

New Brochure Developed for Faculty and Staff Recruitment

The college's Affirmative Action Committee has produced a new brochure developed to enhance recruitment of teaching faculty and professional staff.

According to Janet Saunders, director of affirmative action, the publication is designed to promote a positive institutional image and reflect the college's commitment to undergraduate education — emphasizing excellence in teaching with sensitivity to diversity in the curriculum.

"This brochure should help the college attract high caliber teaching and professional staff," said Saunders. "It builds on the theme, 'a place to grow and contribute professionally.' The publication also highlights the working atmosphere here, our campus environment and employee benefits, and it describes the quality of life and cultural and recreational opportunities in the North Country."

Saunders said the brochures will be available in her office (9th floor Kehoe) for search committee chairpersons to sent to finalists in current and future faculty and professional searches.

She will welcome calls (ext. 5250) for more information.

Multimedia Projects to Enhance Instruction (Continued from page 1)

access and develop a plan to train faculty to use the equipment. The early response to the survey indicates a high level of interest, suggesting that many faculty will welcome the opportunity to design or re-design classes that use a variety of media."

The multimedia language learning laboratory's new technology will provide a wider range of capabilities, including self-paced and self-correcting practice; sophisticated assessment of listening and reading comprehension, cultural literacy and awareness; and international networking and simulation games for marketing, cultural enhancement and creation of teaching materials. It will complement the instruction activities that take place in the Clark Center, and it is expected to become an integral part of academic programs in foreign language and literature, Canadian studies, music, international business, Latin American studies, teacher education, and others.

The laboratory will be located in Feinberg Library in a room nearby but separate from the Claude Clark Learning Center. Its equipment budget totals $100,000, and it covers a master console teaching station with four audio program sources, a monitor and two teacher headsets; new student desks with recorders and headsets, and video distribution monitors for up to 31 students. Some stations will also include networked computers and software to support multimedia instruction.

A committee headed by Dr. HOUNG-ZUNG LIU, dean of arts and science, is coordinating development of the language lab. Dean Liu expects the facility will open next spring.

Henning to Direct Cross Border Studies Project (Continued from page 1)

that "Many are largely unaware of the rich cultural heritage and distinct ways of life north of our border among French-speaking, Province of Quebec Canadians, and south of the border in Spanish-speaking Mexico. The advent of the North American Free Trade Agreement," it continues, "has added considerable urgency to becoming better acquainted with not only the languages, but also the cultures and contemporary policy issues of Quebec and Mexico."

Cross-Border Studies will focus on six approaches designed to address "the challenges of preparing U.S. college faculty and students for this new linguistic and socioeconomic reality." They include:

- redesigning the current two-semester, intermediate-level foreign language sequences in French and Spanish to include proficiency-based methodologies and a comparative cultural approach featuring the languages and cultures of Quebec and Mexico;

- selecting 12 non-foreign language faculty per year who will increase their French or Spanish language and culture skills by a language immersion program, by research in Quebec or Mexico and by leading discussions in the revised intermediate courses;

- encouraging an equal number of non-foreign language faculty to take part in the newly designed courses as students, to complete the immersion program, and then to return to those courses as discussion leaders;

- involving instructors from non-foreign language departments in regular cross-discipline contacts, in research in Quebec or Mexico, and in the use of data and resource materials on Quebec or Mexico in their courses;

- assessing faculty and student progress in language acquisition and assimilation of course content; and

- conducting public seminars annually on societal values and contemporary policy issues of Quebec or Mexico for members of the college community and the community at-large.

Dr. Henning has been a member of the Plattsburgh faculty since 1985. Her book, Becket's Critical Complicity: Carnival, Contestation and Tradition, was published in 1987 and won that year's Midwest Modern Language Association Book Award. Also in 1987, she received the Distinguished Faculty Award from the college's chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, the national freshman honor society, in recognition of her teaching effectiveness and her contributions to the academic success of freshmen.

48 EOP Students Winding Down Pre-Freshman Program

With their adopted slogan "EOP '93, We are family!!", 48 Educational Opportunity Program participants from all parts of New York State are in the final stages of an intensive five-week Pre-freshman Summer Program designed to help them adjust to the college life and the rigors of SUNY Plattsburgh's academic environment.

While on campus, the students, who represent a diversity of ethnic and cultural backgrounds, have been taking college-level courses in interpersonal communication, language arts and mathematics. They also have been taking part in a college adjustment seminar and have received a thorough orientation to campus services through a series of presentations conducted by professional staff. Field trips and recreational activities balance the summer program.

Marlene Fields, EOP director, pointed out that this year's program is the 14th for students admitted to EOP at Plattsburgh. It is funded by SUNY's Office of Special Programs with in-kind contributions from the college's offices of Student Affairs, Campus Life and Financial Aid. Staffing consists of six faculty from SUNY Plattsburgh and other area educators, and they are assisted by tutor-counselors — Plattsburgh students selected on the basis of their superior academic performance and their leadership skills.

"Besides the attention we give to the academic preparedness and the general college and social adjustment of our incoming students," said Fields,

Of Interest ...

Employees take note ... effective Monday, August 9, payroll checks will be distributed from the Public Safety Office in the Health Center. This is a change in procedure whereby checks were distributed previously from the Telecommunications Office in Hawkins Hall.

The Faculty Women's Organization's annual plant sale will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, August 29-30 in the vicinity of the College Store, Rugar Street. A selection of flowering and

"a goal of our program is to foster with the students an appreciation for the diversity and uniqueness each of them brings to our campus. Our summer program graduation banquet next Thursday will probably be a time for sad good-byes until the fall, but, as has been the case for the past 14 years, the program itself will have been the beginning of friendships that will endure through the students' college careers and beyond."

non-flowering house plants for home or residence hall rooms will be available.

Proceeds benefit the organization's scholarship fund with the Plattsburgh College Foundation. The group awards a $500 scholarship annually to a deserving SUNY Plattsburgh student.

All academic and professional staff (active and retired) are invited to attend the Labor Day picnic at Valcour Educational Conference Center sponsored by UUP and Interim President Walter vom Saal.

The event is scheduled for 4 p.m. until dark on Monday, September 6. The cost is $2 per person, with proceeds benefiting the local chapter's Good and Welfare Fund.

— SPOTLIGHT —

(Continued from back page)

recently as an instructor at the Summer Institute of the New York Geographical Alliance, held at SUNY Cortland, where he lectured on the geography of New York State, the geography of Quebec, urban geography and economic geography to a institute assembly of 30 elementary and secondary teachers ... A recent issue of the Brown University Geriatric Research Application Digest reviews "Interpretations of Symptoms by Older Persons," a study by Dr. Eleanor Palo Stoller, professor of sociology and Distinguished University Service Professor, published in the Journal of Aging and Health.

L-R: College Council Chairperson Robert M. Garrow joins Nancy and former President Charles O. Warren at the June 24 unveiling of the plaque and photo of the Warrens displayed near the entrance to the Angell Center Ballroom named in their honor by unanimous vote of the Council at its May 15 Commencement Day meeting. Many of the Warrens' colleagues and friends turned out for the ballroom dedication ceremony and a farewell reception that followed. Dr. Warren, SUNY Plattsburgh's president since July of 1989, assumed the presidency of Lynchburg (Va.) College on July 1 of this year.

Dr. Kenneth Adams, associate professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, served as chairperson of a National Science Foundation Young Scholars Review Panel held in July ... The work of three members of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty has been acknowledged in Northern Exposures: Scholarship on Canada in the United States, a volume that profiles the past and current state of research on Canadian studies in the U.S. in all disciplinary areas. The three are Dr. Suzann Buckley, professor of history and associate dean of arts and science; Dr. Malcolm Fairweather, professor and director of the Center for Earth and Environmental Science; and Dr. Martin Lubin, professor of political science ... Mary Dossin, writing specialist in the Claude Clark Learning Center and chairperson of the President's Sexual Harassment Committee, gave an hour-long interview on the committee and its work and on the topic of sexual harassment generally on "Let's Talk, with Linnda Durre," a new program on WCFE, public radio in Plattsburgh ... Dr. John Lewis, professor of physics, is the co-author of "x-ray scattering and topography studies of Hg - Mn Te epitaxial films, an article which appears in a recent issue of the Journal of Applied Physics ... Dr. Naomi McCormick, professor of psychology, is the author or co-author of "Managing chronic and severe bladder pain: Physicians and patients working together," and "Using humor to cope with interstitial cystitis," both published in recent months in ICA Update. Her "Feminism and sexology" will appear in the forthcoming Hu- man Sexuality: An Encyclopedia ... Bottles and Business in Plattsburgh, New York, a book by Dr. Gordon Pollard, professor of anthropology, has been published by the Clinton County Historical Society ... Dr. Thomas Rumney, associate professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is the author of three recently published manuscripts. They are "Patterns in Pennsylvania's Agricultural Land on the Eve of the Twenty-First Century, in the Pennsylvania Geographer, a review of Michael Tomlin's Tinged With Gold: Hop Culture in the United States, which appears in Agricultural History, and a review of R.W.G. Carter and A.J. Parker's Ireland: Contemporary Perspectives on a Land and Its People, published in the Journal of Geography. Rumney served

(Continued on page 3)

College, Art Museum Benefactor George Winkle, Dies at 83

George J. Winkel of Keene Valley, a major benefactor of SUNY Plattsburgh, died on Tuesday, July 20, at Cedar Hedge Nursing Home in Rouses Point. He was 83.

George J. Winkel

A native of Germany, Mr. Winkel established an import-export business in France in 1930.

The following year, he met his wife, Nina, a student of sculpture in France. They were married in 1934, and in 1941 the Winkels fled Europe for the United States, leaving behind family, possessions and cultural ties.

Following a tour of duty in the U.S. Army, Mr. Winkel became executive vice president of Roland Products, a major international food-importing company, in New York City. In the meantime, Mrs. Winkel had achieved international recognition for her sculpture. Mr. Winkel retired in 1974 because of health problems, and ten years later he and Nina Winkel moved to Keene Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Winkel's association with SUNY Plattsburgh began in the mid-1980's during an exhibition of Mrs. Winkel's sculpture at the college. In 1983 they selected SUNY Plattsburgh as the repository for many of Mrs. Winkel's works, and today the Winkel collection includes more than 300 sculptures, clay studies and drawings that present a comprehensive view of 50 years of the artist's creative accomplishments.

In 1986 the SUNY Plattsburgh College Council adopted a resolution proposing creation of a gallery space devoted to the sculpture of Mrs. Winkel as a way "to pay tribute to the graciousness, generosity and friendship" of the Winkels. On October 24, 1987, the college formally dedicated the "Nina and George Winkel Sculpture Court" — an enclosed, two-story atrium located in the Myers Fine Arts Building that is recognized as the largest exhibition space in the U.S. devoted to the works of one woman. A plaque at the entrance to the facility calls attention to the Winkels as leading benefactors of the college, and notes that "... creation of the Winkel Sculpture Court to house Nina Winkel's award-winning works has provided a legacy that will continuously enrich the total educational program for students, enhance the quality of the college's permanent art collection, and transmit lasting values to future generations."

During spring commencement exercises in May 1987, SUNY Plattsburgh conferred the Distinguished Service Award, the highest award the college is permitted to bestow, on George and Nina Winkel. Also in 1987, Mr. and Mrs. Winkel created a trust fund with the college that provides not only for the care and support of the Winkel Collection, but also supports further development of the institution's permanent art collection, student scholarships in the visual arts and humanities and academic program enrichment.

George and Nina Winkel were involved in a tragic auto accident near Elizabethtown on January 21, 1990. Nina died four months later. From that point, Mr. Winkel's health deteriorated. He had been a resident of the Cedar Hedge Nursing Home since June of last year.